Interstate Commerce Examiners Say They Have Data to Prove Charge.

Remarkable Variations in the Scientific Devices Noted by Inspectors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That shippers of the country are being mulcted [illegible] millions every year by the railroads' methods in weighing freight, is the charge which will soon be made and backed by a huge bulk of testimony taken by examiners for the Interstate Commerce Commission. The weighing function of the roads has been under quiet investigation for many months. Several sensational revelations are promised.

Lack of anything like system or uniformity in determining weights of freight is only one of the things which this inquiry has exposed. The commission is going to study the testimony that has been taken, and then attempt by admonitory methods to effect reforms. If these moderate methods do not get results, then something more drastic will be necessary.

Some of the railroad men, testifying before the examiners, have gone so far as to propose that government management of railroad scales might prove necessary.

This proposal does not reflect the view of all the railroad managers, and some of them were displeased that

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RICHMOND (Va.) March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. John M. Kline of Marshall, Va., a member of the Baltimore Methodist Conference, who is being treated at the retreat for the sick for nervous prostration, offers his life to the State of Virginia if clemency is granted Claude Swanson Allen, sentenced to die in the electric chair with his father, Floyd Allen, on March 28, for the part they took in the Hillsville Courthouse tragedy. The Rev. Mr. Kline says: "I am a sick man and the chances of my recovery are doubtful. I may never be of service to anyone again. I can yet serve the world by showing this act of love to my unfortunate brother."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The old whaler Karluk, which has been purchased by Vilhjamimar Stefansson, discoverer of blonde Eskimos, for a second voyage to the Arctic, cleared from this port late today for Vancouver, B. C. The vessel will be stocked at Esquimault for a three years cruise in the Arctic seas. Stefansson hopes to be led to unexplored country by his friends among the blonde Eskimos. The Karluk is of American registry, but it is understood a subsidy will be accepted from the Canadian government and the British flag substituted for that of the United States.

THE CITY. [illegible]

H. S. McCallum, in an address at the Citizens' Committee headquarters yesterday, charged that Earl and Lissner are wearing railway company collars, and are endeavoring to betray the city to the Socialists.

The Citizens' Committee of One Thousand issued an appeal yesterday to the voters, asking them to take the barber out of municipal politics.

Los Angeles women workers sent a signed protest to Sacramento yesterday asking the Legislature not to change the proposed eight-hour law.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. Sierra Madre with a peaceful population seems on the verge of political fight in which the neighborly relations will be sadly strained.

A Covina man who has been teaching a Sunday-school class and enjoying the respect and regard of his neighbors has proven to be a forger, and that staid little city is shocked and distressed beyond measure.

San Bernardino has started on a tree-planting campaign which promises to convert the city into a marvel of beauty. All roads leading from the Gate City are to be lined with attractive shade trees.

Knights Templar from a half dozen Southern California cities met in Covina yesterday and the drills and evolutions were inspiring to the members and to all who witnessed the exercises.

PACIFIC SLOPE. The union-labor lobby at Sacramento is pressing to passage two [illegible] measures which would legalize picketing. The Assembly last week passed only thirty-five bills, while the Senate yesterday met for only a few minutes so as to permit Senators to go on a junketing trip.

The Danish flag was raised yesterday with ceremony on the site at the San Francisco Exposition grounds on which Denmark will erect its buildings. The United States cruiser Marblehead saluted the flag.

GENERAL EASTERN. Ten more members of the Madero family arrived yesterday in New York to consult with other members of the family as to the best methods of restoring the Madero fortunes.

Supreme Court Justice Morschauser of New York yesterday gave permission to Mrs. Thaw and counsel to have a private consultation at Matteawan with Harry Thaw, the permission to extend only to Tuesday.

Three students of the University of North Carolina, were yesterday found guilty of manslaughter at Hillsboro, N. C., because the hazing of a fellow-student resulted in the death of the latter.

WASHINGTON. Hollow Horn Bear, noted Sioux chief, died yesterday at Washington as the result of illness contracted on Inauguration Day.

The Supreme Court of Kansas yesterday issued an order ousting from office three City Councilmen of Hunnewell, who refused to co-operate with the woman Mayor, Mrs. Emma Wilson.

THE GREAT WAR. The powers are reported to be irritated at what they consider extravagant demands of the allies, and will insist on the modification of the peace terms offered the Turks.

MEXICO. The German consular agent of Hermosillo was thrown into jail yesterday at Hermosillo and his bank seized because he refused to make a loan to the State authorities. Other merchants are also in prison for refusing to advance money to the rebels.

FOREIGN. A militant suffragette who had hurled a pot of paint through the window of a public building was yesterday sentenced to a month's imprisonment at London.

Chile yesterday accepted the invitation of the United States to make an exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition.

FINANCIAL. Wheat touched a new low figure for the week at the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday because of the report that Europe had overbought because of the general war scare. Three flour mills at Minneapolis have closed down.

Sixteen Precedents in Twelve Days.

Old Man "It-Is-Said" Killed by a Gentle Knife Thrust of the Executive.

"The President Says" Will Be the Fixed Rule of New Administration.

And, Then, There's Nothing for Supper Sundays but Cold "Vittles."

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Inaugurated twelve days ago, President Wilson has broken sixteen precedents.

First, came the downfall of the inaugural ball, with its money changers and turkey trots.

Second—The favorite barber, President Wilson shaves himself.

Third—("The blow that killed father") the antiquated custom of parading office-seekers at the White House; no pie hunters are admitted until sent for.

Fourth—The President is going to run the government; politicians may make suggestions, but need not expect to see them carried out unless, perhaps, they coincide with the White House views.

Fifth—The President goes to church to worship, not to be seen; crowds may gather about the President's church door, but if he sees them first they will not see him.

Sixth—The gold braid and lace business has been eliminated; Maj. Rhoades, military aide, dresses like an everyday citizen when he goes out with the President.

Seventh—The khaki-clothed motorcycle policemen, who used to follow the White House automobile, have been given other employment; the President rides without bicycle escorts.

Eighth—The ancient custom of draping the President's box at the theater and playing the national anthem when the President arrives, has been put in the discard.

Ninth—Old Man "It-Is-Said," has has disappeared from the White House news and instead appears "the President said."

Tenth—"That was said in a Cabinet meeting and cannot be made public" is of the past; what transpires at Cabinet meetings is public property.

Eleventh—The bi-weekly Cabinet meetings are under the ban; the Cabinet will met when there is something to be done.

Twelfth—The promiscuous use of the "executive order" has been stopped Mrs. Alome Tarr, barred by the civil service regulations from the White House stenographers corps, could have gone in by special appointment from the President, but the President refused to exercise the power in her behalf.

Thirteenth—President Wilson rests the seventh day; he puts the bars of the White House up Saturday night at 10 o'clock and lets them stay up until Monday morning.

Fourteenth—Cold suppers are to be the rule at the White House Sunday evening; the old Presbyterian rule prevails.

Fifteenth—The President declined an invitation to join Chevy Chase Club.

Sixteenth—John Barleycorn and all other sorts of intoxicants have been tabooed at the White House.

BABY BRINGS CONCILIATION.

APPEASES WRATH OF NEW YORK MILLIONAIRE GRANDFATHER.

Son Who Was Sent Away in Anger Because of His Schoolboy Marriage Will Leave Denver With Wife and Child to Return to Paternal Home.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Baby Combs, the 5-weeks-old grandson of H. B. Combs, millionaire banker of No. 47 East Forty-eighth street, has brought about a reconciliation between the banker and his son Albert, who is now in Denver.

About a year ago young Combs, a schoolboy, preparing for college in Connecticut, married Mildred Helen Berger. When the banker learned of it he became furious, sent the boy $150 and ordered him back to school. The young man had something of the spirit of the father in him, and with his young bride he went west and sought work in Denver.

The boy's uncle, Frank D. McCauley, is one of Denver's prominent citizens, and the banker sent him $15,000 to be paid the young man in installments to keep the young couple afloat. But as to a reconciliation—never.

Five weeks ago the baby was born, and since there has been a softening of the heart of the elder Combs. As soon as the mother is able to travel the young couple are to take a trip with Baby Combs, and will be received by the banker at his home.

HASTINGS (Neb.) March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hastings High School girls have routed the dress reform movement of the Parent-Teacher Association. The edict has gone forth that the girls may dress just as they please. They won the battle by dressing as their mothers used to dress. And this was too much for eyes accustomed to paint and powder, short sleeves and tight skirts. The effect was positively startling. Girls known as "beauties" could scarcely be recognized. The ridiculousness of their appearance won the day for them.

CARD TABLES FOR FIREWOOD.

SNOWBOUND PASSENGERS BURN THEM TO KEEP WARM.

With Mercury Below Zero, Stalled Train Is Cut Off from Fuel, Water and Food, but Travelers Manage to Keep Comfortable While Blizzard Rages.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a blizzard reaching over this State, train traffic is suspended. No trains are moving west of the Missouri River and it is reported that fifty are snow-bound on the bleak prairies. How some of the storm-delayed passengers are faring is told in a dispatch from Sidney, Neb., where a Union Pacific train has been stalled.

All last night the train moved slowly, while the snow piled higher and higher. Finally, within a mile of Sidney, further progress became impossible. The train slowed down and finally came to a halt. North Platte is the junction point where trains renew supplies of fuel and eatables for their dining-cars. Therefore, all supplies, both fuel and edibles, ran low. With the mercury below zero, it was impossible to heat the coaches from the engine. Finally, the passengers were confronted with the serious problem of keeping warm. Axes were ripped from the emergency fireboxes and card tables were smashed into kindling-wood and stuffed into the stoves.

WATER EXHAUSTED.

Then another situation arose. The heavy-going through the drifts had not only exhausted the fuel supply of the locomotive, but also the water. There was some food left, the cook in the diner explained, but there was no water for the cooking. So several men muffled in ulsters made an assault on the nearby snowdrifts with pans. Snow was turned to water and a semblance of a meal was served. Then the passengers settled down to await the coming of snow plows and a possible relief train.

WIDOW DEFIES AUTHORITIES.

ULTIMATUM TO BOSTON POLICE BY MRS. EATON.

Refuses to Submit to Further Questioning and Declares that She Is Being Hounded to Death by Barbarous Prosecution—Admiral's Death Still Shrouded in Mystery.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Eaton, widow of the rear-admiral, whose strange death is now being investigated, has delivered an ultimatum to the authorities. Through her lawyers she notified the District Attorney that she will submit to no further questioning at the hands of the police.

"They are hounding me to death," she explained. "I will not stand for it any longer. If they think I poisoned Joe, let them put me on trial, when I shall have a chance to defend myself from the mean, cowardly attacks. But I am not going to submit to the barbarous prosecution of a Boston brand of the Spanish inquisition."

What steps the authorities will now take are not quite clear. The supposed poisoning of the admiral's adopted child several years ago and other peculiar happenings in the Eaton family are being investigated once more. An army of private detectives, acting in different interests, in addition to the regular police and county officials, are all working from various angles to sift the clues and piece chains of conflicting circumstances together. The belief is growing that the Eaton mystery will remain forever unsolved.

Poor Little Rich Girl.

BREAKS MARITAL TIES BECAUSE OF IDEALISM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the second time within a year the dove of peace has flown from the cote of Eleanor Gates-Tully, novelist and playwright, and her talented husband, Richard Walton Tully, California writer of books and plays. They have parted for good this time, she says.

She asserted emphatically that she would seek divorce and to this end would consult lawyers. The author of "The Poor Little Rich Girl" said she had only the friendliest sentiment for her husband, but their differences had reached a point where separation was the only solution.

It was in March of last year that the Tullys' troubles parted them in this city. They went to San Francisco separately and there Mrs. Tully confirmed a report that she would sue. But friends interceded.

"Mr. Tully and I have different ideas about life. Perhaps I am a little old-fashioned or behind the times. I'm sure I am an idealist, and that does not always make for marital happiness. Our differences have never been over manuscript or money matters."

Richard Walton Tully and Eleanor Gates were married clandestinely in 1901, immediately after their graduation from the University of California in the same class.

MILLIONAIRE AT SAN DIEGO EAGER TO MAKE GOOD.

Writes to St. Louis that if He Is Permitted to Return There Without Going to Jail He May Become Reunited to Third Wife, Who Branded Him a Liar.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles R. Drummond, much-married St. Louis millionaire, who is in San Diego, a fugitive from justice for violating his parole from a jail sentence in St. Louis county, has sent a letter to Judge G. A. Wurdeman of the County Circuit Court in which he asks that his freedom be quickly restored and hints that if he is allowed to return to St. Louis he will become reunited to Miss Charlotte Vincent, his third wife.

In the letter, Drummond encloses a telegram from Miss Vincent, in which she says she will do anything in the world for him. Miss Vincent denied recently that she cared for or would aid Drummond and branded him as a liar for saying she has written to him.

Drummond also says that he has another life to lead, has thoroughly reformed in giving up the use of liquor, but that the hesitancy of the court to grant a second parole, has prevented him from obtaining a position, prospective employers refusing him employment on the ground that he is a fugitive from justice.

COURT UPHOLDS WOMAN MAYOR.

Three Councilmen of Kansas Town Refuse to Agree With Female Executive and Are Ousted.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) March 15.—The Supreme Court today issued an order ousting from office the three City Councilman of Hunnewell, against whom charges had been filed by Mrs. Emma Wilson, the woman Mayor of the town.

The court held the three Councilmen have been and are guilty of wilful misconduct in office and of persistent failure to perform the duties of their respective offices.

Troubles of the Hunnewell City Council have been before the courts for many months. The three Councilmen are F. J. Lander, J. O. Ellis and B. Kier.

Mrs. Wilson alleged the men refused to co-operate with her.

ON NEW TRAIL FOR PINK PEARL.

EFFORT TO TRACE IT ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

New York Dealers Sue for the Possession of a Ten-Thousand-Dollar Gem Which They Allege Was Stolen and Sold to a Firm in San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An attempt to trace the former ownership of a pink pearl now owned by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Vatable of New York to persons in San Francisco is to be made by the firm of Ludwig, Nissen and Company, dealers in precious stones, through an order signed today by Justice Griegerich. The order provides for taking the testimony of Mrs. Alice L. Dodge Godfrey Escret and N. S. Dana, the latter jewelers.

Mrs. Vatable's pink pearl weighs twenty-six grains and is valued at $10,000. Nissen and Company have sued Mrs. Vatable for the pearl on the ground that it is one stolen from the firm by J. Edward Boeck, who obtained $200,000 worth of gems from many New York firms and then disappeared. He was caught later and sent to Sing Sing, but has served his term.

DENIES IT IS STOLEN GEM.

Mrs. Vatable denies that her pearl is one stolen by Boeck and says she bought it from a reputable dealer at about the time that Boeck disappeared. Questions to be put by the Nissen firm to witnesses in California show that Boeck gave the pearl he stole to Mrs. Dodge, and she sold it to Shreve and Company, the San Francisco firm. Mrs. Dodge will be required to tell how much she got for the pearl. Members of the jewelry firm of Shreve and Company are asked to tell of the conditions under which they bought the pearl, and to whom they sold it.

Three Men of South Dakota Searching Party Missing and May Be Dead.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RAPID CITY (S.D.) March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. E. Gearen of St. Paul, while looking up some cattle ranging on the Box Elder Divide, during the blizzard, found Leslie Perry this morning wandering about in a dazed condition. Perry was searching for his parents, A. F. Perry and his three sisters and baby brother. Gearen brought Perry to this city, where he learned that the frozen bodies of his parents and brother and sisters had just been found a mile from the ranchhouse of Milton Frazee, who lives on Box Elder Creek sixteen miles east of this city.

About 10 o'clock this morning a pair of horses, blindfolded with gunnysacks, strayed into the Frazee corral. Mrs. Frazee, who knew of the anxiety about the Perrys, sent her hired men back on the trail a mile from her home. The Perry wagon was found and in it was seated Mrs. Perry and her four children ranging in age from 8 years to a baby in arms. All were frozen stiff, and on the ground lay the frozen body of Mr. Perry.

Mrs. Perry had her infant son clasped in her breast, which was exposed in a last attempt to appease. The other three children were huddled about her and her skirts and underclothing were bound about them.

The Perrys were coming from Big Bend in the Black Hills to the Fred [illegible] ranch, sixteen miles east of this city on Box Elder Creek. The party left Big Bend at daylight Thursday morning with their wagonload of furniture and farm implements. Three sons on horseback drove a herd of twenty-six cattle and Mr. and Mrs. Perry brought up the rear of the procession with a team and four children. They reached the city about 3 o'clock and although warned not to proceed in the storm which was constantly increasing they started out. This was the last seen of them alive.

Out on the prairie they caught the full force of the blizzard with the thermometer four degrees above zero and the wind blowing fifty miles an hour.

TEAM BALKS.

The team balked and Perry placed the gunnysacks over their heads to blind them. Night came on and the team, worn out, stopped. Perry got out and liberated the horses, but was too exhausted to regain his place in the wagon and fell.

In their wanderings they passed by the ranch they were seeking several times, but the blinding snow prevented them from seeing the light in the window as a guide.

Two men who started out to search for the Perrys are missing and the brother of one who left with them has not been heard from.

POLICE GRAFTER CONVICTED.

Patrolman, Called Discarded Victim of System by District Attorney, Found Guilty of Perjury.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—The first conviction in the District Attorney's crusade against grafters in the police department was obtained this afternoon. John J. Hartigan, a patrolman, was found guilty of perjury.

Hartigan acted as agent for high police officials to bribe witnesses against them to leave the State.

Hartigan was alluded to by Dist.-Atty. Whitman in summing up as a discarded victim of the "system" sacrificed to protect one of its pillars. The prosecutor referred to Dennis Sweeney, the demoted inspector who awaits trial on thirteen graft indictments as the man for whom Hartigan had perjured himself.

Hartigan, according to the prosecution's claim, working directly for Sweeney, aided the "system" in bribing George A. Sipp, an informer, to leave the jurisdiction of the New York courts. The charge of perjury against Hartigan arose from his denial before the grand jury that he carried the bribe money from Sweeney to Police Captain Walsh.

BANDITS' TIME CARD WRONG.

They Get a Satchel Full of Soiled Linen for a Chinaman Instead of a Bag of Gold.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Bandits jumping today from a motor car on Eighth avenue knocked Bert D. Newman, a restaurant keeper, unconscious, seized the satchel in which he habitually carries his money to the bank, and escaped in their machine. Two hundred persons on an elevated railroad station platform overhead were spectators of the hold-up. Newman has a painful wound on the head. Instead of being on his way to the bank, he was en route to a laundry and the "money satchel" contained a few dollars' worth of soiled linen.

Ignominious Defeat.

ROUTS REBEL ARMY WITH A SMALL FORCE.

Instead of Waiting for Attack Ojeda Goes Out to Meet the Enemy.

With Rifle and Machine Guns Commander of the Huerta Forces in Naco Put to Flight a Thousand Insurgent State Troops—Sonora Insurrectos Are Reassembling to Renew the Fray This Morning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NACO (Ariz.) March 15.—Instead of waiting to be attacked by nearly 1000 insurgent State troops, Gen. Ojeda, with less than 500 Federal soldiers, went out today from Naco, met and defeated the enemy. In three hours of aggressive fighting, peppering the enemy's line with rifle and machine gun bullets, and spraying lead from shrapnel shells over hills adopted as fortifications, the Huerta Federals drove the State forces five miles to the southeast. Late today the government forces returned victorious to the Mexican border town and customs port opposite this point. But even the victors did not believe the fighting ended, nor that Naco is secure from assault.

REBELS REASSEMBLE.

The State forces are assembling tonight in still greater numbers to wrest the only remaining port on the Sonora border from the hands of the Huerta national government. With the advantage of unexpected aggression and possessing five artillery pieces, the little brown, barefooted soldiers defending the military honor of the new Huerta regime, fought as wild men against seemingly overwhelming odds. Protected by the artillery fire over their heads, the Federals scrambled over the hillocks and fearlessly cracked their rifles at the heads of the enemy appearing on the horizon of the rolling country along the border.

It was the group under Elias Calles which first received the assault. Expecting to attack rather than be attacked, the State troops soon fell back.

TO THE RESCUE.

The other half of the other Constitutionalist forces under Prefecto Bracamonte rushed to the rescue from the east. And with a roar of artillery and the continued rattle of mausers, the battle was on. For an hour desperate fighting continued. Little by little the State troops fell back from the biting fire of the aggressors. For a full mile the Huerta soldiers pursued closely the retreating enemy advancing the artillery from the rear of the skirmish lines.

Bodies of killed and wounded State troops lay tonight deserted on the field.

On behalf of the State of Arizona, Sheriff H. C. Wheeler of Tombstone insisted early in the day there should be no repetition of the shooting across the border as at the Nogales battle. This moved the Federal commander to abandon his fortifications and set out after the enemy.

CAVALRY ON GUARD.

Five troops of the Fifth and Ninth United States Cavalry were on duty along the border keeping back noncombatants. The only person wounded during the fight on the American side was A. A. Hopkins, a Deputy United States Marshal. He was injured in the knee while doing neutrality duty on the line.

As at Nogales, American volunteers in automobiles dared the fire to rescue wounded under the protection of the Red Cross flag. One American physician is missing.

LOOKS FOR MORE OF IT.

"I do not think the fight is ended," admitted the Federal commander. "But I am still in possession of Naco, and expect to contest every inch of the way. Every time I am threatened I shall put up a fight."

Ojeda states that his losses in the day's fighting were only nine killed and twelve wounded.

He estimates the loss of the enemy as much greater, owing to the artillery fire.

None was injured on the American side except the Arizona deputy marshal wounded early in the day. Dr. Randall of Douglas, however, is missing. While assisting the wounded on the field he abandoned his automobile on the Mexican side. A search for the missing physician is being made by Sheriff Wheeler.

That the fighting is not ended is indicated by reports of the expected arrival of strong Constitucionalist reinforcements. Small groups of State troops are pressing in from interior points.

Already 400 hard-fighting Yaqui Indians are well on the way from Nogales. The warriors are said to be making a record march to the assistance of the besiegers.

EMILIANO ZAPATA WILL SUE FOR PEACE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All doubt that Emiliano Zapata, leader of the fierce bands of rebels that have been devastating the country around Mexico City for the past year or more, intended to make peace with President Huerta was dispelled today by the receipt of a telegram from Zapata himself, at the War Office, announcing that he would come to the capital at once, and would discuss the terms of surrender offered by the government. Zapata said that he would arrive with Gen. Pascual Orozco.

The coming into Mexico City of these two warriors, recognized as the brains of the revolution in the south and north, respectively, has created a greater feeling of security here than any other announcement of the present regime, and is accepted in all quarters as an indication of the two leaders' sincerity to end the present struggle and bring peace to Mexico.

Business here, which was utterly disorganized by recent events, has begun to assume proportions approaching normal. Barricades are being removed and the market places are again crowded.

No official announcement was made as to the time Zapata and Orozco would arrive, as the government deemed it best to prevent anything smacking of a public demonstration until the terms of surrender had been discussed and agreed upon. It is thought, however, that the two rebel leaders will be here next Monday.

Gen. Carranza, commander of the rebels in Coahuila, according to a telegram received today, will move his army into Sonora tonight to strengthen the separatist movement there.

WARN WARRIORS TO STAY IN MEXICO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, March 15.—The strictest enforcement of neutrality is in effect today. All Mexican soldiers, Federal or insurgent, armed or unarmed, in uniform or civilian dress, may be arrested if they step on United States soil. Orders to this effect were received today by commanders of United States troops along the Mexican frontier from Gen. T. H. Bliss, commanding the Southern Department.

To avoid friction, the order was communicated to Col. Juan N. Vasquez, commanding the Federal garrison at Juarez. Rebels and Federals alike have been sharing liberty in the American border towns, where they made their purchases unrestrained unless armed.

Other Business Men at Hermosillo Who Refused to Loan Money to the Rebels Are Jailed—Count Von Bernstorff Immediately Takes Action to Investigate Muller Case.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 15.—Max Muller, German Consular Agent at Hermosillo, Sonora, and manager of the Banco de Sonora, has been imprisoned by authority of the insurgent Mexican State and the bank seized, say reliable and direct reports reaching here today.

Muller is said to have aroused the displeasure of the State authorities by refusing to negotiate a loan. The bank was raided, but only 2400 pesos found, Muller having made some other provision for the safety of the funds.

The German Consul is cut off from direct communication with his Ambassador at Mexico City. He has sent out an indirect appeal to the German Ambassador at Washington.

OTHERS THROWN IN JAIL. REFUSED TO MAKE LOANS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 15.—Max Muller, the German Consular Agent and banker at Hermosillo, is held in solitary confinement at the Sonora State capital, reported Americans who arrived here early today. Many other business men of Hermosillo have been imprisoned owing to refusals to make loans to the State government.

Muller is said to have been the only foreigner so far arrested.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Counsel for Julian Hawthorne, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman said tonight that on Monday they would apply to the Federal Court for a writ of error in behalf of their clients, who were convicted yesterday of having used the mails to defraud investors in Canadian mining stocks, and sentenced to prison. Application for bail will be made if the writ is allowed.

Unless the writ is granted the prisoners will be taken to Atlanta one week from Monday.

Under Federal law Hawthorne and Morton will be eligible for parole before the month is out. This fact is due to Judge Mayer's action in making their sentences begin November 25, the date the trial was started. These two defendants were appointed to serve one year and one day each. Federal prisoners are allowed to apply for parole after serving one-third of their terms. Freeman received a five-year sentence.

Fifteen Thousand Sign Petition for Clemency for Aged Doctor Who Dynamited House to Kill Woman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ROSA, March 15.—A petition, carrying more than 15,000 names, asking a pardon for Dr. W. P. Burke, convicted of having attempted to murder Lu Etta Smith by dynamiting her dwelling three years ago, will be sent next week to Gov. Johnson. Among the signers are two members of the jury which convicted Dr. Burke. Two other members of the jury since have died.

The petition recites that the ends of justice have been served and that no good can be accomplished by keeping Burke in prison. He was sentenced for ten years, which, since he is more than 80 years old, virtually means a life term. It is understood that if he is released he will reopen the sanatorium where the dynamiting was done and will resume the practice of his profession.

FIGHT FOR TURFMAN'S ESTATE.

Los Angeles Heirs Start Another Legal Battle for Diamonds and Money of Noted Bookmaker.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another legal battle for money and diamonds alleged to have been left by John Rogers, Jr., whose real name was De Raggio, widely-known bookmaker on the European and American turf, has been started by the filing in the Probate Court of an application for the removal of Louis Repetto of No. 5447 Vernon avenue, as administrator of the estate.

The application was filed today by Charles Fensky, attorney for residents of Los Angeles, Cal., who declare they are cousins of the dead turfman and the only heirs to his estate. They are Salome, Bernal and Louis, Joe, Francisco, Carlos, Guilleno, Carlotte and Aloises de Raggio.

They allege that Louis Repetto has refused to inventory all of the money and personal property belonging to the estate and has appropriated to his own personal use property worth more than $20,000.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The Executive Committee of the Democratic League of California at a meeting here today attended by about fifty members, adopted a resolution calling for the organization of subsidiary leagues in all the Assembly districts of the State.

At a caucus of members of the Democratic State Central Committee of the Fourth and Fifth Congressional districts, the following candidates for Federal appointments were indorsed:

Collector of Customs, Robert H. Dewitt, Siskiyou; Subtreasurer, W. J. McGee, Amador; Internal Revenue Collector, W. A. Shepard, Auburn; Minister to Ecuador, C. S. McKenney, Los Banos; Surveyor of Port, C. L. Larue, San Francisco; United States Marshal, Sidney Robertson, San Francisco; Consul to Sydney, Burton Hayne, Oakland.

It was decided not to indorse at this time any candidates for superintendent of the mint.

Suffragette Tells How She Worsted Rowdy.

Defended Washington Girls With Her Baton.

Dramatic Story Is Told by Mrs. Burleson.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Samples of a militant suffrage were expounded today to the Senate committee investigating the disorder which attended the suffrage parade of March 3. Dr. Mary D. Mark of Maryland told of her physical efforts to defend the girls in the parade from the attentions of men in the crowd.

"Some of them attempted to manhandle me," she said. "I carried a baton and they got the worst of it.

"I marched in the Maryland college women's section. The Maryland section just ahead of us carried a large Maryland State flag. The police stood by idly, while the crowd which surged close about the marchers spat on the flag and threw lighted cigarettes and matches into it. The police appeared to get a great deal of pleasure out of the parade and the antics of the crowd. They jeered and smiled at the marchers.

"One woman who was a marcher of the section preceding mine was pinched by men all along the line of march. Police made no effort to interfere. I could see them pinch her from where I marched. She showed me her arm afterward. It was black and blue from wrist to shoulder.

"I saw a man leave the crowd and chuck a girl in the line under the chin, tear her sash and try to put his arms around her. I went to her assistance and hit him a crack on the nose and he disappeared in the crowd. I think his nose is swollen to this day."

"Did any one attempt to interfere with you?" asked Senator Dillingham.

"Some of them attempted to, but they got the worst of it," replied Dr. Mark emphatically.

"Another man broke into the parade and almost tore a girl's coat from her back. I hit another one of them pretty badly," she continued. "I heard him make a very ugly remark to a woman in front of me. He prepared to say something to me, but as he opened his mouth my baton accidentally struck him in the mouth. I think his teeth went down, because he gulped a great deal. I haven't yet heard what he was going to say."

GIRLS PULLED FROM PARADE.

Miss Bliss Finley who marched with a section of striking girl garment workers from Baltimore, told of a number of attempts by men in the crowd to ill-treat girls in her section. She said that several times she was forced to go to the assistance of girls whom men tried to pull from the parade.

"The police made no attempt to interfere with these men," said Miss Finley.

ADMIRAL DEFENDS POLICE.

Several other witnesses said they believed the police had done all in their power to control the crowd. Admiral George W. Baird, retired, defended the conduct of the police, declaring that at the point at which he saw the parade, they did all that could be expected.

DRAMATIC RECITAL.

A dramatic recital of the progress of the head of the parade through Pennsylvania avenue was given by Mrs. Richard Coke Burleson, the grand marshal, who rode on horseback. She said that for about a block after the parade began the way was clear.

"Suddenly I found myself in the midst of this howling mob," she continued. "There did not seem to be a policeman anywhere.

"The automobile platoon and the mounted police seemed to have disappeared. I was unprotected, alone and terrified. The crowd surged all about me, and between me and Miss Milholland, who rode some distance to the rear. I could see her surrounded by the crowd. She was alone, not a policeman was near her. She tried to force her horse through the crowd. I was afraid the crowd would pull her to the ground."

A squad of police in the hearing room marched in review before Mrs. Burleson that she might attempt to identify a policeman, who, she said, had been insolent to her. She was unable to find the man.

She said throughout her ride up the avenue she observed that the police seemed indifferent and were having a good time rather than attempting to control the crowd.

Eastern Amusement Combination Absorbs Burlesque Circuit of West in Fifteen-Million-Dollar Deal.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The Columbia Amusement Company, which controls thirty-six burlesque theaters forming the "Eastern Wheel" in burlesque, has absorbed the Empire Circuit, or "Western Wheel," which has practically been its only competitor.

The deal involves about $15,000,000 and disposes also of the various burlesque companies which were controlled or booked by the Empire Circuit.

The new arrangement will practically put the Columbia Amusement Company in complete control of the burlesque business in the United States and Canada when it takes effect in the fall. Under the new management, these western theaters will be operated as burlesque theaters in addition to others in the East.

The Columbia, Star and Garter and Folly in Chicago; the Gaiety in Pittsburgh; the Star in Cleveland; the new Gaiety now in course of construction in Cincinnati; the Gaiety in Omaha; the Gaiety in Kansas City; the Standard in St. Louis; the Buckingham in Louisville; a new theater in Indianapolis; the Gaiety in Milwaukee; the Grand Opera House in St. Paul; the Gaiety in Minneapolis; the new Gaiety being built in Buffalo; the Empire in Toledo; the Avenue in Detroit; the Gaiety in Toronto, and the Gaiety in Montreal, are included.

The weighing troubles, according to an official of the commission, is said to result uniformly to the disadvantage of the shipper. Remarkable variations have been registered by different railroad scales in the weights of the same freight. Cases have been found in which one road's apparatus indicated a weight 1500 pounds higher, on a single car of freight, than was returned by the scales of a connecting line on the same freight.

The investigators have traced shipments of goods and secured remarkable showings of varying weights taken on different roads and even on different scales of the same road. In the investigation fifteen or twenty big volumes of testimony have been taken and hundreds of exhibits have been gathered for submission to the commission.

VANCOUVER VOTES TO GIVE IT STATION GROUND.

People by Five-to-One Ballot, After a Bitterly-Fought Campaign, Grant Canadian Northern Almost a Quarter Square Mile of the False Creek Bottoms.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Canadian Northern Railway was granted 157 acres comprising the bed of False Creek with which to erect a terminus here today by the property owners of this city voting in their favor at a ratio of 5 to 1. The final figures of the vote were: For, 5127; against, 1041. The campaign was one of the bitterest fought in this city for many seasons and the result, as far as public opinion was concerned, seemed in doubt until the polling divisions were heard from.

For the agreement, the greatest argument of all throughout the campaign has been the immense profit and positively inestimable advantage to Vancouver in tying down forever for railway terminal purposes the splendid central location on False Creek. Mayor Baxter's general theme has been that the Canadian Northern Railway agreement insures this.

Again, in favor of the deal is the argument that the new transcontinental line which is to do battle to bring down high freight rates, should be brought into the city under auspices favorable toward its important development plans for the West.

Against the agreement, time and again it was charged that the railway is bound, anyway, by triple government guarantees, to come into Vancouver and develop terminals permanently here.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maury I. Diggs, former State Architect, and Drew Caminetti, until a week ago clerk of the State Board of Control, are back in Sacramento, whence they fled last Sunday night to Reno with Misses Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris, well-known society girls, and recent graduates of the local High School. The two men are in the County Jail and their late companions have been released on bail to the custody of their parents. The deserted wives of Diggs and Caminetti have returned to their parents' home in other counties, with their small children.

RETURN FROM RENO.

The return from Reno was marked by extraordinary precautions to avoid mob violence. The feeling in Sacramento against the two men is very strong, and a crowd of muttering thousands assembled at the station this morning to meet the train which the officers with their prisoners had taken at Reno awhile after midnight. Some had waited since hours before daylight. But the party left the train at Truckee, resuming the journey on the Overland due here late in the afternoon.

Then word was given out that autos would meet the Overland at Roseville, but this was another ruse. The point for disembarking actually selected was Auburn. The whole of that little city was quickly aware of the preparations and every inhabitant was at the depot to hoot and jeer the elopers.

Pursued by other autos carrying newspaper men and photographers, the official party, in two machines, one containing the girls and the other the men, quickly sped on the way to this city.

As the two cars containing the prisoners drew up with the newspaper machines, Miss Warrington looked up, but quickly dropped her eyes. She was unveiled and wore a new blue hat, with fancy trimmings after the fashion.

Miss Norris sat silently by her side, her head hung, as if endeavoring to hide from the curious glances of the pursuers. Both showed signs of weeping.

Still running at a high rate of speed the autos reached the city limits when the car containing the girls, which remained in the lead, turned to the right downtown, the second car, which carried the two men, proceeding to the County Jail. The first car soon arrived at the office of Dist.-Atty. Wachhort.

RUN FOR A DOOR.

At five minutes after 5 o'clock they drew up at the curb, and Detective Kramer, who was seated in the rear with the girls, assisted them to alight and urged them at a run toward the door, but they found it locked. Bewildered, the three stood for a second peering around. Then Dist.-Atty. Wachhort and Court Reporter Doan had made their way to the right door, and signaled to come their way.

Miss Warrington saw the mistake and made for the door on a run. Kramer and Miss Norris followed at a quick walk.

The door closed on them and was locked, and a deputy sheriff or two stood about to keep the crowd back. The news of the arrival of the girls spread like wild fire and inside of a minute a crowd of several hundred persons had gathered about the Courthouse.

Shortly afterward another rush in the auto was made to the office of a physician several blocks away, where the required physical data was obtained. Then the girls were released to their fathers, bonds having previously been approved, and they are now at their homes.

THE MEN IN JAIL.

Meantime Diggs and Caminetti had reached the County Jail in the other machine and were soon relegated to cells. The District Attorney says they may be turned over to the Federal authorities for prosecution under the Mann White Slave Act, if it is found applicable. Otherwise they will be tried here under one of several charges which are being considered. Already two charges have been laid formally against each of them. Diggs relies upon his father's wealth to save him, while Caminetti expects his father, the Senator from Amador county, to defend him. T. H. Warrington, father of Marsha Warrington, said today that it was true his daughter had called him on the "phone" from Reno last night and pleaded with him not to press charges against Diggs.

THE FATHER'S REPLY.

"I told my daughter that I had nothing to do with the prosecution of the case," said Warrington. "I told her that it was purely with Judge Hughes and Dist.-Atty. Wachhorst. I could not have the charges dropped if I wished to, and I don't want them dropped. I want to see the charges pressed to the end."

IN FEAR OF HIS LIFE.

Diggs is mortally afraid of Warrington, because of the threats that the latter has made, said his attorney, C. B. Harris today. When Diggs was arrested for that check matter in San Francisco he had not been hiding for fear of arrest on the charge. As a matter of fact, he did not anticipate any trouble over the check. What he did fear was Warrington and he was hiding from him.

"Warrington not only threatened to kill Diggs, but also threatened to kill his own daughter if she did not stop running with Diggs. I understand Warrington and his daughter had a big session on the matter short-

GIRLS SMILE.

Miss Norris and Miss Warrington ere cheerful and frequently smiled. Their composure and cheerfulness as in marked contrast to the appearance of the two men. One of the irls was accompanied by a girl riend, whose name could not be earned here.

HANDCUFFED.

The two male prisoners asked to be pared the indignity of handcuffs and his was permitted until the State ine was crossed on the return to Sacramento, and then the detectives lipped the manacles on.

"What do the people of Sacramento hink of me?" Diggs asked.

When told he was in bad, he said: Well, it will all blow over and verything will be straightened out."

ENDEARING TERMS.

Diggs addressed Miss Warrington in endearing terms, while Caminetti likewise professed his affection for Miss Norris. Their conversation was frequently punctuated with drivel.

"I wonder how my wife is getting along," Diggs remarked at one time. "I hope she isn't worrying. She is a good girl and I believe she would stick to me in any kind of a pinch."

Caminetti seemed to take things a little more seriously than the others, although the whole quartette conducted themselves like foolish school children.

ANXIOUS ABOUT HIS BABY.

"I'm really anxious about my baby," said Caminetti. "But I suppose she is all right. I think my wife will overlook everything." Caminetti has a six-weeks'-old child.

"We thought that everything would blow over in a few days," Diggs explained.

The elopers planned to stay in Reno for ten days and then leave for the East.

Miss Warrington appeared perfectly composed at all times. "I can't see that it's anybody's business but our own," she said. "I know that everything will turn out all right. Of course, I'm sorry if it has caused my parents trouble. Father has been good to me and has telephoned that they will take me back home. I think too much has been said about our own business."

One of the officers inquired of the girls: "Did you know these men were married and had families?"

"None of your business," snapped Miss Warrington, at the same time tossing her head in the air and turning up her nose.

TARIFF REVISION.

Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee Complete Consideration of the Schedule Matter.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Democrats on the House Committee on Ways and Means completed tonight consideration of most of the schedule matter of the tariff revision, and are prepared to take up a fresh draft of the revision scheme on Monday. The administration provisions and the income tax feature of the coming legislation have yet to be given serious consideration.

The free list, with the possible exception of cattle and meats, which were on the Democratic free-list bill last year, will be substantially like the previous Democratic free-list bill. Beyond admitting there had been substantial reductions all along the line, greater perhaps than anticipated for some of the items, members of the committee would say nothing tonight. The situation is in a "tentative" state, they declared.

The experts employed by the committee will be busy Monday working on the results so far accomplished with a view to determining what balancing of duties may be necessary in the final form of the revision.

President Addresses Washington Newspaper Men.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—John [illegible], three times Mayor of [illegible], N. Y., was brought out today in more than perfunctory fashion as a candidate for appointment as collector at New York. His name was presented by friends who are confident he would be the selection.

When the newspaper correspondents were received by the President he made a brief speech to them. He said he considered the press as the best friend of the country.

"I don't suppose any one who has occupied this office has been as generously treated," he said, "as I have been, more generously than I deserved.

"I am trying to get the threads of the national business together," he continued, and added, "with a smile: "in a sense I am trying to get onto my job."

The President reiterated that he would maintain an open door policy.

NEW POLICIES READY.

While the present week has been given over largely to organization and the filling of some of the vacancies occasioned by the change in administration, the word went out from the White House today that next week there would be a change of activity.

Some of the administration's new policies, it was said would take definite form. It is expected that President Wilson not only will issue his proclamation calling the extra session of Congress, but will make some important announcements on the future course of his administration.

THE CALLERS.

Dudley Field Malone of New York, who has been offered the position of Assistant Attorney-General in charge of cases before the Customs Court, was first on President Wilson's list of callers. National Chairman William F. McCombs followed.

George Foster Peabody was an early White House caller. He declared he had not been offered the position of collector of the port of New York.

Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, probably will accept the post of Assistant Secretary of War which the President has offered.

Former Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, manager of Col. Roosevelt's Presidential campaign, met President Wilson today. Dixon was in Secretary Tumulty's office when the President left his own office to shake hands with some visitors.

"Here is a man I want you to meet," said Mr. Tumulty as he led the President to where Mr. Dixon was standing. Mr. Wilson smiled and put out his hand for a hearty clasp.

The President consulted with Mr. McCombs on what he thought the sentiment of the country was with respect to legislation and asked him about some of the men to whom foreign posts might be offered. Mr. McCombs would not discuss the conference specifically.

The President and Mr. McCombs talked a long time and the frequent visits of the President and his campaign manager was one of the evidences that the burdens of state had been put aside.

McCombs said he was not ready to announce his final decision as to taking the post of Ambassador to France.

OLNEY DECLINES.

The Man Who Once Set All England on Edge Declines Ambassadorship to St. James.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Richard Olney of Boston, to whom President Wilson offered the post of Ambassador to Great Britain, has declined. His letter of refusal was received at the White House today.

Mr. Olney's letter was said to be of confidential nature and was not made public. Secretary Tumulty, however, announced that Mr. Olney had declined "for family reasons." It is understood that Mrs. Olney has been in poor health and that Mr. Olney was loath to change his residence at his advanced age.

Speculation as to who might be Ambassador to Great Britain began immediately on the announcement of Mr. Olney's declination. It was pointed out that besides Mr. Olney President Wilson had had in mind Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, but had offered Mr. Olney the place because of his conspicuous record in the Democratic party.

NOBODY SURPRISED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 15.—Richard Olney's declination of the post of Ambassador to Great Britain caused no surprise among his close friends here. It is known that Mr. Olney considered the President's offer deliberately and consulted with associates, some of whom urged him to accept the offer. [illegible] Mr. Olney's decision was made known at Washington. Upon reading the announcement tonight, he said of it: "If that is so, the episode is ended."

Your Fortune Told Free

Past Present and Future Clearly Revealed

Such Wonderful Revelations Have Never Been Made Before. They Will Surprise, Mystify and Help You.

To prove the accuracy and value of true Psychometric Astrology, I will send you free a typewritten Test reading of your life as revealed by the stars above. I will open your eyes by telling you Secret Facts known only to yourself. I will make for you wonderful revelations of past, present and future. I will convince you that Astrology is real, when honestly understood; that it will point the way to success in business, love, health, wealth and marriage. It will tell what profession to follow; chances to come; mistakes to avoid; whether friends are false or true; questions of present or future marriages, divorces, friendships, etc.

Are you in trouble, perplexed or at a loss what to do to secure your greatest desire? No matter what your past experience or what your present trouble may be, I can help you. Write to me and be convinced that Astrology is an accurate Science. Put me to the test and let me prove it to you. My answers to questions and my advice bring good luck and success in love, courtship and financial matters.

Send me your full name and address, stating whether Mr., Mrs. or Miss, and exact date of birth; put 2 cents postage on your letter and enclose 10 cents in stamps, not coin, to cover part expenses of typing, return postage, etc., and I will send you specially prepared free test reading at once. Write plainly. Address Prof. Raleigh, Suite 353A, No. 47 Bedford St., London, W.C., England.—[Advertisement.]

DEAFNESS

Successfully Treated

By the Simplest Method Yet Discovered.

Ninety-five per cent. of the cases of deafness brought to our attention are the result of chronic catarrh of the throat and middle ear. The air passages become clogged by catarrhal deposits, stopping the action of the vibratory bones. Until these deposits are removed relief is impossible. The inner ear cannot be reached by probing or spraying, hence the inability of specialists to always give relief. Neither can ear drums cure deafness. That there is a successful treatment for deafness and catarrh is demonstrated every day by the use of "Actina." The vapor generated in the "Actina" passes through the Eustachian tubes into the middle ear, removing the catarrhal obstructions and loosens up the bones (hammer, anvil and stirrup) in the inner ear, making them respond to the vibrations of sound. "Actina" is also very successful in relieving ringing noises in the head. We have known people afflicted with this distressing trouble for years to be relieved by a few weeks' use. "Actina" has also been very successful in the treatment of hay fever, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, weak lungs, colds, headache and other troubles that are directly or indirectly due to catarrh.

E. D., The Drum; H., Hammer; A., Anvil; S., Stirrup; S. C., Semi-circular Canals; C., Cochlea.

"Actina" can be used with perfect safety by every member of the family for any affliction of the ear, throat or head. A FREE TRIAL of the "Actina" is given in every case.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Storms Recur in the South and Snow Is Falling in Many Sections of the Country.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Storms of the previous day were repeated in the South today, while cold weather continued to prevail in the Middle West, snow falling in many sections of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. In Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, the scenes of cyclonic storms Thursday and Wednesday night, the rain continues to fall, but the winds had died down and the damage was not nearly so severe.

The cold spell is working further eastward, the Ohio Valley being affected tonight.

The cold snap is traveling eastward at a rapid gait. There is no warm weather in sight.

Jacksonville was the warmest place in the United States today, the temperature recording 82 deg.; at Devil's Lake the lowest temperature was registered, the low point being 4 deg. below zero. Other temperatures at 7 p.m. (Central time:)

Cruiser Marblehead Greets the Danish Flag as It Is Planted on San Francisco Exposition Site.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Denmark planted her flag today on the plot of ground on which will rise her building in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915. A salute of twenty-one guns from the Cruiser Marblehead greeted the flag as it rose.

After the ceremonies the exposition directors gave a luncheon to the Danish court chamberlain, C. Brun, who as Minister to the United States came here to select the site and take title.

Kettner Names Alternate.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Representative Kettner has named as first alternate for appointment to Annapolis, Ralph William Jesson of Ontario, a junior at Pomona College, Claremont. Jesson is a nephew of Judge Montgomery of the Customs Court.

SEND HAZERS TO PRISON.

THREE STUDENTS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Each Given Four Months in Jail. Judge Charges the Jury that Custom of Hundred Years Cannot Change or Abrogate the Law for Lack of Precedent.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HILLSBORO (N. C.) March 15.—Three students of the University of North Carolina, Ralph Oldham, Will Merriman and Aubrey Ratch, were found guilty this afternoon of manslaughter in connection with the death of a fellow student, Will Rand, while the latter was being hazed last September. They were each sentenced to four months in jail.

In charging the jury, Judge Peebles said that whether young Rand fell off the barrel during the hazing or the barrel was kicked over was not a matter for consideration.

"If the three men under indictment, masked, and with sticks in hand, as produced in the State's testimony, entered the room of Rand and laid hands on him, and against his will carried him to the athletic field, then it is the duty of the jury to find a verdict of guilty," said the court.

The fact that hazing has been practiced at the university for 100 years and that this is the first case to be tried in court, it was pointed out, did not abrogate or change the laws.

New Mexico Legislature Passes Law That Even Outlaws Church Raffles and Social Card Games.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTE FE (N. M.) March 15.—Two laws enacted in the final hours of the Legislature which adjourned yesterday included an anti-white slave act almost identical with the Mann act and an anti-gambling law replacing an anti-gambling law passed in 1907 when New Mexico was a Territory.

The new law makes gambling of all kinds a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and imprisonment, or both. It prohibits private games of bridge in homes, where prizes are given, puts the ban on shaking dice for drinks, slot machines, betting on ball games, horse races or prize fights; forbids raffles and the like at church fairs or lodge socials.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Thomas Madden, awaiting trial for forgery, left jail this morning to receive treatment for a tooth. Madden slipped a handcuff, threw pepper in the eyes of the Deputy Sheriff and broke for liberty. The deputy's first shot stopped Madden's flight with a bullet in the foot.

SNOW DEFENDS VACCINATION.

Cites Figures to Show that Only One Death Ensued in Almost Forty Thousand Inoculations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—In order to learn how effective has been the present vaccination law, Dr. W. F. Snow, secretary of the State Board of Health, has gathered statistics from local health authorities all over the State. The figures show that complications followed the vaccination of but one child out of 39,083 in the last two years and that the child subsequently died.

The statistics show that since March 7, 1911, when the present vaccination law became effective, there have been 1095 cases in the State resulting in twenty-four deaths. There have been filed 26,787 certificates of conscientious objection to vaccination, 32,598 have exhibited new scars and 39,083 have been vaccinated.

At the same time, 267,576 children have been attending school. Dr. Snow believes the discrepancy between the total who have either certified their opposition, exhibited scars or have been vaccinated and the number in attendance is due rather to incomplete records than to failure to enforce the law.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The local Board of Supervisors will hereafter refuse to issue any new saloon license in San Joaquin county, which means that the number will be limited to the forty saloons now in existence.

The decision was reached after a long discussion of the question and will not be departed from, the members declare, during the present administration.

Stockton, with its 102 saloons, will not be affected. Renewals of licenses will depend upon the merit of each application.

There is no disposition among the members of the board to reduce the number of saloons actually in existence or to confine the life of a license to any one holder. It may be transferred from time to time with the approval of the board.

Drastic Anti-Injunction Bills at Sacramento.

Union Labor Lobby Presses Both Measures.

"To Pen With Joy Riders!" Says Angeleno.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the Legislature will be called upon to consider drastic anti-injunction legislation early this session is certain. One of the two anti-injunction measures offered in the Assembly during the first half of the bifurcated session will probably be passed out of the Assembly Labor and Capital Committee next week with the recommendation that it "do pass." The union-labor henchmen in the Assembly are busy lining up their forces and are confident that they will jam anti-injunction legislation through with several votes to spare. Level-headed legislators who are opposed to anti-injunction legislation are equally confident that they have enough votes to defeat the union-labor measure.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Johnston of Richmond, a rabid unionite. It was drafted by Congressman Nolan of San Francisco, Paul Scharrenberg, boss of the union-labor agents here, and Tom Griffin of San Francisco, a strong union-labor boss.

The Johnston measure is far more drastic in its provisions than the famous anti-injunction measure that created such a furore at the Thirty-ninth Session, and was knocked out on the last day of the session.

It prohibits the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes, except when property is actually destroyed. Picketing is legalized by it. The application for an injunction must allege that property has been or is about to be destroyed before an injunction can be secured.

A companion measure provides for trial by jury in contempt cases growing out of injunctions. The labor lobby is fighting to take out of the hands of the courts the right to punish for contempt, except when the act is committed within sight or hearing of the court.

PARTY LINES SPLIT.

A bare majority of the Progressives are openly opposed to the passage of any anti-injunction legislation at this session and will fight it. The Democrats are about evenly divided on the issue. Senator Caminetti, Democratic leader in the Senate, is strongly in favor of anti-injunction legislation and upon his return from Washington Monday will endeavor to line up the Democratic legislators behind it.

Senator Beban, one of the administration representatives in the upper house, also offered an anti-injunction bill which has the support of the unionites in both houses. The union labor agents will center their energies on Johnston-Beban measures and will leave no stone unturned to shove either one across. That they will succeed is doubtful. The anti-union labor legislators are quietly organizing and are preparing to wage battle against many of the union labor measures.

PENITENTIARY FOR JOY RIDERS.

"Put the joy riders in the penitentiary," that is the declaration of Assemblyman Mouser of Los Angeles. Mouser introduced in the House this morning a bill which will make joy riding a felony. The bill provides it shall be a felony for any chauffeur, employee, or other person to take from a garage or from any other place the automobile of the employer without permission. It is Mouser's contention that the majority of automobile accidents are caused by the reckless chauffeurs who have taken their employer's car out without permission. The violators of the proposed statute are to be punished as for grand larceny. Leading automobilists in Los Angeles are behind the measure.

THE CAMINETTI INCIDENT.

The Rules Committee of the Senate, to whom was referred a resolution asking for an investigation of the conduct of Lieut.-Gov. Wallace in ejecting Senator Caminetti from the Senate chamber during the first half of the session in January, today named a subcommittee to propose an amendment to the Senate rules covering the situation. While nothing to cover the point can be found in the rules as they now exist, Senator Wright of San Diego held that the President of the Senate is not given the right to remove a member of the Senate from the floor. He may force him to take his seat and for disobedience may reprimand him before the bar of the Senate, but there his power ends, is the way Wright interprets the present rules.

EDUCATING ORPHAN CHILDREN.

One of the matters before the Legislature that has attracted Statewide attention is a brief Senate concurrent resolution. Its purpose, which is printed on one leaf of the Senate bill paper, is told in the title, which reads: Senate resolution No. 8, relative to the training and education of orphan children, and instructing the State Board of Education to investigate the training and education now received by orphan children and the feasibility of extending the public schools in the State to provide for their training and education, and to report to the forty-first session of the Legislature of California."

WARRINGTON DENIES IT.

"I never made any threats against the life of Diggs," declared Warrington today.

SAY THEY DID RIGHT.

Statements of Diggs and Caminetti and Lola Norris and Marsha Warrington, taken separately by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Atkinson and Court Reporter Warren E. Doan, were practically the same, and in substance were that it was the intention of the men to take the girls to Reno, Nev., there obtain divorces from their wives in this city and then marry the girls. They asserted that there had been nothing criminal, nothing wrong, and that after they left Sacramento and went to Reno, the two girls occupied one room and the men another.

One of the girls, in addition to denying that no wrong had been committed, said that things had been all right and that the men did right; that they had unhappy homes in Sacramento, and that if they wanted to choose other company it was nobody's business.

Senator Boynton, president pro tem. of the Senate, who presented the resolution, says he has received more communications on this subject than on any other measure before the Legislature. The Boynton resolution calls for an impartial inquiry, with a view to establishing public boarding schools, like public day schools, that the orphans of the State may be given such education and vocational training as will fit them for the highest duties of citizenship.

A committee that made the rounds of the State institutions in the recess found some of the reform schools utterly unequipped for the proper care of delinquents, much less for the fostering of dependent children. Outside of the State institutions, orphans are cared for in denominational or fraternity homes, where the reluctant charity of individuals is supplemented by contributions from the State Treasury. The bill will probably be considered in the Senate next week. Its passage is practically assured.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL.

If a vote is to be taken on a bill providing for a minimum wage for women, in accordance with the wishes of Gov. Johnson, it will not be in the form of the bills offered by either of the Los Angeles Senators, Brown or Lyon. This is the declaration of union labor leaders here. The unionites favor an investigation of the wages of women but they are opposed to minimum wage in any of its forms so far suggested. The unionites say the danger of minimum wage is its being made the maximum wage. Under the bills, say the unionites, a minimum wage could be fixed for mature women, and young girls could be designated as apprentices.

"If a minimum wage bill is to be voted on at all, it will be one which we will introduce ourselves," said Congressman Nolan, hired agent of the San Francisco union labor council who is here lobbying. Gov. Johnson is strongly in favor of a minimum wage law. The minimum wage question will probably be disposed of next week.

OPPOSE DRY NURSES.

A number of nurses from various parts of the State are here to work up opposition to the eight-hour law for women. It is pointed out by Miss Cartwright, their leader, that nurses have always worked more than eight hours out of twenty-four, and there is no complaint among them on this service. While private nurses do not always work every week in the year, they do go on cases where for several days their attendance night and day is necessary for the recovery of their patients. The conditions of the work of the nursing profession are altogether different from those of women workers in stores and factories, according to Miss Cartwright, and the passage of the bill and making it apply to nurses would be a hardship to the profession, as well as to persons who are under the care of trained nurses. The unionites are behind the bill.

ASSEMBLY SESSION.

POOR RECORD FIRST WEEK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—The lower house of the Legislature completed its first week since the constitutional recess with a record of thirty-five bills passed and sent to the Senate for action and with a comparative schedule of public hearings on important bills laid out for next week. In addition, the Bohnett Iowa injunction bill, which probably has aroused more widespread public interest than any other before the Legislature, has been reported out of committee with a favorable recommendation and is expected to pass during the coming week.

Another bill which was much in evidence during the past week was Assemblyman Walter A. McDonald's measure requiring manufacturers of Portland cement to protect the health of workmen handling their product by packing it in dustproof containers. Nearly half the time of the Assembly has been taken up during the past week by debate upon this bill. It was passed out of the Labor and Capital Committee, of which McDonald is chairman, before the recess with the recommendation that it do pass but was re-referred to that committee after several hours had been spent by the Assembly in debating a motion to send it to the Committee on Public Health. Nearly every member of the Assembly has received letters of protest against the bill from cement and bag manufacturers saying that the measure would ruin the industry in California, while the labor delegation in the Assembly has expressed itself as determined to secure relief for the workmen, whose health they claim is ruined by the flying dust in handling it.

Upon motion of Assemblyman H. C. Bagby of Santa Maria, a committee of five was appointed today to investigate the situation, with instructions to report by 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, when a public hearing on the bill is scheduled.

The committee includes Assemblymen Bagby, McDonald, Bloodgood, Weldon and Cary. Other public hearings scheduled for next week are as follows:

Monday evening, mothers' pension bills.

Thursday evening, McDonald's bill extending the eight-hour women's labor bill to include nurses and other employments now exempted.

Many members of the Assembly were taken on an automobile tour of the districts in which Japanese farmers predominate today by Assemblyman H. B. Bradford, who has introduced a bill prohibiting aliens not eligible to citizenship from acquiring lands within the State.

Among the bills passed by the Assembly today, were the following: Assembly Bills Nos. 326, 148 and 327 by Libby, dealing with the incorporation of cities of the sixth class.

Assembly Bill No. 330 by Libby amending the code of civil procedure with relation to the powers of the Superior Court on appeal.

As a result of the story told the committee on prisons and reformatories yesterday by E. Duncanson, a reformed convict pardoned from San Quentin, concerning the alleged brutal treatment accorded him there, Assemblyman H. W. Brown introduced a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the State prisons. Adoption of the resolution will be taken up as a special order of business Monday.

BRITONS SAVE PRETTY PENNY.

Their Blanket Bond Escape the Baker Shortage.

Friend of Defaulter Amazed by the Revelations.

Shakes Hands With Himself for Losing a Deal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.— became known today that while the United States bank examiner and bank officials were making the disclosures of the defalcations of Charles F. Baker, former assistant cashier of the Crocker National Bank of this city, the directors of every bank in San Francisco were considering a proposal from an English insurance firm to provide all financial institutions with blanket bonds in certain amounts against loss by theft or embezzlement.

At the time the offer was made to the Insurance Committee, Baker's peculations had not come to light.

Only a short while ago the Crocker bank was protected against loss under a blanket bond, the arrangements for the guarantee having been made by an authorized associate of Baker, who at the time had no knowledge of his colleague's wrongdoing. The president and directors of the institution were not aware of the protective measure taken until the shortage was discovered.

AMOUNT OF LOOT.

How much money Baker stole from the Crocker National Bank was a conjecture today.

"We are not yet in a position to say how much Baker is short," said H. N. Morris, the Federal bank examiner. "In fact, we are completely baffled. We don't understand in detail what his method was. Our best estimate is that his peculations will be in excess of $100,000, but it is impossible to be more definite.

"So far as the Federal government is concerned, there is no possibility of prosecuting the brokers with whom Baker gambled."

BANK PROTECTED.

The bank itself is fully protected against loss by its contract with an insurance committee, the San Francisco manager of which said that he did not know whether suit would be brought against the brokers for recovery of the money lost.

BONDS FILED.

The Deputy United States Marshals were removed late today from Baker's home when bonds in the sum of $100,000 were filed. This was put up by eight friends in equal amounts. It is twice the amount of bail fixed by the United States Commissioner. Baker's condition was said to be considerably better this evening.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND (Cal.) March 15.— Charles F. Baker, accused of embezzlement of $100,000 from the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, is slowly recovering from his illness, according to the report of his physician today. He lies in bed, while detectives, armed with warrants, await his recovery.

Baker is suffering from collapse and nervous breakdown. The family denies the reported attempt of the banker to kill himself.

Sixty-third Congress.

"IT'S ALL OURS" SAYS MR. KERN.

Only Progressives on Guard in the Upper Branch.

Other Brands of Democrats Left Out in the Cold.

The Old Fighter Tillman Whipped Into Line.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—With the declaration from their leader, Senator Kern, that they purposed making the Senate Democratic not only in name but in practical reality the Democrats reorganized the committees of the Senate and took full control of legislative affairs in that body. Factional differences disappeared in the final processes of reorganization.

Senator Tillman, who carried up to the party caucus earlier in the day his fight for the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee, voiced the final word of harmony in the caucus when he was given the chairmanship of the Naval Affairs Committee.

The fight begun early in the last session by the so-called Progressive element involved today a change of committees which gives the balance of power on all of the important committees to the forces which selected Senator Kern as party leader, and which are regarded as active supporters of the policies advocated by the President.

PLUM FOR POINDEXTER.

Senator Poindexter, who classes himself with the Progressive party, will get a minority chairmanship at the hands of the Democrats who look to the Republicans to provide committee places for him.

DEMOCRATIC "REFORM."

The reforms proposed by the Democratic managers in the method of selecting committees and committee chairmen were presented to the caucus by Chairman Kern, with the explanation that they were to bring the Senate nearer to the ideal of a popular government than it had been.

KERN TALKS.

"I propose that this great body shall be democratic not only in name but in practical reality," said Senator Kern, "and that the charge so often made that it is controlled by a few men through committee organization and otherwise shall no longer have any basis in fact."

THE PROPOSALS.

The proposals by the committee to the caucus provided that a majority of the democrats on any committee may call it together at any time; that the committee should elect all members of conference committees, that the committee members should select their chairmen, and that all appointments by the "steering committee" should be approved by the full Democratic caucus.

POWERFUL AGENCY.

"These resolutions, if adopted, will, I believe, enable the Senate to become a more powerful agency for the expression of the public will," said the chairman, "and quickly to respond to the desires and demands of the people as expressed at the polls. Speaking for the entire committee, I hope these resolutions may be adopted, to the end that the country may know in advance that the Senate of the United States, under Democratic control, is an active, efficient and sympathetic branch of a truly popular government."

Senator Tillman got only a few votes for the motion which he himself made to have his name substituted for that of Senator Martin, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee. The caucus then adopted the report of the "steering committee" as to committee assignments, with no change in the list as they had been prepared. The proposal for changes in the method of organizing and controlling Senate committees and legislative affairs went over to another meeting of the Democratic caucus.

GLOBE (Ariz.) March 15.—Three wealthy residents of Miama, Marten [illegible], Samuel Wucich and Nicholas [illegible], charged with having committed arson in order to obtain insurance money, pleaded not guilty in the Superior Court here today and their trial was set for March 22.

The defense lost the first legal skirmish in the case when it sought to secure dismissal of the charge on the ground that the justice of the peace who had conducted the preliminary examination of the three defendants had been without authority to do so. The defense asserted that Justice Mc[illegible] could not legally have presided at the preliminary hearing because his appointment had been annulled by the Supreme Court.

Judge White declined to dismiss the case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the bevy of new Cabinet girls, which includes the President's three daughters, unusual interest attaches to Miss Nona McAdoo, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury. She is the youngest hostess of the new administration and has the advantage over the other daughters of the Cabinet officers by reason of the fact she is the hostess in her father's home.

Secretary McAdoo is a widower and Miss Nona is the apple of his eye. He is very proud of her and will place ample means at her disposal to enable her to entertain in whatever style she elects. She is 19 years of age, very girlish in appearance, with regular features, dark hair and splendid dark eyes. She possesses all the poise and dignity required in her new position as an entertainer in the capital city. Her training along this line has been of the best.

She is practically a stranger to Washington society, having visited here but once, and that briefly, prior to assuming her place as one of the official set. However, her experience as head of her father's home in New York and her wide acquaintance with society leaders in the East enables her to drop easily and gracefully into her position here. It is freely predicted that her reign as a society queen here will be successful.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 15.—Parts of Georgia and Alabama are menaced by floods as a result of the terrific storm that on Wednesday night struck several Southern States, claiming a death toll of ninety. After the wind had done its destructive work the rain continued. Rivers are getting out of banks, railroad tracks have been washed out and trestles have been destroyed.

At Augusta, Ga., a thirty-five foot stage in the Savannah River has caused damage to the low lands of the city. Many persons have been driven from their homes at Brewton, Ala., and Macon, Ga.

AZUSA.

AZUSA, March 15.—Considerable interest was manifested here today in the ascensions of The Times balloon which arrived in town this morning at 10 o'clock and immediately ascended at the corner of Fourth street and Azusa avenue. It was not many minutes before a crowd of 200 people gathered and watched the operators take panoramic pictures of the town and country adjacent. The work and expedition is in charge of Neil Hampton, pilot, and Clarence Drake, assistant. Besides the ascension at Fourth street and Azusa avenue other ascensions were made at the High School campus and in the neighborhood of the Santa Fe depot. About twenty views were taken.

GLENDALE BRIEFS.

GLENDALE, March 15.—The enterprise of the students of the Remington-street Grammar School of this city is shown by the fact that a committee from the student body worked faithfully for the past month in preparing a programme which was given in the intermediate school this evening. The proceeds of the affair are to be used toward the purchase of a Victrola to be used at the school. The principal numbers on the programme were given by Mrs. Edmund S. Shank, a popular concert soloist, while most of the numbers were given by the students themselves.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Ann Elliott, who died at her home, No. 718 North Louise street, early this week, was held at the Pulliam undertaking parlors on Broadway Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Elliott had been a resident of Glendale for the past eight years, coming to this place from Johnson county, Iowa.

The Trustees of this city and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which is operating at this place, have entered into an agreement whereby the telephone company has been awarded a franchise to construct and for a period of twenty-five years to maintain and operate a telephone system for commercial use. For the past three months this matter has been before the board. The franchise eliminates the minimum number of calls which have up to this time been allowed between this city and Los Angeles.

COLTON BRIEFS.

COLTON, March 15.—Among the orchard heaters which are undergoing a try-out in the contest demonstration for smokeless smudge pots at Pomona is the Coe smokeless orchard heater, an invention of D. H. Coe of this city. The Coe heater is manufactured here in Colton and its backers are confident of its superior qualities.

Lester Ware, a burner employee at the cement plant, met with a painful accident today when he was caught in the machinery and his right arm broken. Luckily his coat was off and the thin shirt sleeve tore as it was caught, letting the young man fall free as he was being drawn against the wheels.

For passing a check supposedly signed by W. C. Kennedy, upon R. L. Riley, at the Colton Pharmacy, a young man giving his name as H. L. McCaslin is being held here for forgery. As payment for a 50 cent purchase, a check for $4 was given. Becoming suspicious after a time, the Marshal was notified by the druggist and the wanted man was soon found. He admitted the forgery.

The local aerie of Eagles is planning to extend an invitation to all the lodges of the order in this district for a banquet and class initiation on the night of April 4.

Prof. Edward Hardy, prisedent of the San Diego Normal School, gave an interesting talk to the pupils of the High School Friday morning at assembly. His theme was the value of a sound physical foundation.

Sunday Law in Kansas.

[Kansas City Journal:] The city authorities at Sabetha passed a stringent Sunday closing ordinance lately. Among other things forbidden was the sale of anything except food at the restaurants. The restaurant folks said: "If we cannot sell cigars and drinks we'll shut up shop," and they did.

The City Marshal said to the garage man: "Under powers vested in me as Town Marshal I hereby order that you refrain from catering, selling or giving away gasolene tomorrow, commonly called Sunday." A stubborn Dutchman this garage man happened to be, and he promptly told the Marshal to take his tin star and get out. And he got. On Sunday morning one of the public drinking fountains was placarded, "Closed for Sunday."

On the door of the engine house was a placard which read: "In case of fire do not ring the bell, as you may be arrested for working on Sunday."

FIREMEN SAY FIGURES LIE.

Charge that Federal Statistics Are Misleading.

Assert the Railroad Reports Are Erroneous.

Start Heated Scrap Before Arbitration Board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—The locomotive firemen complained today that their case against the eastern railroads before the arbitration board was handicapped by the fact that the railroads had filed erroneous reports with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This statement, made by President Carter of the Firemen's Brotherhood, started a heated controversy, and Elisha Lee, chairman of the committee of railroad managers, insisted that if these government statistics are wrong, the testimony of the firemen witnesses, based thereon, should be disregarded.

Judge Chambers, chairman of the arbitration board, however, let the witness proceed.

President Carter's charge was made when W. J. Lauck, the government statistician, who was expected to occupy the stand all next week, took up the statement of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Mr. Carter declared that the apparent increase in firemen's wages of 48 per cent. in the past ten years was misleading.

Mr. Carter declared that the case of the engineers had been injured by similar false statistics.

OCEAN PARK FORGES AHEAD.

Every Day Witnesses the Beginning of a New Structure and Applications for Other Buildings.

OCEAN PARK, March 15.—Two important building items, the issuance of a permit for the completion of the new Bristol Pier for $60,000, and the announcement of the practical completion of the new Edmund Hotel, five stories high, pleased the people of the rebuilt district today.

Every day, almost, sees a new building permit for the burned section issued. The contractors are fast completing imposing monuments of brick and steel and concrete for a new and greater Ocean Park. The Edmund Hotel, erected by E. L. Allen of Los Angeles at a cost of $75,000, will be opened for business June 1. It has a frontage of seventy-five feet on Pier avenue and eighty-five feet on Speedway.

The new buildings, auto parkway and other arrangements for the Bristol Pier, which is soon to be opened under the direction of the State Investment Company, are almost completed, and the pier will be the mecca of the summer hosts more than ever before.

George M. Jones has completed pouring the concrete basement of his new four-story Marine Hotel on Marine street near Speedway, and work on the remainder of the building will go ahead rapidly in time for the opening September 1.

FARE REDUCTION.

W. J. Stadelman, R. W. Armstrong and O. C. Connelly, members of the Chamber of Commerce committee on reduction of fare to and from Los Angeles, met the members of the State Railroad Commission in Los Angeles today in a conference on the fare situation. The local men were given assurance that their claims that the Pacific Electric was discriminating between these beaches and other beach points farther away from Los Angeles would be given due attention.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach Is Lacking In Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach. Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose,) manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., 86 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended. (Signed)

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholy, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and powerful remedy. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

VENETIAN BRIEFS.

VENICE, March 15.—Having received a number of complaints from persons who have lost wraps and valuables in the Venice dance pavilion, Officer Watson today went with Miss Florence Bright of the Westminster Apartments to help her find her fur coat, worth $100, which Miss Bright believed was stolen. They found the coat in another part of the hall, hidden under a chair, and Watson delivered a warning to the employees of the hall to be on the lookout for thieves. F. G. Rose reported the loss of his $65 overcoat in the hall the night before. Dancers leave their wraps for a moment and when they return they find them spirited away.

The Lagoon Lobsters won the debate on the question of naval armament at the High School last night, the lucky affirmative side being represented by Telford Work, Harry Mulvaney and Charles Johnson, while the losing side was composed of Howard Elwell, Ben Curler and Isabelle Work. The judges were C. A. Langworthy of the Redondo High School, Rev. T. J. Brown and Byron C. Hanna.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, March 15.—Negotiations are under way for an immediate settlement of all right-of-way difficulties so that it appears that the Orange committee, in a few days, will be able to present to the Pacific Electric an unobstructed right of way for an extension of the electric line from Santa Ana to Orange.

Talks on Teeth

Good Teeth and Digestion

Keep your digestive apparatus in good working order and you can defy old age. Indigestion is the cause of most of the ills of mankind and womankind.

What causes indigestion?

Poor teeth, or no teeth, in nearly every case. "Stomach trouble" is generally traceable to "teeth trouble."

What's the remedy?

A perfect set of teeth.

OUR REX METHOD OF ALVEOLAR TEETH, AS PERFECTED BY DR. RANKINE

In Restoring Missing Teeth.

When these teeth are in place it is a difficult matter for anyone, even the one who is wearing them, to tell which are nature's teeth and which "Alveolar."

In shape, size, color, looks and action they are a perfect substitute for teeth which grew in the mouth and as firm as a rock.

We don't say, "Now, be careful when you eat," but, "Use these teeth just as you would if they grew in your jaws."

Let us tell you what we can do and refer you to the people who have had this work done for them. That's the fair plan, isn't it?

An examination of your mouth and teeth won't cost you a cent. It won't obligate you to spend a cent unless you are satisfied that we can do as we promise.

You will be the judge of all these things when you come.

There are a large number of people who through force of circumstances are compelled to wear plates. We have a department to take care of all patients who require that class of work. We have one of the most expert men on plate work on this Coast at the head of that department, which assures all of our patients better fitting, better looking and more serviceable plates than you have ever been abl to procur elsewhere.

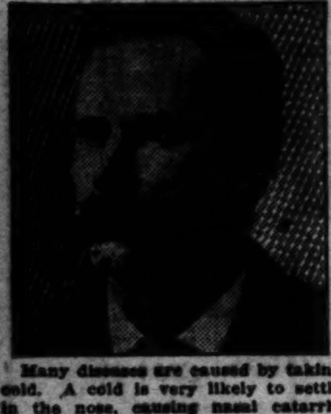
CATARRH OF THE THROAT
Requires Prompt Treatment to Avoid Deafness

Mr. Daniel Rohrbacker.



Many diseases are caused by taking cold. A cold is very likely to settle in the nose, causing nasal catarrh. It may settle in the upper part of the throat, called the nasal pharyngeal space. In this space are two little tubes called eustachian tubes, that lead to the middle ear.

If the catarrh settles in the pharyngeal space it may follow the mucous membrance through the eustachian tubes into the middle ear. If it does it will cause noises in the ear, and later on be sure to cause deafness.

Catarrh of the throat may follow the eustachian tubes up into the middle ear without causing much concern on the part of the patient. The partial loss of hearing is apt to be overlooked. A person may lose half his hearing before he knows it.

For instance, suppose a man can hear his watch four feet from the ear. If he loses his hearing to the extent that he can only hear the tick of his watch two feet from the ear he may not suspect it at all. His hearing is good enough for ordinary purposes. He goes on without the slightest suspicion that he is losing his hearing. He may have ringing in the ear, or cracking and snapping sounds in the ear, or a feeling of pressure in the ear, but he is not aware that he is losing his hearing.

It is a good thing to test your hearing with a watch. First hold the watch against your ear, then move it gradually away from the ear and see how far away from the watch you can actually hear it tick. Try it on the other side and see if both ears are alike. If you find that you are unable to hear the watch on both sides alike and at a distance of four feet from the ear, you may know that deafness has already begun. You should begin taking Peruna at once. Gargle the throat with cold, strong salt water, as directed on page four of the "Ills of Life," sent free. Persist in this treatment until a cure is effected.

Sometimes catarrh of the nasal pharyngeal space will cause an accumulation of secretions in the throat, that completely fill the space. Unless these secretions are promptly removed by frequent gargling polypi may be formed. Once formed the polypi or adenoids, as they are sometimes called, will require a long time with the gargling to remove. Gargling according to the proper method will even remove polypi or adenoids, and no surgical operation is required.

In order to understand exactly what is meant by proper gargling send for a free copy of the "Ills of Life."

During the whole course of gargling Peruna must be taken according to directions on the bottle.

Mr. Daniel Rohrbacker, R. R. 2, Castalia, Ohio, whose portrait appears above, writes: "I want to say a word for Peruna. I used it for catarrh of stomach, and it relieved me in a short time. The four or five bottles I used was worth more than all other remedies I ever used."

PERFECT PERSONAL CLEANLINESS SUGGESTS THE REGULAR USE OF

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The "fixing up" which absorbs more or less of our attention, at this, the Easter season, should not be confined entirely to the matter of clothes. Any scheme of adornment which does not provide for a reasonable amount of attention devoted to the hair is incomplete.

The influence of clean, well kept hair upon one's personal appearance is acknowledged. Beautiful women everywhere are turning to NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, not alone with the idea of preserving their hair, but because they know that it is one of the simplest methods of increasing their individual attractiveness.

Experience has taught them that HERPICIDE is entirely dependable and reliable. Why then experiment? For increasing the beauty and radiance of the hair, giving it life, luster and luxuriance, nothing is superior to HERPICIDE. It eradicates dandruff, prevents falling hair and stops itching. On account of its delicate, flower-like odor HERPICIDE appeals strongly to persons of refined tastes. It contains no grease, does not stain or dye, and is withal a delightful and refreshing hair dressing.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00, and is Sold and Guaranteed Everywhere. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

"Best Tonic and Stimulant"

MR. FRED J. RICHTERS—69 Years Old.

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is invaluable when you are run down and depressed or convalescing from low fevers and other wasting diseases," says Mr. Fred J. Richters, at 150 Broadway, N. Y. City.

"As to my experience in using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, it has done me a great deal of good. I am now 69 years of age and have used it for many years, and have been greatly benefited from its use. It is a wonderful tonic and nourishment. I have found it particularly valuable when the system is run down; also in recovering from sickness. It is beneficial in catarrh. I use no other tonic, and always have some on hand. I recommend it to all my friends, and know that it is an article of high merit and should be in every household."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a body builder and tonic stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted. Its gentle and invigorating properties influence for good every important organ in the body. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. Prescribed by physicians and recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark—the "Old Chemist"—on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. $1.00 a large bottle. Write for a medical booklet and doctor's advice, free. LIGHT FROM THE EAST ON THE LIVING ISSUES.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern newspapers:

GRADUAL TARIFF REVISION.
WILSON BECOMING CAUTIOUS.

[Washington Post, March 14:] Reports that President Wilson, alarmed over the possible effect on business, is leaning strongly toward a more gradual plan of tariff reduction should be consoling to those who fear that it will be difficult to keep a tight rein on the wild horses of Democracy. No one who has read the address of Mr. Wilson can believe that he would wilfully permit the slashing of the tariff to the point where the prosperity of the United States would be affected.

TAFT FOR HOPKINS.
WOULD MAKE GOOD PRESIDENT.

[Baltimore American, March 14:] A suggestion has been proposed for Hopkins in its search for a suitable head for the office of President. Mr. Taft is in possession of the particular gifts and training to make an ideal head for the greatest university in the country. He has the personal qualifications; his legal and judicial training and experience; his range of knowledge of the country and its relations world-wide; his aptitude for securing friends and cultivating loyalties are matters of personality and equipment that stamp him as the man above others for the position.

CRY OF THE HELPLESS.
APPEAL FOR HOUSEKEEPER.

[New York Herald, March 14.] The pitiful wail of helpless, long-suffering manhood rings through every line of Charles H. Hill's appeal for a housekeeper, printed in a Poughkeepsie paper.

Hill desires the services of a "neat, tidy, economical, middle-aged woman of neat appearance, with no encumbrance." (He will find that a woman of this description is seldom free from encumbrance;) she must be fond of horses, chickens and flowers, able to cook pigs' feet and nail on a button now and then.

The advertiser further intimates that no triflers, trained nurses or aristocrats need apply.

Evasive.

SIDETRACKED BY THE SENATE.

ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION DELIBERATELY IGNORED.

Upper House Wants to Linger at Sacramento as Long as Public Purse Holds Out—Proposed Investigation of Relation of Wages to Vice Is Quietly Killed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—After a week devoted chiefly to getting back into the swing of legislative activity, interrupted early in February by the beginning of the constitutional recess, the Senate adjourned today until Monday, when a steady programme of long daily sessions and committee meetings, together with open hearings of wide interest to the public, will be inaugurated.

To date the Senate has ignored the resolution to set a date for final adjournment, although the Assembly has gone on record as favoring April 26. This is the date urged upon the administration leaders early in the week by Governor Johnson, who wishes a short and busy session, but there is some feeling among the Senators that with nearly 4000 bills before them and practically nothing done it will be useless to set a date for adjournment until they can estimate the possibilities of the next six weeks. The Assembly concurrent resolution is now being considered in the Finance Committee of the Senate, and there is talk that it may be buried there indefinitely, to be used as a club over the lower house should procrastination develop.

The first week of the second half of the session showed the rise and fall of one of the most talked of matters before this Legislature—the investigation into the relation to low wages for women and white slavery. Inspired by the results of the Illinois investigation that is now being carried on in that State, a number of Senators returned here after the recess prepared to launch a similar inquiry in California.

DROP INVESTIGATION.

The suggestion fell upon fertile ground. Scarcely had the Senate been called to order Monday morning when Senator D. J. Beban of San Francisco, representing the district that shelters the "Barbary Coast," came forward with a resolution providing for such an investigation. It was reported out of the Rules Committee with the recommendation that it do pass, and on Wednesday it went through the Senate after a sharp fight. But when Lieut.-Gov. Wallace appointed the committee of five which the resolution called for he named four who had opposed the measure on the floor of the Senate and he also neglected to make Beban chairman. This committee met and decided not to make an investigation. Beban resigned and the exciting flurry that was the sole topic of conversation early in the week died away. There will be no investigation.

THE CAMINETTI ARREST.

An echo will be heard in this session of the sensational arrest of Senator Caminetti on the floor of the Senate, during a debate in the early days of the first half, before the recess. At that time Lieut.-Gov. Wallace's authority was questioned in a resolution introduced by Senator Wright and today the Committee on Rules appointed a subcommittee, composed of Senators Boynton and Campbell, to inquire into the Lieutenant-Governor's authority and make a report.

PUBLIC HEARINGS.

Open hearings of wide public interest were announced today for next week in the Senate. They include the following:

Monday evening, March 17.—Workmen's compensation bill, by Senator Boynton.

Tuesday evening, March 18.—Conservation bills drawn up by ex-Gov. George C. Pardee of the State Conservation Commission.

Wednesday evening, March 19.—Kehoe bill prohibiting the sale of liquor on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915.

Friday evening, March 21.—Anti-capital punishment bill, by Senator Bryant.

GLENDORA BRIEFS.

GLENDORA, March 15.—Another fine producer was assured when the drill Thursday uncovered a fifty-inch flow of water at the 400-foot level in the well being sunk for Mr. G. D. Whitcomb by Mr. J. Leutheuser, contractor. From the high quality and depth of the water bearing gravel formations encountered in the process of lowering the drill, experienced water men freely express the opinion that a flow of 100 California miner's inches will be safely brought in by the time the contract depth of 800 feet is reached. This fine well is located in the Little Dalton wash two miles northeast of town at an altitude that will admit of easy water distribution to most of the land in cultivation in the Glendora district by gravity flow. The combined flow of water from the group of wells brought in since the close of the irrigation season of 1912 of which the Whitcomb well is the sixth, will total more than 600 miner's inches. Representing an increase of the supply over for the past year sufficient to insure water in great plenty for the coming irrigation season.

The sudden appearance of a balloon in town early this morning created considerable surprise to the inhabitants of the city. It was viewed with intense interest by hundreds of men, women and children as it ascended to an altitude of 600 feet, where it poised gracefully in midair while the photographer took a view of the business section of town and a back view of Mt. San Antonio. After taking eight views of the most prominent places of interest Mr. Neal Hampton, the photographer in charge, decided to return to terra firma to wait further operations on account of the thick haze which hung over the valley and partially obscured the mountains. Mr. Hampton announced his purpose to remain over until tomorrow to take as many views as possible of the scenic wonders about Glendora, pronounced by him to be the finest met with anywhere. They will be taken at different altitudes and at varying distances to insure the very best work possible in the art of photography. The enterprise of The Times in taking this method of booming all Southern California is favorably commented upon by the business men and leading citizens of Glendora.

E. G. Widman is installing a forty-horse-power Morse and Fairbanks crude oil burner engine at the well on his twenty-acre tract on West Sierra Madre avenue. This well was successfully brought in last fall and a partial test made convinced the owner that with the installation of more powerful machinery the flow might easily be increased to forty to fifty inches. Mr. Widman has just let the contract for a residence to be erected on the premises and will occupy it with his family.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, March 15.—The Brown and Curry union evangelistic services closed here yesterday, with a total of 308 new converts and many more hundreds of Christians declaring for more advanced ground in Christian living. For three weeks the evangelists have been packing the big Methodist auditorium to capacity every night.

A pleasing feature of the closing meetings was testimony given by representatives of various lodges commending the work of the evangelists. Representatives of the Masons, Odd Fellows, Workmen and old line and fraternal lodges volunteered cheerfully that they approved Mr. Brown's attitude toward outside organizations.

COLOGNE (Germany) March 15.—The Balkan allies undoubtedly will have to modify their attitude as shown in their reply to the offer of mediation by the European powers, according to an inspired dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette. The great powers find the proposals of the Balkan nations in several respects inadmissable, particularly the demand for the surrender of Scutari. The powers, the dispatch says, reserve to themselves the settlement of the boundaries of the future Balkan state comprising the fortress of Scutari.

EXTRAVAGANT DEMANDS.
THE POWERS IRRITATED.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—Irritation over the "extravagance" of the demands of the Balkan allies in their reply to the offer of mediation by the powers was expressed by some of the European Ambassadors at their meeting today to discuss the situation. However, they do not regard the conditions laid down by the allies as closing the door to mediation. The next step taken by the powers will, it is expected, be recommendations with a view to approximating the demands of the allies with what the powers consider a more equitable basis of negotiations. The diplomats adjourned until March 19.

ATHENS (Greece) March 15.—Strong feeling against the Bulgarians is spreading with great rapidity among the Greek populations. Only the strong hand of the government prevents a violent outbreak. The irritation of the Greeks arises from the Bulgarian claim to great stretches of erstwhile Turkish territory which Greece considers hers by right of conquest. The editor of the newspaper, Chronos, was sentenced today to a week's imprisonment for editorially denouncing Bulgarian avarice. Proceedings have been begun against several other persons for similar offenses.

PLAN CAUSES DISAPPOINTMENT.

Selection of Twelfth Street for the State Highway Disturbs the Serenity of Tenth-Street Residents.

UPLAND, March 15.—Now that it is practically settled that the State highway will pass through Upland on Twelfth street, instead of Tenth, as was originally planned, there is a move on foot to disincorporate a portion of the west end of Twelfth street, in this city, so as to avoid the expensive bit of improvement along land which is in the wash, and is therefore almost valueless.

Even with this change, however, the building of the road on Twelfth street is going to work quite a hardship on some of the residents, and there is talk of a petition against the proposed selection of that route. Recently Upland finished an expensive improvement of Tenth street, from Euclid avenue to the eastern city limits, on what is termed the Foothill boulevard. This route, however, is not pleasing to the commissioners, because of so many abrupt turns, both at Claremont and at Cucamonga, and in order to eliminate these turns, Twelfth street has been chosen. It will give to Upland, in time, two splendid east and west highways, however.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Work on the new Carnegie Library in this city is progressing nicely, under the direction of Contractor Gerry. The City Council has asked the Upland Chamber of Commerce to name three men, to serve with two ladies, the latter to be recommended by the Upland Women's Club, the five to constitute the library board. The Chamber suggested the names of Edward C. Harwood, Merton E. Hill and Charles Ruedy. The names of the ladies have not yet been made public, but the board is certain to prove a splendid one, in the estimation of a number of our people. The library, while a small one, will be strictly first-class in every respect, and the location, at the northeast corner of D street and First avenue, will greatly enhance the appearance of that section of the City Hall Park.

Charles D. Adams, of Upland, for fourteen years manager of the Upland Citrus Association of this city, and a man closely identified with the progress and success of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, has been spending several days in Salt Lake City, assisting prominent fruit men there in the formation of the Utah Fruit Growers' Association. Few men, perhaps excel Adams in the line of organization, and the Upland association is acknowledged to be today one of the strongest integral parts of the local O.-K. exchange, which is affiliated with the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. Mr. Adams's services are eagerly sought for this work frequently.

The cool, cloudy weather of the past several days has caused some apprehension on the part of apricot growers, for the trees are in full bloom, and there is every prospect of a splendid crop. The light frosts this week caused additional worry, but it is now said there was no damage, and a splendid crop of this fruit is looked for.

L. S. Morse, who for a year or more has conducted the Upland Table Supply here, has sold his stock of goods to Johnson & Brown, grocers, and will discontinue the business.

Rev. O. F. Goettel, pastor of the Nazarene Church, reports that he has located a number of families in Upland who are in need of assistance, especially in clothing. Those who desire to contribute to this worthy charity should call upon Rev. Goettel, and the goods desired to give will be called for.

Militant Hurls Paint Pot in Reply to King.

Scores of Letter Boxes Are Doused With Acid.

Singing Suffragette Song Leads to Arrest.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.— Miss Margorie Masters, the suffragette school teacher who threw a pot of grease paint through a window of the Home Office yesterday was sentenced today to a month's imprisonment. Addressing the police magistrate in court she said:

"This was my method of lifting the gauntlet thrown down to women by the government in ignoring the question of votes for women in the King's speech at the opening of Parliament."

She was followed in the prisoners' enclosure by a male anti-suffrage enthusiast who had harangued a crowd outside the headquarters of the militant suffragette society. He had shouted to the people:

"That's the place which ought to be burned down."

The police promptly arrested him. He was put under bonds to keep the peace.

BURN LETTERS WITH ACID.

The suffragettes opened today another active campaign of destruction of the mails. Scores of letter boxes in London were found this morning with their contents destroyed by acid. A large force of police has been assigned to special duty to investigate these outrages and to arrest the criminals.

The woman arrested last evening on suspicion of having been connected with a suffrage plot to damage the new water reservoir, at Chingford, in the northeast of London, turned out to be a music hall singer. She was released from custody after six hours' detention at the police station. She sings a suffragette song on the stage. The police found a heap of shavings, hammers and other militant paraphernalia in an automobile in the vicinity of the place where she was arrested.

RAILWAY LINES STILL UNMERGED

Lovett Blames Meddling of California Commission.

Benicia Cut-off Remains the Bone of Contention.

Attorneys Have Two Months to Devise New Plan.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—The Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution plan, which contemplated a preferential traffic agreement between the two Harriman roads for the use of the Benicia cut-off, from Oakland to Sacramento, Cal., was abandoned today in the Federal Court here by the Harriman interests and it now devolves on the railway attorneys and the Attorney-General to devise a new arrangement to carry into effect the dissolution decree of the Federal Supreme Court.

The dissolution decree, which was certified to the District Court of Utah on February 10, gave the railroads three months to submit a plan for the lower court. This time limit will expire on May 10. No date was set by the judges of the Eighth Federal Circuit Court, sitting as the District Court of Utah, for the rehearing of the case, but it is expected that a new plan will be laid before the court some time in April.

What arrangement the railway companies contemplated is not indicated by Chairman Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific system, who announced the abandonment of the plan.

Mr. Lovett and other officials and attorneys of the Harriman lines left St. Louis for the East on a special train this afternoon. United States District Attorney Houts, who represented the Attorney-General in the proceedings today, has not information as to the further course contemplated by the railroad representatives.

LOVETT TALKS.

Judge Lovett said the failure of the plan was due to the opposition of the California Railroad Commission to the traffic arrangement contemplated between the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific.

"This arrangement, which provided for the preferential interchange of traffic by the two roads in the use of the short line between Oakland and Sacramento," said Judge Lovett, in addressing the court, "applied only to interstate traffic concerning which the California Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction.

"However, in order to satisfy the French banking interests which hold a $50,000,000 loan against the Central Pacific, it is necessary to lease the Central Pacific to the Union Pacific.

"We recognize that this lease must have the approval of the California Railroad Commission in order to be valid and for that reason the opposition of the California commission to the preferential traffic agreement makes it impossible for the Union Pacific to continue with the modified plan."

Judge Lovett recited briefly the history of the negotiations between the Attorney-General and the railway attorneys in an attempt to devise a plan that would conform to the dissolution decree.

"After the plan was presented to this court on February 24," he said, "providing for the lease by the Central Pacific of the Southern Pacific short line, the attorneys for the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific sought so to modify the plan as to meet the approval of the California board.

"This plan was outlined orally to the Attorney-General but was not reduced to writing until late Wednesday night. Soon thereafter we started for St. Louis, trusting to find a full bench here and hoping that the plan would meet the approval of this court.

"After my arrival here this morning, I received a copy of a telegram sent by the California commission to the Attorney-General opposing the preferential traffic arrangement. A copy of this telegram was given to the railroad attorney in California and from him I received the information today.

"This opposition makes it impossible for the railroad, at least the Union Pacific, to continue with the present plan."

INQUIRY BY THE COURT.

Presiding Judge Sanborn asked District-Attorney Houts if it were satisfactory to the Attorney-General to hold the final dissolution decree in abeyance until a new plan could be devised. Mr. Houts said he had no word from the Attorney-General on that point but that he himself had no motion to offer.

Accordingly the judges allowed the plan to lapse.

After court adjourned, Lovett refused positively to make any statement to newspaper men as to the future plans of the railroad.

In apologizing to the court for his failure to submit a modified plan, he explained that the agreement with the banking syndicate for the floating of the stock distribution feature of the dissolution expired tonight and that the railway had hoped to close up the matter today.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Hollow Horn Bear, big chief of the Sioux Indians on the Rosebud (S. D.) reservation, and probably most famous of all Sioux chieftains, died here early today of pneumonia.

The inclemency of March weather in Washington, where he came to attend President Wilson's inauguration, was too much for the old warrior.

THAW MAY CONSULT MOTHER.

Court Gives Permission for Private Meeting at Matteawan Asylum, but Only Until Tuesday.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWBURG (N. Y.) March 15.—Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser, issued an order today permitting counsel for Harry K. Thaw and Thaw's mother to consult with him privately at the Matteawan Asylum during the hours the rules of the institution permit visitors.

The order is in force only until Tuesday, when Justice Tompkins will pass on the ruling by the State prison department which barred Mrs. Thaw and Thaw's counsel from private conferences with the prisoner.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN SURE SHE WAS SWINDLED.

San Francisco Realty Dealer Whom She Accuses of Marrying Her to Secure Her Money Is Surprised in Chicago Jail by Visit from His Real Wife.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—David A. Wardell, 33 years old, a San Francisco real estate dealer, who is alleged to have used the name of Donald Coleman when he married Miss Laura Crew in Los Angeles early in February, was brought to Chicago from Rochester, N. Y., today by detectives. Three thousand dollars of the $4500 which the woman had turned over to her alleged "husband" was recovered by the police. He was booked on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Miss Crew is now convinced that she was lured into a false marriage by Wardell merely for the purpose of getting her money. He persuaded her to sell her hotel business in Los Angeles when they were married, she told the police, and she intrusted the proceeds, $4500, to him when they reached Chicago last month.

ARMS AROUND HIS NECK.

Wardell did not know his wife was in Chicago until she met him at the Police Station today. Mrs. Wardell threw her arms around his neck, declaring her forgiveness.

"You'll go back home with me, and we'll live fine," said the wife, apparently forgetting that her husband was charged with a crime.

Recovering from his surprise, Wardell said:

He would not talk about Miss Crew.

OBJECT TO HASTY ACTION.

Republicans in the Senate Insist that the Democrats Look Before They Leap.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Republican objections to hasty action on President Wilson's appointments again delayed action today in the confirmation of several important nominations, including those of Dr. B. T. Galloway to be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; John S. Williams to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Edwin F. Sweet to be Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and Franklin D. Roosevelt to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Democratic chairmen, newly chosen, were ready to poll their committees as to the approval of the appointments, but Senators Root and Jones insisted that regular committees' meetings be held.

It is expected the Senate will act Monday on several of the pending appointments.

THE OIL PIPE LINE CASE. GOVERNMENT APPEALS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The government appealed today to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Commerce Court in the oil pipe line cases. Because of their importance a motion will be filed on Monday to advance the cases so that they can be heard at this session of the court. The Commerce Court granted an injunction setting aside the Interstate Commerce Commission's order to compel the pipe line to assume the obligations of common carriers.

DOUBT CONN'S STORY.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Evidence in the possession of the police tending to connect Mrs. Kitty Pope, now under arrest in Detroit, with the burglaries committed by Owen D. Conn of Chicago, the "hundred thousand dollar burglar," will be presented to the grand jury in order that an indictment may issue. The Michigan law does not grant extraditions except on indictment.

Mrs. Pope was for a time Conn's companion here. He denies that she had any share in his crimes, but the police believe differently.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH BLACKMAIL

Wealthy Men Said to Be Favorite Victims.

Alleged Operations Extend to Several Cities.

Accused by Uncle Sam of Postal Violation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) March 15.—Charged with having mulcted wealthy men in a half-dozen of the cities out of thousands of dollars within the last few months, through intimations of possible exposure, Mrs. Emma Bothwell, with several aliases, was arrested today, and will be given a preliminary hearing March 27, before a United States Commissioner.

Mrs. Bothwell was specifically charged in affidavits filed by Postoffice Inspector Robinson with having used the mails to defraud Edward H. Frederickton of South Bend, Ind., and others.

The woman was remanded to jail in default of $1000 bail.

QUIZ ACTRESS ABOUT MORALS.

Janette Fullerton Tells Illinois Commission that Stars Don't Have to Plead for a Minimum Wage Law—Merchant Says Low Pay Does Not Determine Conduct.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEORIA (Ill.) March 15.—Miss Janette Fullerton, who acts "in stock," today told the Illinois Vice Commission about life on the stage here. The women employees of two shows playing here had been subpoenaed, but there was time to hear only Miss Fullerton.

She gave the average minimum wage of chorus girls as $16. Those who "read lines," she said, rarely received less than $25 a week.

"Reading lines," she explained, means speaking parts. The average salary of actors and classes "reading lines" runs from $35 to $70 a week, she said. There are stars who receive salaries running into the hundreds and thousands.

Chairman O'Hara has asked a great many women since the commission was instituted whether they were driven to the downward path by low wages. He asked Miss Fullerton whether women were ever driven to the stage by inadequate pay received in other branches of endeavor.

"Oh, no; most girls go on the stage because they are ambitious," she replied. "They feel that they have talent."

The commission quizzed today eighteen witnesses, including merchants, manufacturers and others.

Thomas Greer, manager of a department store, did not know the profits of his firm, but was sure the firm could not pay a minimum wage of $8 to its women employees without interfering with the earnings of the houses.

P. A. Berger, head of a department store, declared his belief low wages have little to do with immorality.

BUT THE REV. CLARKSON MAKES WIFE WAIT.

She Arrives in Chicago, but the Companion of the Dude Burglar of San Francisco Finds the Door Locked—Mrs. Pope Exonerated by Conn of Complicity in Crimes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—A meeting between the Rev. Nestor K. Clarkson and his wife, who ran away from her husband and five children with Owen Dale Conn, a burglar, probably will take place tomorrow. Mrs. Clarkson arrived in Chicago today from Milwaukee, but her husband did not meet her at the railroad station as she had expected.

Soon after her arrival, however, he sent her a message. He could not see her today, but would meet her tomorrow.

Friends of Mrs. Clarkson have invited her to come to their home and stay as long as she likes.

"I suppose I'll be scolded and prayed over," she said, discussing her probable return to the band of mission workers of which her husband is the leader, "but I'll be safe, anyhow."

"I have come back penitent and with a sad heart to ask my husband's forgiveness she said as she stepped from the railway train. "If my husband refuses to take me back I shall become a missionary."

HELD AS A FUGITIVE. WARRANT FOR MRS. POPE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT, March 15.—Mrs. Kate M. Pope, taken into custody here yesterday in connection with the Owen D. Conn burglary case in San Francisco, was today formally charged in a warrant, with being a fugitive from justice.

San Francisco authorities have notified the local police that they will come here after her.

Detectives today said they had obtained from Mrs. Pope about $500 worth of jewelry, which she said had been given her by Conn.

It includes watches, rings, and stick pins. She is alleged to have told the police that when she accepted the jewelry from Conn, she did not know of his wrong doing.

Mrs. Pope still insisted today that she would contest extradition although last night she signed papers waiving that right; she is at liberty on her personal bond.

SURELY TAKE "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED.

Sweetens Your Stomach, Clears Your Head and Thoroughly Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Foul Gases and Clogged-up Waste.

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when you have indigestion, the nights when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs. Isn't it foolish to be distressed when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it?

Give your inactive liver and ten yards of waste-clogged bowels a thorough cleansing this time. Put an end to constipation.

Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight, sure, and just see for yourself by morning, how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and clogged up waste matter is moved on and out of your system—no nausea—no griping—no weakness.

You simply can't have your liver inactive and your thirty feet of bowels constipated with sour, decaying waste matter and feel well. The need of a laxative is a natural need, but with delicious Syrup of Figs you are not drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it can not injure.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with scorn, any of the so-called Fig Syrup imitations. They are meant to deceive you. Look on the label. The genuine, old reliable, bears the name, California Fig Syrup Company.—[Advertisement.

I CURE

PILES

FISTULA and ALL RECTAL DISEASES

WITHOUT an OPERATION

BY MY PAINLESS DISSOLVENT METHOD

I Guarantee to Cure Every Case I Accept for Treatment.

For twenty-five years I have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time my experience as hospital and railroad surgeon, as college lecturer and professor, has enabled me to develop a method that is superior to all others. I cure without surgery and my patients are never confined in bed and never lose a moment's time from their business.

With my method I absorb pile tumors by medication, applied (or driven in,) by a mild electric current. The piles are absorbed in a few treatments, leaving the rectum in a healthy, normal condition. There is no danger, no bad after effects and no pain or soreness.

My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatment administered by me in my office.

If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, I invite you to investigate my method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of my cured patients. If you will call at my office I will be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people I have cured, whom you may interview in regard to my treatment.

I TREAT NO DISEASES EXCEPT THOSE OF THE RECTUM AND BOWELS.

REV. EDWARD BROOKS CURED.

Mr. Dear Dr. White: I wish to express to you again my heartfelt appreciation for what you have done for me. After suffering for years with the worst form of hemorrhoids, YOU HAVE CURED ME COMPLETELY, and during the treatment I did not turn aside from my usual work. I therefore commend you and your method to all sufferers from rectal disorders. Very gratefully yours,
REV. EDWARD H. BROOKS (Baptist Minister,) 2812 Menlo Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

WELL KNOWN DENTIST CURED.

For twenty years I suffered with a severe rectal trouble which was caused by being almost constantly on my feet. The pain from this affliction has at times incapacitated me from professional duties. Dr. C. H. White, with his dissolvent method, has entirely cured me and I am as well as I ever was in my life. I desire to say to all sufferers that Dr. White is a skillful physician and is doing grand good work for humanity in the curing of diseases of the lower bowel. DR. R. K. DUNN, Dentist, Sawtelle, Cal.

MR. WILLAM ELLIS CURED.

Dr. C. H. White has cured me without pain and without operation of Fistula that came upon me 24 years ago. I will be glad to talk with any sufferer needing help and tell them what Dr. White has done for me. I personally know many people whom the doctor has cured.

Maj. Gillette Calls on Bryan and Tells Him the Best Thing to Do in the Mexican Crisis.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Immediate recognition of the Huerta government in Mexico was urged on Secretary Bryan today by Maj. Cassius E. Gillette, U.S.A., retired, interested in mining properties in the State of Mexico.

"The sooner it is recognized by the United States the more quickly will the government be able to get money and suppress the little revolution in the outlying States," said he.

Maj. Gillette called at the White House but did not see President Wilson. He would not discuss Mr. Bryan's view of recognition.

TEN MORE MADEROS ARRIVE.

Will Consult With Rest of Family in United States, How to Re-establish Fortunes.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Ten of the Madero family, all relatives of the slain President of Mexico, arrived here today to join others of the family already in the United States and to consider where and how the Maderos may re-establish their fortunes.

The party included Mrs. Sarah P. Madero, widow of President Francisco I. Madero and her daughters, Angela and Mercedes; Mrs. Francisco Madero, the late President's mother; Mrs. Zirion, his sister, and Mrs. Zirion's four children, and one of the President's nephews. They came from Havana, which was their first place of refuge after the death of President Madero.

Many other Mexican refugees were on the same steamer, among them Jose Q. Reyes, a son of Gen. Bernardo Reyes who was killed during the recent uprising.

Epes Randolph Gets no Satisfaction From Gen. Obregon, Who Holds Southern Pacific of Mexico Lines.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 15.—Epes Randolph, president and general manager of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, arrived today to make a formal demand on Gen. Obregon for the railway lines. The demand was either denied or ignored. The State troops holding Nogales, Sonora, are allowing no equipment of the American-owned line to cross into Arizona.

The number of killed in the Nogales attack was fixed today at twenty. Two died in the hospital here last night.

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR, NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Hair Coming Out?—If Dry, Brittle, Thin, or Your Scalp Itches And Is Full of Dandruff—Use "Danderine."

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of Dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight — now — that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—your surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

DR. WILCOXON SURRENDERS.

Alleged Head of Bunco Gang Denies Connection.

Says Trip to Death Valley Cause of Delay.

To Be Arraigned Tomorrow on Fraud Charge.

Dr. L. O. Wilcoxon, mining man and prominent in South Pasadena society, yesterday morning gave himself up to Chief of Police Sebastian, who has been searching for him upon a charge of attempting to defraud J. K. Rose, a Seattle mining man. Detective Fred C. Boden, who has been aiding in the investigation of the so-called bunco trust, guarded Dr. Wilcoxon until the latter secured bail.

Justice of the Peace Reeve reduced bail from $5000 to $2000 and ordered the defendant arraigned tomorrow morning in his court. Clinton Johnson and Dr. Delos S. Gillespie went on his bond.

Trouble has piled high for Wilcoxon since the bunco investigation began. Shortly after the arrest of Lee Rial, it was reported that Wilcoxon, who is interested in many mining ventures, was connected with the gang.

A little later a riotous young woman, handsome in a bold way, was arrested as one of the "molls" of the gang. She only figured in the case for a day, officers from San Bernardino taking her there to answer to another alleged violation of law.

WANTS HIS WIFE.

Wilcoxon says he is sure his wife will withdraw her divorce proceedings when she learns the facts as he explains them. He declares he never met the young woman or knew the bunco men. He freely admits business dealings with the Friesez brothers up in Portland, where he says he was once obliged to make good a check which one of them drew when without sufficient funds.

"When I read in The Times that the authorities wanted me in connection with an investigation of the underworld I felt like putting a pistol to my head," said Wilcoxon yesterday afternoon in the office of C. Randall Sparks, his attorney. "This was about five days, I should judge, after the beginning of the probe. I was in Death Valley looking after my mining affairs. For two days I stayed up there, not knowing whether to come to Los Angeles and face the music or go away.

"What influenced me most was the thought of my wife and babies. I wanted to make myself right with my wife, who is a nervous, high-strung woman. I can easily imagine how she has felt the disgrace of it all."

SAYS HE'S A MEDICO.

Wilcoxon was irritated because it was asserted that he was a pseudo physician and a bogus college man. He said yesterday that he attended a Chicago medical school after leaving college but has not practiced here because mining ventures presented more allurements for him.

The Wilcoxons have been among the society leaders of South Pasadena. Their beautiful home at No. 1104 Fremont avenue was the scene of frequent festivities. Both were prominent in the Christian Science Church there. The house was deeded to Mrs. Wilcoxon some time ago.

"I am confident that my client will be discharged after the preliminary examination," said Attorney Sparks. "Wilcoxon was in various mining ventures here and in the North. For two years he braved the cold winters of the Klondike to carve out a fortune for himself and family. Like most mining men he has lived freely. He has mingled with investors, clubmen and men about town.

"He tells me he does not know the gang that Chief Sebastian and the other officers have been after. He tells me that Rose held back some stock in a mining deal and that when he got a chance he did the same.

"I am satisfied that Wilcoxon has not been a member of any bunco gang, or joined in any attempt at wholesale swindling. It seems curious that Rose would get a complaint against Wilcoxon and then go back to Seattle."

Deputy District Attorney Shannon, who has been handling the bunco complaints for Capt. Fredericks, said yesterday that there was some evidence tending to show Wilcoxon was mixed up in several shady transactions. He expressed the belief that there will be important developments resulting from the arrest of Wilcoxon.

Though Wilcoxon denies acquaintance with E. C. (Poker) Davis, Rial, J. W. Byrnes and other alleged confidence men, the police allege he has met them. Whether this be true or not, his attorney says that the only criminal charge is attempting to defraud Rose. This charge, says the lawyer, can be disproved.

The return of Wilcoxon may inject new life into the investigation of the so-called bunco trust which is said to ply its various schemes without molestation by the police. The police say that swindling games are perpetrated in every city and that it is impossible to save all the innocent lambs who seem to like to be trimmed.

Dr. L. O. Wilcoxon, well-known mining man

And a figure in South Pasadena society, who surrendered himself to the police yesterday, is charged with attempt to defraud a mining man. He denies he has any connection with the so-called bunco trust.

FEMININE PREROGATIVE.

Exeter Woman Has Husband Arrested for Forgery and Then Concludes She Will Not Prosecute.

EXETER, March 15.—After the police of half a dozen cities had chased J. D. Kendall for two months, on a complaint of his wife, who charged him with forging her name to a check for $800, Mrs. Kendall today stated that she had changed her mind about the case and she would not prosecute her penitent spouse. Kendall and his wife ran a picture show here and one morning Kendall was missing. Mrs. Kendall swore to a warrant for his arrest, alleging that he had taken $800 of her personal money by means of a forged check. Kendall was finally arrested in San Francisco as he was inquiring for his mail at the general postoffice. Evidently Kendall had not been treading the White Light district, as he had about $500 on his person when apprehended. Mrs. Kendall visited her husband in the San Francisco Jail and the next day returned here with the statement that she was mistaken and that the check cashed by her husband was one she had drawn, given to him and then forgot.

Mrs. Kendall is packing her personal effects and will move to San Francisco forthwith. All of which illustrates that sudden change of mind is still a feminine prerogative.

BLOS MARQUARD SUED.

New Wife of Rube Pitcher Forgot to Pay for Her Store Hair and Firm Attaches Her Salary.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 15.—Just because she forgot to pay for a little old hank of hair—$30 worth, to be accurate—which she wore at the altar last Wednesday when she became the bride of Rube Marquard, Blossom Seeley today was sued for the price of the tresses and her salary at the Orpheum attached to insure payment of the bill.

The hair, says the plaintiffs, consists of ten puffs, each valued at $3, and has been worn by the former Miss Seeley for a number of weeks. Therefore, they say, there can be no defense that the goods are unsatisfactory or unbecoming. The Fredrichson Hair Company of Los Angeles brought the suit, through the Rauer Law and Collection Agency.

It is alleged she purchased the puffs when in Los Angeles. Marquard is not made a party to the action, as at the time the contract between the theater and the couple was made a separate salary went to her and also Marquard cannot be expected to pay the bills of Miss Seeley before he married her.

FIRST FRIEDMANN PATIENT.

Edward A. Sperry of Victorville, formerly of this city, is the first patient to be treated in this State with the Friedmann cure for tuberculosis. In six days he is declared to have gained five pounds and a normal appetite, though much emaciated from five years suffering from the dread disease. The serum is being administered by Dr. Harris Garcelon, formerly of this city.

Those Pimples Are a Fright

There's No Excuse for Blotches, Blackheads and Pimples. The Right Way to Get Rid of Them is by Taking Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Many people are continually using lotions and creams on the face and wondering why they make so little impression upon pimples, blotches and blackheads.

It Is Such a Wonderful Change to Be Rid of All Pimples and Other Skin Eruptions.

It's because pimples and eruptions come from the inside—from impure blood—and you can't cure them by rubbing stuff on the outside of the face. Purify the blood and the blemishes will disappear.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will often clear the complexion in a few days' time. That's the wonderful part of it—they act right off — in a hurry. That's because they're made of just the ingredients needed to drive all poisons and impurities from the blood. That's why doctors prescribe them so constantly.

CLAN GATHERING OF WOLVERINES.

EIGHT THOUSAND HAVE PICNIC SPORTS AT EASTLAKE.

Home-Going Trip Planned and Several Trains May Be Necessary to Carry the Excursionists—Basket Lunches and Speeches Serve to Edify the Multitude.

More than 8000 members and guests of the Michigan Society of Southern California gathered at Eastlake Park yesterday for the twelfth annual and largest-attended picnic ever held by the organization. The picnickers began gathering early and by noon there were over 6000 persons on the grounds. Shortly after noon a delegation of 200 arrived from Alhambra in special Pacific Electric cars and later accessions swelled the attendance.

It was an ideal day for a picnic and everyone from Robert Gragg, 89 years old, to 6-months-old Clara Kutz, who came in a baby carriage, enjoyed the sunshine to the full. As members arrived they were registered according to their old home counties and many a joyful reunion was the result. Coffee was served at noon on the grounds and with the basket lunches, constituted the picnic repast.

B. H. Rothwell, who is chairman of the committee handling the back-home excursion, which is to leave here June 27, was present and after circulating among the throng said that it would perhaps require two or three special trains, instead of the one suggested, to handle the home-going Wolverines from Southern California. A great reunion of Wolverines is to be held at Belle Isle, Detroit, July 4, to be followed by home-comings in practically every town of both lower and upper Michigan.

C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of States, was also present and in an address urged the society to co-operate with the other State societies in the erection of the proposed Federation building at Seventh and Figueroa streets. The society by rising vote indorsed the plan.

The formal programme consisted of an address of welcome by O. W. Blain, president of the society, who as a pioneer, welcomed one and all to their birthright, California sunshine and health, and said that the old home State is dear in that it is so different from California. "We have come to God's country," said Blain, "but that is no reason why we should forget our birth State."

The report of Secretary-Treasurer T. L. O'Brien showed a neat little sum in the treasury. The programme concluded with a reading by Prof. Mark B. Beal. In the election O. W. Blain of Hollywood was re-elected president; S. Youngs of this city, re-elected first vice-president; C. C. Brown, Pasadena, re-elected second vice-president; Mrs. M. Middleton, Long Beach, third vice-president, succeeding A. S. Gale of this city, resigned, and T. L. O'Brien was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

After the election the afternoon was devoted to games and talk. The children played bean-bag and ran races, while the young folks strolled away to the usual secluded spots, leaving their elders to talk of the old days back East. A notable feature of the gathering was the number of veterans present and among these the talk ran to the great war, now a half-century past. At 5 o'clock the Los Angeles Railway Corporation had special cars at the park to handle the homebound crowd.

"Well, we had a great day," said one woman, flushed with the management of her numerous offspring, "and I am glad that I don't have to go home now and stir up the furnace fire."

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of nature, is a beautiful and majestic thing. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom, counsel. That is old age as it should be, but old age, as it often is, means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and a general feeling of ill-health, despondency and misery. This in almost every instance is wholly unnecessary. One of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after supper will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of despondency will give way to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by all dealers.—[Advertisement.

All of a Sudden.

REAR-END CRASH INTO AMBULANCE.

ONE MAY DIE, OTHERS INJURED, RESULT OF WRECK.

Trial Trip of Undertaker's Machine Comes to Grief When Quick Stop Throws It in Path of Swift-Following Car—Autos Wrecked and Occupants Catapulted.

Frank P. McLaughlin, 50 years old, No. 739 South Hope street, ambulance attendant for Pierce Brothers, was perhaps fatally injured; Percy Passell, an employee of the same concern was slightly bruised; the lives of two other men and Miss Ysidora Couts were endangered; a new ambulance belonging to the undertakers was almost totally destroyed, and a machine driven by Paul E. Scott, No. 3834 Ingraham street, was wrecked in a rear-end collision late yesterday afternoon on Wilshire boulevard near Kingsley drive.

McLaughlin, who was catapulted through the rear doors of the ambulance and run over by the Scott machine, was removed to the Hospital of the Good Samaritan in an unconscious condition. Besides sustaining a dislocated right shoulder, he received internal injuries which it is feared will prove fatal. Passell was not sufficiently injured to necessitate his being taken to a hospital.

Miss Couts, No. 1225 Elden avenue, daughter of R. L. Couts, No. 276 South Bonnie Brae, suffered a few minor bruises, as did Scott, when they were thrown forward in their car as it collided with the rear end of the ambulance. Sterling Pierce, who was driving the ambulance, also suffered a few superficial bruises when the force of the collision threw him backward against the front part of his machine.

Passell, Pierce and McLaughlin were giving the ambulance a trial spin on Wilshire boulevard. Passell was riding on the running board, and McLaughlin was standing on the inside of the machine talking with Pierce. They came to an almost sudden stop at the Kingsley drive intersection preparatory to ascending the hill, when Scott, who had been following close behind them, not anticipating their slowing down, ran into the right hand end of the ambulance.

The force of the collision was sufficient to hurl McLaughlin backward the length of the ambulance and catapult him through the rear doors, tearing them almost off their hinges. The man fell in front of the left front wheel of the Scott machine, which passed over his body, rendering him unconscious.

The ambulance was so badly wrecked it could not be used to take McLaughlin to the hospital. A passing auto was impressed.

Scott reported to the police that he was not traveling at an excessive rate of speed when he struck the ambulance. He said it slowed up so suddenly he did not have time to stop or turn out. Pierce said that he did not know there was a machine behind him, or he would have given a sign that he was about to slow up to change the gears on his ambulance.

SWITCHMAN ADMITS IT.

Says He Is to Blame for the Wreck of the Chicago Limited—Under Investigation.

By confessing yesterday that he left the switch open which caused the derailment of Salt Lake passenger train No. 7 at Seventh street, Friday night, resulting in the injury of six persons and a property loss estimated at between $1200 and $1300, Joseph Oldaker, a veteran switchman, laid himself open to discharge by the railroad company and possible prosecution on the charge of criminal negligence.

"I forgot," said Oldaker at the investigation conducted by Superintendent Cullen of the railroad company. "We had been switching there and I closed all the switches but that one before we left. When I heard the crash I recalled that open switch and I knew that I was at fault, for it was my duty to close the switches. No one knows what I lived through in the few minutes that it took me to run to the derailed train."

Superintendent Cullen and other Salt Lake officials say Oldaker is not only a veteran railroader but has always been looked upon as a dependable man.

OPPOSE THE REDUCTION.

Grangers Denounce Assessors for Their Consideration of Those Who Suffered from Recent Freeze.

TULARE, March 15.—Tulare County Grangers, at their annual county meeting held in this city last evening, adopted resolutions criticising the recent action of the assessors in reducing the valuation to be placed on orange grove property for the coming year. The text of the resolutions as adopted is:

"Whereas, the orange growers of Tulare county have petitioned our Supervisors to lower the assessed valuation of their orchards and lands on account of the short crop of the past season, therefore,

Resolved, by the members of Pomona Grange that we enter our earnest protest against such reduction as being class legislation, which would be unjust to all other classes of taxpayers, as it would put a portion of their just taxation upon others who are equally liable, in their various occupations, to adverse conditions."

As the reduction against which the resolutions are ordered has been definitely ordered, the action of the grange will probably be without effect.

New officers were elected by the county organization for the coming year as follows:

D. R. Deming, Visalia, master; J. W. McPherson of Dinuba, overseer; W. A. Bates of Poplar, steward; C. A. Henry of Tulare, treasurer, and Mrs. B. C. Anderson of Visalia, secretary.

NEW BOXERS ARRIVE.

Burns and Shurgue Drop Into Town and Are Scheduled to Begin Their Training Stunts Today.

Frankie Burns, who is to box Eddie Campi here on March 29, and Young Shurgue of New York, who wants to meet Brown, Anderson or Russell, arrived here yesterday. Both are under the management of Jimmy Lee.

Eddie Campi will start light work at Doyle's this afternoon, and Burns will engage in his first workout at Venice.

Dan Morgan and Brown will leave for New York Tuesday. Brown's mother is critically ill in that city. Donald and Anderson plan to leave for Medford in a couple of days.

the threshold of Ireland's political independence in the hope of the successful passage of the Home Rule Bill.

"The cause of home rule is destined to success. The centers of the world's activity have been stirred by the appeals made to them, the heart of England has been reached. When the Unionist party was defeated in 1906, the leader of the Liberal party, Mr. Asquith, declared that the Irish problem could only be solved by setting up in Ireland a system of full self-government in regard to purely Irish affairs.

"The general elections in 1910 sent the Liberals into power with a majority of 124, and in April, 1912, Mr. Asquith introduced his Home Rule Bill, and it was accepted by the Irish Parliamentary party as at least a step in the direction of that complete justice which one day will come to Ireland. Mr. Asquith's Home Rule Bill was carried through the Commons with a majority of 110, so that even if the eighty-two Irish Nationalists had abstained from voting, the Liberal party would of itself have been able to carry the bill against all opposition. As was expected, the House of Lords rejected the bill, although with a decreased majority, but it is to the credit of the non-Irish members, the English, Scotch and Welsh, that 285 of them voted for the bill, showing that a majority of the representatives from England, Scotland and Wales, was favorable to Premier Asquith and his Home Rule Bill for Ireland.

"The bill is now being introduced for a second time, and it will pass, whatever the House of Lords may do to it, for if it passes the Commons for the third time by May, 1914, it will become a law, for King George, like his fatehr, is a friend of home rule. It is a question, will the Liberals be able to hold power for the next fourteen months? It is difficult to say, but the recent test of the strength of the party on the Welch church disestablishment shows the party still retains its undiminished power.

"The outlook is good, the hope of success seems well founded, and the day we celebrate is full of the spirit of home rule for Ireland.

"Ireland's struggle for self-government has no parallel in the history of nations. The Irish are a forgiving race; they forget the evil of yesterday in the good of today. The bright sun of home rule drives away the darkness and the shadows of the political iniquities of the past. The day we celebrate is the dawn of justice in the coming of home rule for Ireland.

"God grant that this measure of justice may be conceded to Ireland. It is certain that others will follow, and that our dear motherland will again rise into dignity and power as a nation. The old Parliament in College Green will ring once more with the eloquence and scholarship of Ireland's representatives and in that day it will be a Parliament of all Ireland and for all the people, and although the majority will be Catholic, those counties represented by Protestant Ulster men, will find the fairness and justice of Catholic Ireland granted to them in all that spirit of true Irish character which makes us proud of one another and anxious for the welfare of all.

"God speed the day when Ireland's Parliament doors will open and Ireland's flag will float again over her own Parliament in College Green in Dublin."

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

"A Leaf From an Irishman's Diary." was the toast responded to by William Mulholland of Los Angeles aqueduct fame, after which the officers of the organization for the coming year were announced. They remain unchanged through the list, honorary president being Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas J. Conaty; president, James C. Kays; secretary, James L. Irwin; treasurer, Thomas J. Cunningham; board of directors, J. J. Byrne, Timothy Spellacy and Charles Danlon.

LONG FRANCHISE GRANTED.

Beaumont Trustees Give Southern California Edison Company Right to Sell Product for Fifty Years.

BEAUMONT, March 15.—A fifty-year franchise for furnishing electric light and power in Beaumont was sold last night by the City Trustees to the Southern California Edison Company. The sum of $200 was received for the franchise. A bid was also submitted by the Southern Sierras Power Company. Under the terms of the franchise the city is to receive as further compensation the sum of 2 per cent. of the gross receipts after the first five years. W. L. Frost of the Edison company stated that the wires would be immediately extended to this city, and it is expected that the current will be turned on within sixty days.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Summit House of this city, one of the best-known hotels of the San Gorgonio Pass, has been sold by Charles Budden to E. A. Correll, formerly of Los Angeles. The new proprietor is now in possession. He will have the hotel refurnished and redecorated.

A handsome new concrete church edifice will be erected in this city by the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church in the near future, at the corner of Egan avenue and F street. Announcement to this effect was made this week by the pastor, Rev. William Sickels. Plans are now being drawn for the new structure.

Plans have been accepted by the Beaumont Lumber Company for the erection of an office and business room at the corner of California avenue and Fifth street, opposite the Bank of Beaumont. A stock of hardware will be installed in the new building. This is the fourth new business structure to be started here since January 1.

J. E. Miller, formerly of Tonopah, Nev., has purchased of W. A. Sewell, through the Kieron Land Company, 11.60 acres of land on Sixth street, between Pennsylvania avenue and the east city limits of Beaumont. The tract is partly in four-year-old fruit trees and will be highly improved by the new owner. The reported consideration is $3500.

New officers have been elected by the W.C.T.U. of this city as follows: President, Mrs. A. M. Belford; vice-president, Mrs. E. D. Reynolds; recording secretary, Mrs. T. F. Taylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. L. Perry; treasurer, Miss Annie Gillis.

The annual election of officers of the Beaumont Board of Trade will be held at the last meeting for the fiscal year on March 24. The membership of the board is now nearing the 100-mark. Plans are being made for the extensive advertising during the coming year of the city and its surroundings.

Work has been started on a handsome residence for N. P. Mader on Edgar avenue, between Sixth and Seventh streets.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the United Presbyterian Church in this city will be observed by a special programme Friday evening, March 21. Features of the programme will be a historical sketch of the various organizations of the congregation, the reading of letters from former pastors, and an address by the Rev. E. B. McKittrick, D.D., superintendent of missions of Los Angeles presbytery.

"REALLY DOES" PUT STOMACHS IN ORDER AT ONCE—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

Time It! In Just Five Minutes There Will Be No Indigestion, Sourness, Heartburn, Gas or Dyspepsia.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put and end to stomach trouble by getting a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any saomach disorder.—[Advertisement.

In Flight.

FATALLY INJURES OLD MAN WITH STOLEN CAR.

RIDING wild in an automobile that he had stolen during the afternoon, an unknown man ran down and fatally injured John Maley, No. 4004 Winter street, and after the accident abandoned the machine and fled, leaving his victim unconscious beneath the wheels of the wrecked car.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the automobile, belonging to Alexander D. Cooper, No. 4281 Brighton avenue, was stolen from the street in front of the University of Southern California. Cooper, who is secretary and treasurer of the A. F. Anderson Company, No. 394 South Los Angeles street, was at the university watching a scientific demonstration, and left his machine for several hours. When he returned to the street the car was gone.

Eight hours later, John Maley, an aged employee of the Salt Lake Railroad, who is suffering from a lingering illness, stepped off a street car at Gage street and Eastside boulevard to return to his home. As he reached the ground a madly-driven automobile skirted the corner of the street and bore down on Maley, taking him unawares. He was too frightened to scream and too weak to run. With one long groan he dropped under the attack of the car, going under the front wheels, and was dragged for fifty feet. That is all Maley knows.

The street car crew heard the auto growl past and the blister of the brakes. They thought someone was hurt, they said, not knowing it was Maley's long groan that came to them. When they stopped the car and ran back to look at the machine, they saw the driver lurch from the seat and run down the street, dodging into shielding alleys and racing like a murderer.

Maley was taken to the Receiving Hospital and later transferred to the Good Samaritan Hospital. His skull is fractured, internal injuries are indicated, and several bones are broken. The attending physicians at the hospital reported late last night that his condition was extremely critical, with but little prospects of his being alive today.

The abandoned car was quickly identified by Cooper, and the detectives of both city and county were searching last night for the thief and slayer, of whom they have a meager description.

Clouds Clearing.

SURRENDERS TO SAVE FIANCEE ANNOYANCES.

TO SAVE his sweetheart from the espionage of the Oakland police, Le Roy LeVant, under the alias of Robert LeRoy, surrendered himself at Central Police Station last night as a fugitive from Pennsylvania. The girl he intends to marry, he says, had been harassed by the police in their efforts to find where he was, and to protect her he decided it was better to give himself up.

Several years ago he fled from Pennsylvania, he said, violating his parole from the State Penitentiary in Philadelphia, where he had been committed from Lehighton. As a brakeman, he had been employed on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. One day he borrowed a pass from a fellow workman, and while on the train his deception was discovered by a member of the Federal secret service. He was immediately arrested and convicted of violating the interstate commerce laws. He was given an indeterminate sentence, and quickly paroled.

LeVant found it irksome, he said, to stay in Pennsylvania under the restrictions of a parole, and fled to Oakland. There he met the girl he intends to marry, a stenographer, for and with whom he is saving his money to buy a home.

Several days ago he learned that the police of Oakland were informed that he was a fugitive. So he ran away. At San Jose his fiancee wrote him that she had been called before the police to tell where he was. The police had told her that the man she intended to marry was an escaped convict and it was the first intimation she had that LeVant's life was not regular in the past. She wrote to him asking the truth of the matter, and LeVant surrendered himself here, having arrived but a few hours before he walk to the station. He wants everything clear, he told the police, so he can exonerate himself before the court and return to marry the girl in Oakland.

IRISH AND OTHERWISE.

Sketch Club Celebrates "Blarney Night" With Fitting Tributes to the Emerald Isle.

Thirty widely known Los Angeles artists merged their cosmopolitan nationalities into a Celtic whole last night at the local Sketch Club and contributed to the success of the annual "blarney night." Irish dances, folk-lore and melodies combined to pay fitting tribute to the patron saint of the Emerald Isle.

In quaint Old World costumes, with brogues natural and acquired, these men whose respective temperaments are said to be not unlike the aforesaid brogue, disported themselves in a manner that would have been gratifying to the most exacting son of the "ould sod." With one accord the merrymakers proclaimed continued allegiance to Celtic traditions and solemnly kissed the Blarneystone in token of absolute fealty.

Seldom has a gathering done honor to Irish wit and ingenuity in so thorough-going and painstaking a manner. The artists vied one with the other in their efforts and each successful sally of wit brought forth cheers from competitors who unhesitatingly ascribed whatever of virtue there might have been in the witticism to the Irish strain in the speaker's make-up.

One of the most interesting events of the evening was the grand shillelah battle. Paper clubs, emblematic of the old Irish black thorns, with which the young bucks were wont to crack heads in other times, were used by the contestants. The victor in this battle was he who successfully kept his own hat in its place while knocking the headgear from his opponents. On the whole, the evening was an enjoyable one, according to the Irish and near-Irish who attended.

POSIES TO FOUR THOUSAND.

Howard & Smith, in Brilliant Opening of Unique Building, Make Gifts of Rich Spring Blossoms.

Bouquets were given to 4000 persons yesterday at a brilliant opening of Howard & Smith's unique floral store at Ninth and Olive streets, where the firm has conducted a nursery business for twenty years. Callers had their choice of roses, violets, carnations, daffodils and other rich spring blossoms. There were free posies for all who came.

The lavish distribution of flowers included 5000 hothouse roses, 5000 carnations, 2000 bunches of violets, 200 narcissus and daffodils and lilies by the bushel.

The fairyland of blossoms included a remarkable collection of rare flowering plants for Easter—improved Scotch heather, specially grown and of delicate light lavender color; wistarias; snow-white orchids of the rare Philippine variety; rhododendrons, primulas, azaleas and a handsome display of new hybrid amaryllis.

Thousands of flowering plants in pots, palms and ferns in great variety and profusion were on view. Part of the elaborate equipment of the new flower store is an immense refrigerator for cut flowers, said to be the largest west of Chicago.

Drs. Shores' Great Free Offer to the Sick

Extended Until Further Notice—A Thorough Free Medical Examination to All

It's your opportunity to accept Drs. Shores & Shores great free offer FOR THIS WEEK ONLY of a thorough medical examination and expert advice free to demonstrate their skill as chronic disease specialists, and to further impress upon the minds of the afflicted the great importance of taking advantage of this, the most favorable season of the year to get quick and lasting cures. All who suffer with Deafness, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Skin and Blood Disorders, Stomach, Liver, Heart, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disease are invited. Drs. Shores will point out the SORE and WEAK spots, and will tell you FREE what the NATURE and CAUSE of your ailment REALLY IS, and IF and HOW you can be cured and what it will cost. This is a rare opportunity for the sick and afflicted to get an expert opinion on their case free. Difficult and obscure cases especially invited. Come this week and find out the cause of your trouble. Absolutely FREE.

DRS. SHORES, Specialists

Drs. A. J. and G. W. Shores have spent many years in the study and treatment of Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past twenty years—an experience rarely ever granted any specialists—and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. They would not attempt to treat Scarlet Fever or Diphtheria at any price, not because they don't know how, but because they have not given it the thought and constant study that other doctors have, and, in short, it is not in their line of specialties. Every moment is given to the treatment of CATARRH, CONSUMPTION, CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES EXCLUSIVELY. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most any one else. Don't be a permanent invalid.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles. Health is your greatest asset. GET CURED NOW.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well-known and reliable people, who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments why not come and see the Doctors who cure? Call or Write.

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you because you have an offensive breath? Certain forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

KIDNEY AND LIVER

Troubles, Sallow Complexion, Pain in Back, Burning or Smarting when urinating. Puffiness under the Eyes. Heed these warnings. Bring a sample of urine and have it tested free. Call Today.

No Masquerading

under high sounding titles nor assumed names. You can MEET DR. SHORES FACE TO FACE—the skilled physician who has cured hundreds of your friends and neighbors, and what is more important, CURED THEM TO STAY CURED, and for the smallest fee ever before charged by reputable specialists. Modern Offices, Up-to-date Appliances and Treatment, Electricity, Etc. Get Busy and Get Well. Remember, We Treat All Curable Chronic Diseases, Both Sexes.

PROMINENT SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

THE HEAD AND THROAT.

This form of catarrh is most common, resulting from neglected colds. Quickly cured with little cost by Drs. Shores' famous treatment. Is your head stopped up?

- Does your nose discharge?
- Is your nose sore and tender?
- Is there pain front of the head?
- Do you hawk and clear the throat?
- Is your throat dry in the morning?
- Do you sleep with your mouth open?

You can be easily cured now. Don't let it run into complications.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES.

When catarrh of the head or throat is neglected or wrongfully treated it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes, and after a while attacks the lungs.

- Have you a cough?
- Do you take cold easily?
- Have you a pain in the side?
- Do you raise frothy materials?
- Do you spit up little cheesy lumps?
- Do you feel like you were growing weaker?

Don't risk neglecting these warnings—stop the disease before it reaches the lungs.

OF THE EARS.

Catarrh extends from the throat, along the eustachian tubes into the ears, causing partial or complete deafness.

- Is your hearing failing?
- Is your ears discharging? Do they ring?
- Is the wax drying in your ears?
- Do you hear better on some days?
- Does a cold make your hearing worse?

OF THE STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually caused by swallowing poisonous mucus which drops down from the head and throat at night.

- Are you constipated?
- Is there nausea?
- Do you belch up gas?
- Do you bloat up after eating?
- Is there constant bad taste?

Now is the time to be permanently cured. Drs. Shores are curing hundreds every year.

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, March 15.—The Hermosa Beach Investment Company formed of business men of this city has been incorporated for $50,000, of which amount of stock $10,000 is paid up. The company will procure land and build homes to sell on easy payments to the homebuilder. The officers of the newly formed company are: President, R. T. Cooper; vice-president, J. P. Luxford; secretary, Herbert Culler; treasurer, G. S. Thatcher; superintendent of building, P. B. Guernsey. Quite a number of lots have been purchased by the company and work will be commenced upon the first building the first of the week.

The handsome new business block built by F. L. Ryder on Pier avenue at a cost of about $10,000, was formally opened yesterday afternoon and evening with a reception to the public. The building is a substantial white press brick structure and has a large storeroom on the first floor with modern apartments and several office rooms on the second and third floors. A reception was held yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 yesterwhen Mr. and Mrs. Ryder received the guests and showed them about the building. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. In the evening entertainers gave a programme and later the Schoneman and Blanchard orchestra rendered a dance programme and dancing was enjoyed by the visitors.

Little Landers Plans Announced

A Garden City Colony in the Mountains Near Los Angeles.

The Little Landers of Los Angeles, modeled on the famous Little Landers of San Diego, will be established immediately in the Valley of Monte Vista three miles west of Montrose and Crescenta. Fifty families are already on the ground, occupying acre gardening homes, and hundreds more enlisted among prospective colonists. It is expected that the Colony will spread over thousands of acres, and become an important supply point for vegetables and poultry to the homes of this city.

Co-operative buying and marketing direct to consumers is one of the important features of the plan. The San Diego colony members own their own Little Landers store and market in the city of San Diego. Men and women from all walks of life enjoy the garden acre life when they do not have to find their own market.

Another feature of the Little Landers method of settlement is organized social and intellectual life. A fine clubhouse, library and auditorium to be known as "Boston Hall," in honor of the author of "A Little Land and a Living," will be erected immediately at a cost of $3500 under the direction of George Harris, the fashioned-by-nature builder, who recently completed the private clubhouse for Mr. Robret Marsh and the famous artificial brook system at Verdugo Park and upon the private grounds of Mr. Haggerty on West Adams street. A new schoolhouse, store and hotel are also provided for.

The name of the new settlement will be "Los Terrenitos," which is Spanish for "the little lands." It will be a garden city of quarter, half and full acres, 2000 feet above sea level amidst Alpine scenery and mellow mountain air, but only sixteen miles from the throbbing heart of Los Angeles. A little land and a living. A paradise retreat. A veritable sanitarium.

The plans for the settlement of this unique community were announced last night to a large audience at the Woman's Club House by William E. Smythe, founder of the Little Landers movement at San Diego. Mr. Smythe is well known throughout California as the founder of the National Irrigation Congress—author of "Conquest of Arid America," and is one of the foremost platform orators on the Coast. He will give brief talks on this work every afternoon at 2:30 and every evening at 8 o'clock, at the House of the Little Landers, 929 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles.

Office hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Literature free—by mail or telephone.

Auto excursions to the Colony daily—Fare $1 round trip. No free rides, but your money's worth. No Sunday trips.

Visitors always welcome at the headquarters. Get transfers and get off opposite Woman's Club House on Figueroa street.

LORDSBURG.

LORDSBURG, March 15.—The La Verne Orange Growers' Association is installing a fruit separator which operates on the principle recently discovered by President Chase of the Riverside Orange Company. A similar separator has also been installed at the San Dimas packinghouse.

Orange growers in the La Verne district are developing additional water, necessitated by the lowering of the water levels and the increasing demand as the groves grow in size. D. R. Malone has just completed a fine well which develops 100 inches of water. He already has one well on his ranch from which he is pumping 80 inches. A portion of the supply is sold to neighboring ranchers. The new well is 380 feet in depth.

"Mr. Easyman's Niece" is the title of the annual High School play which is to be given tonight and tomorow night by the pupils of Bonita, the union high school for Lordsburg, San Dimas and La Verne.

Special "Celtic ball" at "Hotel del Coronado" Monday night. "Polo ball" on Tuesday night.—[Advertisement.

Cities and Towns of Los Angeles County

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

SKYSCRAPER IS PROPOSED.

Pasadena Will Have Claim to Metropolitan Class.

Bones of Extinct Race Found by Workmen.

Airship Line to Beaches Is Knabenshue Plan.

PASADENA, March 16.—Pasadena is soon to have a skyscraper. To this city will fall the distinction of claim to the highest building in Southern California, outside of Los Angeles and San Diego. It is to be eight stories high and will be erected by Matthew Slavin on a site adjoining that of the Union National Bank building on North Raymond avenue. Work will be begun on it April 1. The property and building, Slavin says, will represent an investment of about $150,000.

The building will have a frontage on Raymond avenue of fifty feet and will extend back to the alley, a depth of ninety feet. The ground floor will probably comprise two small storerooms and on the other floors will be ninety-eight office rooms. The structure will be of reinforced concrete, throughout, and will be fireproof. No building company will be formed. Slavin will erect the building himself as a personal investment. There are now two small frame structures on the site that it is to occupy. These will be razed at once.

HUMAN BONES FOUND.

While excavating for a building at the corner of Orange Grove and Lester avenues, workmen yesterday unearthed two human skulls. The police were immediately notified and an investigation was made, but to all appearances the craniums are those of some extinct race that formerly inhabitated this section of the country and will be interesting only to archeologists.

Police Sergeant Bristol, who is the oldest inhabitant of Pasadena, stated yesterday that he recalled that when the reservoir at the corner of Orange Grove and Live Oaks avenues was excavated a large number of Indian relics were uncovered at a depth of about six feet. It was estimated that they had been buried there for hundreds of years. As the place where the skulls were found is not far distant from the reservoir, Sergeant Bristol is inclined to believe that the skulls are those of two of the ancient users of the discovered relics.

TRIPS TO OCEAN NOW.

Roy Knabenshue, who has been constructing an immense hangar near the Hotel Raymond, and who a short time ago declared his intention to establish an airship line between Pasadena and Mt. Wilson, announced yesterday that instead a large passenger-carrying airship, similar to the Zeppelin in Germany, has been constructed, and that it will ply between Pasadena and the beach resorts of Southern California. He says that the trial trip will be made in two weeks and that trips will then be made daily. Knabenshue will himself pilot the new air craft.

PASADENA WINS.

The Pasadena boys captured most of the honors at the track and field meet of the Los Angeles county high schools—exclusive of the Los Angeles schools—held at Tournament Park yesterday. They gained a total of 38 points, Long Beach coming next with 34 points.

The feature of the event was the winning of the national high school championship for discus throwing by Le Roy Bagnard of Pasadena. The distance of his throw was 119ft. 11in. The best previous throw was made by Parker of the Ventura High School, whose record was 117ft. The discus weighs a little over five pounds. The professional championship throw, which was made at the recent Olympic meet at Stockholm, Sweden, was 134 feet. Yesterday's complete score follows:

Fifty-yard dash—Morse of Long Beach, first; Bartow, Long Beach, second; Work, Long Beach, third. Time, 5 2-5 seconds.

Hundred-yard dash—Newby, Pasadena, first; Jones, Whittier, second; Good, Monrovia, third. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

High hurdles—Nourse, Harvard, first; Boyles, Monrovia, second; Littel, Glendale, third. Time, 16 2-5 seconds.

BY FORCE OF ARMS.

Difficulties existing between William Twaddell, a picturesque rancher near the mouth of Los Flores Canyon, and W. J. Geiermann, who conducts a sanatorium near there, in which Twaddell and H. G. Brown, an employee, are alleged to have ordered the other from their place with a shotgun, came before Justice of the Peace McDonald yesterday when Twaddell and Brown were arrested by Deputy Constable Rogers and brought into court to answer to a charge of disturbing the peace. The trouble resulted from a quarrel over water rights. The case was continued and the defendants released on their own recognizance.

CITY BRIEFS.

Arrangements are being made for the 1913 annual banquet of the Pasadena Board of Trade, which will be given at the Hotel Green, April 10. The committee that has charge of it is composed of T. P. Lukens, William F. Knight and A. E. Edwards. There will be several notable speakers.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, author and poet, is to preach this morning at the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. He will continue to preach there each Sunday morning, with the exception of Easter, until the middle of April.

The Shakespeare Club will celebrate both its own birthday and St. Patrick's Day next Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Eleanor Miller will give a reading at the clubhouse.

The Crown City baseball team will play its last game today. It will play the Los Angeles Eectric Railway Engineers at Raymond Park this afternoon and then disband. The park has been leased to the Pasadena Class D League team.

The Pasadena public schools will be closed this week. The Easter vacation begins tomorrow and will continue throughout the week.

SIERRA MADRE.

Special Election to Be Called on Local Issues—Desire to Abolish Things Generally.

SIERRA MADRE, March 15.—There will be much campaigning here in the next thirty-five days. City Attorney C. C. Montgomery is preparing an ordinance to call a special election on three important issues: First, the abolition of a winery; second, the closing of a poolrom, and third, but not least, the chopping down of the beatiful oak trees on Central boulevard. The three issues coming at one time have started the cauldron seething. Much bitterness is being engendered and a hard fight is looked for on all sides.

The winery proposition takes precedence over all. The petition on this was signed under misrepresentations, it is claimed. It was thought to be dead. Now, according to the statement of the attorney who drew it up, one woman has demanded its resurrection. Its aim is to put out of business, Prof. J. J. Hart.

Prof. Hart settled in this community twenty-seven years ago. His handsome grounds and well-kept place front on Central boulevard, the main thoroughfare of the city. Here the professor has spent the best years of his life and has witnessed many changes. Here he raised a family of three stalwart boys, all of whom have and are making a success of their life work. The oldest son is John Hart, prominent attorney in New York and formerly Deputy District Attorney of Manhattan Borough under District Attorney Jerome; the second son is E. G. Hart, one of the prominent realty dealers in Los Angeles, and the third son holds an official position with the Southern California Music Company. J. J. Hart, the father, is a professor of music with a studio in Pasadena. Some years ago he experimented with grapes and commenced the manufacture of choice wines. His winery is located back from the street, an unpretentious structure. One might ride through the town for years without knowing such a place existed, so hidden is it by the beautiful grounds and choice shrubbery. The manufacture of wines became a hobby with the professor. The laws governing the manufacture and sale were never abused. No minors could purchase here. No complaint, of any justification, was ever murmured against this place, nor was its patronage of a class who would come within the purview of the law. Many friends are rallying to the old professor's aid.

The poolroom proposition has an entirely different side. Situated at the end of the car line the room became the resort of many wanderers up the mountain trail. [illegible] man, the manager, conducted [illegible] place in as quiet and orderly [illegible] ner as possible. At times the [illegible] got beyond his control and [illegible] complained of the noise and [illegible] tion. No serious outbreaks [illegible] curred here, nor has liquor [illegible] pensed at the place. Many [illegible] of it under city supervision [illegible] compromise may later be [illegible] along those lines.

The oak trees on Central [illegible] now loom up in the lime light [illegible] "steenth" time. This issue has [illegible] fought and fought. KNIGHTS TEMPLARS HAVE MERRY DAY AT COVINA.

COVINA, March 15.—A perfect California day, with 300 nodding ostrich plumes in line, and the city en fete to welcome them, made pleasant history for members of the order of Knights Templars gathered from all over Southern California yesterday at Pomona when the first annual field day was launched by this order.

An inspection and drill of seven commanderies was made on Fifth street, near Pomona's Masonic Temple, under the command of Grand Capt.-Gen. Perry Winslow Weidner of Los Angeles, assisted by Grand Standard Bearer Benjamin F. Bledsoe of San Bernardino, and the seven eminent commanders of the commanderies present. Acting Adjutant A. S. Abbott was in support of the Grand Captain-General.

Sir Knights and ladies began to arrive in Pomona by automobile and electric car shortly after 9 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock, maneuvers began on Fifth street, headed by the Long Beach municipal band. Following an elaborate drill lasting an hour, the parade moved through the center of the city, headed by the band, with the following commanderies in formation: Pasadena Commandery, No. 31, Eminent Commander Peter Hall; Santa Ana Commandery, No. 36, Eminent Commander Howard A. Wossum; Southern California Commandery of Pomona, No. 37, Eminent Commander Allen Nichols; Long Beach Commandery, No. 40, Past Eminent Commander Charles Malcolm; Alhambra Commandery, No. 48, Eminent Commander Rowland Hudson; Covina Commandery, No. 49, Eminent Commander William Wallace Nash; Whittier Commandery, No. 51, Eminent Commander O. W. Maulsby.

The Sir Knights marched to Ganesha Park, a distance of two miles, where the Reception Committee had prepared tables beneath the trees, and a basket lunch was enjoyed. While the lunch was in progress, Grand Capt.-Gen. Weidner presented Whittier Commandery with a giant bronze and gold bowl with the names of the various commanderies inscribed upon it, as a prize for appearing in [illegible] with the largest percentage of [illegible] mandery membership. The planning was made a complete [illegible] through the efforts of Sir Knight Frederick Rice Lewis of [illegible] chairman of the Reception Committee, for Southern California Commandery. He was assisted by a large sub-committee of ladies, under the chairmanship of Mrs. [illegible] celon.

The sports for the afternoon [illegible] immediately after lunch on the [illegible] grounds near the park. [illegible] and Alhambra grappled in an [illegible] ing baseball game played with [illegible] indoor baseball and bat, with [illegible] Pasadena men appropriately [illegible] formed in blue overalls. The [illegible] changed every inning and the [illegible] ers put to sleep several [illegible] among them being the largest [illegible] that ever appeared on a baseball [illegible] in California, Prof. J. J. [illegible] the Covina school system. [illegible] won the game, 26 to 18. [illegible] races and hurdling were also [illegible] nessed by a big crowd of Sir Knights and ladies.

The Committee on Arrangements was composed of J. L. [illegible] Covina (chairman,) L. [illegible] Peter Hall of Pasadena, [illegible] and Rowland Hudson of [illegible] William Smith of Whittier, [illegible] Munholland of Long Beach, [illegible] Nossum of Santa Ana, [illegible] of Pomona and H. N. [illegible] tary) of Covina.

The field day is the first [illegible] be held by Sir Knights in [illegible] California, and Grand Captain-General Weidner said after the [illegible] that it would be made a bigger [illegible] each succeeding year.

The commanderies will be [illegible] to take part in the big [illegible] the grand commandery at [illegible] in April. From what could be [illegible] yesterday every commandery [illegible] Southern California is planning [illegible] send big delegations.

On Easter Sunday afternoon [illegible] various commanderies will attend [illegible] vine service at All Saints' [illegible] Pasadena, at the invitation of [illegible] dena Commandery. The service [illegible] begin at 3 o'clock.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

FROST SIGNS OBLITERATED.

Nature Dons a Garb of Green and the Alleged Devastation Is Only a Memory—Covina Transformed.

COVINA, March 15. — Where are the orange trees that were smitten by frost? The transformation has come. Nature has been quietly at work warming the soil and soaking it with rain. The leaf that was touched by Jack Frost's icy finger has withered and fallen to the ground, and a new leaf has taken its place, light green, delicate, covered with a glossy sheen, and peeping between the leaves are the first orange blossoms of the season.

Mother Nature has done valiant work here. The frost left a blanket of brown wherever it swept through the groves, and it was a sorry spectacle. The work of the frost was much the same in appearance to the work of fire. But the rains and the warm weather have worked together to entirely hide all evidences of the frost's unwelcome visit. Already the valley is scented with the heavy sweetness of the orange blossom, and tourists are wandering along the highways, picking the first buds of the poppy. The rose bushes are beginning to throw out little buds, and in another fortnight the valley will be a mass of bloom.

On the south of the Covina Valley the hills have turned emerald, and the early picnickers walk ankle-deep in burr-clover, filaree and wild bluegrass. Patches of poppies are just beginning to show a color like a vagrant fire on the hillsides. The ferns in the canyons are just a few inches high—the right size for taking home to plant in the dooryard. "Blossom Sunday," when all the oranges and lemons are in full and riotous bloom, will arrive this year about Eastertide, for the blossoms are late and Easter is early this year.

UNUSUAL ACTIVITY.

Week's Transfers at San Jacinto Aggregate Hundred Thousand Dollars—Los Angeles Man Buyer.

SAN JACINTO, March 15.—The past week has been one of unusual real estate activity in San Jacinto, the different transactions representing a cash valuation of more than $100,000. Among the important deals was the purchase of the J. P. Kirby eighty-acre ranch in the Fruitvale tract by B. R. Gearhart of Los Angeles, the consideration being given at $20,000. The property is well improved with orchard, alfalfa field, houses and barns, and forty acres carry double water rights with the Citizens' Water Company. It is one of the oldest places in the valley and is a good producer.

It is announced that F. J. Culver has traded his ranch home on Montrose avenue for property in Los Angeles county. In the transaction the Culver ranch was valued at $25,000. This property is highly improved and has a large acreage in alfalfa. Culver is the principal owner of Forest Home, a summer resort in the San Bernardino Mountains.

On the Midway ranch the San Jacinto Land Company reports the purchase of twenty-three acres of land by V. P. Clude of Galesburg, Ill. The land is planted to alfalfa, and the new owner will further improve his holdings with a modern bungalow. This purchase represents an investment of nearly $10,000.

C. L. Emerson, cashier of the First National Bank of San Jacinto, has added to his holdings here by the purchase of the Wallace property, adjoining his home on the west, and of lots on San Jacinto avenue and Second street from L. A. Wright.

W. E. Hyer of Del Mar has purchased fifty acres of land in the Fruitvale tract from the San Jacinto Land Company for $12,000, and will immediately set about improving the property.

FULLERTON BRIEFS.

FULLERTON, March 15. — The Y. M.C.A., of Fullerton has invited members of the Orange County Triangle League attending the schools of Fullerton, Anaheim, Placentia, Olinda, Brea, Yorba, Linda, Orangethrope and any other schools in this territory to a track meet at the Fullerton Y.M. C.A., grounds Saturday afternoon, March 22, beginning at 1:30. The meet will be in charge of the county secretary of the Y.M.C.A., assisted by members of the Young Men's Cabinet of Fullerton and other friends of the boys.

The athletics will be conducted on the competitive basis, and will consist of the events to be conducted at the county triangle meet, as given in the list in the Triangle League booklet in table No. 2. Competitors will be divided into classes, according to weight and will compete only against members of that same weight class. Competitors may compete in any number of events in their class. Ribbons will be presented to the winners of the first three places in each event in each class, making a total of seventy-five ribbons to be awarded. In addition, each school will be entitled to enter a relay team of four members, each runner's distance to be 100 yards. Ribbons will be awarded to the members of the teams winning the first three places in this event, the total number of ribbons to be awarded being eighty-seven.

The city trustees last night rejected all bids for erection of the pump houses and pumping plant for the municipal water system.

The trustees received a letter from the Fullerton Domestic Water Company offering to sell its plant to the city for $15,000. A committee consisting of W. J. Renshaw, E. W. Dean and John F. Blair was appointed to take an inventory of the plant and report their estimate of its value at a special meeting Friday evening.

SEEN FIFTY MILES AWAY.

SANTA BARBARA, March 15.—The new flash light installed at the head of Santa Rosa Island several months ago, has established what is believed to be a record for nautical gleams, its rays having been seen for a distance of fifty miles. The light is visible from the mainland, about twenty-five miles, but this caused no comment. However, when the keeper of the lighting station at Pt. Conception, fifty miles away, declared he had seen the flash the other night, Keeper Hussey of the Santa Barbara station stated that the flash was doing more than the government expected of it. Since the installation of the light, channel mariners say they have passed through the waterway without the least fear of losing their bearing and consider it one of the most important light stations on the Pacific Coast.

ASSOCIATION RESPONDS.

Secretary of Ontario Ministers' Society Protests Against Published Reports—Extols Work of Evangelists.

ONTARIO, March 15.—Henry C. Kendrick, secretary of the local Ministerial Association, today issued the following statement:

"As secretary of the Ministerial Association of Ontario, and at the unanimous request of the pastors of the six churches engaged in the great Brown-Curry meetings, viz: Congregational, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, German Evangelical and Christian, I kindly ask space to reply to the article headed "Lodge Men Are Indignant," that appears in today's issue written by your correspondent in this city.

"It is possible that some lodge men are indignant, but their indignation is due to their ignorance of the facts, to the untrue statement of D. D. McDonald, district manager of the Brotherhood of American Yoemen, published in our local daily, or to bitter prejudice against the churches such as evidently characterizes Mr. McDonald. I belong to one of the most ancient and honorable lodges in the world and I have also spoken to other and prominent lodge men in this city who heard Rev. Brown's address and they feel no indignation.

"No attack was made on fraternal organizations. He said they did much good and honored them for it. He was addressing those church members who had confessed their loyalty and allegiance to Christ and His church but would turn all church meetings down for any and all lodge meetings.

"Brown and Curry will take less than one thousand dollars away with them, so far as the offerings are concerned. These most able and consecrated evangelists deserve all and much more than they will get. They have said very little about money for themselves. They made no demands. The appreciative listeners freely and voluntarily give. This entire colony is stirred for good and clean living as never before.

"The things written and the spirit manifested by the correspondent and by Mr. D. D. McDonald are neither fraternal, honorable, fair nor true.

"Such articles mean no good for lodges and if such a spirit should largely pervade these organizations, it would soon bury them in everlasting oblivion.

"This article in your great paper is calculated to injure the good influence of these noble men. From one thousand to fifteen hundred hearers are ready to testify to the falsity of the published statement. These six churches represent tens of thousands of members in Southern California and on their behalf and believing that you stand for truth and fair play, we ask that you publish this statement."

"American Polo Association—Pacific Coast circuit cup" will be played for, March 15 to 20. Best polo will be seen this week at Coronado. Secure rooms at "Hotel del Coronado."—[Advertisement.

IS CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Teacher of a Sunday-school Class at Corona Uses Employers' Checks to Augment Cash Supply.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CORONA, March 15.—Max Grow, a young man who has been employed as book-keeper for the California Orchard Heater Company, yesterday forged the name of its president, S B. Hampton, and George I. Barnes, its secretary, to a number of checks. Five checks have already turned up at the First National Bank, totaling $140. Grow paid his bill at the Hotel del Rey with one of the checks and skipped out. Pinkerton detectives have taken up the case and he may be apprehended in the next few days.

Grow had a Sunday-school class of boys at the First Baptist Church here and his sudden departure under such circumstances is a decided shock to the community.

Word reached here yesterday of the death of Leah Crowell Case, wife of H. R. Case of this city. Mrs. Case has been in Pasadena for some time receiving treatment at a sanatorium. The funeral took place in Evergreen Cemetery in Los Angeles this afternoon, Rev. E. T. Sanford officiating. Mrs. Case was born in Nova Scotia and came to California about ten years ago, later going to Albuquerque, N. M., where she was married to H. R. Case, the superintendent of the Temescal Water Company, on September 21, 1909. They came directly to Corona, where they have since resided. Mrs. Case was an active club worker until ill health gradually caused her to drop active duties one by one until compelled to leave here hoping the change might prove a benefit.

Forty-two cars of citrus fruit were shipped from here this week. Following is the report fro mthe different companies: Corona Packing Association, four cars navels; Call Fruit Company, nine cars navels; Corona Citrus Association, six cars navels; Corona Lemon Company, four cars lemons; Jameson Fruit Company, three cars lemons, one car navels; Orange Heights Fruit Association, eight cars navels, one car lemons; making a total of twenty-eight cars navels and eight cars lemons.

George B. Leach, who formerly lived here, has returned with his family from Kansas City, Mo., and intends to remain. He has purchased a half interest in the feed and fuel business conducted by James Brooks.

Mrs. A. Brigger of this city has received two sad messages, one that her mother is very low and not expected to live; the other from her son, Albert, in Los Angeles, that his wife (formerly Marian Jacques of this city) who has been in a comatose state for two months, is gradually sinking.

Charles F. Hildreth, editor of the Courier, has as his guest Frank C. Gaumer of Urbana, O. He has been spending the past few months about Los Angeles and Pasadena. Mr. Gaumer is the editor of Champaign Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Read of Bloomington, Ill., have arrived in Corona and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archis Traxlar. They expect to locate in Corona if Mr. Read can find a business opening here.

Yesterday an important change was made in the management of the Corona Hardware and Implement Company, when W. C. Barth disposed of a large number of his shares of stock to George B. McGillivray and Mr. McGillivray becomes the head of the concern.

The Woman's Improvement Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grant Phillips in Olive street. The programme for the meeting was in charge of Mrs. F. J. Mueller and Mrs. R. M. Warner. Mrs. Mueller's subject was "Recent Books Worth Reading." She handled the subject well and reviewed several of the late books.

Mrs. R. M. Warner spoke on "Books for the Young," and so well did she handle the topic that all present wished that every mother might have heard it.

Donald Magee had a narrow escape at the station yesterday when he started to cross the railway tracks after the gates had started to lower. Magee, who is employed by T. C. Sias, had delivered his load of fruit at the Orange Heights lemon house and started to cross just as the gates began to lower. The team had time to pass the gates on the farther side, but they were just low enough to strike the man. His hat was knocked from his head, but he received no serious injuries.

Section five of the Workers' Union of the Congregational Church held a handkerchief sale and chicken supper in the banquet-room of the Congregational Church last evening. Over three hundred were present and the ladies cleared over $100.

Earnest Fanton has traded vacant property for a fine home on West Sixth street, formerly owned by Miss Edna Reed. The place is valued at about $3000 and will make a pleasant home for its owner.

The county has started work on its part of the extension of East Sixth street, which, when completed, will make a direct route to Riverside. Twenty teams have been put to work cutting through the hill outside the city limits, and the dirt taken from this hill will be used to fill in the low places in the road. The road will be fifty feet wide and will connect Sixth street with Magnolia avenue, thus making a great improvement over the roundabout way in which one is now forced to reach the Riverside road.

BUSY WELFARE WORKERS.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The possibility of a local option election in the first Supervisoral District, which includes all of the desert portion of the county as well as the Yucaipa Valley, in the near future, cropped out at a meeting of social welfare workers today. In addition to this possibility the meeting indorsed a number of bills before the Legislature, including the Anderson-Morehouse local option bill, the Iowa redlight injunction bill, one to publish marriage licenses five days and for a minimum girls' wage scale commission. The appointment of Charles Ward as a special Indian policeman to look after the San Manuel Indians was also urged. Delegates attended from Needles, Barstow and all other parts of the county.

IRRIGATION CONCERN FIRES ITS MANAGER.

EL CENTRO, March 15.—The new board of directors of the Imperial Irrigation District held its first meeting at El Centro Wednesday and after a public discussion which was participated in by the public, it was decided to dispense with the services of George L. Milton, who has held the position of secretary and business manager of the district since the organization of the district some eighteen months ago.

Milton has had absolute charge of the work of the irrigation district, and has vainly endeavored to get some action taken towards acquiring the irrigation system from the receiver for the California Development Company. The first board of directors refused to take any definite action towards acquiring the system and with the recent election of one member of the the board who openly states his intention to prevent any such action being taken, it is unlikely that the present board will make much effort towards solving the intricate problem which presents itself to the water users of the valley.

The irrigation district was organized nearly two years ago under the laws of the State, for the purpose of acquiring by purchase or condemnation proceedings, the property of the defunct California Development Company now in the hands of Receiver W. H. Holabird.

The Southern Pacific Railway Company is the principal creditor, the amount of the claims of the various creditors amounting to approximately three millions of dollars.

The Southern Pacific Company has signified its willingness to sell its interests to the irrigation district at a fair price, but until the other creditors are settled with, the water users of the valley are averse to making an offer. The question has been in the court for several years and the action of the board of directors of the irrigation district at this meeting indicates that nothing will be done unless at least two of the present board are recalled.

A contest has been filed in the case of the election of Porter Ferguson, who was recently elected from the Holtville district and if this contest is successful it is possible that a majority of the board may favor some action which will lead to immediate results. Attorney Haines of San Diego was reappointed attorney for the district at this meeting and Attorney R. H. McPherrin of Imperial was appointed associate counsel. The board of directors instructed the attorneys to prepare papers for a condemnation suit, but also instructed the attorneys not to file the papers until further instructed. This means that the members of the board are anxiously waiting—with both ears to the ground—an emphatic expression of public opinion.

ASSOCIATION EXPANDS.

PORTERVILLE, March 15.—Announcement was made here today that the Mutual Orange Distributors, the growers' marketing agency of Redlands, will open offices in this city next week, with a view to entering the Central California orange markets for the season of 1913. W. Tillotson of Los Angeles, who will manage the district for the growers, states that special attention will be paid by them to a fancy pack and that only the very highest grade fruit from the foothills will be handled. J. F. Case, the sales manager for the company, leaves on an eastern tour in a few days and will book orders for the early navels. It is stated that the invasion of the Central California district is primarily with the idea of making possible a year-round selling by the Mutual. Early navels from this district will bridge a gap of one month between the marketing of the first southern fruit and the late Valencias.

WANTS BIG DAMAGES.

DINUBA, March 15.—J. H. Thompson, a rancher of the Alta district, has filed suit for $35,791.40 against the Southern Pacific Railroad for damages and compensation for injuries received in a railroad accident in this city July 18, 1912. The suit is for $30,000, as damages and the remainder of the sum asked for loss of time, hospital fees and other costs. Thompson alleges in his complaint that he was driving his auto across the railroad tracks of the defendant company on the date named when his machine was run down by a freight train. Thompson was knocked unconscious, suffered two broken legs and other injuries. He alleges that the tracks of the company were obscured by high weeds and that no whistle or other warning signal was sounded. A court of inquiry convened shortly after the accident absolved the train crew of blame for the accident.

FULLERTON BRIEFS.

FULLERTON, March 15.—The City Trustees last night sold sewer bonds of the amount of $26,400 to the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Fullerton at par. The bonds bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent.

The committee which had been appointed to appraise the plant of the Fullerton Domestic Water Company made its report, placing a valuation of $11,000 on the property. The company has offered to sell the plant to the city for $15,000, but at a mass meeting held in Bank Hall last week a motion was made and carried that the city pay no more than $7500 for the plant. It is reported that a petition may be circulated asking the city to take the plant over at $11,000. 000.

A successful entertainment was given here last night by Miss Ethelva Harris and Miss Arrie Rutman of Los Angeles under auspices of the American Woman's League in Bank Hall. Each number on the programme was received with applause.

Work has been started on the construction of a garage building on South Spadra street to be occupied by Albert Sitton. The building will be 50x120 feet. George B. Key is the owner of the property and has arranged with the Sitton Garage for a long lease of the building.

The opening date of the Methodist camp meeting to be held at Huntington Beach this summer has been postponed until July 20, necessitating the postponement also of the date of the annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association. The latter will begin on August 12.

Information About the Los Angeles Times

Daily, Sunday and Illustrated Weekly

A Guide for Newcomers, Inquirers, Subscribers and Advertisers, Agents and the General Public

CHARACTER, OBJECTS AND AIMS.

Distinguishing Features: Independent, uncompromised, unshackled, unpurchasable, unafraid and unincumbered. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is devoted to the great principles of Liberty under Law, Equal Rights in all fields of lawful human endeavor, Industrial Freedom and to the upbuilding of Los Angeles, the State of California and the great Southwest.

ATTITUDE.

For the country and the flag.
For the Constitution and the courts.
For upholding the honor of army and navy.
For orderly government under law.
For fair chances for apprentice boys.
For unshackled labor, nation-wide.
For the just rights of the unorganized many.
For Labor's protection, reward and repose.
For punishing dynamiters and all criminals.
For protection of persons, property, business.
For the home and its safeguarding.
For social order and business solidarity.
For world-wide peace with honor.
For an Ocean-to-Ocean highway.

FOR THE OLD CAUSE AND THE OLD STANDARD

And against their allied antagonists.
Against political fads, freaks and frenzy.
Against the new-fangled judicial recall.
Against free trade and free soup.
Against union conspiracy and misrule.
Against the un-American closed shop.
Against discrimination and proscription.
Against, not organized labor as such, but Against its acts when law-defying.
Against enforced idleness, and
Against its sure outcome—suffering.
Against senseless burdens upon business.
Against the bomb, boycott and bludgeon.
Against strikes, picketing and violence.
Against treason and the red flag.

WOOL MEN DUBIOUS.

PORTERVILLE, March 15.—Wool buyers are in the foothills looking over the prospects for the 1913 production. As far as can be learned no contracts for delivery have been signed as yet. It is stated that fear of what the Wilson cohorts may do to Schedule K has put the market in a sadly-demoralized condition. Many of the growers will hold their clip and await developments. According to the present outlook, the production this year will be heavy and of excellent quality. The clip will start early in the coming week, in all probability.

SUBJECT TO COMMISSION.

Any Water Systems Operated for Profit Must Take Instruction From State Authorities.

That any corporation or person having control of or managing a water system, or delivering water for compensation, is a public utility and therefore subject to the jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission was the decision handed down yesterday by Commissioner Thelan of that body in the preliminary hearing of the petition of water-users of Holtville and Imperial for the fixing of a rate at which the receiver of the California Development Company must furnish water to these cities.

Receiver Holabird of the development company took the stand that the Supreme Court's decision in the case of Thayer vs. Holabird specifically declared the company is not a public utility and that it is therefore not subject to the jurisdiction of the commission. The complainants contended that as the Thayer case was instituted in 1910, the contention of Holabird is without point, as the State Legislature in December, 1911, passed an act in which water companies were enumerated as public utilities.

This was the view taken by Thelan in giving Holabird until the 24th inst. to prepare an answer to the complaint, at which time the date of the hearing will be set. Holabird intimated yesterday that there would be no interruption of service pending the further hearing of the case. Marvin W. Conkling of El Centro represented the petitioners and Mathews & Robinson represented Holabird.

Mark Rose of the East Side Water Company, George L. Melton of the South Side Water Company, and F. G. Havens of Water Company No. 2 were present at the hearing, which was held in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building.

LOVE'S MAGIC VALISE.

Young Man Carries Suitcase Thrice for Fair Owner—Gets the Job for Life—Married Yesterday.

Men's destinies come in strange packages, sometimes. Earl R. Hunt, a Los Angeles real estate dealer, found his fate in a woman's suitcase. Once, twice, three times the magic valise crossed Hunt's path and with it each time the same fair young woman.

The first time that Hunt carried the portmanteau for the young lady was four months ago on board an overland train de luxe. The performance was repeated two months ago on a Glendale street car. The third time and the charm that went with it was a week ago on a West Seventh-street car. As might be expected the car was crowded. They were hanging to the same strap—Hunt and the young-lady-with-the-suit-case, who was Miss Sadie de Leon, member of a prominent social circle in the City of Mexico.

It seemed to be "the time, the place and the girl" to Hunt. The press of people in the aisle had crowded them close together. Hunt asked her right there:

"Why can't I carry the suitcase always?"

"You can," she assented.

"Beginning when?"

"Saturday."

And Saturday it was. They were married yesterday at the home of C. E. Gordon, the groom's brother-in-law, at No. 212 East Avenue Twenty-one. The young man is the son of F. W. Hunt of No. 1247 Ingraham street. The groom is 23, the bride 21.

SENDS HIM INDULGENCE.

Police Chief Is Asked to Find Woman's Son—Trinket Insures Happy Death, She Says.

A Pope-blessed solid silver indulgence, which Mrs. Catherine Mulloy of Bristol, R. I., says will insure for the Chief of Police "a happy death for ever and forever," provided he wears it either around his neck or suspended from his watch chain, and, has it buried with him, was received yesterday in the mail.

It was enclosed in a letter in which the mother asks the Chief to find her son, J. J. Mulloy. The last she heard from him he was sick in a rooming-house here. The mother is unable to communicate with him because she lost his address. Mrs. Mulloy fears her son is dead. She says the indulgence was given to her by a Pope—she does not say which one.

The obverse side of the indulgence is a profile of the Virgin Mary, with the word "Crusade." On the reverse is a likeness of the Savior, above which are the letters "I.H.S.," and on either side a Greek character.

REMAINS IN HARNESS.

Federal Judge Eligible to Retire on Full Pay Says He Never Thought of It.

Judge Olin Wellborn was asked yesterday in regard to the report current that he would tender his resignation as United States district judge, in June, next, when, under the law, he is eligible to retirement on full pay. He said: "I will be 70 years old on June 18, and I have no intention of resigning. I have never thought of it."

Although advanced in years, Judge Wellborn is hale and hearty, and disposes of as much public business as a man of half his age. He takes a great delight in his work, and has the universal respect of everybody—attorneys and litigants. Although he suffers a bit from that Yankee bullet in his shoulder, received while in a Georgia regiment during the war, he is in general good health.

SINAI RECITAL.

A benefit performance is to be given under the auspices of the Congregation Sinai at the Gamut Club auditorium next Thursday evening. One hundred children under the direction of Rev. J. Weinstock have been in rehearsal for a few weeks in preparation for it. "Joseph and His Brethren" is to be presented. In addition to the large cast a corps de ballet of forty little misses are in rehearsal for a spectacular Egyptian court dance. Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper, soprano, who has been engaged with the Lombardi Italian Opera Company for the season of 1914, will sing. Clarence Kellog, organist, with the Sinai Congregation, will be at the piano.

TEACHER IS HURT.

Mrs. Alma M. Patterson, 52 years old, No. 1318 West Eleventh street, a Normal School teacher, sustained several painful bruises and contusions on the right side when knocked down by an auto driven by Wilson Simons, No. 1117 Delphi avenue, at First and Spring streets, yesterday.

HIS POCKET PICKED.

A. E. Freno, No. 52½ Paloma avenue, Ocean Park, reported that his pocket was picked of $80 on a West Jefferson-street car. The same "dip" is thought to have robbed Ralph Gossard, No. 217¼ West First street, of $3.25 and a $20 check while in a crowd in front of a theater late Friday night.

Sanatorium for Tubercular Patients Finished.

Every Comfort and Facility Is Provided.

Institution Dedicated With Fitting Ceremonies.

Fifteen hundred persons journeyed up Lopez Canyon, four miles from San Fernando, yesterday to witness the dedication of the tubercular sanatorium which has just been completed by the Independent Order of Foresters. The institution, said to be the second largest of the kind in the country, will be thrown open tomorrow to members of the order and their relatives. This sanatorium is the second to be put in operation by the Foresters, the first having been completed some years ago at Rainbow Lake, in the Adirondacks.

The dedicatory services were held under the personal supervision of Assistant Supreme Chief Ranger Frank E. Hand, who has superintended the erection of the various buildings, and will be general manager of the institution. Assisting in the dedication were Dr. C. B. Dickson, High Chief Ranger of Southern California; High Chief Ranger J. P. Murphy of Northern California; E. N. Cameron, High Secretary of Northern California; S. N. Kroesen, High Vice-Chief Ranger; Frank A. Jay, Supreme Marshal, and J. H. Bean, Past High Chief Ranger. The administration building was fittingly decorated for the occasion, the Stars and Stripes fluttering from a lofty staff, while a band from Los Angeles played fraternal and patriotic airs.

Following the formal ceremony of dedication, the hundreds present were told to make themselves at home, and nearly every person there started on a tour of inspection. The tract used for the sanatorium is approximately forty acres at the extreme upper end of the canyon. In all, there are ten buildings, with accommodations for fifty patients. Everything about the place is strictly modern and expense has not been spared in the effort to equip it in every essential.

Twenty patients, one of them a Forester from England, have already made application for admittance. Miss Dena M. Eichel, matron of the institution, has a capable corps of trained nurses who will spend all their time caring for those under their charge. Patients are admitted free of charge, the building not having been reared in any sense as a money-making venture.

Each building has been reared with a view to its adaptability to the use for which it is intended and the open-air feature has been observed in all. The institution boasts its own electric light plant; hot and cold water in every house; the largest cistern in the State; an artesian well with plentiful supply of water—in fact, everything that one could wish for.

The day's programme yesterday included music and refreshments, and at night an old-fashioned barn dance in the pleasure hall. It is estimated that the institution as it stands ready for occupancy has cost the order more than $35,000.

RECEPTION OF AMUNDSEN.

Norwegian Citizens Plan to Receive Him With Honor Upon the Occasion of His Forthcoming Visit.

Elaborate preparations are being made under the auspices of the Norwegian Society of this city for the reception of Capt. Roald Amundsen, the eminent Norwegian explorer who will come here on March 29 to deliver a lecture on his discovery of the South Pole. A large committee has vountarily been formed, composed of many prominent citizens, to welcome the distinguished gentleman upon his arrival. This committee has been called to meet at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, to arrange for a public reception and make such other arrangements as are deemed to be due the guest. The committee of arrangement is composed of R. O. Belland, P. Solberb, F. Von Mohn, G. Gisiesen, D. A. Didricksen, E. R. Andresen, and Helmer Decker. Messrs. Belland and Didrickson have issued a handsome souvenir magazine in honor of the visit of the explorer, which contains much valuable information concerning Los Angeles, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, and a brief history of Amundsen, together with interesting pictures of himself, his birthplace, and other pertinent features.

SPRIGGS TO SPROUT.

St. Patrick's Day Celebration at Annual Dinner of Local Organization Tomorrow.

The fifth annual dinner of the "Spriggs" will be held at the Hollenbeck tomorrow evening in commemoration of the anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland. This dinner has been given annually for five years by native sons of Old Erin.

W. Wilson of Belfast has been elected chairman for tomorrow's feast. A lengthy programme has been arranged in which speeches, songs and recitations will enliven an enjoyable evening.

The programme includes: "Ireland," by Chairman W. Wilson; song by C. B. Webb; "The Land of Our Adoption," J. McPeak; song by P. Richards; "Absent Friends," by H. Blue; song by H. Garrett; address by W. C. Patterson; song by C. B. Webb; address by A. Campbell; song by P. Richards; address by P. J. O'Brien; song by H. Garrett; chorus, "Auld Lang Syne."

The committee includes H. B. Mansfield, captain of the Los Angeles Hockey Club, and S. Garrett of Belfast.

VETERAN INJURED.

FALL BREAKS SHOULDER.

Pet Yarak, 22 years old, No. 736 Castelar street, fell from a street car at Melrose and Western avenues yesterday, sustaining a broken left shoulder. Yarak was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

DIAMOND BROOCH GONE.

Mrs. L. E. Bamberger, No. 2602 Third street, Ocean Park, has asked the police to recover a $600 diamond studded brooch which she said was nipped from her gown sometime Friday night.

Tight Squeeze.

WHERE SHALL WE PUT ALL THE PEDESTRIANS, CARS, MOTORS AND HORSES ON BUSY STREETS?

Here's the Problem That Hits Everybody in Los Angeles and Becomes Worse Every Day Yet Practically Nothing's Done to Solve It—How Can Anybody Get Through Broadway Five Years Hence?—See Yesterday's Procession.

WHAT SHALL IT BE—subways, elevated, two-story sidewalks, aeroplanes, pneumatic tubes or angel wings? How do you expect to walk or drive through the business district of Los Angeles, five years hence? What shall be done to relieve a jam of traffic that is already almost overwhelming and becoming worse every day? When approximately 35,000 persons and five solid miles of conveyances pass a Broadway intersection in an hour on an average day and the number continues increasing tremendously isn't it time to prepare for the future? On all sides it is admitted that the situation is serious and affects practically every person in the city, yet practically nothing has been done to alleviate it. The commercial-trucking concerns formed an organization yesterday to devise ways and means in this direction but they don't see light.

Between 4:15 and 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Fifth street and Broadway traffic conditions approximated these figures:

Pedestrians	25,000
Automobiles and auto trucks	1,575
Street cars	208
Traffic officers required (one mounted)	4
Street car flagmen	2

Twenty-five thousand persons passing any given street intersection in an hour means that there is quite a parade—a parade that is maintained hour after hour during the day, and especially throughout the afternoon.

The automobiles carried at least 6300 other persons.

The street cars, assuming that they averaged twenty passengers to the car at this point, added 4160 citizens to the grand total.

A street car is about forty feet long. Therefore 8320 feet of street car passed the intersection during the hour.

An automobile averages ten feet in length—15,750 feet of automobile.

There was a probable linear footage of horses and horse-drawn vehicles of 2000 feet, or approximately five miles of conveyances during the time allotted to the test.

Broadway is sixty feet wide from curb to curb. Fifth street is forty feet wide. To this may be added a sidewalk total of fifty feet, which means that within the confines of 150 feet 35,460 persons either walked or were conveyed across the street intersection. Any one with a taste for higher mathematics is at liberty to figure how much space there is in 150 feet in sixty minutes, and the answer will be just how much farther Los Angeles can go before "sumthin' busts."

During the hour between 4:15 and 5:15, when this photograph was made, twenty-five thousand persons on foot, four thousand in two hundred and eight street cars, six thousand in more than fifteen hundred autos, passed this intersection, and it was an average day, with no special downtown attractions to bring people out.

To add to the ensemble at Fifth and Broadway the street was torn up last week on both the north and south sides of Fifth street, requiring great caution in navigating the involved strip. There is not room for many complications in a situation as tense as Fifth and Broadway late in the afternoon.

And this was an average day, with nothing unusual going on to bring the people out; and Fifth and Broadway is but one of many such crowded intersections.

STREETS TRAFFIC-BOUND.

The streets in the center of the city are traffic-bound, and the situation is rapidly growing away from the possibility of successful handling. No steps are being taken to meet the changing conditions beyond the prospective relief of the Main-street congestion by the construction of the San Pedro-street line. What will be their condition in 1915 when the Panama Canal is opened, two world's fairs are in progress and we have an additional 100,000 population and 25,000 automobiles?

"People do not realize the conditions," said Lieut. Butler, head of the police traffic squad, yesterday. "They are drifting, and the first thing they know every business street in town will be in the same shape Main street now is during the rush hours of the morning and evening.

Many to Mourn.

REMARKABLE WOMAN'S CAREER AT AN END.

Mme. Ida Hancock Ross, Daughter of Noble Parents, Pioneer of California, Beautiful of Character and Noted for Charities, Dies After Lingering Illness — Leaves Friends in Every Quarter of Globe.

AFTER a lingering illness and indescribale suffering, Mme. Ida Hancock Ross, wife of Federal Judge Erskine M. Ross and mother of G. Allan Hancock, passed away at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning at her home, Wilshire boulevard and Vermont avenue, surrounded by the immediate members of her family.

Mme. Ross had suffered from stomach trouble for several years, but it was not considered serious by either herself or her family until about a month ago, when acute symptoms set in which made recovery impossible. Because of her wonderful will power and vitality even the physicians were baffled and were compelled to admit that not until the patient became unconscious could they look for the end.

Not many persons of the West have been so universally mourned as is Mme. Ross, one of the cosmopolitan pioneers of California.

In the latter part of her life Mme. Ross had passed six months of every year in Europe. She numbered her friends by the thousands and in all parts of the world. Many a young art student of the Latin quarter of Paris owes his opportunity to study to her generosity. Music, art and all things making for human advancement she loved and would always do anything in her power to stimulate.

OF NOBLE PARENTAGE.

Mme. Ross was born in Imperial, Ill., in 1843. Her father was Count Agostin Heraszthy of Hungary. He was exiled for leadership in the first efforts to obtain freedom from what he considered despotism.

Her mother was Eleanora de Desinskyi, a noblewoman of Polish descent. In 1849 Count Heraszthy and his wife, father and six children set out across the plains via Santa Fe for California. All the hardships in the almanac from hunger to Indian treachery were experienced by the Count and his family.

Count Heraszthy first settled in San Diego, where he held many public offices. Afterward he removed with his family to Sonoma, where he imported the first grape vines ever grown in California for industrial purposes. The daughter went with her mother to Paris, where she was educated. This trip was over the popular route at that time around Cape Horn.

Mme. Ross married Maj. Hancock in the early '60's, and he later proved himself a great factor in the development of Los Angeles. Practically all of the surveys used today in Monterey, San Diego and Los Angeles are the old Hancock surveys made at a time when all of the land west of Hill street was sheep pasture and that east of Main street young walnut groves.

CARVING A FORTUNE.

Maj. Hancock, hale, hearty and penniless, also came to Los Angeles in '49, and the first thing he did after arriving was to take $20,000 out of a rich placer mine. This and every cent he could get hold of for some time afterward, he invested in land, buying great Mexican grants for the then high price of $2 to $3 an acre. The largest of these grants, Rancho la Brea, lies west of Los Angeles and on 2000 acres of this land Hollywood, Sherman and Colegrove are built. The remaining 2000 acres are intact and are yielding an income of from $4000 to $5000 a day, being studded with oil wells. These 2000 acres are conservatively considered to be worth $3,000,000.

When Maj. Hancock died the land was heavily encumbered, and Mme. Ross, then an attractive young widow, took her two sons and moved to the little old ranch house. There she struggled for years, doing every or any part of the rough farm work which fell to her hand, until at last the mortgage was cleared. These hard years developed the wonderful character which has been such an inspiration to other strugglers. It was because of all of the privations endured at this time that Mme. Ross understood the sufferings of others so well and it also had a great deal to do

STEINWAY

"—As Good as the Steinway" —WHY?

STEINWAY must be the Standard by which all Pianos are measured. If it is "as good as the Steinway" you know it must be good indeed—but is it as good—and by what judgment or trial can anyone say it is as good—until he has given the Piano years of trial under all climates and all conditions?

So let your decision be a Steinway, if you would have the best—and the standard Piano of the World.

That The Times has a productive circulation, due to being read more extensively than any other Los Angeles newspaper, is demonstrated by the fact that it regularly prints approximately four million lines of advertising a year more than any other newspaper in the world, and twice as many legitimate "want" advertisements as any of its local competitors.

Advertising record, 1912, 18,479,300 lines.

The Times advertisements get quicker and better results, and are more valuable to advertisers, than those of any other American newspaper.

ENGLISH LASTS have been chosen to lead the fashion parade this season. Naturally, you will expect the big, busy Baker stores to be in position to supply this popular footwear, and in this you will not be disappointed. Our showing of English lasts is without an equal in Los Angles. The Baker stores occupy the position of leaders in their line in the entire west and have first choice of new styles as they appear. This explains why our style showings contain only the best of the good ones. The tremendous buying strength of the great eight-store Baker organization compels the respect of manufacturers, large and small, with the result that our prices are always lower on equal quality. For these very good reasons the big Baker business continues to grow and expand. If you are not already a Baker patron, we cordially invite you to become one of the great family of satisfied Baker buyers. Share with thousands of others the manifold advantages of buying your footwear at Baker's, where styles are newest, quality the best, prices the lowest and service the most satisfactory. Remember, disappointment never plays any part in a business transaction at Baker's.

POLITICAL TIPS.

The Washington Post (Dem.) pays President Taft the following handsome tribute: "William T. Taft goes out with something in his heart that neither riches, nor power, nor prestige, nor political skill can give; something that neither detraction, nor misrepresentation, nor defeat can take away. He will take with him the abiding friendship and affection of the American people. History will take care of William H. Taft, and he leaves his record to the judgment of his countrymen, secure in the knowledge that he has acted always with honor and in obedience to an honest sense of duty. His heart has been true; his faith in his fellows has not been impaired; his devotion to the flag and the Constitution has inspired him always, and he has never used his power or influence for the benefit of any man or any cause."

Senator Hoke Smith was caught napping in connection with the nomination of Senator Clarke of Arkansas for president pro tem. of the Senate. Smith had been a firm friend of his colleague, Mr. Bacon, and several days ago was given to understand that the agitation against reorganizing Mr. Bacon's rights to the nomination was dropped and the understanding reached that this position was not to come under the head of a [illegible] place. He was therefore taken by surprise when Senator [illegible] of New York proposed Senator Clarke for the nomination and twenty-seven Senators voted for him as against fourteen for Mr. Bacon. The election of Clarke was part of the move of the newly-elected Senators to limit each long-service Senator to one important place.

The forthcoming test of strength between the northern and southern Democrats in Congress in matters of national legislation is foreshadowed by the formation of an alliance of the Democrats in Congress north of Illinois and west of the Mississippi River for offensive and defensive purposes. The Western States already represented in the combine are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Montana, New Mexico, [illegible] and California. Democrats from these States expect their ranks to be materially augmented by Democrats from other western and northwestern States. One of the first questions in the organization of committees by the Ways and Means Committee will be the protests from these men against the control of committee chairmanships by the South. The men in the alliance are practically opposed to any reduction in the tariff on agricultural products.

The refusal of the Democratic majority in Congress to concur with the Senate in repealing the free seed provision caused Senator Kenyon to describe the majority members of the House as "these Democratic enthusiasts who insist on this pharisaical, [illegible], uneconomical and wasteful practice of drawing on the treasury to scatter seeds around the country." He proposes to fight to the bitter end this provision when the next agricultural bill comes up for consideration.

Senator Obadiah Gardiner of Maine who is really an accident of politics in the Pine Tree State, is said to be very sore because he was not made Secretary of Commerce and Labor or Secretary of Agriculture. As he had been defeated for re-election he goes back to private life with the usual democratic dissatisfaction and with a fling at the President that if he had given as much time to his own political interests in Maine as he did to Wilson's pre-convention campaign he would have been re-elected Senator from his State. Mr. Gardiner will probably not be a strong factor in the next Maine campaign.

Governor Lister of Washington is not on speaking terms with some of the members of the Legislature of his State. The other day he refused to remain at the capitol until the Legislature's session of the day was concluded, and refused to receive at the gubernatorial residence the $2,000,000 road bond bill which was brought by the chief clerk of the House. The bill was therefore left on the doorstep to be picked up by Mrs. Lister. In the course of his reading of a veto message to the Senate the following day, he said, with reference to the call at his home: "I want to say this right here that if any gang of ruffians, [illegible] or window tommies can go to the residence of the Governor because it is a public building any time of the day or night to compel him to [illegible], I am ready to leave that residence and move to a private house, where I can at least, during the [illegible], have a few hours of privacy, which every public citizen is entitled to."

The Texas Legislature has enacted a [illegible] education bill which forbids the giving of assistance to a voter at the polls in the preparation of his ballot. In other words, a man who cannot read or write or cannot otherwise qualify himself to make out his own ballot, cannot vote. The bill is aimed at the Mexicans of the western and Lower Rio Grande counties, but will also affect a good many other white residents as well as quite a considerable number of Confederate veterans.

The Chief of Police of Washington played a hard joke on a number of prominent residents of the District in connection with the inauguration of President Wilson. In order to be able to get their automobiles through the crowds along the parade so as to reach their [illegible], they asked to be sworn in as special policemen and were given a nice big badge and a permit to cross the lines. On inauguration day, however, the chief assigned every one of them to duty at Union Station from 8 o'clock in the morning till 11 at night. They had to obey orders or be in contempt, and they therefore did actual police duty in the worst jam of humanity ever seen at the railroad station.

Senators Du Pont and Saulsbury of Delaware are on about as friendly terms as Speaker Champ Clark and William J. Bryan. The feud between them, which had its origin in politics rather than the personal, for Mr. Du Pont is a Republican and Mr. Saulsbury is a Democrat, was brought to a head when Mr. Du Pont refused to introduce Mr. Saulsbury into the Senate. [illegible] was unaccompanied in the [illegible] of the Senate. Mr. Saulsbury was escorted by John Walter Smith, of Snow Hill, Md.

Suffragists in Illinois are preparing to defeat James R. Mann for re-election to Congress in 1914, because he is quoted to have said that a woman's place in the suffrage parade [illegible] should have been at home instead of riding on a float in favor of votes for women. It is planned to hold a mass meeting at which Mr. Mann's words will be denounced.

The legislative deadlock in the Illinois Legislature over the election of Senators resulted in that State being without proper representation in the Senate. [illegible] can one remember [illegible] such a predicament [illegible] the high tension existing among the members of the Legislature, the predicament is likely to be long continued.

Vermont does not propose to longer be an indicator of the political drift of the country. The voters of the State have therefore adopted a constitutional amendment changing the date of the State election from September to November. This leaves Arkansas and Maine as the only September States. With two other exceptions—Georgia, which votes in October, and Louisiana, which votes in April—the elections all occur in the month of November.

Suffragism is having hard luck in the conservative States of Maine and Massachusetts. In the former the suffrage bill was defeated in the House by a vote of 89 to 53, after it had been passed by the Senate. In Massachusetts the committee, after several spirited hearings, voted to report "leave to withdraw" on the bill providing for an amendment to the constitution which would eliminate the word "male" from the provision defining the qualifications of a voter.

Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania has secured the appointment of his cousin, James I. Blakslee of Carbon county, Pa., as third Assistant Postmaster-General at a salary of $5000 a year, and unpleasant remarks are already being made about relatives getting the pick of the pie counter. In rewarding Cousin Blakslee, Cousin Palmer is paying off an old debt. Blakslee put Palmer on the political map and lost a seat in the State Senate through the transaction. In 1908, when the Democrats of the Twenty-sixth District were having trouble agreeing on a candidate, Blakslee suggested Palmer as a compromise. There was some objection offered on the ground that Palmer was a corporation lawyer, but Cousin Jim smoothed out these spots and Cousin A. Mitchell got the nomination. As it would not do to have relatives on the ticket, Blakslee got out of the Senate race.

WOMAN EXPLORES TUNNEL.

SANTA BARBARA, March 15.—Santa Barbara's $1,000,000 tunnel, a four-mile bore through the Santa Ynez Mountains, recently completed, yesterday was explored by a woman. Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. B. F. Hodgson, attired in the usual rubber outfit, made the trip, many times wading in water above her waist. She declared she was at no time frightened and thought it was one of the most interesting trips imaginable. An attempt is to be made to reduce the flow of water to a level of only a few inches and then the tunnel trip can be made without much inconvenience in an electric car. Many people are waiting for an opportunity to make the journey.

FOUR-TRACK SIDEWALKS.

Plan to Keep the Locals and Way Freights From Annoying Pedestrians Who Are on Their Way.

"Sidewalks in the shopping district are becoming so congested that it may soon be necessary to adopt traffic regulations for their use," said a policeman yesterday, as he opened a passageway through a crowd around an Easter hat display.

"The average woman," he continued, "has no more idea of keeping to the right and passing to the left than a cafeteria waitress has of getting a tip. She wanders along on the wrong side of the walk as unconcernedly as though she had all the room there is, or she will gather a flock of friends about her and hold a tea party without the tea in the middle of the walk, or she will amble down the center aisle with a couple of friends holding up the folks behind who can't get through on one side because of the window crowds, or on the other because of the tide of travel in the opposite direction.

"I think it would be a good scheme to divide the sidewalks into four-track affairs. Let the locals and way freights have the extreme inside position where they can take all the time they want to look at windows, or fuss their hair in the looking glasses. Let the next layer be for the through expresses; that is the persons who have somewhere to go and are on their way. Then would come the "slows" going the other way, and on the outside, the 'flyers' again. When one wanted to change his gear he could give a signal and shift over without stopping travel."

AFTER 'EM FIRST HAND.

Second-hand Clothing Dealers Send Out Men to Spot and Buy Suits on the Street.

Second-hand clothing dealers appear to be having difficulty in keeping a plentiful supply of goods for their shelves. They are resorting to unusual tactics in an effort to meet the demands of laborers and down-and-out persons who cannot afford to buy new spring suits.

"Expert buyers" for the second-hand clothing dealers are operating on the downtown streets, in addition to following their ancient custom of going from house to house to purchase cast-off garments. While a business man was standing at Sixth and Broadway last night he was approached by a man who handed him a card, and inquired:

"Any old clothes for sale?"

"Not with me, except what you see me wearing," replied the business man.

"But I'll call at your house tomorrow if you'll give me your name and address," the agent urged.

"No, that wouldn't be worth while because my wife disposes of the clothes I've worn out—generally gives them to the church rummage sales. Is this the way you buy?"

"Yes, a number of men representing different second-hand clothing dealers are on the downtown streets all the time, and we get track of the goods, too. It's the only way we can supply the demand. This house-to-house business is overworked."

SIMPLY DRUNK.

J. C. Lyons, 38 years old, who lives with his mother, Mrs. Martha Lyons at No. 1325 Temple street, and who was supposed to have drowned himself on the night of the 6th inst. by throwing himself into the Echo Park lake, returned home yesterday. He said he had been on a protracted spree. While Lyons was missing the lake was dragged by Patrolman McClain and dynamite was exploded in the water by Capt. Felts in an effort to raise the body.

WOULD REVOKE A FRANCHISE.

Porterville Officials Assert that Public Service Corporation is Recreant and Drastic Measure is Proposed.

PORTERVILLE, March 15. — Alleging that the officials of the Central California Gas Company have not kept faith with the city of Porterville, Mayor Tetrault has instructed the City Attorney to draw a resolution declaring forfeited the franchise of the company to operate in this city. Charles S. S. Forney of Los Angeles is the president of the corporation.

According to Mayor Tetraut, when Forney applied last fall for a franchise to make certain additions to the service in this city, it was with the promise by the gas company that the corporation officers would do everything in their power to assist in the project for opening South Main street. To this end, it is stated Forney definitely agreed that the gas company would deed for street purposes a strip of land thirty feet in width through the company's reservation in South Hockett street at Orange. Now the city is ready to open the street through the gas company, property and it is asserted that Forney refuses to make good the promise.

Forney states, however, that there is certain red tape to be untangled before the company can deed away its own property, and he refers the entire dispute to the State Railroad Commission.

It was stated today that civil actions are to be brought against the gas company, alleging damage to adjoining property.

FOR CAMPERS.

Twelve of the principal meadow areas of the Sequoia National Forest have been set aside by the district forester, W. H. Dubois, for the exclusive use of tourists and campers, according to an official order which was made public today.

To fence these meadows against cattle and other live stock now grazing in the forest the cattlemen have voluntarily agreed to an assessment of 3 cents per head of stock, and the money is to be used as fast as it becomes available. It is estimated that it will require only about $1000 to fence the tracts now set aside, as some of the tracts are so situated that but little wire will be required.

Some of the better known meadows which are included in the order are Beach, Summit Creek, Clover, Cam Viejo, Monache, Indian Head, Jordan Springs, Ramshaw, Tunnel, Little Whitney, Big Whitney, Rock Creek and Junction.

Forest rangers are advised that tourist parties may remain in any one meadow not to exceed one week, and that pasturage is to be provided for not to exceed two head of stock per person of the party. Credit for the work of securing these reserves is due to the Tulare County Board of Forestry, members of whom secured the co-operation of the forestry service.

THE COMING CHARTER ELECTION.

Socialists Scheming to Gain Control of the City Government by Means of Proposed Amendments—The "Proportional Representation" Folly—Citizens' Charter Plan.

ON MONDAY March 24, a charter election will be held in Los Angeles which has a grave bearing upon the welfare of the city. The issue is well defined. It is the same issue which the people decided in the memorable fall of 1911. Socialism has reared its horrid front again.

The danger is as real a menace as the one which aroused the voters fifteen months ago; and unless the voters are again aroused, the party of Schmitz, Tveitmoe, Johannsen, the McNamaras and Darrow will be put in a strategic position by means of which its leaders anticipate securing an early control of every branch of the city government, through the proposed socialistic amendments now before the electorate for its consideration.

It is necessary for those opposed to Socialism, to poll a total of 75,000 votes on the 24th, if the Citizens' amendments are to prevail, and it is to this task that a well-organized campaign is now being waged.

The Socialist amendments are eight in number. The first four are more rabid than ever have been written into the organic law of an American municipality. Should these prevail, the city will be authorized in effect to seize public utilities now privately owned, "to issue, without regard to the debt limit, bonds in an amount not to exceed the total price, or consideration at which the city shall acquire any utility," and so on.

"Without regard to the debt limit." Think of that, fellow citizens, and cease to wonder that the men who are responsible for the proud position of Los Angeles in the commercial and financial world take a serious view of the case.

Proposed Socialist-Good Government amendment No. 4 authorizes the city "to exercise any power that any other city in California may be authorized to exercise, and to engage in any business that may be specifically authorized by a vote of the electors."

Under this amendment, if the city of Watts should decide to go into the saloon business, the city of Los Angeles could immediately follow suit without further formality; or if the Socialist-Good Government party should be able to get enough votes to authorize the establishment of municipal peanut stands on every street corner, with salaried officers to mind them, then we would have municipal peanut stands on every corner, and a corresponding number of fat berths for the faithful would be created.

Socialist-Good Government proposed amendment No. 5 provides that each of the nine Councilmen shall be a committee of one on a definite one-ninth of the city's business. This is piffle, but dangerous piffle, for the placing of one-ninth of the city's business in the hands of one man, even though that man be a Socialist-Good Governmenter, is an experiment which would quite likely, either produce the millennium or a jury trial.

Proposed Socialist-Good Government amendment No. 4 proposed amendment No. 7 provides for an election in June, of this year, and every two years thereafter. The removal of the present misfits at the earliest possible date will find a responsive chord in the breast of many voters, and if they could be assured that the fire waited not on the frying pan, the amendment would prevail.

Socialist-Good Government proposed amendment No. 6 provides that the Mayor shall receive a salary of $4500, and each Councilman $2400. The City Attorney, $4000; the Auditor, $3000, and the Assessor, $3000.

THE CITIZENS' AMENDMENTS.

Proposed Citizens' amendment No. 18 provides for a Mayoralty salary of $6000; Councilmen, $1200; City Attorney, $6000; Auditor, $3600, and Assessor $3600. This is on the theory that a $6000 job cannot be successfully filled by a $50 a month man.

Citizens' proposed amendment No. 16 deals with the harbor situation without gloves; and Heaven knows there is no municipal matter that needs bare-handed action more than the failure at San Pedro and Wilmington, which threatens to set us back several years after the Panama Canal is opened, before Los Angeles is in a position to command her just share of the business.

This amendment provides for the election of three Harbor Commissioners to serve for two years each, under individual bonds of $50,000. They shall devote all of their time to the duties of the position, shall maintain their office at the harbor instead of a City Hall, twenty-five miles away, and shall each be paid a salary of $3600 per year. Upon these men shall devolve the responsibility for harbor affairs. Circumlocution is eliminated, and a jurisdiction is defined for the first time since we had a harbor. If the Commissioners are not big enough for the job, the voters will oust them. It is the concentration of authority which is a prerequisite to every successful private or public business enterprise.

Proposed amendment No. 9, provides for the appointment of the board by the Mayor, and for confirmation by the Council, which body shall also fix the salaries. The objection to this is seen in the present condition of harbor affairs. The board has always been appointive by the Mayor. Three millions of dollars have gone or are on their merry way into what is called with unconscious facetiousness, "harbor improvements." If more of this kind of "harbor improvement" is desired, proposed amendment No. 9 is the one to vote. Otherwise vote for Citizens' amendment No. 16, drawn after a full investigation of harbor conditions, and in complete knowledge of all the facts.

FOR A DISTRICT COUNCIL.

Probably the greatest storm has been aroused by proposed amendment No. 17, which has for its purpose the elimination of bosses and bossism, and which will, if adopted, put the government in the hands of the people. Small wonder Earl-Lissner et al. are shouting their heads off in opposition.

This amendment provides for the division of the city into fifteen districts, from each one of which a Councilman is to be elected. Besides these fifteen Councilmen, six members at large are to be chosen, making a City Council of twenty-one.

Thus every part of the city will have a home-grown legislator, and the whole will have its six members to act as a brake upon the district representatives. "Ward system revived. Odds blood, Gadzooks, and Damnation," shriek the Earl-Lissner push. "Espee, Old Guard, Help! Murder, Fire and Police."

The best argument in favor of the so-called district plan lies in the violent opposition of the persons who have found the at-large control of the city pleasant, profitable, inspiring and uplifting; but there are many good reasons why the present town hall style of government should give way to the requirements of a modern city.

In the first place there is no representation under the at-large system. If a section of town needs a storm drain, the only way under the blue vault of heaven to get it, is to exercise the patience of Job, the activity of a desert jack-rabbit, and the perseverance of a pile-driver. The need makes no appeal to the Council. Not a single member, perhaps, lives within miles of the desired improvement. "Manana" is the word.

The new plan, on the contrary, does give direct representation; it makes the district Councilman amenable to his district, and under the recall for which the Socialist-Good Governments were so strong awhile back, if Mr. Councilman does not stay pretty closely on the job, out he goes.

In a Council of twenty-one members, six of them elected at large, it will not be an idle summer day's task to work up a combine. A "Big Eleven" is more difficult than a "Big Three" or a "Big Five." The Southern Pacific can be no more a factor in Los Angeles politics than a 1907 baseball score, and there is no "old guard." These things are dust thrown in the eyes of the voter to becloud the issue, which stripped of all its trimmings is either a perpetuation of the kind of government we have had for the past four years, or another, and necessarily a better government. A truly representative government. What's the use of arguing on so self-evident a proposition?

THE SOCIALIST SCHEME.

As an alternative to this plan, the "Socialist-Good Governmenters have brought forward that most amazing of all political cure-alls, the "proportional representation"; and it is through this scheme that the Socialists expect to capture the reins of government.

We have never seen anyone who professed to a full understanding of proportional representation.

It is on the ballot, however, and behind it lurks the red flag. Under its redundant phraseology lies the provision for the election to public office of minority candidates, thus upsetting the constitutional theory of majority government, and opening the way for the descent of the upraised red hand.

As nearly as it is possible to condense this marvelous proposition into language it may be said that it provides for the election of nine members of the City Council, "who shall be elected from the various parties or organizations taking part in a city election. The number elected from any party or organization will depend upon the numerical size of that party."

Under the ebullition of a curious mentality, it is further provided that each element be given its proportional measure of representation, based upon a unit of votes, thus a party which polled but a few votes would have a "unit" and be able to claim a seat in the Council, and perhaps involve that body in deadlock, strife and endless woe. "What do we care for disturbed conditions?" yelled a loud-mouthed orator on a soap box the other night, "we can hop a freight and leave any time we damn please." And this sentiment to a certain extent dominates the proportional representative proposed amendment. It is dangerous, un-American, probably unconstitutional; would involve the city in unlimited trouble; would be a brake upon the wheels of progress. It is the rock upon which the Socialist-Good Government gang have planted their banner with its strange device, and it is the determination of this issue on the 24th, more than any other, that will settle the political fate of the city. Vote it down.

The balance of the proposed amendments prepared by the citizens' revision committee are backed by common sense and business acumen. They are not as important as the harbor and the district plan, but they are all worth voting for.

Proposed amendment No. 11, provides for the sale of city real estate on terms, provided one-third of the purchase price shall be in cash. Nos. 12 and 13 provide for the establishment of firemen's and policemen's pension funds. No. 14 kills off the Municipal News; saves the people $36,000 a year, closes a school for scandal, and does away with untold wear and tear on the feelings of misguided individuals who feel called upon to read the weekly joker because it doesn't cost anything. No. 15 enlarges the scope of the Park Commission.

A duty rests upon every voter to go to the polls on March 24th. Vote, first of all, against the insidious proportional representation plan; vote next for the saving of the harbor, and after that for the amendments proposed by the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand, after careful and painstaking preparation. They are numbered from 11 to 18 inclusive.

The Charter Again.

TAKE THE HARBOR OUT OF MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

TO THE VOTERS OF LOS ANGELES and all interested in intelligent, economical, honest development and management of Los Angeles Harbor:

Adequate development and business-like management of Los Angeles Harbor insure her future commercial supremacy, and that this cannot be accomplished under the conditions created by a misfit charter, the responsibility for which rests with Leslie R. Hewitt, who in the betrayal of the confidence reposed in him by the Board of Harbor Commissioners in the charter of 1911 struck the commerce of our port a blow that will cost millions in money and the prestige that rightfully belongs to Los Angeles if our harbor could be made ready to care for the traffic that naturally would come to this harbor when the Panama Canal shall be opened for commerce. This same gentleman, under the guise of correcting the errors in the present charter, but in fact to accomplish the defeat of Amendment No. 16, approved by the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand, which said amendment affords a clear and comprehensive plan for harbor development and control, urges that Amendment No. 9 be adopted. The result of the adoption of No. 9 will be to favor private interests and against the interest of the people.

It is admitted by all that the multiplicity of powers controlling harbor development and management must be abolished, and a central body, clothed with power to discharge the duties of Harbor Commissioners, as is defined for the government of all successful harbors created.

The Alexander administration offers No. 9, and states that it will fully protect the interests of the public and relieve the complex situation. Let us see.

No. 9 amends section 169 of the present charter so as to provide a commission of three, appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Council; thus placing them under the control of the Mayor and Council, and providing that the Council may fix the salary of the members, or any of them.

This will enable the Mayor and Council to create three or less salaried positions, which would undoubtedly be used to further the political ambition of the Mayor and Council. This kind of control always has and always will sacrifice the interests of the people.

In support of this we desire to call your attention to the manner in which Mayor Alexander organized the Public Service Commission. It is a matter of public knowledge that he forced the members of said board to elect his private secretary as president thereof, not as a reward for his fitness for the position by experience and training, but for faithful political services rendered; and by reason thereof, his former secretary now enjoys the salary incident to the presidency of the board, and the Mayor has paid one of his political debts.

This clearly demonstrates that municipal politics has no place in the business of developing and controlling the greatest asset of Los Angeles, namely, her opportunity to reap all the benefits of water transportation by the development of her harbor. Municipal political harbor control has been tried and abolished in practically every port in the world, and to invoke it here is to destroy the usefulness of the harbor.

By amending section 176 they undertake to establish a harbor district, and provide that the Council may change the same at any time. No. 9 also provides that the Council, by ordinance approved by the Mayor, may prescribe the powers and duties of the commission in control of the harbor front. It should be just as appropriate to have the Council and Mayor prescribing the powers and duties of the school board in the control of the schools. The Mayor and Council would be as well informed and equipped by experience and training in one case as the other. No. 9 further provides that the board may have such further power as may be imposed by ordinance.

In fixing the harbor district, No. 9 clearly creates a conflict of authority between the Board of Public Works and the Board of Harbor Commissioners which will render and delay harbor development, which means waste and not business management, as has been demonstrated in the efforts of the Harbor Commission to secure a proper approach to the outer harbor. No. 9 diverts a part of the revenues of the harbor into the general fund where it can be used by the City Council in municipal affairs, and the commerce of the port taxed to replace it.

The voters can well ask the person advocating the adoption of No. 9 why section 262 of Article XXV is repealed, inasmuch as this section provides that the city may go outside of her boundaries and protect her commerce. What interest is being served under cover of this repeal? But the most vicious part of the attempt to defeat No. 16 by the proposal of No. 9 lies in the concealed effort of the unreliable Mr. Hewitt to continue in office the discredited and incompetent engineer, Mr. Homer Hamlin. Here is the dual authority. Hewitt seeks to continue by defeating amendment No. 16, subdivision (h) of section 143 of Article XIV of the present city charter, which provides that "The Board of Public Works shall appoint and employ a civil engineer of not less than five years' professional experience, who shall be designated as the city engineer." Section 174 of Article XVI provides that "The City Engineer shall be the engineer of the Board of Harbor Commissioners and shall be ex-officio harbor engineer of the city." Therefore, the Board of Public Works must appoint the engineer of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. This will lead to confusion, and will unquestionably lead to serious trouble, as it has in the past, and will enable Mr. Hewitt, who is under contract with the city by the pleasure of the Mayor and Council, and not amenable to any of the provisions of the charter, that control elective officers; and Mr. Hamlin, who is appointed by the Board of Public Works, as the chief engineer of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, to in effect control harbor development. And this situation has already cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars and the prestige in commercial development that would certainly be realized if Los Angeles harbor was ready for the opening of the canal.

NUMBER SIXTEEN.

The taxpayers should not be called upon to assume an indebtedness of any amount, the proceeds to be expended under such conditions. The Citizens' Committee of One Thousand have prepared and submitted amendment No. 16, which is a clear cut, comprehensive document, which, if adopted, will enable the people who furnish the money to develop and control the harbor through a commission selected by the vot[illegible] by the bosses and politicians [illegible] are given power to discharge [illegible] sponsibilities and are [illegible] rectly to the people and [illegible] maintain an office at the har[illegible] acquaint themselves with [illegible] surrounding water terminals [illegible] may intelligently discharge the [illegible] of Harbor Commissioners.

The experience of every [illegible] port is that the conditions [illegible] in amendment 16 must be [illegible] harbor development and [illegible] is to be a success. Under the [illegible] arrangement it is considered a [illegible] item and is always announced [illegible] the press that "the Harbor Com[illegible] sion visited the harbor today." [illegible] tainly this must seem like a [illegible] the cities whose Harbor Commission[illegible] ers are kept in close touch with har[illegible] bor development and are [illegible] on the job.

Amendment 16 has been very [illegible] fully prepared, and in every way [illegible] guards the interests of the city [illegible] permits a broad and comprehensive plan of development and management that will enable Los Angeles harbor to successfully compete with any harbor in the world, and make it a [illegible] nue producer and the greatest [illegible] in the commercial development of [illegible] city.

We desire to call particular atten[illegible] tion to the fact that under the pro[illegible] visions of amendment 16, as pre[illegible] by the Citizens' Committee, every im[illegible] portant resolution or order of [illegible] Board of Harbor Commissioners [illegible] ing rates or granting a franchise [illegible] not go into effect until sixty days [illegible] time of its passage, and during [illegible] time the City Council has full [illegible] and authority to amend and [illegible] the orders or resolutions as they [illegible] deem for the interests of the city. This gives the people direct control of all of the affairs of the Harbor Commission, and does not delegate [illegible] that commission the power that is now possessed by the Public Service Commission and the Board of Public Works, neither of which can be reached by the referendum directly or indirectly. It will be seen by [illegible] that the utmost publicity is given [illegible] the acts of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and every door is thrown open to the public, which makes it impossible for this commission to deprive the public in any manner of its just and equitable rights, but permits control of harbor affairs at all times by the people.

We now say to the voters that the adoption of No. 9 means that the politicians and place seekers will develop and manage your harbor. The adoption of No. 16 means that the people through a commission created by and accountable to them, will develop and manage the harbor. Take your choice.

MIND UNBALANCED BY JOY.

After Seeing Long-lost Brother Young Woman Becomes Violent and Is Taken to Hospital.

The delight and surprise of meeting her brother, Robert Stark, after a separation of thirty years ago, proved to be too much of a shock for Miss Anna Stark. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday in a disturbed mental condition.

Recently Miss Stark was employed as a maid in the family of [illegible] No. 616 Beaudry street. Before coming to California, she was informed that all of the members of her family were dead.

A few days ago her brother [illegible] found trace of Miss Stark and came to her. The shock of seeing him [illegible] balanced the young woman's mind [illegible] that she became [illegible] one of the [illegible] ter, assisted by neighbors, [illegible] woman, and it was thought she had recovered. When she became hysterical yesterday the police were notified and she was taken from the home.

THE PRICE.

A Pittsburgh woman in Los Angeles was granted $125,000 with her divorce. This suggests that no matter what it costs to keep a wife it may prove much more expensive to lose her.

BACK ON THE MAP.

Once more the public hears from Gen. Aubert, a really gallant Mexican officer. This time he is in retreat. Perhaps he will next be heard from as the newest provisional President and England will have some more recognizing to do.

BRYAN'S MODESTY.

Wonders will never cease. Secretary Bryan has admitted to Senator Lodge that he does not know everything that is to be known about the duties of his new position. "Billy Boy," as he used to be called, said he felt it would be necessary for him to consult Senator Root, as former Secretary of State, frequently.

A THEORY.

A young man in Pomona is building an aeroplane which he believes will fly without an engine. This is a theory on which many inventors are working with the automobile as well as the airship. Many hope to discover a principle of mechanics by which the momentum of a machine will generate its own power.

"EACH FOR ALL."

The Socialist motto of "each for all and all for each" was liberally interpreted in Milwaukee to mean that each Socialist should reach for all the offices that he could get, and all Socialists should reach for each office that was in sight. On this candid platform the Socialists won and the taxpayers of Milwaukee lost.

USEFULNESS OF A RECALL PETITION.

A petition for the recall of an Oregon judge which failed to receive the requisite number of signatures will not prove altogether valueless. An enterprising Democrat abstracted it from the County Clerk's office, cut off the preamble, fastened the signatures to a petition recommending him for appointment as postmaster of the town and forwarded it to Washington.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE.

In eulogizing the late Maj. Elias Benton Powell his friends pronounced him faithful in all things. This is praise indeed. To have always kept faith with one's work, one's home and one's friends is to have lived the life beautiful. Such a man sleeps well at night and surely the rest at this life's close can only bring peace and happiness to him in whatever may be the next awakening.

RULE OR RUIN.

A Socialist was yesterday talking politics to a business man. The radical assured the conservative that this city should never sell any bonds or make any harbor improvements until the Socialists had their way about proportionate representation. "That would mean ruin for the city," protested the business man. "We can't help that," said the Socialist, "the man who owns the building we are in at this minute must stay here and so must his house, but when the city is not good enough for us Socialists we have nothing to do but leave it." This exactly expresses the Socialists and the Goo-Goos.

THE INCOME TAX.

It is reported that the House Ways and Means Committee have agreed upon an income tax of 1 per cent. on all incomes in excess of $5000 per annum and a free sugar tariff schedule. If this programme shall be carried out the beet-sugar farmers who voted for and aided to elect Democratic Congressmen will have a chance to reap "a harvest of barren regrets, the Louisiana and Mississippi cane-sugar planters will have an opportunity to ascertain how much their Democracy has cost them, the national treasury will be "shy" the sum of $53,000,000, the American Sugar Refineries Company will pay no more duties on Cuban sugar and will be freed from beet-sugar competition, and the people will pay the same price for sugar that they are paying now.

TALKED TOO MUCH.

Mrs. Beatrice Pearson, a pretty blonde Englishwoman of 24, a first-class cabin passenger on the White Star steamship Oceanic, was detained on Ellis Island for three days and then deported on the same liner.

She was indiscreet enough to admit to the "Yankee pigs," as she called the landing agents, that she had left Mr. Pearson in London without bidding him good-by or apprising him of her intended trip. She admitted further that she came to New York to join a member of the British consulate there. The lady, like Mulligan's parrot, talked too much.

A man showing a commission as British vice-consul in New York appeared before the immigration commissioners and made an effort to procure the release of Mrs. Pearson. He did not succeed in that, but he did succeed in bringing himself within the operations of the immigration law of 1907, which makes it a criminal offense to pay the fare of a woman to the United States for improper motives

REPRESENTATIVE CITY GOVERNMENT.

Charter amendments Nos 11 to 18, inclusive, to be submitted to the voters of Los Angeles on the 24th of this month, were prepared by a committee of one thousand of the best citizens of Los Angeles, chosen from mechanics, manufacturers, merchants and professional men. Proposed amendments Nos. 1 to 10 did not receive the approval of the committee.

One of the most important, if not the most important of these proposed amendments, is No. 17. Its purpose is to constitute a City Council composed of twenty-one members, six elected at large and fifteen by wards or districts; put an end to the system of ordinance making by a Council of members elected "at large" with which the people of Los Angeles have been afflicted for four years, to their loss and detriment, and to re-establish here a system of representative government, such as exists in nearly every large city in the United States.

Electing a body of lawmakers for nation, State or municipality by an "at large" instead of a ward or district vote is a practice at war with the fundamental principles of republican representative government.

What would be thought of a proposition to elect all the State Senators and Assemblymen of California by an "at large" vote? How could a member of the Legislature from Siskiyou county adequately comprehend the necessities and rights of the people of Los Angeles county or a member from Los Angeles intelligently legislate for San Francisco or Shasta?

The local wants of each section of our city are in many particulars as divergent, and sometimes as antagonistic as those of the different counties in the State. Is it fair that a representative who lives on Boyle Heights should be able to force through an ordinance which is adverse to the interests of the Westlake district? Is it fair that a dweller on the northern confines of the city should legislate for its extreme southern portion? Conceding that every Councilman at large would honestly do his best according to his lights for the interest of the whole city, yet no man can possibly comprehend the requirements of fifteen districts as clearly as those of the one district in which he lives.

Under the non-representative system which has prevailed here for four years "ring rule"—the rule of a small coterie, has prevailed. It was not difficult for a few managing politicians to pick eighteen of their band for candidates, and elect them "at large." They would readily control one caucus, but it would be exceedingly difficult if not impossible for them to control fifteen caucuses.

The present system of ordinance-making in Los Angeles is in defiance of the American idea of representative government. Those who favor its continuance have been in the habit of loudly and repeatedly clamoring for "the right of the people to rule," but it would appear from their attitude in opposing the pending charter amendments, that they mean the right of some people to rule all the rest of the people.

Not only with respect to the feature of ordinance-making by Councilmen "at large" instead of by district or ward representatives does the city charter need amendment. It needs revision in the method of choosing executive officers to administer the affairs of the city. Is there any reason why the Harbor Commissioners and all administrative boards and executive officers should be appointed by the Mayor instead of being elected by the voters?

The one-man government which has existed in Los Angeles for the last four years has amply illustrated by its record the necessity for a return to "a government of the people, by the people, for the people."

If, as is proposed by the charter formulated by the committee of one thousand citizens, there had been a Council composed of six members elected at large and fifteen elected by districts or wards, is it probable that $50,000 of the taxpayers' money would have been sunk in the publication of an utterly inconsequent and worthless municipal newspaper? Would such improvements of the water front as are necessary in order to enable the people of Los Angeles to avail themselves of the splendid opportunities which await the completion of the Panama Canal have been delayed as they have been by the present dawdling and inefficient management of the affairs of the city? Would we have nothing to show for $3,000,000 of bond money voted for docks and a railroad which remain unconstructed? Would we have had excessive taxes and repeated special assessments from which the city has derived no benefit whatever? Would we have had 400 pages of penal ordinances inflicting fine and imprisonment on citizens and strangers for every conceivable act from expectorating in the gutter to eating two plates of soup in succession?

Sections 11 to 18 of the amendments to the city charter proposed by the committee of one thousand, providing for representative government, should receive the support of every voter who wishes well to the city.

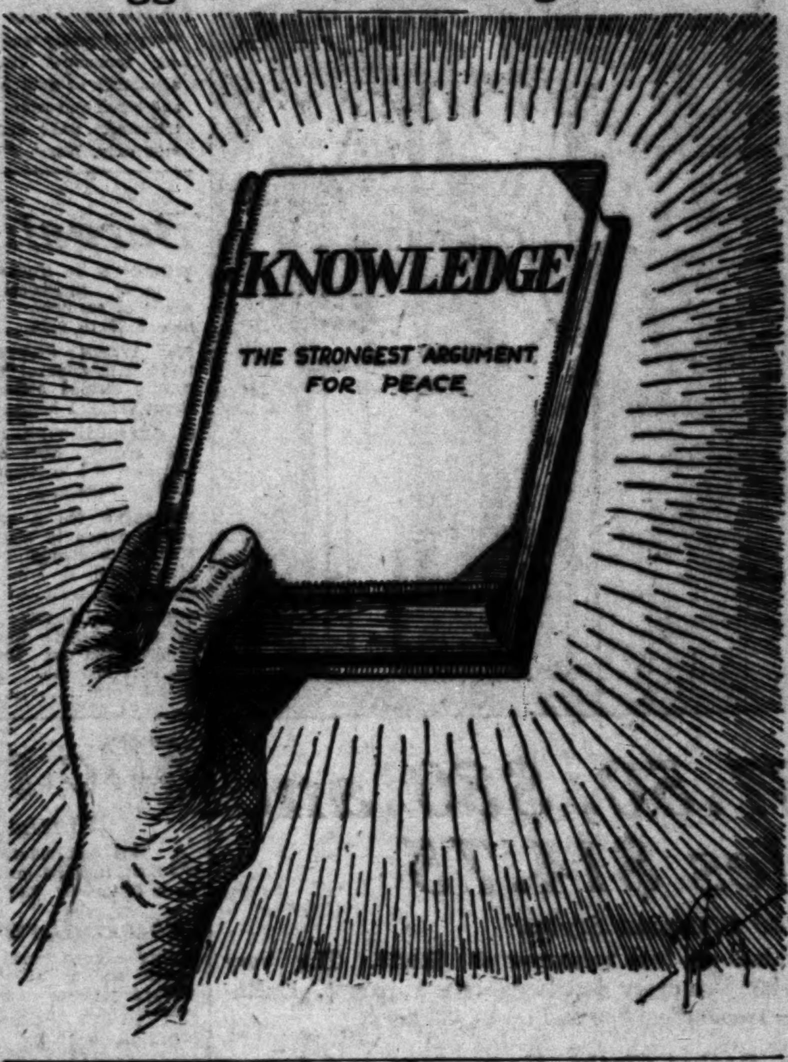
Amendment No. 6 should be defeated. It is in violation of Article 20, Section 13 of the State Constitution. It is a socialistic attempt to introduce here the obsolete doctrine of minority representation. It is in the interest of socialism and some of the least intelligent of the Socialists may vote for it—none others will.

EIGHT-HOUR FOLLY.

There are some vocations in the pursuit of which an arbitrary time limit would be inapplicable and absurd, and no law that the Sacramento fanatics can enact can make such a limit otherwise. Shall a sailor stop work at the pumps that keep the ship from sinking because eight bells have struck? Shall a locomotive engineer abandon his train after an eight hours' service? Shall a restaurant waiter cease his work in the middle of a dinner and leave the guest hungry because his eight hours' service are up? Shall a belated chauffeur abandon his auto in the middle of the road at 5 o'clock? Shall a pharmacist leave unweighed and uncompleted the prescription he is compounding at the call of "Time?"

If there is any profession in the world in which the eight-hour law is peculiarly and mischievously and absurdly inapplicable it is that of a trained nurse. Must she withhold a glass of water from the lips of the fever-stricken patient and place it out of reach upon the table because her eight hours of service have expired? Must she turn a deaf ear to the cries of the wife suffering from the pangs of parturition because she hears the clock strike five? Shall the sufferer, unable to turn in his bed, have no help and be compelled to unrest and disquiet because his eight-hour nurse deserted him at the stroke of a clock?

A Suggestion to Warring Nations.



KNOWLEDGE
THE STRONGEST ARGUMENT FOR PEACE

ACEPHALOUS OPIUM MERCHANTS.

The prohibition methods of the republic of China are certainly drastic and are likely to prove effective. Two merchants who had stored opium in defiance of the law had their heads cut off, and a squadron of soldiers superintended farmers while they destroyed the growing crop of poppies.

England may repeat her kindly action of years gone, when, in order to secure a market for East India opium, she sent a fleet to China to force the entrance of the drug into Chinese ports, the laws of China forbidding its importation, to the contrary notwithstanding. One excuse for this outrage was that the drug was needed by the poorer classes living along the Chinese rivers, not so much for its mere narcotic or sensual properties as for the relief it affords to the fever depression occasioned by malaria.

At that time quinine, which is a substitute for opium as a preventive of the ravages of malarial fever, sold in the English market at $4.10 the ounce. In 1880 it sold for $3. In 1883 for 84 cents, and in 1887 for 30 cents. Its price has advanced since then, with the decreased supply of cinchona bark from South America (the annual value exported from Colombia alone dwindling from $4,979,358 in 1880 to $38,880 in 1887.) But it is still so cheap as to drive opium from the field as an antidote for fever.

As the use of opium in China is now practically confined to those who "hit the pipe," England will bring upon herself the censure of the civilized world if she insists upon forcing the pernicious drug into Chinese ports. Such forcing will not be profitable to importers of opium if the Chinese government continues to render acephalous the warehousemen who store it.

DISQUIETED EUROPE.

An English journal expresses the hope that the American press will enthusiastically co-operate with Great Britain in an effort to save Europe from itself. It believes that there is some hope of fruition in a serious effort by Great Britain and the United States to bring before the Hague conference, which meets next year, some plan to combat the present madness of competition in armaments.

Germany explains that the country's increase of military power is due to fear of the Slav peril. This reference to trouble that may arise from the Balkan situation is an explanation which does not explain. The real reason is less remote and much more disquieting.

"No one," says a London journal, "who compares the comments of the French and German newspapers upon the new situation can fail to note their striking difference of mood. The arming of France is part of a general reaction. A romantic cult of the army, preached in all the leading newspapers and presented by the Minister of War, preceded it. A trend toward the emotional view of life accompanies it in literature and art. A rejection of rationalism in abstract thought and an impatience at constructive efforts in politics are the fashionable and popular notes of the day."

France is arming gladly, and makes no attempt to conceal from her neighbors that, while she professes a defensive and pacific aim, she has not ceased to dream of the lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

Because Germany is strong and because her habits of expression are brusque, it is easy to think of her as the power which seeks to dominate Europe. The real fact is that she is the only great power which is exposed on two frontiers and her armaments have the excuse that in both France and Russia there exists a strongly aggressive tendency toward her.

"It is possible, though not certain," says a London newspaper, "that under the stress of seeming necessity, the military increases and the new taxation will be voted patiently by the Reichstag, but there is no pretense of enthusiasm or even conviction, and the newspapers, which voice the opinion of the business community, are already protesting against the proposed levy on property as a desperate measure which would be justifiable only in time of actual war."

The London Times and the London Spectator do not hesitate to say that France is menacing the peace of Europe. The Spectator says: "Though very little is said about it in the newspapers, there can be no doubt that at the present moment there is a good deal of uneasiness among the thinking men of England in regard to the European situation. The awakening of France and the evidence of her power and alertness have given immediate satisfaction to this country, but that satisfaction is tempered by anxious thought.

"The French are at this moment very sure of themselves, very full of patriotism and martial ardor, and very certain that their army is in magnificent condition, not only as regards men but also as regards that greatest of all the mechanic powers of war, artillery."

France recognizes that at this time Germany is at a disadvantage. Austria-Hungary is the natural alley of Germany, but Austria-Hungary has her legs caught in the wire entanglements of the Balkans, and if a great war came now she would require help from Germany rather than be able to give aid.

France will never be satisfied until she makes an effort to recover the provinces of which Germany despoiled her forty years ago. It does not follow that such an effort would provoke a general European war—but it might.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

The merchant shudders in his store, while bullets whiz around him, and no one ventures to his door, unless to kick or wound him. The farmer doesn't now prepare to do his springtime seeding, but sits and broods in dark despair, where Mexico lies bleeding. Some years ago the land was gay, a stretch of smiling acres; then Mexico became the prey of magazine muckrakers. "Reform," the four-eyed writers cried, "is what this land is needing;" they sprung a movement, nation-wide, and Mexico lies bleeding. Old Diaz ruled with steady hand, and made the country blossom; he knew the people, knew the land, and knew just how to boss 'em. And he was wise and strong and fair, a man of sense and breeding; they tore the "tyrant" from his chair, and Mexico lies bleeding. The land is painted red with gore, man's folly advertising; from almost every cottage door a widow's wails are rising; we read about the deadly storm, and shudder as we're reading; they've had their spasm of reform, and Mexico lies bleeding.

WALT MASON.

GOOD FOOD ESSENTIAL.

[From "The New Industrial Day," by William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce:] Once, when my office was located in Paris, I employed a lot of French carpenters and paid them 10 francs a day ($1.90) each. And at the end of three or four days I was well-nigh crazy. Down the long aisle of the building I saw a familiar-looking tool box, with a saw sticking from the end, and I ran to the place and found a man who looked like an American carpenter.

"Are you a Yankee?" I said. "I want to employ you at once."

He said: "Boss, I charge $4.50 a day."

I said: "Come right along."

Two days later I discharged four Frenchmen, for my one American carpenter did more work than the four Frenchmen—and I saved money by the process.

There are sound reasons why the American carpenter did as much work as four Frenchmen.

A French workman goes to work having eaten almost nothing. For breakfast he has nothing more than a bit of bread, without butter, and coffee. At 11 o'clock he stops to eat a little bread and drink a little sour wine. That is all I ever saw any of them eat. At 3 o'clock he stops again to eat a little bread and drink a little sour wine. After he gets through at night he has what he calls a dinner. Such a man cannot work at any labor requiring steady physical exertion continuously under pressure in competition with a man who eats three square meals a day.

THE BEST PLACE ON EARTH.

"O Bed! O Bed! Delicious Bed!"

The statement, which is a most dogmatic assertion, admits of no discussion. The testimony of the entire human race, for all the ages, is on the affirmative side.

By and large, from infancy to old age, between the rocking bed we call the cradle, and the motionless couch of silence which we call the grave, man spends about one-third of his time in bed. This gives a solid vote of one-third of the total poll in favor of the triumphant popularity of the bed in the race for the first place in human affection and preference.

Home is a good place. So is church. So is a good fat office with nothing to do under a progressive administration that proposes to reform everything but itself. So is the ball game. So are several places. But be it ever so rocky, there's no place like bed.

Must Be a Bed.

One might think that it was the act of lying down that is restful and that any spot on the bosom of the earth was as good as another for this purpose. But no; it must be a bed. Something different from any other furniture of the house. It is the bed which is restful. The word is very old, and the root of it means "a dug-out place;" that is a safe resting place, whether for men or the lower animals. Homer tells how Ulysses made a bedstead in his own house, probably an intimation that the incessant wanderer who "could not rest from travel, always roaming with a hungry heart," was going to stay in that town over Sunday, anyhow. In old vase paintings, more than 2000 years old, appear pictures of folding beds, indicating that the flat of the twentieth century is not so modern as the cartoonists think. Feather beds appear in Roman history near the last days of the republic, when increasing effeminacy demanded something more luxurious than reeds and straw, which were used to stuff the spring mattress in the days of the glory that was Rome, when just to be a Roman was greater than a king full. Just king, that is. The old Egyptian bedsteads were ascended by a flight of steps, and the pillows were semi-cylinders of wood, metal or stone. And we degenerate people complain if we find a corn-cob or a brickbat in the pillow. Elagabalus, luxurious Roman that he was, had a bedstead of solid silver. Less pretentious people got along with bronze, inlaid with silver. For invalids and sick people there was made a bedstead, built very low, called "scimpodium." That was for the comfort of the sick man who merely came near the bed and fell over into it without climbing.

Nowadays the hospital bed is made as high as a man's waist, for the convenience of the nurse. The sick man has nothing to do about it himself.

Commonsense Medicine.

One of the commonest and most universal prescriptions in all languages, for cases of nervous exhaustion, either for the patient or his friends, who have had enough of it, or for high cerebral tension accompanied by undue local excitement, is "Get him to bed."

A restless, noisy man in bed is as safe as in a padded cell, which, in many respects the bed resembles.

All beds should be single, but of full double width. A soldier, a man in perfect health, strong as a horse, can sleep on a narrow cot. Such a man can even sleep comfortably in the berth of an ocean steamer. But a tired man needs a town lot to sleep in. He wants room to sleep straightened out, curled up, cat-a-cornered and straight across the bed, as his changing fancy may demand. And especially does he want room, too, in which to kick.

Kicking Time.

Sometimes he wants to kick himself for certain things he has done during the day. And at other times he simply wishes to kick himself to sleep on general principles. Don't tell me that when he is nervous he should exercise supreme self-control, and lie perfectly still, and say "I will go to sleep," and repeat softly "I am not tired; I am not nervous; I am not sick, nor in debt; I am perfectly calm, I am young, and very beautiful, and very rich; there is nothing the matter with me, but I am the biggest liar in California." When his kicking night comes around, a man just has to kick the fidgets out of his system or go mad. I have been going to bed for nearly seventy years and I ought to know something about the science. And I know that everything a man does to put himself to sleep only keeps him awake the wider and the longer. I know every prescription for inducing sleep from Esculapius to Woods Hutchinson, who knows everything in the world—almost. And I know they are all of them snares, delusions and frauds. As soon as you begin to think about going to sleep you begin to wake up.

This peculiar condition lasts until nearly breakfast time. Then, as soon as you begin to think about getting up, you pass at once into a slumber so tranquil, profound and refreshing it is an act of brutal cruelty for anyone to disturb you.

A Well Day in Bed.

When we consider how very important they are in the domestic economy, and how much money we have invested in them, we do not use our beds nearly enough. Occasionally, when a man isn't feeling up to par, when he knows that he isn't sick, but doesn't feel quite fit, and can't imagine what is the matter with him, it is the best medicine in the world for him to refuse to get up when he is called in the morning, and calmly and restfully lie in bed all day. Don't pretend that you are sick. Just say that you feel like staying in bed. There is luxury in the freedom from the clothing of the day; from cuffs and collars and starched and ironed things; from hats and shoes. Don't read very much, and don't talk at all. Doze off into a sleep every time you feel like it. Don't be afraid you'll spoil your sleep at night. After supper you'll go to sleep like a baby, or any other normally-constituted animal, and sleep as though you were in church. And you'll sleep all night. Your nerves, suffering from over-much bossing, will relax and rearrange themselves. Every muscle will rest itself in its own way. There will be a continuous, half-conscious sense of delight at escaping your daily duties, at leaving utterly and joyously undone the things you ought to get up and do. You will chuckle with happiness to overhear some people outside your locked bedroom door saying, rather more loudly than ordinary conversation demands, that you are simply "lazy," or "trifling," or "good for nothing." Your conscience, which also needs and appreciates the day's rest, will pat you on the back and sweetly soothe you off to sleep.

Just try a day in bed now and then for a general corrective of the physical, intellectual and moral system. It's great medicine.

UNCLE JOSH SEZ OF THE CRUSH

If 300 persons occupy a space built for 250, and jest as folks is all packed in 180 cousins from I-o-way come a visitin', how far is it from Fifth street to a stuffed olive?

Nobody but a milkman can get a quart of water into a pint bottle.

A traffic cop is not like Job because if he gets down in the shade of a juniper tree the busy mart of trade gets all het up. Besides, there ain't no juniper trees along Broadway, Spring, Main or Hill streets.

Ancestors are all right, but they are powerful shy on imagination.

If everybody staid to hum at 6 o'clock there wouldn't be any crowd.

Broad is the way and straight the gate that leadeth to destruction, but narrow is the way that leadeth to eternal life, and few there be that find it. Scripter must be wrong. Look at our streets. Everybody saved. Hallelujah!

Traffic Problem.

cause of the large number of cars making the swing from Broadway to Seventh street or vice versa—an average of 120 street cars pass every hour; 1400 automobiles pass during the same time, and possibly 20,000 pedestrians. This is very close to the maximum limit of the capacity of the streets.

"Did you know that 600 automobiles are added to the Los Angeles list every month inside the city limits and many hundreds in the country at large? Every one of these cars uses the down-town streets more or less. There are already 15,000 cars in use in this city; by 1915, when we must look our best, I consider 25,000 a very conservative estimate."

EVERY LITTLE HELPS.

The Council is now considering a traffic ordinance favorably reported by the Legislation Committee, which Lieut. Butler expects will provide temporary relief in the congested district therein defined to be from First to Tenth street and from Hill to Los Angeles streets.

Within this district it is provided by the proposed law that wagons may not be backed to the curbs between 4 and 6 o'clock p.m. In other hours they can only use the curbs for loading and unloading and may not delay street car traffic.

Drivers are prohibited from standing their vehicles within from eighty to 150 feet of street intersections, and warning signs will be erected on all streets involved in the ruling. On streets where cars are not operated vehicles may be stood within twenty feet of intersections.

A twenty-minute standing limit is placed on vehicles except from 4 to 6 o'clock p.m., when the limit is ten minutes, and on Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets from Hill to Main streets they will not be permitted to stand from 8 a.m. to 6 o'clock p.m., longer than is necessary to receive or discharge a passenger or merchandise.

SOMETHING FORGOTTEN.

When this town was laid down as per the plans and specifications of the seers of ten or fifteen years ago, and before them by the good ancestry who first developed the cow paths into lanes, and the lanes into roads, they forgot something.

They didn't leave much of any place to put the inhabitants.

In their defense let it be said that not a one of them so far forgot himself as to penetrate the future with a mental beam which revealed the village of then come to be the proud metropolis of now with its nearly half a million souls. Neither did they ken anything more exciting to ride in than a one hoss shay or a bob-tailed car.

Besides it was not thought that Los Angeles would ever be big enough to use up the space south of First street, and a prospective lack of room was the last thing Sister Angeleno worried about.

Because of its topography and the intrusion of Bunker Hill, the business center of this town is spilled into a gridiron beginning at First street and extending, so far as the active congestion goes at the present time, to Seventh street on the north and south and from Hill street on the west to Los Angeles street, on the east.

These streets are from forty to sixty feet wide from curb to curb, with fifteen-foot sidewalks, and for the greater part of the day are poured full to the spilling point with automobiles, trucks, street cars and just persons.

At certain hours of the day traffic plugs up the arteries almost entirely. Automobiles, street cars, pedestrians—these three, like, faith, hope and love, loom large in the perspective of the traffic expert as he girdles up his loins for each new day's battle. He has faith that no more than 1,247,698 automobiles will disobey the traffic law at his corner that day; he hopes that he will not be run over by a street car; and he would love some of the pedestrians if he had time.

There didn't used to be any automobile problem. Also, there didn't used to be any automobiles. Thus, from practically nothing, ten years ago, the street question includes today the care, distribution and safe daily conduct of approximately 15,000 cars and any traffic officer will tell you that every one of the 15,000 spend the day in passing and repassing his corner. Los Angeles is growing at the rate of 40,000 a year and there is a car to every 31.5 of the population. What, if you please, doctor, is to be done with these added cars in five years, three years, or even two years?

HOW ABOUT IT?

The number of street cars now handled is up to the limit of capacity. More cars are demanded from all parts of town. They are needed to take care of the constantly-adding population. What's to be done with these added cars?

Yesterday afternoon at Fifth street and Broadway the sidewalks were so crowded that many stepped into the street rather than "plug." Every time one did this, his life insurance policy had a conniption fit and almost curled up and expired. There are fifty corners almost as busy as this one. There does not appear to be room for any more foot passengers.

It is a condition and not a theory which confronts Los Angeles, and a condition that requires some careful doctoring to alleviate. It is pleasant to look upon this city as the fastest growing, most substantial, most beautiful, most desirable in all the world, but we must give the new citizen pavement room at least, upon which to wheel his autos, spend his nickels or exercise his trilbys, and it is an acknowledged fact that well within a five-year period the limit of traffic possibilities will have been reached upon the streets serving the retail, hotel, amusement and financial centers.

Until this relief is forthcoming and the patient relieved of his congestion, the symptoms will remain. There will be fever, and irritation, cold suppers because of rapid transit that does not "rapid," automobiles will honk in vain for equal right, pedestrians will be crowded into unimagined minuteness, and the freest, fullest and most perfect expansion will be checked.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

The street problem is one which appeals with especial force to the commercial operatives, for every time a truck laden with material is held up a minute or five minutes the profits from that haul are reduced in proportion. Not long ago a big office building was opened and hundreds of tenants were forced to pay from $5 to $25 each for lost time in transporting furniture. Street-car officials say that Los Angeles merchants are losing thousands of dollars in trade because suburban shoppers will not breast the tide of traffic which ebbs and flows through the city's arteries.

To devise ways and means to cope with the problem an organization of the various commercial-trucking concerns was formed yesterday. A luncheon was given in a downtown cafe and the matter thoroughly discussed. Among the concerns represented were the Southern California Furniture Movers, the Motor Truck Club, Los Angeles Horse Owners' Association and the Los Angeles Draymen's Association.

Representatives were appointed from each of these to form a federated committee of which R. H. Stevenson is the chairman. An early meeting is to be held at which "traffic" will be the topic.

It was brought out at the first meeting of the organization that, while a motor truck requires 300 per cent. less room to operate in than a horse-drawn truck, the increasing business is at the rate of 1000 per cent. New skyscrapers are built with two and three sub-basements, which means two or three times as much storage capacity and trucking, while the streets, instead of being made available proportionately, are constantly growing comparatively smaller by reason of the greatly-increased demands made upon them.

"We recently paid an expert $1800 for telling us that the condition is very bad and that we need more subways," said G. B. Harrison of the H. O. Harrison Company. "We knew that before, but it is results that we must have now. It means dollars and cents to the commercial transporters of merchandise."

A plan which has been suggested is the extending of an invitation to the Mayor to appoint a traffic commission to serve without pay, make an exhaustive study of the question and submit a report embracing their findings. It is believed that there are enough competent men in Los Angeles who are interested financially in reaching an early solution of the problem to serve upon such a committee and visit eastern cities which have overcome similar obstacles.

SPECIALISTS' IDEAS.

The city is rapidly crowding its business way in three directions, but this fact will not help conditions in what is now known as the "congested district," for it only means that more people will require the use of the present streets, even though they will also have additional streets at their disposal for the conduct of daily affairs.

The answer?

Several specialists were consulted, and after the fashion of specialists the world over, they failed to agree. They shook their heads gravely and admitted the seriousness of the case. The composite prescription looks about like this:

To relieve the automaniac condition, build additional approaches to the business center. This means more Bunker Hill tunnels, or the elimination of Bunker Hill altogether, which would be the better way.

Put the street cars under ground.

Build two-story sidewalks.

"Los Angeles may be depended upon to solve this problem, as she does every other that is presented to her," say the doctors. "It is unique, for there are few town growing so fast that there is not enough street room, but when the time comes that little old Los Angeles is compelled to bring in the latchstring, ham and eggs will be growing on the ornamental lamp posts."

The New York CLOAK & SUIT HOUSE
337-9 South Broadway
J. J. HAGGARTY

Kayser's Silk Gloves $2
Beautiful quality of heavy silk, 16-button lengths. Black or white. Regular $2.50 value. All new stock.

German Lamb French Kid Gloves $1.50
Specially selected gloves, finished with Paris point stitching. Suitable for street or dress wear. Two-clasp, P. K. seam. Every pair guaranteed.

Ideas For Easter Costumes

And not only the ideas, but the practical means of carrying them out, for while our styles this year are more exclusive than ever before, we have been particularly fortunate in being able to place prices on remarkably attractive models that put them within the reach of every purse. Never has the New York Store shown more strongly its superiority in the matter of style giving and value giving than at this Easter tide.

Suits, Special at Just . . . $25

Our Spring lines are complete. And not only that, but we are showing no merchandise which is not of Spring manufacture. Not a garment in the stock is more than a month or six weeks old. Not a style is here that does not represent the latest thought of the most widely accepted style authorities for late Spring and early Summer wear. Every new color, of course. Every new style with which you are familiar, and many that probably have not come within your ken. The workmanship faultless, the values those which you are accustomed to find in our $25 line, which means the best that can be found.

About Our Better Alteration System

This Spring we have made a special effort to improve our alteration system, which for years has led the city. The force has been reorganized, it is under new direction, it has been augmented by dozens of the most capable workers that we could find. An additional feature is this, ON TAILORED SUITS THE COLLARS AND THE BUSTS ARE WORKED OUT BY MEN TAILORS EXCLUSIVELY. This gives to your suit the refinement of line, the indescribable man-tailored twang that cannot be obtained unless that suit is man-tailored. The latest methods have been adopted throughout the department, and you will find in it a degree of service which will be a revelation to you. Our big, light, sanitary alteration rooms are at all times open for inspection.

A List of Important Dress Offerings

We consider the dresses that we are showing this season by far the most attractive line we have ever been fortunate enough to display. The drapings are so novel, the designs so far from anything that has been seen before, the colorings so unusual, that we have no hesitation in saying that this season will be one in which dresses cannot help being most popular. The very beauty of the styles themselves guarantee that.

Ratine Dresses $14.50 to $27.50
Cotton or wool ratine, in all the new colors. With dainty and uncommon touches of trimming in their make-up.

Charmeuse, at $22.50 to $47.50
Charmeuse or crepe de chine gowns that show to best advantage the new draped effects. These in all colors; in all sizes. A wonderfully complete line, and one remarkably moderately priced.

Cotton Crepes $16.50 to $37.50
These in figured or in plain materials. Surely there could be no daintier stuff from which to create an attractive Spring costume.

Lingeries— $14.50 to $25.00
Styles appropriate for women, and a full line of fashions especially adapted to misses' wear. The prices, as you can see, low, and at the same time in a wide range.

Tailored Frocks $12.75 to $25.00
These in Bedford cords, in French serges, in shepherd checks. All man-tailored; all possessing that subtle refinement of line which for years has characterized the New York Store's tailored gowns.

Auto Veils at $1.95 $2.45 and $2.95
Sixteen shades to choose from, in veils two yards long and extra wide. And among these sixteen shades are all of those that are new and popular.

Coat Values

Just a few of the many remarkable coat offerings which the big Third Floor can show you now. Dozens of others, there is not room to advertise.

Short Coats $13.75

Mixtures, stripes and checks. These last are perhaps something that will tempt you strongly. They are in those new three-inch checked patterns that are so striking; and at the same time so essentially refined. Medium or light weights, dark or light colorings.

Cream Serge Coats $25

Those dainty new coats with the richly colored cuffs, in the semi-draped cut, fastened elaborately, lined beautifully, tailored carefully, selected individually. You cannot duplicate them elsewhere at our price.

New Charmeuse Coats Just In $23.50

Three-quarter length coats in the highest quality of rich black Charmeuse. All sizes to select from. You will be surprised at the remarkable draping effects shown in these.

Waist Special $2.75

New arrivals in marquisette and dainty lawns, with Dutch necks either extremely low or moderately low. Many with the new turndown collars which so many women are demanding and have been waiting for. We consider this as good a special offer as we have presented in many a day, and invite every woman who is considering a waist purchase to attend the sale Monday without fail.

Beautiful Imported Waists $10.75

These in the daintiest new lace effects, with those net yokes which came into prominence as a Spring style only last week. With Dutch necks very low or moderately low, with three-quarter sleeves. Some of them elaborately embroidered, some trimmed with finest hand-made lace. Many with the Oriental color contrasts at present in vogue.

Hats for Easter Wear

Wonderful New Lines Priced at $10.00 to $25.00

Satisfaction in millinery means much—to get the style that most becomes you, the style you most desire, and to do it at a moderate price. At present we are featuring particularly the new small shapes, in strong color contrasts, trimmed with flowers, ribbons and fancy feathers in uniform colorings, or in combined and blended shades. Our windows, while they display a very pretty line of millinery, can give you no adequate idea of the size of this department, of the values which you can find now, and always, in the big Ivory and Gold French salon.

We call particular attention to our line of Burgesser, Rawak and Crosby tailored and riding hats, suitable for out-of-door wear, and the smartest models that you can possibly use with strictly man-tailored suits or for motoring.

Shapes, flowers, feathers, paradise and plumes, as well as ready-to-wear hats—all Exclusive.

MONEY AND GRACE, GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Unchurched Tens of Thousands East of Main Street Present Open Door to Denomination that Will Finance and Furnish Heart and Brains for Modern Religious Plant—West Side Problem Looms Up.

BY A. M. ROW.

RECENTLY an article was printed in The Times, accompanied by a diagram, showing eleven churches of different denominations, some of them very large, and the great plant of the Young Men's Christian Association, all included in twelve city blocks immediately west of Grand avenue and south of Seventh street. Besides these were the three great churches surrounding Central Park.

In most striking contrast with this strongly-churched residence district is the great and practically unchurched district east of Main street, covered by the accompanying map, bounded by Main street, Third street, the Los Angeles River and Ninth street. It comprises 150 city blocks, has a population of about 50,000, and may well be called "unchurched" when these two facts are considered.

The only church of any considerable membership in this big territory and amidst this swarm of people, is the First Church of the Nazarene, at Sixth and Wall streets, which has a membership of 1200. This is but three blocks east of Main street, and in this smaller portion of the territory under consideration there are seven other churches, two of them colored congregations, which have the largest membership aside from the one mentioned. These seven churches are Newman Methodist Church, with a membership of about 200; Welsh Presbyterian, 140; St. Mark's Episcopal, East Eighth-street Christian and German Evangelical, all with smaller memberships. The two colored churches are Welsey Chapel Methodist and First African Methodist, each with about 500 members. There are also several rescue missions in the same district west of Central avenue, but churches and missions combined, can furnish accommodations for but a small portion of the population that swarms through the streets on Sunday nights. A walk down Fifth street on any Sunday night will demonstrate the need to anybody who cares to take it. On almost every corner may be encountered dense crowds listening to some street preacher or a speaker on some other topic, but they are mostly of a religious character.

Mewman Methodist Church, on Ruth avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, was built some years ago, with the intention of making it just such an institution as is required to meet the emergency, but the idea was abandoned before the church was completed. Even if it had not been abandoned, it is not half big enough to meet the opportunity that waits for some courageous church to grasp.

DO SOMETHING BIG.

The great denomination with plenty of money and trained workers, that will pick it up and inaugurate a rework along educational lines, semi-religious, social and civic betterment work along educational lines, somewhere near the center of this great district, will do a big thing for itself and for the coming generation—I have in mind just such a work as is being done by the great First Congregational Church at Ninth and Hope streets. Not a hotel, nor a dispensary, nor a supply station but religious services, stereopticon lectures, schools, clubs, an occasional good time around the supper table, and a great chorus of singers from the neighborhood.

It will take money and grace; a big church and a big preacher with a big salary; good music, and good sense. It can't be done with a big church offering a paltry salary, for a preacher in such a church must be able to live well and be liberal, that he may have heart to put his best into it.

Think what such a structure as the First Congregational Church, with all its surroundings of elegance and comfort, would mean to that long-abused and long-neglected section "east of Main." It would revolutionize the physical appearance of the neighborhood as well as the life and character of the people, who will be readily educated to appreciate only the best. It would not be surprising if some man or a few of them together, who own much property in that section, would give the ground for the influence it would have in increasing the value of the rest.

It looks like a great opportunity for a great religious body that wants to do a great thing for itself and the cause.

Such a man as Dr. Charles Edward Locke, Dr. William Horace Day, Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, or other men who might be mentioned as of the wide-awake and orthodox type, could build a monument to himself, to the church of his choice and to the city of Los Angeles.

A WEST SIDE PROBLEM.

The great church center in the residence district west of Main street, which is noted for its many churches in a dozen blocks, is also coming rapidly to face its crucial test. The denomination that takes the problem in hand now—NOW—and builds for the future, will reap the reward.

Denominational fences are only just so high, anyway, when it comes to considering preferences for one or the other of the orthodox bodies of Christians. If they were ever knee-high in Los Angeles the Church Federation now has been pretty well demolished.

The world is full of people—particularly young people—who are ready to take up wtih that one which presents the opportunity.

The demand is for a modern church plant with large accommodations for the middle-aged already grounded in the faith—an auditorium equal to Temple Auditorium that will seat at least 3500 people—and an auditorium especially for the young people and the Bible school. These are the folk with whom the future of the church rests.

Talk is constantly recurring about the sale of the First Methodist Church property at the corner of Sixth and Hill streets. This is a great downtown church, but it cannot accommodate the people, and has not been able to accommodate them for the past ten years. To get a seat at the evening service it is necessary to reach the church an hour before the service begins. Almost a fortune has been offered for the property for business purposes, and it looks like an unequaled opportunity for the church.

It has a membership so large that if they were all to attend the same service they could not get in. It has the largest distinctly Methodist Sunday-school in the world—made so by plans wrought out to hold young men and young women, but it has outgrown its quarters. The demand is to build greater accommodations, stand still or decline—there is no question which is to be preferred. The opportunity is prophetic of a greater future and if

"RAMONA" LIVES ETERNAL.

Romance of Southern California Steadily Increases in Popularity. Strong Demand Is General.

"Ramona" doth not die. Other novels may have their day and be forgotten, but Helen Hunt Jackson's romance of Southern California grows in popularity with the passing years. The owner of one of the large book stores said yesterday that the demand for the story of the Indian girl steadily increases.

"The increasing popularity of 'Ramona,' has been noticed not only in Los Angeles, but all over the country," the book dealer said. "I think perhaps that the prominence of Southern California is partly responsible for the book's strong selling qualities, but it is a classic and that gives it immortality."

GREEN TO THE FRONT.

St. Patrick's Day Color Is Seen in Wearing Apparel, Food and Novelties—Some of the Offerings.

Much greenery was on display yesterday, in the shop windows, for tomorrow is St. Patrick's Day. The livid color was manifest in clothing, food, stationery, post cards and novelties.

The green shirt was invented a long time ago and always there is a demand for a few of them. Green neckties and handkerchiefs also have become a staple on the St. Patrick's Day market. There are some new designs offered this season, however, in green hose for both sexes. There is green candy, too, but with warnings against Paris green in the popular mind, the color is used with moderation in confections. Grass-colored ice-creams will be served tomorrow.

One of the department stores had beautiful green pigs on sale. Other novelties were plentiful. A large assortment of stationery and postcards with green in various designs and combinations was on display, and shamrock—it of course, was everywhere.

The following persons will leave this city tomorrow for a three years' tour of the world: B. E. Murdock, Mrs. S. K. Murdock, Arthur T. Grey, Miss Alice Mason, Dr. and Mrs. James White. They will sail from San Francisco on next Saturday by the Sinyo Maru. They will tour Europe by automobile and before returning home will travel 92,500 miles.

POWER PLANTS ON BIG CREEK.

Pacific Company Prepares to Generate Juice.

Tremendous Horse Power to Operate Car Lines.

Great Volume of Water to Be Put in Harness.

The Pacific Light and Power Corporation will immediately begin construction of two immense power-houses at Big Creek, eighty miles east of Fresno, for the development of the first two units of electric power that will ultimately deliver 300,000 continuous horse power to Los Angeles. The first installation is planned to total 75,000-horse power and will be delivered in Southern California as soon as the plants are completed and the transmission lines are built.

The height of the buildings from the first-floor line will be 103 feet, 9 inches. The length will be 171 feet, 2 inches, while the width will be 84 feet, 1½ inches.

It is for the construction of these two power plants, the equipment of the 240 miles of transmission line from Big Creek to Los Angeles and for the construction of the substation here, that the greatest single freight shipment ever sent across the continent is now being assembled in the East.

Seven thousand feet above the sea is imprisoned 125,000 acre feet of water, behind three dams, 160 feet, ninety feet, and seventy-five feet in height, respectively.

The lake thus formed will be large enough to hold a year's supply of water if all inlets should be cut off. The annual precipitation, however, in these mountains runs from eighty-two to 150 inches.

From behind the upper dam the water is carried through a tunnel three and a half miles in length and is dropped in less than a half-mile 2100 feet into power-house No. 1, which is the first of the two companion buildings now being built.

From here the water, reinforced by the flow from Pitman Creek, is carried to a drop of 1900 feet into power-house No. 2, whence the transmission line begins to carry the power to Los Angeles.

To build this system of power dams and to construct the necessary plant, a railroad was built from a connection with the Southern Pacific near Fresno some sixty miles into the mountains, and two inclines, each longer and steeper than the famous Echo Mountain incline above Pasadena, have been constructed.

Up these inclines freight engines have been hauled to operate a system of railways in the bed of what is to be the storage reservoir above the dams, to clear off the timber, and to carry sand and gravel to the dams.

In the dams more than 3500 cars of cement have been used to mix the concrete necessary for the work, while 21,000 tons of commissary has been required to feed the 3000 men employed.

The total freight required for the first installation reaches 7000 cars or 150,000 tons. Of this there is 10,000,000 pounds of lap-weld steel pipe to carry the water from the tunnels through the 2100 and the 1900-foot drops to the power plants.

These pipes are nine feet six inches wide at the top and twenty-six inches wide at the bottom, and are fitted with four-inch nozzles through which the water will, with a concentrated pressure of nearly half a mile of water strike the huge turbines that operate the generators. The force of this water is roughly estimated to be 1000 pounds to the square inch.

From Big Creek to the Los Angeles station the power will be transmitted at a voltage of 150,000 and a frequency of fifty cycles.

Reinforced concrete structures that will ultimately develop more than 300,000 horse power for Southern California. Both buildings rank in size with Los Angeles office buildings and a railroad will run through each, while 100-ton traveling cranes will take care of the machinery installed. The diagram indicates the general layout of the Big Creek project.

Spanked.

DREAM SCHEME IS DENOUNCED.

PROPORTIONAD REPRESENTATION HEAVILY SAT ON.

City Club Declares Plan Would Reintroduce Partisanship Into Municipal Politics and Result in Return to Long Ballot—Proposed Amendments Discussed.

If there is any possible point to be raised against the Socialists' plan of proportional representation that was not set forth in the report on amendments made to the City Club yesterday by its special committee, it is because that committee didn't think of it. The proportional representation plan was duly and thoroughly spanked —and the spanking brought applause.

The report declares proportional representation would reintroduce partisanship into municipal politics and make it the dominant factor and would result in going back to the long ballot.

A report on amendments proposed to be voted on the 24th inst. was read. The proposed amendments were summarized and the recommendations of the committee given. So much time was absorbed in the reading that only one section was generally discussed, after which it was voted to make a further consideration the special order for next Saturday.

The club indorsed the recommendation that amendment No. 1 be supported. This is the amendment to enlarge the city's powers to acquire public utilities.

The report disapproves of amendment No. 2; which proposes to strengthen the city's power of regulation over privately owned public utilities, the especial objection being that under the provisions there would be little hope of the building of a subway to relieve congested traffic conditions on Broadway, Spring and Main streets.

Approval is given to amendment No. 3, empowering the city to limit the amount of money that may be spent to carry an election and the purposes for which it may be spent. Approval is also given to No. 4, which is an omnibus grant and reservation of power to the city the same as any municipal power may exercise under the constitution.

The report also approves amendment No. 5, providing that each Councilman shall be a committee of one for a department of the city government, and authorizing the Council to issue instructions to commissions. Approval is given to amendment No. 18, which is the People's charter conference amendment on salaries, and amendment No. 6, of the Citizens' Committee on the same subject is approved. The committee also disapproves of amendment No. 7, which would wipe out the present city administration and require a new election in June.

Disapproval of Nos. 8 and 17, is also given by the report. The former is the proportional plan of representation and the latter is the district system, with six Councilmen elected at large.

No. 9, on harbor control, is disapproved, and No. 16, on the same subject, is approved by the committee. It also approved No. 10, providing that the city must pay the premium on bonds of city officials. Approval is given No. 11, authorizing the city to sell its real property on terms, instead of cash. Amendment No. 12, providing for a firemen's relief and pension fund is approved, as is also No. 13, for a policeman's relief and insurance fund.

Amendment No. 14, to abolish a municipal newspaper or other publications, is given no recommendation, although the committee says that if it had been specifically for the repeal of the ordinance providing for the publication of the Municipal News, an affirmative vote thereon would have been recommended.

Approval is given No. 15, granting the Park Commission the right to expend funds for park purposes as may be deemed best and to operate various concessions at the parks.

LECTURE ON YOSEMITE.

Lloyd Austin, who has just returned from an extended trip through the Yosemite, will deliver a stereopticon lecture at the Young Women's Christian Association on Tuesday night, taking for his subject: "We Three and the Yosemite." The lecture is under the auspices of the Campfire Girls, and will undoubtedly prove of great interest. A small admission fee will be charged. There will be shown a large number of fine new winter views.

FINE LINKS STOLEN.

A sneak thief stole a pair of $50 cuff buttons, made of white onyx and diamond studded, from James H. Adams, No. 2407 South Flower street, according to a report he made yesterday to the police.

Ruptured People—Give This a 60-Day Trial

Here is something you can try sixty days—just as a test—without having to risk a cent—

Something which in the last twenty-four years has saved thousands of ruptured people from having to undergo operation—

Something so strengthening to the ruptured parts that you can work right along while getting better—

Something absolutely guaranteed to keep rupture from coming out—if it doesn't it won't cost you a single cent.

You Don't Have to Risk A Penny.

We don't ask you to pay out a penny on the strength of any mere promise or claims.

We will make you a guaranteed rupture holder especially for your case—make it to your measure—and let you try it sixty days—

Let you give it a thorough test without asking you to risk a cent.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or bothering you in any way—if it doesn't prove every claim we make—then you can send it back and it won't cost you a cent.

See What It Does.

This guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe Automatic Massaging Truss—is made on an absolutely new principle. It is far more than just a truss.

You see this truss—unlike all others—is self-adjusting, self-regulating.

The support it gives automatically increases when there is any sudden movement or strain—as in working—so no strain can force your rupture out.

And, in addition, a Cluthe Truss provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

While relieving the weak ruptured parts of all strain, this Truss is constantly strengthening the ruptured parts.

Just how it does that—entirely automatically—is all explained in our free book.

300,000 People Have Tested It.

The Cluthe Truss has such a remarkably strengthening and beneficial effect that it has cured some of the worst cases on record—

Among them men and women 50 to 70 years old, who had been ruptured from 30 to 50 years.

Cured many of them after everything else, including operation, had failed to do any good.

No Belt—No Leg-Straps—No Springs.

The Cluthe Truss does away entirely with belts, leg-straps and springs. People who have tried it say it is as comfortable as their clothing. It is water-proof—will hold in the bath. Also perspiration-proof and easily kept clean.

Get World's Greatest Rupture Book.

So that you can judge for yourself, we want to send you a free book we have written—a cloth-bound book of advice. People who have read it—including physicians—say it is the best book ever written on Rupture.

It sums up all we have learned about rupture in forty years of day-after-day experience. It deals with rupture in all its forms and stages—explains the dangers of operations—shows why wearing elastic or spring trusses is sooner or later almost sure to shorten your life. And it exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc., and shows how old-fashioned elastic trusses are masqueraded under false and misleading names—puts you on guard against throwing money away.

It shows why 60-days trial is the only safe way to buy anything for rupture, and how the Cluthe Truss is the only thing you can get on such a long trial, because the only thing good enough to stand such a thorough test.

Write for it today—don't put it off—this book may be the means of adding many years to your life and of restoring you to full strength and usefulness.

Just use the coupon or simply say in a letter or postal "Send me the Book."

Largest Piano Dealers in the World

Every Piano In This Sale Fully Guaranteed

In order to appreciate what you, as a piano buyer, save on the purchase price of your instrument under the Eilers selling plan, you need only compare the price of any piano on the Eilers floor with that of a piano of like grade in other stores. The Eilers plan is to mark all piano prices in plain figures—the lowest possible net cash price, which is absolutely the same to every buyer. We, being manufacturers and wholesalers of pianos, pay not a dollar of commission to the middle man. When you buy at Eilers you pay only for actual piano value. Many stores have no fixed price. They make it a point to get as much as possible from every buyer. You may easily pay $100 more elsewhere for a piano than a shrewder buyer pays here for the same thing. You secure full value for every dollar invested at Eilers because Eilers are the largest piano dealers in America with 40 stores on the Pacific Coast alone.

HOW TO GET RID OF YOUR Superfluous Hair

I Cured Mine by a Simple, Safe, Harmless Treatment Which Can Be Used at Home with Complete Success. Age and Severity No Obstacle.

Prominent Lady Offers to Tell Her Secret FREE

I am a woman who belongs to a family whose women members have been especially addicted to Superfluous Hair. Before I was 25, I developed a horrid case of hair growth, which quite spoiled my life. I TRIED ALL SORTS of advertised remedies but met with DISAPPOINTMENTS ONLY. I suffered the needle without success. And at last I decided it was no use to try any more. I almost made up my mind to give up my social activities for good, I was so ASHAMED of my blemish. One day I mentioned my resolve to an intimate friend, a professional man, who gave me the name and address of a great scientific chemist in London who was said to have invented a new treatment which was reported to be a great success. I replied that I had tried so many things, I was not going to be humbugged again, but my friend pointed out that the inventor was everywhere recognized as a really GREAT and FAMOUS CHEMIST OF EMINENT STANDING, who had been Professor of Chemistry at a leading University and had been honored by the leading Scientific Institutes of Chemistry in the world.

So I sent for the method and after some hesitation tried it. The result was indeed a pleasure and a surprise. The Hair disappeared at once and after a little further use, never came back. Undoubtedly the ROOTS WERE KILLED. It was wonderful—so unexpectedly satisfactory indeed after all my previous disappointments, that I began to wonder if mine were an unusual case. So I submitted the preparation to a friend who is a reliable PHYSICIAN of integrity and good position, and asked for his candid opinion. He tested it thoroughly and wrote me that he saw no reason why it should not be a universal success, as the Great English Chemist had undoubtedly solved the problem of REACHING THE ROOTS.

And so I have decided to put my pride into my pocket and to give my secret to the world by telling the facts to all other women that they too may secure the same successful results. I have nothing to sell, but if you are a sufferer from Superfluous Hair, whether on face, neck, arms or any other part of the body, I will tell you the secret of my success and happiness FREE, and I will see that you have full particulars without delay of how I succeeded in destroying all signs of my hair growth so that they NEVER RETURNED. When writing please send two-cent stamp or stamped addressed envelope and address your letter to Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, 743 JH Duckworth Apartments, Scranton, Pa.

NOTE.—Mrs. Jenkins is a well known member of Scranton Society and much given to philanthropic endeavor, and the chemist she refers to is widely known as a man of learning and integrity, and one of England's leading Scientific Chemists of the highest standing. All readers of this paper who have been disappointed with ordinary depilatories and advertised remedies should write to her at once.—[Advertisement.

[illegible] TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

[illegible] and Free Lessons [illegible] in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in [illegible], Second Floor New [illegible] Building.

[illegible] what Mrs. Haffner-Ginger [illegible] the other day about carrots [illegible]? If you would be [illegible] and have a complexion like [illegible], eat carrots. It is said [illegible] vegetable, meat or mineral, [illegible] so much of beauty-making in its composition as this same yellow and despised carrot holds in its golden heart.

Doubtless you have read the tale of the gentlewoman suddenly reduced to poverty who cast about for a means of livelihood. She came of a high-bred line of aristocratic ancestors whose women were famous for their wonderful complexions. So this gentlewoman in financial straits, thought out a plan, or rather stumbled upon it quite by accident. A young girl friend came to the ancestral home—which was all the poor lady had of her former grandeur—and its high-bred mistress was shocked and distressed at the muddy complexion of her guest and speedily took her in hand. The revolution was so complete that it attracted attention, and presently the mothers of daughters who were afflicted with muddy or blotchy complexions begged of her ladyship to work the same miracle for them.

The upshot of the whole thing was that in a remarkably short time this reduced gentlewoman had a houseful of girls—all handsomely-paying boarders—who were pledged to observe strictly the diet prescribed. Wonderful dishes were set before them, and ambrosial drinks of yellow nectar, and not one of them suspected that into the make-up of each dish and of every drink, the humble carrot played well its part.

The story goes that, at the end of a few weeks, a batch of beautiful girls, with cheeks like damask roses and skin of pearly clearnes, was turned out from this beautly-making establishment.

The lady had found her vocation—and they all lived happily ever after. The moral to this tale is—eat carrots.

Can You Set a Table?

One feature of The Times school of domestic science, to be taught in the special classes, is the proper laying of the table. How many housewives are there, who hesitate about the number of knives, forks and spoons required for the service of an elaborate menu—and just how and where to place them?

Over in Budapest a few years ago an enterprising woman started a novel school of domestic science—perhaps it would be more appropriate to call it gastronomic science—anyway it was designed to give a full course of instruction in the art of eating. You see there are all sorts of possibilities in this domestic science business once you get started.

Well, this Frau Holker gave practical demonstrations in ordinary table manners, but the chief aim of the establishment was to teach how to deal successfully with dishes one had never met or even heard of before.

"Who does not recollect," inquired Frau Holker, "moments of unspeakable anguish, when at a dinner party he finds that he is using his knife and fork for a dish that only requires a spoon, or vice versa? It is to save men and women from these little tragedies that I have opened my school."

Examinations were held at the end of each term when the students were requested to attack an array of unknown delicacies set before them and apply the principles taught in the school. Those who underwent the ordeal successfully were awarded certificates which enabled them to face any banquet, royal or otherwise, without flinching.

Commenting on this, a London writer suggested that an egg and an orange be set before the student as a supreme test, recalling the famous maiden sisters who separated to their bedrooms to eat the after-dinner orange in decency and solitude, in order to maintain mutual respect for each other.

Canned Tuna and Coddled Eggs.

"I consider the canned tuna superior to salmon," observed Mrs. Haffner-Ginger the other day, as she was making the shrimp salad and discoursing on salads and fish. "In my opinion, the California tuna beats the Columbia River salmon. The flavor is similar, but very much better in the tuna."

While she was making the salad dressing the cook lady remarked as she mixed the olive oil and egg, "the yolk of an egg mixed with oil is the most healthful way to eat eggs—more so than the coddled egg—"

"What's a 'coddled' egg?" asked the inquisitive young woman.

"A coddled egg," responded the cook lady, "is made by pouring a quart of boiling water over the egg and let stand till you can put your hand in the water."

"Do you coddle the egg in its shell or break it?" persisted the young woman, and a tittel of laughter swept over the audience, and even the cook lady turned her head to hide a smile so as not to hurt the feelings of the young woman, who is trying hard to learn the mysteries of cookery, and firmly believes that the the best way to learn is to ask questions.

A Cook's Conundrum.

"When is a fruit salad a salad, and when is it a dessert?" queried a young woman in the audience, as she listened to Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's exposition of creams and dressings.

"When you use whipped cream for a dressing, it's dessert," replied her companion, "and when you pour mayonnaise over it, it's a salad."

Monday's Demonstration.

Tomorrow's lecture and demonstration will concern the staff of life—bread—without which no American man or woman can live. That aristocratic child of bread—Parker House rolls—will also be on the menu.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger knows how to crusty hub-of-the-universe high-bred crusty hub-of-theuniverse Parker House rolls. She learned the secret in the Parker House in Boston where they originated, and she will tell you how to make and bake these delectable dainties in the bread line just the right shade of brown, with the egg-shell crust and the bubbly, lots-of-holes inside dough that marks the real Parker House roll.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Lanning Roe, after fifty years in the Methodist ministry, has just preached his retiring sermon at the First Church in Medford, N. J.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

A Word for Ambassador Wilson.

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—[To the Editor of The Times.] As a member of the American colony of Mexico City for the past seven years, I wish to protest most emphatically against the campaign being conducted by the Express and Tribune to discredit our Ambassador to Mexico, Mr. Henry Lane Wilson. It would be well for Editor Earl of the above-named papers to acquaint himself with his subject before rushing into print in the indecent manner he is doing. Let him make inquiry from any of the American residents of Mexico City, and he will learn that Mr. Wilson has conducted his affairs to the best interests of our people, also, that he has given entire satisfaction to the American residents in Mexico. Again, the editor of the papers referred to, has jumped to the conclusion that Madero and Suarez were executed by the Huerta-Diaz party, regardless of the fact that such a statement is not true in any particular, but was launched by the enemies of the new regime. The Mexican authorities are investigating this matter and have several persons under arrest who are supposed to have been implicated in the affair.

I have just reached here from Mexico City, where I have lived for nearly eight years, and I wish to make a statement that will be verified by all Americans familiar with Mexico, and that is, we lived and did business in that country in perfect safety under a Diaz government, but as soon as Madero acquired the Presidency, most all foreigners were compelled to leave the country and a majority of them have not been able to return yet, although they have many investments there. The new rulers will soon clean up the situation and bring about peace in all parts of Mexico.

THOMPSON TEACHES LAW.

Los Angeles Attorney Gives Convicts Instruction According to Hoyle and Blackstone.

Deputy United States Marshal Dingle returned yesterday from McNeil's Island, where, with a guard, he took Fred H. Thompson and Billy Gerald for terms of eight and six years, respectively. Mrs. Thompson, who accompanied the party, will remain in Seattle indefinitely and from that point try to secure the parole or pardon of her husband.

Thompson will be hereafter known as No. 2305, and on account of his poor physical condition will teach a class of convicts the rudiments of law in the chapel, through the kindness of Warden Halligan. It is not expected that he will be given other than very light employment, if any at all. Gerald has been put to work in the powerhouse.

D. D. Williams, the Arizona opium smuggler who was taken to McNeil's Island six weeks ago, has already made a hit with the warden and is in charge of the trusties at the Federal prison.

DYNAMITE UNEARTHED.

Cache of High Explosive Pierced by Plough Point in West Ninth-street District.

While grading the West Ninth-street Heights tract yesterday morning, H. B. Snyder, contractor for the McCarthy company, found a case of high-power dynamite buried near the surface of the ground.

The location is at Eighth street and Mariposa avenue. The box gives every indication of having been in the ground for some time. When E. Avery McCarthy was informed of the discovery, his first thought was it might be part of the dynamite J. B. McNamara brought to this city when he blew up The Times Building.

The location was an ideal one for a cache, being far from houses, yet close to the car line, which runs nears fine residence places.

The box was discovered when the plow point struck one end of it. If the point had penetrated the interior a terrific explosion would probably have occurred.

The police were notified. An investigation will be made.

PROMINENT WOMAN HERE.

Mrs. Zillah Foster Stevens of Chicago, a brilliant and forceful speaker, who is visiting here, will speak before the Grade Union of Sunday-school teachers at the Broadway Christian Church on Monday evening. Her subject will be, "My Father's Flock."

RUDE WITH SHOPLIFTERS.

Main-street Clothier Accused by Police of Robbing Persons Who Tried to Rob Him.

A. Burbach, who conducts a clothing store at No. 201 North Main street, is booked on a grand larceny charge at the Central Police Station, growing out of alleged attempts to increase his cash register receipts by taking money from unsophisticated customers detected at shoplifting.

It is asserted by Detectives Varey and Murphy that when business was dull, Burbach would hide in the rear of the store. When he saw a customer pilfering, Burbach would suddenly make his appearance, flash a deputy constable's star, recover the stolen articles, search the prisoner, appropriate his money—if he had any—and send him on his way.

If the prisoner objected to the process, Burbach would inform him, so the detectives say, that if a complaint was made to the police he would have him arrested for shoplifting.

A Mexican complained several days ago that Burbach took $20 from him. Then the police planned to surprise the clothier. A Mexican with five marked silver dollars was sent to Burbach's store, while Detectives Varey and Murphy watched from the outside. The Mexican found the store apparently empty and he took a pair of shoes from a shelf. Burbach, it is asserted, pounced upon the Mexican from behind a counter, recovered the shoes, took the marked money and 20 cents besides.

CARE OF CHILDREN.

At the meeting of the Conference of Social Workers in the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m., the subject for discussion will be "The Adoptive Plan vs. the Institutional Plan of Caring for Orphaned and Neglected Children." A. W. Clark will speak for the former and Mrs. Clara D. Baker and Mrs. Theodore Eisen for the latter.

High Glimpse of Earth from "Times" Balloon.

Covina Man Sees Things in a New Light.

Emerald, Gold and Silver of the San Gabriel.

BY J. L. MATTHEWS.

A long time ago a man in Covina told me that if he could see the Covina Valley from the viewpoint of the soaring buzzard he would know better where to build his home. He envied the birdseye view of the buzzard. And now I know what he meant.

I went up in The Times balloon a few days ago—went up 2000 feet above the city of Covina, and saw a field of emerald beneath me, where the orange groves lay like fox glove on the floor of the valley. In the emerald the gold was sprinkled, like pay dirt in a miner's pan.

And the thought came to me that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce might invest in balloons at a profit. The difference between what can be seen from a balloon and what can be seen from a sightseeing auto, is about the same as the difference between a professor's description of the Yosemite Valley and a motion picture of it. The first is an unsatisfactory mental picture, the second the real picture. One trip over Covina in a balloon has fixed in my mind the topography of the Covina Valley better than twenty years of viewing it from its own level.

We live too much in the groves, where one orange tree is sufficient to stop our vision. In the past we have been prone to build our houses too low, so that a few trees are seen instead of 12,000 acres of oranges and lemons, and we ourselves are hidden. Only the high peaks of the Sierra Madre Mountains in the north have the altitude to supply the vista. The eye is caught by the beauty at hand but the beauty of a 12,000-acre semi-tropical garden is so seldom seen as to be lost to our realization. From the basket of the balloon the other day I learned one thing—that I had been living in the heart of God's terrestrial paradise for twenty years, and had never seen it.

NATURE AND MAN'S WORK.

From a balloon above the Covina Valley you can see that nature loves irregular beauty, while man has supplied the squares and right-angle triangles. In the midst of orange groves there are depressions, billows, undulations in the foliage, and running through them are gleaming straight-line streets of asphalt, man's idea of getting directly to his destination by the most expeditious route. White buildings, like the large Covina Union High School, built of concrete and towering high above the groves, seem better to fit into the natural picture than the low homes of the bungalow type that must be searched for before they are discerned in the foliage. The bungalows are beautiful, but from a ballon one might get the impression that a Southern California town like Covina was composed of a big High School building, a heart of brick business houses, a half dozen pretentious dwellings that defy the smother of the groves, and lines of gleaming asphalt streets. The hundreds of bungalow homes where lives the majority of Covina citizens are located with difficulty, if at all. Nature has covered them with a marvelously beautiful cloth of gold, that shimmers and twinkles in the sunlight, with the warm waves rising from it like incense in the brazier before some old sun-god.

GREEN, GOLD AND SILVER.

Where the irrigating water is running in straggling rows between the trees you get the combination of green, gold and silver, and these colors from a height of 2000 feet blow out the flaming colors of semi-tropical flowers. If you look for some well-remembered hedge row of scarlet geraniums you discern but a blur, but the many-shaded greens of the groves retain their colors at this height and give you a picture that could be painted in honest colors. At the very apex of the rows of orange trees there is a thin line of lighter green, against which the other foliage looks blue-black. This is the spring fòliage, the Easter millinery of the California orchards. If one looks down upon these groves at Eastertide the scene will no doubt be changed, for the groves will then be in a glory of blossoming, a sight like no other in all the world.

WAY TO SEE LAND.

If I were going to sell real estate instead of writing about others who do it, I believe I would want a gigantic captive balloon as a part of the office paraphernalia. If a prospective purchaser could view the valley from a balloon basket it would merely be a matter of his choosing his location when he descended. Nothing could make him so intimate with the country in so short a time. Drive him about through the groves, over the boulevards, down one street and up another, and he is confused, wondering only how it is that the natives can find their way home in such a labyrinth of orange groves. But let him see the country from a buzzard's point of view and he is as familiar with it as you are when he comes down.

I once stood by while a man from Minneapolis bought a Covina orange grove. He had been given figures from the packing-houses, showing beyond question that the grove returned 12 per cent. on the investment. He had been shown the lusty growth of the trees, the advanced methods of cultivation and care, and the agent had talked himself down, until there were no more statistics to be supplied. The man from back home had been noticing the hedge row of roses, however. No one could ignore them. Their beauty was as evident and fresh and thrilling as a graduation girl. He pulled a rose and bought the grove because of the flowers. He did not know an orange tree from a lemon tree. He had made money in Minneapolis and statistics about packing-house receipts didn't awaken any longing in his heart. But in February he had been able to pull a rose for himself and wear it in his button hole.

That's why I believe that it is the aesthetic we should foster, and that's why I believe that more persons should go up in balloons and get the broader view. It will help their geography, broaden their religious views, and make of them boosters in extraordinary to this sun-flooded and blossom-laden land.

AS BIRDS SEE IT, SO DOES BALLOON CAMERA.

The Times balloon expedition had its inception in the desire to bring to the people of the Southland and to their guests from less fortunate commonwealths, a fuller appreciation of the bounties of nature. The purpose is to cover the whole of Southern California, making birdseye views of every point of interest, to be reproduced later for the benefit of the newspaper-reading public.

Being the first enterprise of the kind ever ventured on a large and comprehensive scale it has attracted attention not only from the people of this State, but from others who welcome the opportunity thus afforded of seeing Southern California mirrored before their vision.

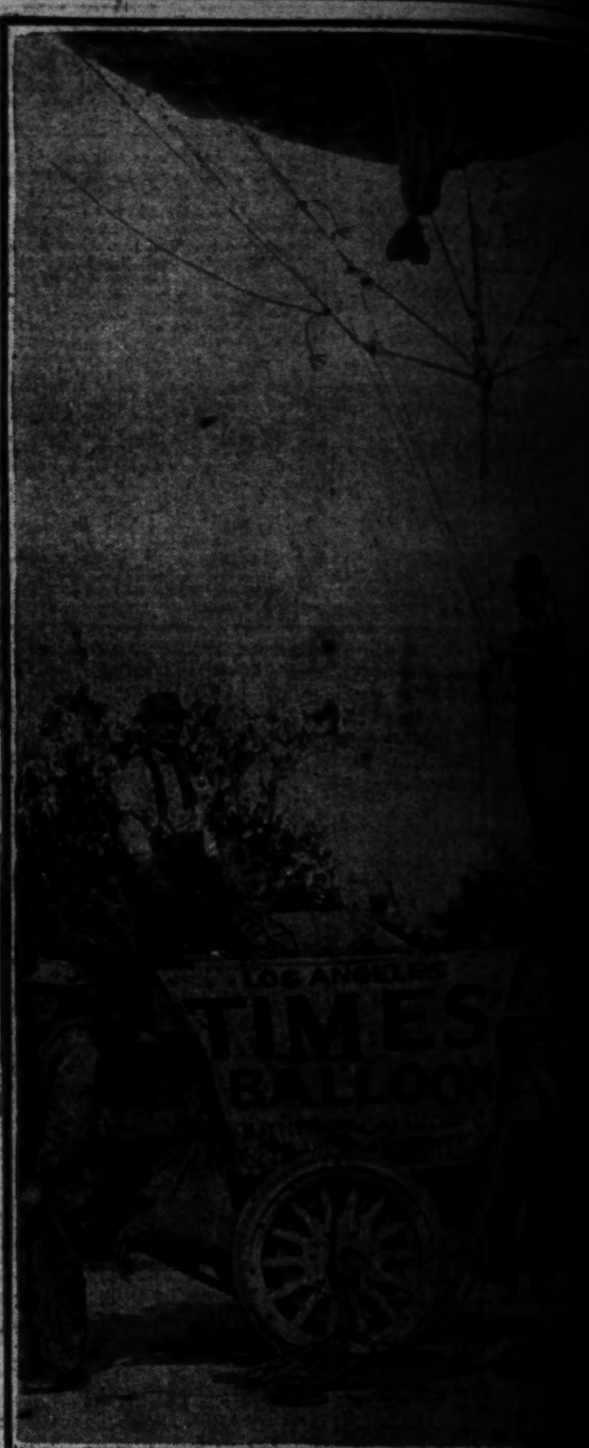
The novel plan of traveling from place to place with a captive balloon attached to an automobile truck, the equipment being of a nature to permit quick changes of base, has given additional interest to the expedition. The recent escape of the giant gas bag and its subsequent recovery after many difficulties will not be permitted in any way to interfere with the original plan of making a full and complete tour of the southern part of the State.

SUSPECTED FORGER.

Fred G. Palmer, 25 years old, a machinist, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of being a forger, by Detectives Hickok and Ervin. It is alleged that recently he passed a bad $32 check on the All Night and Day Bank, and was attempting to pass one for $43 when taken into custody. He used the name of R. N. Reeves.

NOT DECIDED YET.

The Supervisors will not decide the question of the alleged inefficiency of W. F. Erwin, road foreman in the Soledad district, until Wednesday. Deputy District Attorney Hill takes the ground that the proceedings were inspired by malice on the part of a few men who do not like the foreman. Hill also states the petitioners are trying to make a covert attack upon Supervisor Pridham through his road foreman.



Going up to see the Covina Valley.

WAIFS FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—A very low bid was made for half a million of city bonds. It was promptly rejected. The explanation is made that the money market is tight and that Germany is hoarding up its gold. It is unkind of the Teuton empire to act thus, but it is rather a far fetched reason to give why municipal securities are not as good as those of public service corporations.

The public prints gravely say that Napoleon's son is buried here. A legion of grandchildren admit the truth of it. It is to be hoped that they will not deem it indelicate to suggest that in the future they take better care of the neglected grave in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

An ambitious young man named C. H. Gartside stands high on the eligible list from which policemen are to be named. He complains to the authorities that a burglar stole his pistol and handcuffs. This ought to make him ineligible unless he captures the malefactor.

Police Chief White asks for 250 more patrolmen and an increase in his appropriation of half a million dollars. The average man on the street does not believe this to be right. He thinks that the 700 now on the force can do all the necessary work if they were a little more active.

For three hours on Good Friday 250 saloons have agreed to close up. This will not cause any drought as the 2000 other barrooms will remain open. Some of the nickelodeons will also stop business for a time, but the

FACTS

To make money, first convince yourself that the proposition is safe and first-class in every respect, then put your money into it and stay with it. Select a company that is established on a firm foundation, conservatively managed, whose financial standing is beyond question and who can show that it is making money.

DO YOUR PART

As a chain is only so strong as its weakest link, so can a building company only succeed in proportion to the support it receives from its shareholders. You expect the company to protect you against loss and so invest the shareholders' money that large dividends can be paid. To do this, the money must be invested in lands and houses, and it must be kept at work all the time. The money in the bank will not pay the dividends.

It Is Not Fair to the Others

Men or women who subscribe for shares in a home building company, agreeing to pay for them monthly, and who after paying a part of the agreed sum, request the return of their money because they want to invest in something else or to spend it, are not giving the other shareholders a square deal.

If a majority would follow this unprofitable, unfair plan, no company could accomplish satisfactory results—growth, success, profits and dividends would be impossible.

Commonwealth Shareholders

No home building company has a more loyal or satisfactory lot of shareholders than the Commonwealth. With a few exceptions, our shareholders faithfully fulfill their obligations and pay for the stock they purchase. This is one reason for our great success, big profits and regular dividends.

We operate on a real conservative basis and thousands of salaried men, business and professional men, who have invested their money in the Commonwealth comprise one great family, one and all working for the greatest good and profit of all—each and every one anxious and willing to fulfill the obligations they have assumed, and all practice the sincerest form of co-operation. This class of men and women are a real asset to any company, and success, large profits and wonderful growth are the inevitable result.

We do not want the money of those who are always shifting around—here today and there tomorrow—who pay in a few dollars and then repudiate their agreement.

The Man Who Wants a Real Investment

We are anxious to add to our thousands of shareholders all those who are looking for a real investment—something absolutely safe and dependable—something that assures a regular income. To all we will prove beyond question of doubt that Commonwealth shares offer the best opportunities—that our company is the very best place for their money. In fact, the safest, most profitable investment any one can make.

Shares are now 40 cents and can be bought on easy monthly payments without interest.

DURING THE RAINY SEASON

Have a Care About Your Drinking Water—Puritas is Safest.

This is the season when you should exercise great caution in the matter of drinking water.

The heavy rains have washed into the streams large amounts of decayed vegetable matter. This pollutes the water, giving rise to harmful bacterial organisms which should not be taken into the body.

The mineral contents of our natural waters in the Southwest at all times renders them exceedingly "hard." Neither boiling nor filtering rids them of the minerals, which are held in solution.

In fact, distillation is the only process which thoroughly frees water of its mineral and vegetable impurities.

Drink Puritas Distilled Water. The cost is trifling—BUT THE SAFETY IT AFFORDS YOU IS PRICELESS.

Puritas is carefully distilled, thoroughly aerated with pure ozone, and bottled in clean glass demijohns that are carefully sealed so that the water reaches you without coming into contact with the outer air.

Five gallons of Puritas cost but 40c. delivered within the old city boundary lines. At outside points the cost is a trifle more, owing to the long haul. Puritas is obtainable in most Southern California towns. If you have difficulty in securing it, communicate with us.

Constable Hayes tenaciously held onto a warrant of arrest for non-support for more than a year and yesterday was given the satisfaction of landing his man in jail in Bakersfield.

The defendant, Charlie Ross, seemed almost as hard to find as the Philadelphia namesake who was kidnaped many years ago and whose disappearance was widely advertised. The Ross now in jail is a cowboy and moving picture actor.

His wife secured a complaint for his arrest on the ground he did not support her. Constable Hayes was given the writ. Ross could not be found at his usual places of resort. The officer visited the moving picture companies, the beaches and kept a close lookout for the accused.

Finally, after carrying the warrant for fourteen months, Hayes learned Ross was in Bakersfield. He wired the Chief of Police there and Ross was apprehended.

ATTORNEYS HIT BACK AT UNCLE.

Defend Espee and Others in Government Court.

Give Three Reasons Why Oil Suits Are Offensive.

Moral Justification Sought Is the Allegation.

In the suit brought by the government against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and a score of other defendants, to recover possession of 440,906.85 acres in what is known as the oil section of Southern California, and valued at millions of dollars, the defendants yesterday filed three separate replies in the United States District Court.

This was the first action brought by the government to set aside the patent, others against the Consolidated Midway Oil Company, the American Oilfields Company, the Midway Northern Oil Company and others, involving valuable alleged oil lands, so as to test the legality of the withdrawal orders issued by President Taft, July 2, 1910.

The first defense asks that the court dismiss the complaint on the following grounds:

That the bill does not set forth facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; that it does not set out any equity entitling the plaintiff to recover; that it does not furnish any ground for injunctive relief; that it does not set forth any reason why the plaintiff should have an accounting; that the suit is barred by the first section of the act of Congress approved March 2, 1896; that the contract or agreement between the parties is not sufficiently set out; that under the bill there are not facts sufficient to estop the defendants from now asserting that the mineral reservation is void; that the suit is barred by laches; that it cannot be determined whether the government is seeking to cancel the patent issued to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company on the ground that it was fraudulently obtained, or seeking to remove a cloud on the title of the plaintiff to the lands embraced in the patent on the ground that the defendants are now asserting a title they never obtained.

SAY IT'S OBSCURE.

It is alleged that it cannot be determined whether the plaintiff asserts that the mineral reservation in the patent was authorized by law, or was inserted pursuant to the terms of an express contract; whether the patentee acquiesced and consented to the exception of all minerals except coal and iron, or whether the government issued its patent to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company without any consideration of the mineral or non-mineral character of the land, because of the belief that the reservation clause was sufficient.

It is claimed that it cannot be determined what is asserted to be the fraud committed by the Southern Pacific Company, whether it was concealing the mineral character of the land, or concealing the patentee's intention to contend that the reservation was void. It is claimed that it is not set out what facts constituting fraud were unknown to the government in 1909; or whether the estoppel to dispute the validity of the reservation clause in the patent were acts of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company or other railroad companies not parties to the suit; that it cannot be determined how or by what means Congress acquiesced in the construction placed upon the railroad grants by the Secretary of the Interior, or what lands the Southern Pacific Railroad Company knew to be mineral at the time it applied for its patent.

Finally three reasons are given that allege a misjoinder of causes of suit, as follows: A suit to cancel the patent and title of the defendants is combined with an inconsistent suit to remove a cloud on the government's asserted title; a suit in equity to cancel defendant's patent or to remove a cloud on the title is combined with an action to recover damages for petroleum taken from the land: that said suits and actions at law are combined without being separately stated.

ASK MORE DETAILS.

The second defense is a motion for a further and better statement of the government's claim—whether the plaintiff is suing to cancel the patent or remove a cloud from the plaintiff's title; whether the plaintiff now asserts that the mineral reservation in the patent was authorized by law or was afterward inserted therein; whether the Southern Pacific Railroad Company acquiesced in the exception from its patent of all minerals except coal and iron, or did not acquiesce therein when it applied for and obtained the patent.

It is desired that the government state whether it issued the patent without any consideration or determination of the mineral or non-mineral character of the lands because it believed such consideration not necessary under the law, and that the exception would save all of the mineral land, or issued the patent because the representations of the patentee led the government to believe that the lands were non-mineral and therefore not patentable under the railroad grant.

The defendants also ask that it be definitely stated by what act Congress acquiesced in the construction alleged to have been placed upon the land grants by the Secretary of the Interior; what mineral locations were made on the lands, where they are situated and whether they were based on the actual discovery of any mineral. The query is presented whether in any instance prior to 1895 the government examined lands, prior to patent, as to their mineral character, that were applied for by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, or any other company having a similar grant.

The third motion is to strike out portions of the bill of complaint for impertinence. Eighteen different allegations are made in this behalf, the charge being made that they are merely the argumentative statements of irrelevant matters sought to be used by the government as a moral justification for bringing the suit.

William F. Herrin, Charles R. Lewers and Guy V. Shoup of San Francisco, are solicitors for the defendants; Joline, Larkin & Rathbone of New York, for the Central Trust Company of New York; Robert Hays Smith, San Francisco, for the Penn-Coalinga Petroleum Company; Julius Fried and I. L. Briner, Section Seven Oil Company; John E. Alexander, San Francisco, for the Fresno-San Francisco Oil Company.

Gee!

JOY HOURS FOR THE WEE FOLKS.

BOOM IN STORY-TELLING AT PUBLIC LIBRARY.

"How the Camel Got His Hump" and Other Classics of Childhood, Besides Lots of Jolly Yarns Few Kids Have Ever Heard, Are Told Weekly to Big Crowds of Smalls.

With the last word of the little Kipling story which Miss Elizabeth Riddell had been telling the children gathered in the juvenile department of the public library yesterday, there whispered about the room a sigh of satisfaction and the rustle of sixty-four small bodies relaxing from attitudes of tense attention.

Then, after a moment, Miss Riddell again enthralled her audience of little people with a prettily-told bit of Greek mythology, the story of Echo, which she followed by Abby Brown's "The Balloon Boy."

Every Saturday afternoon the wee folks gather for the story hour in the children's room of the library. Here, from 2 until 4 o'clock they hear, told in words they readily understand, stories which not only entertain but which cannot fail to foster a love for good reading.

"We want them to acquire the library habit while they are young," said Librarian Perry, "and our plan for the season is to make them acquainted with the great themes of the ages, and with such historical figures as Napoleon, for this series is based on French legends and literature.

"Miss Riddell is going to tell them the 'Song of Roland,' the 'Romance of the Rose,' and the stories of Jeanne d' Arc and St. Genevieve. Also, she will give them Dumas's 'The Queen's-Necklace,' and, for boys, she is going to tell his 'Iron Mask.'"

The juvenile department of the public library is an institution of importance. An average of 250 children visit this room every day, and surely there never was a more complete collection of books and pictures, photographs and stereoscopes to fascinate young folks of all ages. There are more than 13,000 books and magazines in this room and last year 77,197 books were taken out on cards for home reading.

"If we only had a room just for the story," sighed Miss Riddell, "but, like all the rest of the library, we are so crowded that we can't have even a corner to ourselves away from the shelves and the distributing desk. Maybe some day, when we get a library building, we can have a bit of an auditorium, a really, truly story-room."

NEVER TOO LATE TO PAY.

Telegraphs Money Just as Justice Declares Bond Forfeit Because of Failure to Meet Terms.

Alexander E. Upton, who is surveying in the mountains north of here, barely missed having a $500 bond declared forfeit by Justice Young yesterday, besides the probability of arrest. Mrs. Upton was in court waiting to receive her monthly allowance from her husband. He did not appear.

Leo V. Youngworth, representing Mrs. Upton, asked that the bond be forfeited. The court agreed that was the only course to pursue if the defendant did not appear. Suddenly, in almost a theatrical manner, a messenger boy walked in and left a telegram. It consisted of an order to pay Mrs. Upton $25.

Once before the officers found difficulty in locating Upton, whose work takes him to various parts of the State. Finally Youngworth got him in Oakland and brought him back to this city. The Uptons live apart. The husband, by order of court, has to support his two small children.

SEEKS WOMAN "FAN."

Seattle Man Asks Chief of Police to Find Her—Hints of Mystery in Letter.

Mrs. Edna Hartley, a prepossessing Seattle baseball fan, is somewhere in Los Angeles, and the police have been asked to find her. There is some mystery connected with the woman leaving the northern city, for A. L. Hartley, an employee of Wells Fargo Company in Seattle, has written to the Chief of Police, requesting that the woman be told that it will be safe for her to return home; that if she doubts his word, she may communicate with the Seattle Chief of Police.

Hartley says he is anxious to find Mrs. Hartley, as he wants her to sign some papers incidental to the settling of an estate, to which she is an heir.

Mrs. Hartley, according to the letter, left Seattle in company with a man whose first name is Walter. Mrs. Hartley is 30 years old, five feet six inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has flushed cheeks, dark hair and erect carriage.

WOMAN WANTED ON THE BOARD.

PARENT - TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION HAS CANDIDATE.

Body Also Indorsed the Candidacy of George Kapp, One of the Retiring Members of the Present Board of Education—Long Beach Salt Shipped in Quantity.

LONG BEACH, March 15. — The agitation among the parent-teacher associations of the city to have a woman elected member of the Board of Education in April, was the principal subject of discussion last night at a meeting of the presidents' council, resulting in the unanimous indorsement by that body of Mrs. E. N. Strong, president of the Long Beach Parent-Teachers' Federation and vice-president of the Southern California District of the Congress of Mothers.

The ladies all pledged their hearty support of her candidacy and believe that she can be elected "hands down." Mrs. Strong has for years been an active worker in club, social and educational lines and is generally popular.

The council also indorsed the candidacy of George Kapp, one of the retiring members of the board.

VISITORS KILLED.

Press dispatches this morning brought the news of the death in a railroad wreck at Cozad, Neb., of Mr. and Mrs. August Meyers of Dennison, Iowa, an aged German couple who have for fourteen years been alternating their winters in Florida and California, making Long Beach their home when in California. They left Long Beach last Saturday for their Iowa home, after a four months' stay. Meyers was a typical old German gentleman, and a genial and companionable acquaintance. During his recent stay here he remarked that despite having distributed considerable of his property among his children, all grown, he still had 600 acres of fine land on the outskirts of Dennison. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers were both 77 years of age.

LONG BEACH SALT.

The Long Beach Salt Company is now engaged in shipping in carload lots, 2000 tons of salt to Everett, Wash. When the first home products banquet is held at Los Angeles, March 29, one of the favors will be a carton of Long Beach salt, for which the company is now packing 1000 cartons, each of which is labeled. "Don't get fresh. Use Long Beach salt."

GRIEF CAUSED IT.

Public Administrator Bryson came to Long Beach today to take charge of the affairs of Gus Guenther, the tailor, who committed suicide yesterday by inhaling gas, following a debauch. Friends of the dead man are today arranging for the funeral and endeavoring to get in touch with the dead man's relatives. It developed today that Guenther was last seen alive at 8:45 o'clock yesterday morning by a friend, Arthur Falkenhaym, a florist, who met him on the bluff near Locust avenue. Falkenhaym says that Guenther's sorrow was over the loss of his wife and two children in a railroad accident eight years ago at Dominguez Junction, since which time he has been reserved and melancholy and drank heavily.

Following a conference between a committee of merchants and Mayor Hatch today, the latter official agreed to withhold police enforcement of a sanitary ordinance until some of its provisions can be eliminated. The ordinance as it stands provides for the netting or screening of all foodstuffs, even potatoes and that all bread must be wrapped in waxed paper, the latter provision being said to be obsolete in all ordinances in other cities.

In answer to an inquiry of the State Railroad Commission by Secretary Bisby of the Chamber of Commerce relative to the effect the proposed freight rate reductions between San Pedro and Los Angeles would have on Long Beach, Commissioner Sanborn, the rate expert of the commission, today replied that whatever rates are prescribed for East San Pedro cannot be exceeded for Long Beach, which will give this city the same advantage obtained by Los Angeles as regards terminal rates.

Oscar Mueller of Los Angeles will be the principal speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at Hotel Virginia on March 27, speaking on the subject "The City's Debt to the Chamber of Commerce." Efforts are also being made to secure Roald Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, and Dr. Wiley, in addition to several musical artists. Arrangements will be made at the banquet for 300 guests.

H. Mullen, living on Magnolia avenue, was arrested today on a warrant charging him with violating the ordinance limiting the height of fences. Mullen is charged with quarreling with a neighbor, William Nelson, and in revenge adding seven feet to the five-foot fence separating their two properties and shutting off the view from Nelson's window.

Mrs. Julia A. Eno, 74 years of age, died last night at her home on Elm avenue. She was a native of Ohio and has been in Long Beach several years. She leaves a widower and one son, ex-Mayor R. A. Eno.

Mrs. C. A. McCool, aged 69, died last night at her home on West Third street. She was a native of Illinois and had resided two years in Long Beach.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Engineer has prepared a detailed report on the irregularities in the Arroyo de la Brea storm-drain proceedings, wherein the project, amounting to more than half a million dollars is tied up until new proceedings can be carried through. In accordance with instructions from the Council, he names the men who handled the ordinance from its inception. The Council will consider the report Tuesday.

The Board of Public Works received the remodeled specifications for the proposed garbage destruction plant yesterday and will hold a conference on this subject with the Finance Committee of the City Council tomorrow.

It developed yesterday that there is a needless delay somewhere on the red-tape workings of an ordinance amendment for the proposed umbrella sheds at the P. E. station. Meanwhile the Main-street traffic congestion is unrelieved.

The Board of Public Works has decided that the Salt Lake Railroad must make extensive repairs on the river levees, as another heavy storm would endanger the piers of the Fourth-street bridges.

That Theodore Wiesendanger, while president of the Conservative Investment Company, instructed the secretary to write minutes of meetings never held, was testified in the Superior Court in the trial of Wiesendanger.

At the City Hall.

GIVE DETAILS ON COSTLY ERRORS.

COUNCIL GETS REPORT ON HALF-MILLION-DOLLAR FIASCO.

Will Have to Carry Through Entire New Proceedings for Arroyo de la Brea Storm Drain at Extra Cost of Over Two Thousand Dollars—Blundering.

When Holt & Jeffrey, to whom was awarded the contract amounting to more than half a million dollars for the construction of the Arroyo de la Brea storm drain, refused to sign the contract, on the advice of their attorneys, on the ground that errors in the proceedings might invalidate the collection of assessments, a large and thickly settled portion of the city was deeply disappointed and the members of the City Council were decidedly peeved.

A demand was made for an investigation in order that the blame for the blunders in the proceedings might be placed. The City Engineer was instructed to give a full and detailed report, and to name the persons who were directly responsible for the errors or irregularities. At the time of the Council passing this order the objection was raised that this body itself was largely responsible for the situation, because it had changed names of streets and vacated alleys that figured in the descriptions of the assessment district, after the storm drain proceedings were in progress.

But the report was insisted upon, and members of the Council were determined to "make an example" of somebody. City Engineer Hamlin has now issued this report and it will go from the Board of Public Works to the Council next Tuesday.

In this report details are given of the various steps taken in the proceedings and of the contractors' refusal to sign the contract. Then follows an exhaustive report on the irregularities as reported by the contractors' attorneys.

Included in the various points of irregularity raised the statement that while a sewer was provided for in the ordinance in Gramercy Place and another in Gramercy drive, one of vitrified brick and the other of pipe, both of these streets were officially known as Gramercy place. The ambiguity was discovered and corrected after the approval of the ordinance of intention. Technically the lot-owner had no legal notice as to whether the sewer along his property was to be of brick or vitrified pipe. In another place the description mentioned to the corner of Casco street and Marathon street, but Casco street had been changed by the Council to Rosemont avenue, and legally there was no such corner as described in the ordinance. In other cases alleys were mentioned that were vacated two months before the ordinance of intention was checked, and consequently there was no such alley in legal existence. Other irregularities were noted in regard to description of lots, and the name of affiant was not stated in the affidavit of posting street notices.

The City Engineer estimates that the cost of new proceedings made necessary because of these irregularities will amount to $2071.97.

In response to the demand of the Council that specific mention of names of those responsible for the irregularities be given, the report contains a section that states that the ordinance was prepared by R. H. Bacon of the storm sewer department, assisted by F. M. Casey, and was checked by C. J. Shultz of the department of street improvements; that it was referred to the City Attorney for inspection and that J. F. Saunders, City Abstractor, checked and approved the description, and this was accepted by Henry N. James, Deputy City Attorney, who approved the ordinance as to form, while the posting was done by I. E. Martin, under the direction of the accounting department. Martin has since resigned.

In closing this exhaustive report, upon which a pretty squabble in the City Council is prospective, the City Engineer says:

"The Vrooman act, under which these proceedings were begun, is not adaptable to projects of such magnitude as this storm sewer, the proceedings becoming so cumbersome and the descriptions so lengthy that it is almost impossible to turn our proceedings which do not contain some slight irregularity.

"I understand that legislation is now pending which will very greatly simplify such proceedings and reduce the chance for errors."

Another Garbage Conference.

The Board of Public Works received from the City Attorney yesterday the amended specifications for the proposed municipal plant for garbage disposal yesterday, and has called a conference with the Finance Committee of the City Council for tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. If approval is given the remodeled specifications, it is expected the Council will authorize the advertisement for bids on Tuesday, and the machinery will finally be under way for a garbage plant, after more than a year's consideration by various committees and commissions. It is proposed to invite bids on either incinerator or reduction types of destruction plants.

Hollywood Sewer Subject.

The Board of Public Works has denied for the present the application of P. A. and C. H. Howard, contractors for the Hollywod main sewer, for an extension of 120 days from April 17, the original time limit, within which to complete this big job.

On the same day that the contractors made their application for an extension of time, the City Engineer filed a report with the board declaring the progress of the work unsatisfactory, and that at the present rate the sewer would not be completed before July 1, as only about 72 per cent. is now finished.

There is an urgent demand for the use of this sewer by a large district in which residences are rapidly increasing. The Board of Public Works has requested the contractors to appear and show cause why they should not be compelled to put on a much larger force of workmen. If an extension of time becomes necessary, Assistant City Engineer Johnson recommends that a charge of $10 be made by the board against the contractors for every day's extension granted.

ON MAIN STREET. RED TAPE—MORE DELAY.

So many weeks ago that one loses count, the Board of Public Utilities took up the problem of getting immediate relief for traffic congestion on Main street by ordering the Pacific Electric to lay tracks at the rear of the Sixth-street station, so that it could operate its Long Beach and San Pedro cars from that point instead of taking them into the station at the Main-street frontage.

The tracks are now in and ready for use, but the cars are still operated on Main street. The company prepared plans for temporary umbrella sheds as shelter for passengers, and for steps from the depot waiting-room to the tracks in the rear. The construction proposed is not provided for in the city building ordinances, and amendments to allow this were asked for. These went the rounds from commission to Council, then to committee and back to Council again, and finally were referred to the Building Ordinance Revision Commission, which on March 10 gave them approval, with recommendation to the Chief Inspector of Buildings to prepare the ordinance for the necessary amendments. This official's office has not received these instructions up to closing time yesterday, almost a week after the commission's action.

Meanwhile the Board of Public Utilities has been urging the Pacific Electric to begin the operation of its cars from the tracks in the rear of the station, regardless of the proposed shelters, but the company is loath to take the responsibility of compelling passengers to go out into the open to reach cars when heavy rains are liable to appear.

After the Building Inspector prepares the ordinance it will have to go to the Council, be referred to the Legislation Committee, and after consideration there, go back to the Council for action, after which it must go to the Mayor, who may hold it ten days before attaching his signature or placing his veto upon it, and should he sign it, then it has a chance of becoming effective thirty days after its first publication.

It really appears as though the danger of rains will be passed by the time the proposed amendments become effective—but the sheds may be up in time for next season's wet days. Meanwhile the traffic jam continues unabated.

Must Repair Levees.

The recent flood of storm waters in the river attacked the easterly bank at Fourth street and the City Engineer has reported to the Board of Public Works that if another storm occurs considerable damage may be done to the levee and the easterly piers of the Fourth-street bridge may be washed out.

When the city granted to the Los Angeles Terminal Railway Company, whose successor is the Salt Lake Railroad, the strip of land sixty feet wide along the easterly side of the river, the principal consideration was an obligation on the part of the railroad to build and permanently maintain a levee for the purpose of protecting private property and the city's bridge approaches. In view of the situation, the Board of Public Works has served upon the Salt Lake Railroad a notice approved by the City Attorney, requiring it to repair the levees.

Must Move Buildings.

As a preliminary step to the paving of Main street from Broadway to Jefferson street, made necessary by adding twenty feet to the width of this street, the Board of Public Works has issued an order requiring all property owners who have not already done so to make their buildings back to the new property line within sixty days.

Outfall Sewer Problem.

The City Engineer has reported to the Board of Public Works that he has plans in progress for the betterment of sanitary conditions at Hyperion Beach, where the city's outfall sewer discharges into the sea and that recommendations will be made to the board in time to have the proposed expenditures considered in connection with municipal budget-making for the next fiscal year, so that the necessary appropriation can be made for the work involved.

In this report the City Engineer says studies are being made of two methods of removing the present objectionable conditions, one by screening the sewage before it is discharged into the ocean, and the other by the passing of sewage through sedimentation tanks equipped with baffle boards. The report states that it may be desirable to use a combination of these methods. The average daily flow of the outfall sewer at present is about 24,000,000 gallons, and it is apparent that any attempt to handle this amount of sewage will call for work of considerable magnitude.

MACHINERY LIES IDLE.

Meanwhile Government and Mining Officials Are Arguing Over Reservation Boundary.

Three Washington officials, [illegible] F. Dunnington in charge of the surveys of Indian reservations; John F. Armstrong, allotment agent, and J. R. T. Reeves, inspector, were at the Federal building yesterday, en route for Parker, where they will on Tuesday next, begin taking testimony in regard to the boundary line of the Colorado River reservation, including 18,000 acres of land.

The owners of the new La Paz Mining Company, are protesting the survey made [illegible] 1876, and re-established in 1910, by which their property is shown to be within the reservation line. They claim that it should be outside the jurisdiction of the government. The reservation is located for the most part in Arizona, but a small portion lies in California.

The dispute between the government and the mining company is one of long standing and the corporation has been kept from working its claims, said to be rich by officers of the field service, who claim it has no right on the premises. There are thousands of dollars worth of machinery now lying on the ground along the boundary line awaiting the outcome of the hearing.

FICTION FILLS MINUTE BOOK.

RECORDS OF MEETINGS NEVER HELD, IT'S SAID.

Secretary of Conservative Investment Company Testifies He Was Instructed by President to "Fix" Things—Judge Declares Former Not Responsible.

That minutes of stockholders' and directors' meetings never held, were recorded in the minute-book and that these records were made on the order of Theodore Wiesendanger, the president, was disclosed during the examination of Secretary Close of the Conservative Investment Company before Judge Wellborn.

Judge Wellborn declared he would not feel safe in placing any dependence on the records produced because Close was unable to appreciate his condition.

"He evidently has no appreciation of what he was doing at the time," said the court. "He has done criminal acts, but he testifies to them in such a way it is apparent that he has no comprehension at all of the situation."

It was shown by the testimony that Wiesendanger made notes on postal cards, the backs of envelopes and on brown paper and instructed the secretary to write the minutes in the manner suggested. Wiesendanger was principal stockholder as well as president of the company, and his alleged orders to "fix" the minutes were carried out.

Twenty-seven books, being the records of the company, placed in the personal care of Judge Wellborn, were carried to his home after the trial Friday, and returned yesterday morning to the Federal Court, which will have them produced before the Federal grand jury in the investigation of the affairs of the corporation.

WITHOUT RESTRICTIONS. WILL GIVES LATITUDE.

The will of the late Samuel S. Cowgill, No. 1046 Garfield avenue, Pasadena, filed yesterday for probate, gives the widow, Mrs. Mary A. Cowgill, the income from the estate to use as she pleases. If the income is not sufficient, the will states she may be allowed to supply the deficiency. The estate consists of the home on Garfield avenue, and acreage, five lots at Long Beach and promissory notes. The income is placed at $1000.

It is provided in the will that on the death of the widow, the property shall be divided equally among the three children, Henry P., Parker J. and Rebecca S. Cowgill. Real estate is distributed as follows: Three and one-half acres to Henry; one-half acre to Parker and eight-ninths of an acre to Rebecca. The personal property is to be divided according to verbal instructions.

With the consent of Mrs. Cowgill and the united action of the children, any or all of the property may be sold or conveyed and divided.

NAMES OTHER WOMAN. BREAKS UP HER HOME.

A search for her husband, who she alleges abandoned her August 9, 1911, has resulted, according to a complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Rebecca A. C. Freeman, in the discovery of the missing man in this city. Another woman plays an important part in the domestic tragedy which places Mrs. Freeman in the role of a deserted wife.

Mrs. Freeman alleges she lived happily with her husband, Samuel Jerome Freeman, for thirty-seven years. Then Lydia E. Ames appeared on the scene. Mrs. Freeman alleges the other woman conducted herself in such manner that Freeman left his home. Mrs. Freeman asserts her husband left the house ostensibly to pursue his business, but never returned. She avers that Lydia E. Ames departed clandestinely from Indiana, in which State she resided, and that her place of destination was kept secret from Mrs. Freeman.

She traced the couple to Los Angeles and alleges they are living together. Actual damages for $10,000 and $10,000 exemplary damages are asked by Mrs. Freeman. Lydia E. Ames is made a defendant.

QUESTION OF VALUE. MISREPRESENTATION ALLEGED.

A suit which involved the exchange of property at Sedalia, Mo., for lots at Pomona and raised the question whether the exchange was not equitable and just was taken under submission by Judge Allen yesterday. This case has been on trial for several days. The testimony showed that Mrs. Jennie B. Fast owned property at Sedalia. She had an invalid son in California and was anxious to exchange her Missouri property for real estate in this State.

J. H. Mertz, a Sedalia druggist, owned a number of lots at Pomona. He was shown Mrs. Fast's holdings, but the testimony showed he did not examine them closely. On the strength of a paper declaring the property worth $14,000, he agreed to exchange. Later he said he discovered that Mrs. Fast's property was worth only half of the value placed on it and he refused to consummate the deal.

It was agreed that either party could withdraw by the payment of $100 damages. This amount was tendered to Mrs. Fast, who insisted on the exchange being made. She brought suit to complete the terms of the contract. Mertz valued his Pomona property at $12,000.

EXTENSION WORK. COURT GRANTS PETITIONS.

Judge Conrey granted the petitions yesterday of the East Side and the Imperial South Side Water Companies, and Imperial Water Company No. 2, presented by Receiver Holabird of the California Development Company, to enter into contracts to serve additional territory in Imperial Valley and for additional development work. The court will deliver his opinion later.

The petitions were opposed by the Southern Pacific and other defendants, who raised the question that the extensions might diminish the value of the California Development Company's property. It was shown, however, that this additional service to consumers would be as profitable as such work has been in the past.

COURTHOUSE NOTES. BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

EXCHANGE BENCHES. Judge Wilbur will try a murder case at Riverside this week. His bench in the Juvenile Court will be taken by Judge Densmore, who is disqualified. Judge Willis, who has been rusticating at Murietta Hot Springs for a week, is expected to resume work in Department Ten tomorrow.

FOR MATHEMATICIANS. How fast must a trolley car be running if after the brakes are set the car travels 150 feet before it stops, is a question raised in the trial of the $30,262.25 damage suit against the Pacific Electric before Judge Murphey. John Previsich, the plaintiff, testified it was running fast. The company showed that it was not exceeding the speed limit and that Previsich was negligent. Previsich was injured when a car, a freight, struck the four-horse wagon he was driving on Mayflower avenue, April 17, 1911. The impact sent the wagon, loaded with seven tons of pipe, against a telegraph pole, killing one of the horses and throwing Previsich from the seat. The legal battery was Oscar Lawler for the plaintiff and Attorney Gortner for the defendant.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Janitor-thief Confides in Chambermaid Who Informs on Him and He's Caught in Act.

Misplaced confidence landed Clifford White in jail for 180 days yesterday. That sentence, by Police Judge Rose, followed White's conviction on a charge of petty larceny.

It was testified that White recently secured a position as janitor in the Barton rooming-house on California street. Roomers began to miss clothing and small articles of jewelry. The man had such success in looting rooms that he took a chambermaid into his confidence. She informed on him. Detective Zeigler secreted himself in a room yesterday and caught White in the act of a theft. The detective arrested the janitor, swore to the complaint against him, and on his testimony White was convicted.

Expensive Ride.

Because it will cost him about $200 to have his damaged auto repaired, and for the further reason that he sustained several painful bruises and lacerations, Police Judge Rose fined W. M. Abis, No. 114 Central avenue, only $10 or ten days yesterday for reckless driving.

In the machine with Abis was J. J. Gleason. On South Main street, Abis ran his car into a machine belonging to the Owens Taxi Company. The Abis auto turned turtle, throwing him and Gleason to the pavement.

Runs Into Danger Signal.

George Pike failed to see a number of red lanterns Friday night on a pile of building material, near Seventh street and Central avenue. He ran his car upon the lumber, destroying several lanterns and damaging his auto. He was arrested by Patrolman Gillespie. Police Judge Rose fined Pike $50 or fifty days yesterday.

Denies Fraud Charge.

Abe Ostetter, a South Main-street auctioneer, was arraigned before Police Judge Rose yesterday on a complaint charging him with having misrepresented the value of a watch to Frank Howard, No. 608 Towne avenue. It is charged that Ostetter sold the timepiece on the representation that it is gold, fully jeweled and worth $7, the purchase price. The prosecution alleges that the watch is not gold, has no jewels and is worth $2. Ostetter pleaded not guilty, and in default of $100 bail was remanded to jail to await trial April 4.

Objects to Proceedings.

"This is worse than a kangaroo court," shouted George Sargeant when Police Judge Rose sent him to jail yesterday for 180 days.

He was arraigned on a charge of having morphine in his possession. Before Sargeant was taken to court his father requested that his son be "given the limit." It was said that Sargeant is a drug fiend, and has been refused readmittance to institutions at Stockton and Patton because he has escaped from both places.

When Sargeant responded to his name the court ordered him committed for six months.

"Don't I get a chance to plead?" Sargeant demanded.

"I'm doing the best thing for you," replied the court.

"MAN WITH THE DIARY."

Witness With Evidence in Black on White Testifies for Espee in Oil Lands Suit.

E. T. Dumble, consulting geologist in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad, will go down in the history of the action brought by the government to set aside the patent granted to the company, as "the man with the diary."

Dumble has been the mysterious man mentioned in the testimony of every witness, either on behalf of the government or the defendant, since the beginning of the Elk Hill hearing. He himself put in an appearance yesterday and it is probable that his examination will require the most of next week, with the direct, cross, and redirect and recross testimony.

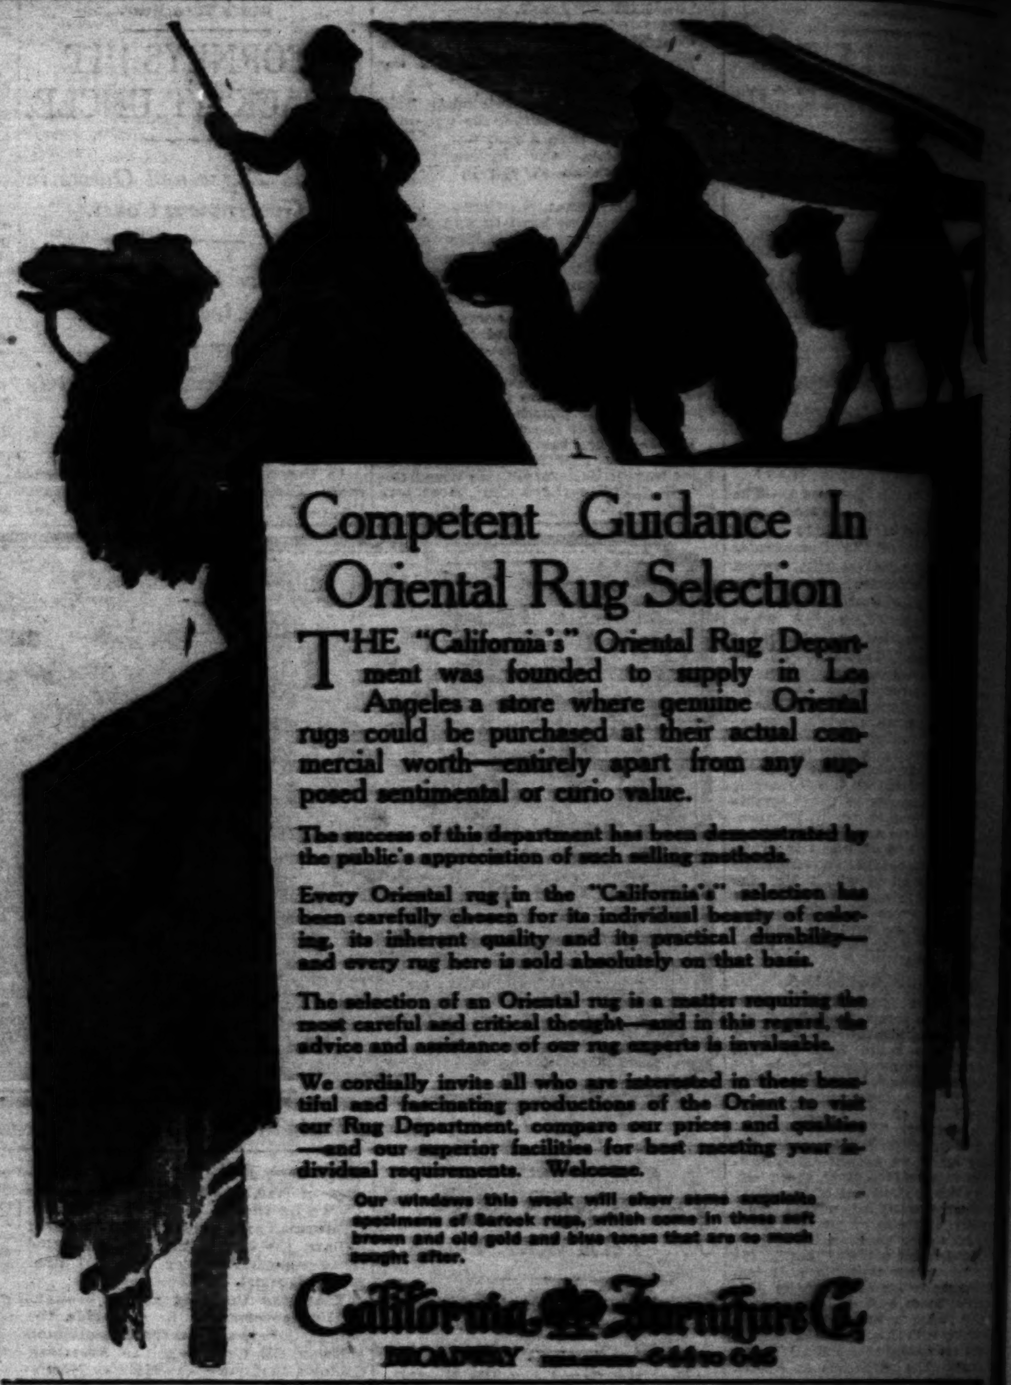
Attorney Lewers, on behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, just began to scratch the ground yesterday, and the work of digging deep down into the transactions previous to the patent of the land to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company by the government, will begin in reality tomorrow.

The diary is a small, leather-covered affair, and covered in chronological order everything done by Dumble from the time that he entered the service of the railroad company in March, 1897, to the present day. Dumble began to make a study of oil conditions in Southern California as early as July, 1901.

The task was undertaken at the request of President C. M. Hayes, then at the head of the Southern Pacific affairs, and covered investigations at what was then known as Oil City, McKittrick, Coalinga and other oil-producing sections.

In 1902 the witness testified that he made a visit with J. B. Treadwell, in charge of the oil iterests at Bakersfield and other contingent points, and produced a map made by Treadwell, showing that at that time all of the territory recognized as oil land was in the immediate vicinity of McKittrick.

Dumble was fortified with letters, telegrams, etc., covering every event of his employment by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, except a number of memoranda, of which he had no copy, that had been destroyed by the San Francisco fire and earthquake in April, 1906.



Competent Guidance In Oriental Rug Selection

THE "California's" Oriental Rug Department was founded to supply in Los Angeles a store where genuine Oriental rugs could be purchased at their actual commercial worth—entirely apart from any supposed sentimental or curio value.

The success of this department has been demonstrated by the public's appreciation of such selling methods.

Every Oriental rug in the "California's" selection has been carefully chosen for its individual beauty of coloring, its inherent quality and its practical durability—and every rug here is sold absolutely on that basis.

The selection of an Oriental rug is a matter requiring the most careful and critical thought—and in this regard, the advice and assistance of our rug experts is invaluable.

We cordially invite all who are interested in these beautiful and fascinating productions of the Orient to visit our Rug Department, compare our prices and qualities—and our superior facilities for best meeting your individual requirements. Welcome.

Our windows this week will show some exquisite specimens of Sarook rugs, which come in those soft brown and old gold and blue tones that are so much sought after.

Adelaide Genee

Is one of the artists who are reviving the ancient arts of dancing. Here is the art of toe dancing raised to the nth degree. The other figures show the famous dancers of the world who are bringing back other forms of dancing—from the Apache to the classic Greek. Genee will be seen at the Auditorium next week. The others are raging sensations in various parts of the world.

THE REVIVAL OF DANCING.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Swinging back and forth between the attraction of imagination on one side and the appeal of the senses on the other, art, to which monotony is distasteful, never remains stationary.

Dancing, taken in its broadest meaning, has been slower to change than other esthetic pursuits because it was long associated with religious and ceremonial rites.

We are now in the midst of one of the most fascinating phases of its evolution.

For a century and a quarter the dance had crystalized in two forms, through peculiar social conditions: the dancing for amusement between the sexes and the ballet for the divertissement of onlookers.

Adeline Genee, who is to appear here this week, brings us the latest message of the later form of dancing.

This physical expression of muscular action is one that has appealed to man from the earliest days of his culture. It has become the expression of his aspirations, modified by the influence of environment.

Between the war dances of the primitive and of the early classical age and "rag," there is a vast period of change, which constitutes the cycle of the art of dancing, as old as music itself, if not older.

Men first danced to demonstrate their physical beauty and strength, later women entered into modest and coy round dances. This form of expression became religious and was adopted as a means of exciting the zeal of the faithful.

In the early Christian churches provisions were made for dancing by the choir, and the bishops of the early church were often called "proeluses" because they led the dances on feast days, until St. Augustine suggested their elimination. Barred from the basilicas, the dance became the forbidden amusement, gradually accepted by social convention.

With the early years of the eighteenth century the dowager princesses of the court of France refused to attend semi-private functions at which the very objectionable polka, Scottish and Masurka were given.

These very same forms of dancing, now obsolete and commonplace, were at one time, not very distant, considered highly improper.

It may be that the objectionable present styles of the art will some day become very tame also.

Dancing has gone through the varied evolution of the heroic dance, that of wooing and of joyous celebration of events, ceremonial and religious, practiced by man, by groups of warriors, priests, maidens and matrons, on occasions of tribal gatherings; public dancing for entertainment has passed through similar phases also.

Our masked balls are nothing else than the denatured interpretation of the tragic and comic dances of Athens, imported into Rome after the conquest and modified by long abuses, which transformed the exalted form of public entertainment into the Saturnalia, the most obscene of all forms of public amusements that the modern world has known.

Through reaction against its depth of depravity exhibited on these occasions pantomimic dancing was introduced in Florence, and came to France with the advent of Maria de Medici.

It received then the seal of courtly approval and has remained to this day the "corps de ballet" with one or more superior performers: "premiere danseuse etoile" and her assistants.

Beautiful as these difficult gyrations are, they only emphasize one feature of dancing: muscular control and charm of movement, the facial expression is practically overlooked; of pantomime there is none. The acrobatic toe dancing, the ancient "tutu" (the gauzy pink skirt) and the intricacy of steps and figures executed by the feet of the dancers constitute the last shadow of a great art once of universal importance.

The cotillion had gradually eliminated the waltz of our parents, dancing had within recent years ceased to be a recognised accomplishment among men specially. The ballet, which had become very expensive in production, was also on the wane. Dancing in 1890 had practically become extinct and eliminated from our amusements, except as an occasional adjunct to grand opera.

Lois Fuller was one of the pioneers of the new form of dancing, an American interpretation of natural graceful motions, symbolical of the actions of the butterfly, the motions of the flame and the reed. Her performances attracted attention in every capital and constitute the first renascence of the art.

Since this initial step was taken and received with universal approval the Russians have brought out a graceful, yet barbaric, interpretation which has appealed to vast numbers of spectators.

Weary of the meaningless ballet, which conveys to the imagination nothing, and to the senses only rhythmic movements, we are coming back to the modified original message of the terpsichorean art, which should combine muscular action with a pantomimic message.

Maud Allan gave us visions of Salome in her wonderful dances and she may be said to represent the impressionistic school. Ruth St. Denis has attempted a revival of the oriental dances and her mystic portrayals have attracted the attention of European critics.

Adeline Genee has inspired herself of a great predecessor in the interpretation of pantomimic ballet, the celebrated "La Camargo," the most celebrated artist of the eighteenth century.

Her style is classical, reserved and picturesque. She looks as dainty as

POCKET EDITION ORPHEUM OPERA.

POPULAR HITS AT MOROSCO'S THEATERS.

Musical Girls Coming to Pantages. Elixir of Youth Will Go Over for Another Week at the Burbank. "The Witching Hour" Will Be Repeated at the Morosco.

The new Orpheum bill to open Monday matinee March 17—St. Patrick's Day, contains two headline acts of the strongest caliber, and wonderful Edison talking motion pictures, which will receive their very earliest showing on the Coast, here Monday. The two headline acts are Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne, the best known of all vaudeville's "legits," and the big B. A. Rolfe extravaganza, "Puss in Boots," with its company of forty. Mr. Cressy will bring his latest play, "The Man Who Remembered," a new creation, given for the first time on this Coast.

"Puss in Boots" is a fairy tale, modeled after the English pantomimes, with Will J. Kennedy, the noted animal impersonator, as the Puss. It is in four separate acts, with full scenic investiture for each, and besides a lengthy cast, it is equipped with a stunning chorus. A great Amazon march is one of its big features. Of the Edison kintephone, the talking motion pictures, volumes have been written already. This is the first successful attempt to arrive at the solution of the problems of synchronizing the motion picture and the gramophone. The instruments here are installed by Edison experts; have been thoroughly tested, and will prove one of the sensations of theatricals when seen and heard. Volant, with a pretty girl afloat on the top of a piano that moves through the air as he plays it, is another sensation. Edwards, Ryan and Tierney, a "cabaret" number, Hal and Francis, boy and girl, have a singing and talking act called "At the Stock Farm." Apdale has a collection of trained animals that includes even an ant eater, in his "circus." John and Winnie Hennings and the Hess sisters are the only holdovers.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Understood the Reason.

[Topeka State Journal:] "My husband has deserted me and I want a warrant," announced the large lady.

"What reason did he have for deserting you?" asked the prosecutor.

"I don't want any lip from you; I want a warrant. I don't know what reason he had."

"I think I understand his reason," said the official feebly, as he proceeded to draw up a warrant.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. If, after you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY SYDNEY FORD.

ONE of the best musical programmes ever rendered before the Friday Morning Club was that of last week when Mrs. Nell Lockwood McCune, clad in the costume of the daughter of a Sioux chief in brown buckskin decked with silver hammered ornaments and beads, presented a programme of Indian songs. With all the foreign talent that appears on the platform of Los Angeles women's clubs from week to week, it is a matter of local pride that a daughter of Los Angeles makes such a decided hit as did Mrs. McCune, who has not only the voice, but the necessary dramatic temperament that gave to her interpretation of Indian melodies exactly the right tone and touch. She had the stealthy step of the Indian; she swung her papoose Indian fashion in the hammock when she sang the Zunian lullaby and her "Sunrise Call," which is the morning ceremonial given by the Sun-Priest, and which introduced the programme, was one of the gems of the collection of choice songs.

The stage settings were simply perfect—a forest scene, with an Indian tepee set in the midst, and the sympathetic piano accompaniment by Mrs. Helen Lotspeich Gale, and the sweet, faint music of the flute by William Mead that mingled with the notes of Cadman's charming song, "Far Off I Hear the Lover's Flute"—all these harmonious settings added immeasurably to the perfect whole.

The programmes too were works of art; a portrait of the singer—a flame photograph—decorated the cover and clever sketches from the hand of Thekla Mertens of Indians in characteristic poses were adroitly introduced as head and tail pieces.

Included in the programme of songs was one from the new California opera by Victor Herbert, "Natoma." Mrs. McCune's rich, contralto voice is heard every Sunday at the First Methodist Church, where she is one of the soloists. Mrs. Gale as an interlude played delightfully a trio of McDowell's compositions "From an Indian Lodge" and his tributes to a wild rose and to a water lily.

The after-luncheon speaker was Mrs. Mary Hart of Alaska, well remembered by Angelenos of a dozen or more years ago as a local newspaper woman. She spoke most interestingly of club life in Alaska where she first introduced to the women of the frozen north the ideas and principles of women's clubs.

Another guest was Mrs. Emerson H. Brush of Chicago, chairman of the local Biennial Board for the National Federation of Musical Clubs, which is to meet in Los Angeles in 1915.

Soul Significance of Drama.

The spiritual significance of Masterlinck's "The Blue Bird" as given by Mrs. Charles S. Anderson before the drama section of Ebell last Thursday morning was so comprehensive and inspiring as to call out the most enthusiastic expressions of appreciation from the large audience which completely filled the lecture-room of the clubhouse.

The allegory of the soul's pursuit of happiness as portrayed by this wonderful drama was brought out in the most understanding way by Mrs. Anderson, and her practical conclusions touched upon all phases of life. She pointed out the various symbols employed by Masterlinck to illustrate vices and virtues—the dog being the symbol of blind faith; the cat the symbol of deceit, and so on. She called attention to the one incongruous note conspicuous in the fact that Granny's rheumatism followed her into that realm beyond death which is brought out in the scenes in the Land of Memory where Masterlinck pictures death as a delight and a dawn instead of sorrow and darkness.

Mrs. Anderson's word picture of the beautiful azure hall where the children yet unborn await their summons by Father Time as he opens the opalescent doors and calls forth the little souls, was charming, and her final conclusion that the truest happiness lies in simply being kind and letting the blue bird of gladness fly out over the whole world brought to a close her delightful delineation of Masterlinck's masterpiece.

The French Theater.

Dr. Ruth M. Wood, who has lived much abroad and has spent a good deal of time in Paris, read an exceedingly interesting paper before the Ebell drama section last week on the French Theater. She remarked in the outset that the majority of cities along the Mediterranean are not supplied with good theaters. Most of them are associated with the casino and gambling halls. It is in Paris that the theater leads everything in the world of amusement. As the French government stands as sponsor and supporter of the famous theaters in Paris—the Grand Operahouse, the Theatre Francais and the Opera Comique—the actors are relieved of all financial worry. One-tenth of the gross receipts is used by the government to form a benefit fund for the poor of Paris and it therefore sometimes happens that some of the actors themselves become beneficiaries of the proceeds of their own efforts. In the Comique Francais no actor is ever acknowledged as a star, the company as a whole sustaining that character, hence there are no rivals and it goes without saying that Sarah Bernhardt never played there.

Gifted in Dramatic Talent.

Miss Maud Maynard, a daughter of the late Dr. Maynard, who is well remembered by a host of old Californians as one who stood at the head of his profession here a score of years ago, has excellent dramatic talent which was well brought out in her scenes from Rostand's "L'Aiglon" given before the Ebell drama department on Thursday.

Preliminary to the rendition by Miss Maynard, Mrs. J. S. Montague outlined the play which she characterized as a series of dramatic episodes in the life of the young duke, only son of Napoleon—a tragedy of the incomplete—a conflict between the inspiration of a great father and the belittling influence of a trivial mother.

Miss Maynard rendered several scenes, notably that of the history lesson; the scene between the duke and his grandfather; the mirror scene, and a cutting from the scene of the battlefield, concluding with the death scene.

St. Patrick's Luncheon.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale gave a St. Patrick luncheon last Tuesday afternoon at Masonic Hall, which was one of the most enjoyable and best-attended events of the year. Mrs. Dan Campbell, chairman of the Programme Committee, was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Charles Homer Temple and Mrs. E. C. Frank. The hall presented a very pleasing picture. Long tables, decorated in the various emblems of St. Patrick's Day, were laden with choicest products of Southern California converted into cooked dainties by these skillful Glendale clubwomen.

After a few appropriate remarks by the hostess preceding the luncheon, she suggested the singing of "Praise God from Who All Blessings Flow," in which all joined, giving a certain dignity and reverence to the affair. After the luncheon a general mingling of members and guests followed and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. C. Mushet, president of the District Federation, was an honored guest and addressed the audience with a few remarks on pertinent subjects, commending the spirit of hospitality shown and gratifying progress made by the different sections of this club, laying particular stress, however, on the desirability of a club occupying its own clubhouse, thereby giving it better status. Members of the Matinee Musical Club of Los Angeles gave an exceedingly interesting programme of vocal, piano, violin and saxophone numbers, participated in by Mmes. Harry Underwood, F. Junquist, H. C. Lee, E. E. Davis and Miss Zilla Withrow contributed a charming dance.

The following delegates were appointed to the District Federation at Monrovia, March 26-28: Mrs. R. E. Chase and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson; alternates, Mrs. Helen Campbell and Mrs. Charles L. Evans.

The next meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will be on March 25 and will be "Philanthropic Day," in charge of Mrs. L. W. Sinclair.

A Morning in France.

The art and travel section will hold the boards at this week's meeting of the Highland Park Ebell and half a dozen members will present, "The France of Today." Mrs. R. M. Whitney discussing the social structure; Mrs. Jane M. Beatty, the French family life; Mrs. J. R. Riggins, the French temperament; Miss Margaret D. Nevin, French education; Mrs. N. C. Renst, French literature and life, and Mrs. Sarah F. Judson, the question of religion in France.

They'll Talk Books.

The Hollywood Woman's Club will discuss the notable books of the year at a round table this week led by Mrs. John Reid on travel; Mrs. Eleanor Jones on biography; Mrs. F. M. Douglas on fiction; Mrs. Frank Thornburg on the drama, and Mrs. L. W. Peck on children's books. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mmes. J. E. Hoff, W. F. Herndon, S. D. Dice, Frank L. Wilson, Charles B. Hewitt and A. B. Leavelle.

Ebell Tomorrow.

Miss Marion Cock who comes to

Nell Lockwood McCune.

Native daughter of Los Angeles, whose Indian songs made a great hit at the Friday Morning Club.

Los Angeles clubwomen indorsed by such institutions as the Drexel Institute of Art of Philadelphia, the National Geographic Society of Washington and the Art Institute of Chicago, will give a stereopticon [illegible] on "Sicily and the Greek Islands" tomorrow afternoon.

Harmonia Club Philanthropy.

The Extension Committee of the Harmonia Club recently gave a concert at the County Hospital and this week will give two—one at the Soldiers' Home and another for the [illegible] at the State School in Whittier. Miss Ann McNab, soprano; Miss [illegible] Hitchcock, violinist, and Mrs. [illegible] Satterwhite, pianist, will present the first programme, and Mrs. W. F. [illegible]ard, pianist; Mrs. William [illegible], contralto; Miss Isabelle [illegible], violinist, and Mrs. Blanche [illegible], reader, will be responsible for the Whittier entertainment.

At the regular meeting of the club on Thursday the subject for study was Tschaikowsky.

Baum at Cosmos Club.

How to write and produce [illegible] was the subject chosen by [illegible] Baum, playwright and author of the popular "Wizard of Oz" stories, when he addressed members of the Cosmos Club at their meeting last Wednesday in the Ebell Clubhouse. Mr. Baum's latest play, "The Tik-Tok Man," [illegible] will be remembered, is to be produced at the Majestic Theater the week of March 30. He produced his first play thirty years ago this month, and he played the leads in many of his plays as well as writing and producing them.

Preceding Mr. Baum's address [illegible] S. McCullum spoke on the [illegible] seventeen charter amendments to be voted upon March 24 and Miss [illegible] Jacobson, an organist and pianist of note, formerly of Rockford, Ill., [illegible] several piano selections.

The following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the convention of the [illegible] Federation at Monrovia, March [illegible] 28: Mmes. R. C. F. [illegible], Alice Anderson, delegates; [illegible] John Clark and F. B. [illegible], alternates.

After the programme the members met Mr. Baum and the other guests in the tearooms, where a social hour was enjoyed.

The music section of the club will meet with Mrs. A. C. [illegible] at No. 716 West Thirtieth street next Wednesday, when a fine musical programme and social hour will be on the boards. On March 26 the programme for the club will be given by the Music Committee, assisted by Miss Lucile McVey, who has a [illegible] reputation as a story-teller and entertainer and who will soon leave for London on a tour.

Ruskin Art Club.

The Wednesday meeting of the Ruskin Art Club was under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Bradley. Mrs. [illegible] Skeele opened the lesson with an outline of the events which led to the Hundred Years War between England and France—describing the first campaign and telling of the valiant part played by the Countess of [illegible] in the defense of Brittany.

Mrs. H. P. Sweet told of the [illegible] revolt of the peasants known as "the Jacquerie," and gave an account of the "black death" which swept over Europe in the Middle Ages.

Mrs. Herman [illegible] gave the history of the troubled reign of John II, miscalled "the good," and [illegible] story of the long war to the [illegible] of Calais by the English. Mrs. [illegible] Reckard described the [illegible] battle of Poitiers, the deplorable [illegible] of France during the captivity of King John in England, and the [illegible] successful attempt of the [illegible] under Etienne Marcel to obtain constitutional rights.

Friday Morning Guest Programme.

The March guest programme of the Friday Morning Club will be given by the children's department of the [illegible] Dramatic School on Saturday afternoon, March 22. Tickets will be distributed to members of the club this week, to be given out to children who are not in the habit of enjoying the pleasures of a matinee.

Love's Awakening.

quite the funniest play the local stage has ever offered.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" has been prepared for the entertainment of the Burbank audiences just as soon as the "Elixir of Youth" is through, which is a long way off, if the size of the audiences has anything to do with the matter.

Hamburger's Arrow.

Hamburger's Arrow Theater features for Monday, Tuesday and

Ethel Cadman Mason.

"Puss in Boots," Orpheum.

Scene from the "Satan" pictures, Majestic.

Scene from "The Elixir of Youth," Burbank.

Myrtle Howard, Republic.

Scene from "The Witching Hour," Morosco.

Jane Ruppel, Mission Play.

Parisian Violets, Pantages.

Scene from "A Night in the Park," Empress.

Prize Chorus Girls, Century.

At the theaters this week.

Wednesday a two-reel Bronco film, "The Barrier." It is a frontier story of a young lieutenant who is wrongly court-martialed, but who is restored to his rank through bravery in saving the daughter of his colonel from the Indians. The young woman has been secretly in love with him for some time and in nursing the wound he has received she admits her affection. The story finally ends in the wedding of the two. There are two other good reels in this change, "Her Neighbor, Thanhouser, and "Dogs Will Be Dogs" and "Deep-sea Shellfish," a Gaumont split reel.

Egan School.

The Egan School of Music and Drama are planning a series of student entertainments immediately after Easter.

On March 27, a matinee performance will be given by students of the drama department. The one-act play, "Box of Monkeys," and the one-act play, "St. Cecilia," will be presented.

The following Thursday, April 3, a faculty recital has been arranged at which time Mr. Egan will introduce the now famous violinist, Jaime W. Overton, assisted by Mr. Brahm van den Berg, Thomas Taylor Drill and Frank C. Egan. It is also the intention of Mr. Egan to repeat the success of last year's festival at the Auditorium, given in a fitting manner celebrating the Bard of Avon's birthday. Details of the programme will be presented to the public at a later date.

Mozart.

"Carmen," a three-part photoplay, adapted from the well-known opera of the same name, will be featured all next week at the Mozart Theater. This elaborate European production to be presented for the first time, is also the first pictures photographed of this operatic masterpiece. Arranged in effective settings, the motion pictures detail clearly the story of the bandit's daughter and her love for the artist, Salvador.

This photoplay, so exquisitely produced in sunny Spain, is novel in plot, beautiful in scenery, extraordinary in costuming and embraces a love story that has many startling situations. It is one out of a thousand pictures and must interest and entertain. Music for the pictures will be excerpts from the famous opera.

Republic.

One of the most pretentious acts on the vaudeville stage today is "New Year's Eve in a San Francisco Cafe," which comes to the Republic Theater this week as the headliner on another bill of excellence, opening with the usual matinee on Monday.

The act is elaborately staged, the atmosphere of the cafe being maintained throughout.

The act is said to truthfully depict the various forms of harmless amusement indulged in by the visitors to a San Francisco cafe on the eve of the new year.

The Two Gabberts, a man and a maid, are novelty athletes, whose act has been one of the biggest successes on the Levey time.

Comedy singers and dancers are Walters and Murray, who have a real novelty act in which they introduce much comedy and their featured eccentric dancing.

Alberto, a deft deceptionist, who hails from the Antipodes, has a new act which is said to be unique.

Harmon and James are billed as "The Violinist and the Singer."

Dixie Seyfried comes with high recommendations and plenty of press notices as a singing comedienne, par excellence.

German Theater.

Military discipline is nowhere more severe than in the German army. Punishment for insubordination is one of the principal themes in the splendid drama in four acts by F. A. Beyerlein, to be presented by the German Stock Company tonight at the Majestic Theater. A court-martial scene in the third act is said to be particularly strong. Kelsy and Shannon starred in this piece under the Shubert management several years ago. In fact it had quite a run on Broadway under the title of "Taps." Owing to its anti-military tendencies the piece is prohibited in the "Vaterland."

Mission Play.

"It's truly a Besnard red," said a distinguished artist, on seeing the wonderful light effect upon the costumes of the soldiers and Indians in the ensemble of the fiesta scene in the second act of the Mission Play, San Gabriel.

Besnard red is famous throughout Europe, and especially in Paris, where the fashionable modiste has made it extremely popular as the coloring for the latest fabrics. Its first recognition, however, came through a channel not commercial.

Albert Besnard, a painter to the French government, went to India about two years ago, where he made seventy-five sketches in that land of brilliant colors. There he caught with his inspired brush a warm red, strong, brilliant and luminous. The first exhibition in Paris of his paintings on India set the world of fine arts afire with talk of the brilliant warm red coloring, and with that wonderful facility for naming new things for which the French are famed, the new red was immediately named Besnard red.

Local artists not acquainted with the Besnard red should see it visualized upon the stage of the Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel.

The Century.

"Heinz's Neighbor" is the title of the musical melange to be presented at the Century Theater next week with Jules Mendel in the title role as the rotund Heinz. The playlet is full throughout with many comedy situations while musical numbers are strewn throughout the play in abundance.

Clune's.

"Loved by a Maori Chieftess" is the title of the real melothriller which is to be the featured attraction at Clune's Fifth-street Theater next week. The action of the drama is supposed to take place in New Zealand just after the Maori uprising of 1870 when the bitter feeling against the British was growing. A young English trapper is taken prisoner and is about to be burned at the stake by a Maori tribe in revenge for their fellow-countrymen's wrongs. The chief's daughter saves him.

At Clune's Broadway an exceptional bill of first-run pictures will be offered in connection with illustrated songs featuring Beck Abbott, the high soprano, who has come to Clune's direct from New York.

Justice John W. Goff of New York, breaking his rule against public speaking, has accepted an invitation to address students of the Yale Law School.

Promises to Children.

[Liverpool Post:] One of the incomprehensible things to a child is the fashion some grown-up people have of promising and forgetting. There is no surer way to lose a child's confidence and love.

They do not understand excuses or the pressure of circumstances; they only know: "She said she would and she didn't." One child who had used the word "promise" was asked to tell its meaning. He replied, "To promise is to keep it in your mind, keep it in your mind, keep it in your mind, till you do it."

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

Given by Doctor Who Has Treated Thousands of Cases.

A physician, who has made a life work of treating catarrhal troubles, gives the following list of symptoms which indicate when catarrhal germs are present in the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath.
Frequent sneezing.
Dryness of the nose.
Pain across the eyes.
Pain in back of the head.
Pain in front of the head.
Discharge from the nose.
Stoppage of the nose at night.
Huskiness of voice.
Aching of the body.
Tendency to take cold.
Tickling in the throat.
Droppings in the throat.
Burning pain in the throat.
Mouth open while sleeping.
Hawking to clear the throat.
Tickling back of the palate.
Formation of crusts in the nose.
Dryness of the throat in the morning.
A cough.
Pain in chest.
Stitch in side.
Losing in flesh.
Loss of strength.
Variable appetite.
Spasms of coughing.
Low spirited at times.
Cough short and hacking.
Raising of frothy mucus.
Expectorating yellow matter.
Cough worse night and mornings.
Difficulty in breathing.
Loss in vital force.

Until the activity of the catarrhal germs is destroyed by using HYOMEI, the symptoms cannot permanently disappear and you cannot expect to be relieved of catarrh. If you have any of the above symptoms, begin the use of HYOMEI at once. It is nature's treatment for catarrh that is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless benefited.

The price of a complete outfit is but $1.00, extra bottles of liquid if later needed 50 cents. Druggists everywhere.—[Advertisement.

WOMAN OR MAN MOST LOYAL?

Famous Novelist, Author of "Three Weeks," Declares That in Questions of Sentiment Women Are the More Loyal; in Matters of Principle Men Excel.

BY ELINOR GLYN.

THE question whether women are more loyal than men is difficult to answer, because their loyalty is put in motion nearly always by such different motives.

A man, if he is loyal in one thing will generally be loyal in everything—to himself, to his employer, or his employees, to his friends, and sometimes he is even loyal to his wife, though he no longer feels any emotion towards her, but is only acting from duty. Or, should he fail in this one respect, if his character is loyal—and a very large percentage of Englishmen are loyal—he will not fail in any of the others. Whereas, a woman may be disloyal in all these other aspects, and yet be entirely loyal to the man she loves, or she may be disloyal in some of them and loyal in others.

It is only in rare cases that women are perfectly loyal in all things, bringing the principle to bear upon their every action, as numbers of men do as a matter of course.

In the relations of the sexes women are probably far more loyal than men, because women have not that fundamental, fighting, hunting instinct which nature has implanted in all male creatures to make them continue their species against any odds. Woman's instincts are unconsciously directed to keeping what she has won.

But very few people get down to the study of instincts and their meanings in men and women, and so balance one sex against the other, quite forgetting that no comparison is logically possible, because the attributes, aims and uses of the sexes are altogether different.

Since the beginning of time the natural functions of woman in the world have obliged her to gain her ends, not by force, but by using her intelligence and often cunning. When it was a question of a clash of wills in primitive times, woman had not the slightest chance unless she used cunning. She was, and still is, physically much weaker than man; so she can obviously only successfully employ a stealthy way to gain her end.

For countless thousands of years this instinct has been in operation, naturally and unconsciously producing in women a totally different point of view upon questions of principle from that which animates men. Thus women act loyally from emotion in nine cases out of ten, not from principle. When the emotions of affection are excited, the highest loyalty is almost invariably shown by women to husbands and children, and even friends.

A woman will stand by one man or her children to her own peril, through thick and thin with heroic devotion, while she is betraying her friends, her employer, her brothers and sisters. A man will seldom do this, for if he is loyal to the woman he will probably be equally loyal to all others, though it does not follow in a man's case that if he is disloyal to the woman he must necessarily be disloyal in anything else. He may be perfectly loyal in all other things, and yet disloyal to a woman, because his emotions towards women come under the dominion of his hunting instinct and cannot be ruled by principle—and it is principle—or want of it—which guides all his other moral actions. Some of the bravest, truest characters in man have been quite disloyal to women.

But woman, who is always influenced by her emotions, and not really by principle, is generally disloyal and inconstant to everyone, if she is disloyal and inconstant to her husband.

This is not stated in detriment to women, but is only a working out of fundamental instincts. Woman's education for all these thousands of years has also helped to determine her point of view, just as the education of man has tended to foster honor and loyalty as a principle. If only people would use their critical faculties and search back to the meaning of things without prejudice or preconceived notions, they would find that the reason of all the differences between the sexes lie in basic characteristics designed by nature for separate uses and not in the fact of either sex failing to come up to a general standard for both.

In matters of business it would seem that female instinct would make women less loyal than men, for these are not questions of emotion, but involve a sense of what is and is not "cricket"—a sense which most women do not possess.

But all these arguments of mine are only generalising upon the ways of men and women, because of course history proves that there have been splendid individual exceptions to all rules.

Probably the playing of outdoor games, in which there must be co-operation, and the freer life of modern girls, will tend to make women more loyal as a whole, and so they will gain by what they must lose in mystery and charm for men. But it would seem as if it would take thousands of years more to make any alteration in the original instincts of the sex!

It is argued that to give women the vote, and so endow them with a deeper responsibility for the welfare of their country, would promote loyalty and principle in their characters—but to get to the bottom, [illegible] if this were so, there would [illegible] the incontestable fact which no [illegible] ing of laws can alter, that men [illegible] physically stronger than women [illegible] could in any eventuality [illegible] make themselves obeyed. And [illegible] they thwarted and their wills [illegible] ally contested, men certainly [illegible] finally employ this, the only [illegible] method left to them, and so a [illegible] of absolute subjection for [illegible] would begin again.

If the religion of self-respect [illegible] be universally taught, if the [illegible] could be realized that because [illegible] soul is only lent by God each individual is in honor bound not to degrade it while he holds it in his [illegible] and if the principle that it is no matter what anyone thinks of you so [illegible] as you yourself are true to [illegible] and your soul's upliftment [illegible] understood, then the fundamental attributes and instincts of either [illegible] could not war against a noble standard for both. But while the [illegible] is full of shame and hypocrisy [illegible] only the outward behavior [illegible] whether or no you will be found [illegible] matter—women will continue to [illegible] disloyal as often as their emotions direct them.

Two very nice and ordinarily [illegible] women may be bosom friends [illegible] each other all their secrets—they [illegible] then quarrel over a man, and [illegible] will feel herself at perfect liberty [illegible] recount to the world all that [illegible] whilom friend told her during [illegible] period of intimacy and [illegible]. Loyalty no longer holds between [illegible] irritated women. Very few [illegible] would do this, and if they did [illegible] would probably be of the genus "cad" all round, and not only in [illegible] particular matter.

I think the query as to whether women are more loyal than [illegible] might be answered in this manner:

Over questions of sentiment and emotion women are far more [illegible] and over questions of principle [illegible] emphatically excel.

Paris Sends Modish Easter Apparel

Never before has the Blackstone Establishment been so thoroughly equipped to supply your Easter finery needs. Never such assortments, varieties, or charmingly smart styles. Our Eastern buyer is ever on the alert for every late Paris novelty that makes its appearance, expressing it to us to present to our patrons within a few days of its initial showing in New York.

Thoughtful shoppers will make their selection now, while assortments are at their very fullest of the entire Spring season, as in the majority of cases, duplicates cannot be had.

Styles and sizes for both Misses' and Women.

Charming Gowns

A most brilliant display of Evening, Afternoon and Street Dresses; original creations and modified copies of the cleverest ideas of the leading French couturiers.

Gowns of casquedeaux, crepes de chine, Canton and brocaded crepes, failles, moire antiques and an endless array of charming lace gowns.

Prices begin at $25.00 and range on up to $150.00.

Smartest Suits

A season of Fancy Suits surely!

There is the smart Cutaway, the Combination Empire and Cutaway, the quaint Balkan Peasant costume, the Bulgarian Blouse effect and the ever-popular Norfolk. Surely no good thing has been overlooked.

Among those of Silk are plain and brocaded poplins and failles; bengalines, casquedeaux and charmeuse.

In Wools there are a dozen or more novelty weaves and color effects, each distinctively different.

Every price from $25.00 to $150.00.

Coats, Mantles, Wraps

No one season has ever produced so wide a variety of Wrap styles—nor were fashions ever so fetching.

Here you may see the dainty, Short Draped Mantle of Chiffon, the swagger Half Length Cutaway of ratine or eponge, the jaunty English Walking Coat, the comfortable Great Coat for motoring and the smart Norfolk Jacket for golf, each with a style all its own. Indeed the showing is most interesting and instructive.

Waists for Easter

If you would gain at first hand a hint of the new Waist Fashions, come tomorrow. Here are new models of French voiles and batiste, of crepes de chine and chiffon, beautifully made, tastefully trimmed. This week we feature a line of Chiffon Waists, in colors to match your suit, at $5.75.

Polytechnic High.

The colors of the class of summer [illegible] are to be king's blue and white. [illegible] elections were required before [illegible] final decision was reached. At present the class is voting on pins. [illegible] very pretty designs have been [illegible] by the Pin Committee, which consists of Karl Shurz, Hazel [illegible], Pearl Ickes, and Onnolee [illegible]. The new Entertainment Committee has the following members: [illegible] Sandstrum, Lester Righter, [illegible] Head, Thelma Baldwin and [illegible] Ashley.

At the last A.S.B.O. meeting, held March 10, it was decided that all the [illegible] on this and last term's basket-[illegible] teams should be awarded the [illegible] "P" insignia of prowess in the [illegible] athletics. This breaks the Long Beach "invincible" record, and gives Polytechnic the championship of the [illegible] Basketball League.

March 10 an excellent Wagner programme was presented by the German Club. The life of Wagner was [illegible] by Esther Forberg; Ethel Strang [illegible] a talk on the German city of [illegible]. Stories of several of the [illegible] composers' operas were also [illegible]. "Lohengrin" was taken by [illegible] Romandy, the "Flying Dutch-[illegible]" by Eva Smith, and Isabell [illegible] told the story of "Die Meistersinger." There were several good [illegible] numbers on the programme. [illegible] Martin Mistrovich played "Pilgrims' Chorus" as a piano solo; [illegible] Reynolds gave a piano interpretation of "The Wedding March" from Lohengrin; a cornet solo, "The Evening Star," was contributed by [illegible], and Dion Romandy gave [illegible] solo, "The Prize."

The German Club members have [illegible] a picnic for the Thursday of [illegible] week. It is to be held at [illegible] Canyon. The members of the [illegible] Committee are Camil-[illegible] Lewis, president; Violet Norconk, [illegible] Righter, Esther Morbery and [illegible]

[illegible] term's first girls' auditorium [illegible] was held March 11, and the entertainment consisted of performances by the Girls' Gym Club, two [illegible] by the girls' glee, and two selections by the string quartette. Alice [illegible], Onnolee Catlin and Helen [illegible] appeared in a little dance. [illegible], the new vice-president of the student body, presided with [illegible] grace.

Rev. Ed McClellan's talk on English politics in general, and especially Lloyd George, the great English [illegible], was the feature of the meeting of the Civics Club March 12. Rev. McClellan, who is an English minister and has resided in this country [illegible] years, also expressed his ex-[illegible] of the marvelous future [illegible] of the United States, provided the coming generation can rid the [illegible] politics of their degrading [illegible]. Rev. McClellan is a very entertaining speaker, and held the interest of his audience from start to finish.

Los Angeles High.

The banquet last Friday afternoon [illegible] honor of Mrs. Susan Dorsey, who [illegible] the school to become an assistant city superintendent, was one of the most elaborate affairs ever arranged by the faculty. It was an effort to pay a tribute of friendship to [illegible] who has so long been a tireless [illegible] of the school. Despite the realization that it was in the nature of a [illegible], good cheer prevailed and [illegible] rather than regrets [illegible]. During the course of [illegible] Mrs. Dorsey was presented with a handsome necklace, especially designed by Douglas Donaldson, [illegible] with hand-wrought ef-[illegible] pendant opals. Vice-Princi-[illegible] as toastmaster radiated [illegible] in his presentation of the [illegible]. The following responded [illegible] Miss Lucy Howell, "Our [illegible]"; Miss Stewart, "A Friend;" [illegible] Hyde, "Our Inspiration;" Geo. [illegible], "Why We're Glad Mrs. [illegible] is Going;" Miss Edna Gear-[illegible], "Our New Assistant Superintendent;" Mr. Houck, "Our Fellow [illegible]." Songs written by Miss Ber-[illegible] Mrs. Roger Sterrett and [illegible], and set to the tunes [illegible], were sung by the assembled faculty.

The High School Cadet Battalion begins is mid-term camp at Glendora March 17. Col. G. W. Schrieber, military inspector of the National Guard, will be the guest of the camp for at least three days.

Forensics made a clean sweep over athletics in capturing the student body and class offices for the ensuing term. Paul Howe, Star and Crescent, president; Lester Roth, student body president, and Channing Follette, Senior A class president, are all well-known interscholastic debaters.

Gardena Agricultural High.

Great are the preparations being made for the May festival.

Three performances of the extravaganza, to be given in May, will be held in the eucalyptus grove near the school. One is to be arranged especially for visitors from the city.

The visitors will be shown about by student guides. They will see the dairy building, the alfalfa fields, the thoroughbred stock and the various gardens which should be in their prime at that season. In the fields husky lads will be tilling the toil or pitching hay. In the mechanics' building, the sloyd and mechanical drawing will be on exhibition. In the arts and science building there will be seen the splendid work and equipment of the domestic science, arts and music departments.

Toward evening tables will be spread on the lawn, and the guests will be able to provide themselves with refreshments, such as coffee and sandwiches, strawberries and cream.

Commencing about sunset, a special performance of the extravaganza will be given and will continue on through the twilight.

Several varieties of tropical plants have been received from the United States substation at Chico, Cal., having been collected in Australia, South America and the Orient. Among the group there are about four species of acacia, but probably the most valuable tree from an economic standpoint is one similar to eucalyptus. It is a native of Australia and thrives around alkali marshes. The fine-grained wood is used extensively for lumber. There is also a coffee plant, which it is hoped may be made to grow in Southern California. Besides the above, there is the beautiful maidenhair fern tree, the dwarf lemon from China, and a certain species of papaya.

Miss Ethel Taylor ran away with the prize of the senior and junior classes in the "Tattler" tournament for the best story. It is entitled "Revenge," and recounts an incident in child life. Of the freshmen and sophomores, Miss Edith Smith won the prize by her story, which tells about a girl's experiences in an Arizona mining camp. Of the poems, Gardner Kane scooped up the prize with his "Forget-Me-Nots."

Second-street.

The cantata "Cinderella in Flowerland," was given by the teachers and pupils of Second-street School on Wednesday. There were two performances in the afternoon and two in the evening. Only one performance had been planned for the evening, but on account of the crowd two had to be given and even then many were turned away. About $63 were realized.

Miss Elizabeth T. Sullivan,
Who has been recommended to succeed Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey as vice-principal of the Los Angeles High School.

Other choruses between the scenes were: Sunbeam, Raindrops, Poppy, Tulip, Crow, Sweet Pea, Violet, Water Lily, Brownie and Daisy. There were fifteen in each chorus. The stage, decorated in pink and white blossoms, formed a most artistic and delightful background for the dainty blossoms who sang under them. The entertainment was a great success in every way. There was a hearty co-operation between parents and teachers throughout.

The cantata was given primarily to raise funds to help extend the work of the Parent-Teachers' Clinic.

Twenty-first-avenue Intermediate.

The new student council has organized with Claire Eberhard as president, Margaret Barlow, vice-president, and Mark Andre, secretary. Miss Oyler, faculty member, is treasurer.

Saturday, March 8, the tenth-grade girls, with Miss Worthen, physical director, climbed Lookout Mountain. This was the first of a series of Saturday jaunts. Thirty girls went and all enjoyed the outing and are enthusiastic over the next one.

A camera club has recently been organized. The object is to learn to take better pictures and to contribute the best work to "Orange and Black," the school magazine. Mabel Kinsley is the president, Samuel Steelman, secretary, and Florence Bridge the treasurer.

Loreto-street.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Loretto-street School held its meeting on March 11. The main feature of the hour was an address by Assistant Superintendent M. C. Bettinger, on "The Social Center in the School District." He brought out the idea of the continuation of progress in the evening school, where the high ideals followed throughout the public schools are still held constantly before the young people. The notion of social center is also to look after the children of foreigners by teaching them the things pertaining to our customs and government. The ideal socialized school is a community home, a place where, having closed the doors of our private homes, we enter there on a common level, none better nor worse than his neighbor. The highest ideal is the Civic Club, where questions upon which people differ may be discussed, eventually working out for themselves a solution as to what is for the best interests of the community. Then they will know how to vote.

Mrs. Glass, formerly of Loreto-street School, and organizer of the Circle, followed, in a few kindly words of greeting. Miss McClure of Monte Vista-street School sang beautifully.

The Membership Committee, with Mrs. Lanborn as chairman, started a contest for new members.

The resignation of Mrs. Owen as president was accepted on account of illness, and Mrs. Kelsey was appointed in her place.

Parent-Teacher Association.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held on Wednesday evening in the auditorium of Vernon-avenue School, Mrs. Alice Merriam presiding. Judge Wilbur gave the address of the evening on the subject: "Recent Changes in the Juvenile Court Work and the Crime Problem."

Miss Milner had charge of the musical part of the entertainment, which consisted of an instrumental selection by the Maygrove family, with Mrs. Maygrove at the piano and Dorothy, Gladys and Constance Maygrove playing the piccolo, cornet and drum, Ralph Beasley accompanying on the violin; a vocal solo by Mr. Chandler and selections by the school orchestra, the members names being as follows: Hazel Horn, Vernon Nuthall, Gladys Maygrove, Dorothy Maygrove, Ralph Beasley, Winfred Bullock, Pridham Davis, Laura Pelletier, Clarence Lenarth, Emele Sharon, Alice Horacek, Bertha Betsworth. Francis Pelrin gave a recitation, "Our Flag," very cleverly, and the folk dance, "Oxdansen," was given with Leslie Chandler, Cecil Weaver, Edwin Lally, Bernard Milner, Darel Linkenfelter, Harold Helsley, Donald Diegnan and Vincent Brigante taking part.

Duc d'Orleans has just purchased Putdeal castle, on the road to Tervueren, about six miles from Brussels, for the purpose, it is stated, of residing there permanently after bringing his art collection and valuables from England. What's Best Of the Spring Fashions!

NEW—but more than new. For the best of Spring Fashions will give service. Not the service of primness of trimming and guaranteed-not-to-wear-out materials;

BUT the service of being attractive—becoming. And tomorrow—as well as today. Color combinations you don't tire of—lines that are good—materials worthy your buying.

The J. W. Robinson Co.
Broadway and Third

Rose Colorings:—

THEY are the reason for the becomingness of so many of these new hats.
Take this very small model made entirely of closely-piled ratine. Ratine as soft looking as rose-colored moss.
It's wonderfully becoming. And those tiny flowers in violet and rose colorings look as though they had actually grown right there.
In rose-color, too (softened to almost an Old Rose)—the long wired ribbon loops in back.

Gloves for Less:—

KID gloves—in all sizes—full pique sewn; with the single clasp and in white, sand color, Wood Brown and Ash Gray,—
For 95 cents, instead of $1.50!
And 16-button "evening" gloves—of real French Kid—with the three pearl clasps—and in all the new Sand colorings that "go with" everything,—
For $2.50—instead of $3.75!

The Right Corset:—

Before you are fitted in any of these Fashions of Spring!
Those little expert pulls and pats. That expert handling of the lacers—so that none of the good lines of the corset are destroyed;—
They mean very nearly as much as the finding of your model in the right corset.
We shall be very glad to expertly show you—to explain just how to put on your corset.

Linen Burlap:—

FOR spring wash suits—there's nothing more serviceable—nor smarter.
And it tailors splendidly.
There are the best of the new spring colorings. A soft pretty lilac tone, Sage Green, Nut Brown and Ivory.
$1 a yard—and 54 inches wide.

Community Silver:—

REFLECTING the graceful artistry of Sheraton design—in the Crest design, symbolic of Louis XVI times—and patterned after the simplicity of the Georgian period.

For a Spring Suit:—

THERE'S a twilled serge in dull blue—with a thread-like stripe of lilac. And black with a thread of Old Blue.
There's a splendid style Bedford Cord—the raised stripes of the material alternating with a stripe of white.
Serges, Cheviots and Epingles—in the new Ivory shades. And the most serviceable of black-and-white check weaves—a practical spring suit—or one for traveling.

Traveling Bags—$6.50:—

OF genuine cow-hide—all leather-lined, made with re-enforced corners and from 14 to 18 inches long.
A new receival of wicker suit cases!
And hand bags of pin seal and morocco, in gray, blue, black and brown—for $5.
These in the new, slender oblongs—with the back straps, envelope style and almost squares.

Bulgarian Blue:—

YOU'LL find it in the new linens and ratines—for young girls.
It is especially girlish in a dress of Bulgarian Blue linen—the long peplum and sailor collar scalloped in vivid red and a bow of red at the throat.
Then—in a Bulgarian blouse effect—the waist and peplum of ratine in the blue—the skirt of white linen. And given quaintness and becomingness by many plaited frills—kerchief style.

Washables in Silks:—

DELICATE new grays—striped in white; cool green and white stripings; white with a thread of black; Bulgarian Blue and White, with alternate satiny stripes.
And Washable Crepes—dainty lavender-and-white pin stripes; alternate stripes of soft gray and rose color.
All of them—really washable.

Black-and-White:—

CHECKS and stripes—go to make up many of the best looking of the new suits.
Just tailored—mannishly-tailored, some of them. Or faced back with black faille silk, the collars and smart bindings of the silk on the cuffs and back.
Splendid style spring suits. And serviceable!

Dress Forms—$3.50:—

Easter Gifts:—

FASHIONED from Dresden ribbon and ribbon in the rose shades, Tapestry Blue, Golden-rod and Shell Pink.
Dainty, fanciful Pretty Things!
And cretonne has been used for the quaintest candle shades, fringed in pearl beads and gold braided. One of these shades, the candlestick and candle—for $1.30. A lovely Easter Gift!

THESE are sale-priced on Monday:

EMBROIDERED black lisle stockings; 50 and 75 cent values—are 25 cents. And $1.50 values in embroidered silk stockings—are 95 cents!

SILK Petticoats of a good quality of messaline, in black, blue, rose, gray, brown—are $2.9 These are $5 values. A few splendid black taffetas at this price, too.

THERE'S a window to show how attractively the new curtain stuffs—filmy, cob-webby Filets—combine with a satin over-drape—or with the silky luster of a new sun-fast weave—in colors that harmonize with the decorative plan of your room!

Tuesday:—A sale of Embroidered Flounces!

MRS. ALEXANDER MITCHELL PALMER

Wife of the Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, Powerful Supporter of Woodrow Wilson in the Anti-convention Days and Mentioned in Connection With Many Important Posts in the New Alignment.

BY MARGARET B. DOWNING.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—In this complexity of woman movements, of missions and higher vocations, it is something of real joy to find one who believes in the simple creed of being happy as the universal panacea. Such a woman is Mrs. Palmer, wife of the member of Congress from the Twenty-sixth District of Pennsylvania, and at present quite a matter of speculation in political circles. Mr. Palmer was a Wilson champion long ago, and has continued to be first, last and all the time. He has talked "Wilsonia" all the way down the alphabet and then backwards to his starting point, says one of his colleagues. Naturally he has been speculated upon from the day of Mr. Wilson's nomination, and his many friends predict a roseate future. Mrs. Palmer is not at all agitated in either direction, whether her husband will be among the chosen, or whether she will continue among the dominant figures in the Congressional wing. She possesses a serenity of mind which would have delighted Marcus Aurelius.

"I have a firm belief," said Mrs. Palmer, "that except in rare instances happiness is something which may be cultivated. There are scores of examples, of course, of those whom sorrow pursues, and who are never removed from the shadow of tragedy and misfortune. But take the ordinary man and woman who get along fairly well in the world. They can be happy if they desire, and if they are happy they add to the sum total of human bliss and make the world, their country and themselves all the better for it. I call my life a happy one as far as I have gone, and I think I can continue happy, for accidental things like great wealth, or exalted rank, do not make happiness any more than being deprived of them should cause misery. Take things calmly is a good motto and a very fine recipe for keeping happy and in fair terms with yourself and the rest of the world."

Mrs. Palmer's judicial attitude toward rank and social supremacy is significant, since whether or not her husband is called to a higher place she will remain a dominant figure in the new administration. Though she possesses an income which could easily rank with many of the social leaders, she has always been reserved and unostentatious, and her conduct fits in well with the prognostications of what the new Presidential ladies will do. The serious aspects of life will assuredly be more before the public mind than hitherto, but such women as Mrs. Palmer will lend a rosy hue to strict performance of duty. Those who presume to outline the policy of the administration from the social viewpoint say that Mrs. Wilson and her daughters will restore the old way of stately functions without that admixture of private and intimate gatherings which have leavened both the Roosevelt and Taft regimes. Mrs. Wilson is considering the old method of the first lady of the land giving a public reception certain afternoons in each month when any respectable person may bow before her. Mrs. Cleveland was the last mistress of the White House to observe a custom inaugurated by the most famous mistress of the White House, Dolly Madison. Mrs. Cleveland held levees every Saturday afternoon in January and February, and she bestowed the same radiant smile on the turbanned negro mammy walking with rheumatic joints that she did on the fur-clad woman of fashion. Mrs. McKinley was an invalid and the custom was changed because of her inability to follow it. After the assassination of Mr. McKinley, all public receptions were frowned upon as a matter of safeguarding the chief magistrate and his family.

It is understood that those charged with the personal safety of the new President do not listen kindly to the rumor that the Wilsons are to restore the old way, and many influences are at work to persuade the President-elect not to permitt a mass of people unknown and uninvited to invade the White House. But those in whom Mrs. Wilson and her daughters will find congenial companionship are in favor of the old way. Mrs. Mitchell Palmer, for instance, has tremendous confidence in the innate goodness of the American people and she frowns upon the party lines set up between smart society and mere official rank. With many of the Democratic hostesses, who will be powerful factors for the next four years, she holds that the highest official is only the servant of the people and that he should return in courtesy all the obligations which his selection means. Mr. Wilson has proclaimed his intention of being a Democratic President in all the name implies, so everyone concerned is prepared for radical changes.

Mrs. Alexandra Mitchell Palmer.

In the Congressional Club Mrs. Palmer has been a quiet dominating force and this coming season will find that organization on a plane of social power which it has not yet reached. Under the leadership of Mrs. Roberts of Massachusetts, it acquired prestige of a gratifying nature, but the social leaders of the Republican party still clung to the fleshpots of Egypt as typified by the winter colony and they did not gleefully join the sturdy band of official hostesses who wished to bring back their set to past triumphs. The democratic women have been rather overlooked and they are ready to take the stand for official status as against the prestige, accorded private individuals here to spend their princely incomes. Mrs. Palmer was also active in making the Dolly Madison breakfast successful and she favors the permanent organization which before every Presidential nomination will bring the women of the democracy together with a view of ignoring personal ambitions and private grievances to work for the cause. In other questions, suffrage, the various movements to improve civic and industrial conditions, Mrs. Palmer is sympathetically and in some cases actively interested. She is, however, content to play a passive role on all public questions.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are among the young contingent in the House and the marriage which occurred in 1898 was the result of a college romance. Mr. Palmer graduated from Swarthmore College in the early '90s, with such a brilliant record that his fame descended to the freshman class of two years later in which Miss Roberta Bartlett Dixon matriculated. The admiration of his success in college ripened into a warmer sentiment as time went on and as soon as Mr. Palmer had established his future on a promising basis, the marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Dixon at Easton, Md., and Mr. Palmer took his bride shortly after to their present home, Stroudsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Palmer comes from illustrious Quaker stock and she is proud of her claim to direct descent from one of the pioneer society of Friends who came to the Land of William Penn from England in 1682. Since those days her forefathers have strictly adhered to the religious tenets of the Friends and remain now in the same communion. As her Alma Mater Swarthmore College at the city of the same name in the Keystone State possesses that wonderful collection of books called the Friends' Historical Library, Mrs. Palmer has devoted much time to the study of the admirable government and development of the wilderness under the laws of those religious pioneers.

"There is not," she said, "a college in the East which has so much to commend itself to the spirit of modern progress as Swarthmore. It was founded in 1869 by a body of the Friends' Society that might be termed a liberal wing and it was from the very beginning co-educational. This alone should mark it as considerably in advance of the time, for at that date higher education for women was as much condemned in many influential quarters as votes for women now. It was the second educational institution east of the Alleghany Mountains to open its halls for women. The campus is a wonderful region, more than 200 acres, which cluster around a marvelous natural gorge, a proper environment for student, poet or artist. Benjamin West, the celebrated painter, was born within sight of this gorge and the farm which his parents owned is now part of the college possessions. The library must be used by all who wish to write accurately of the early Quaker settlement of the Keystone State and probably no more fascinating chapter opens for original research. In the rare manuscripts and early letters of the pioneers is wonderful material for the historian and for the lover of historical romance. The books of William Penn cover a wide range of themes and in their earlier editions are to be found in this library. Two written in the Tower of London, when he was imprisoned for his religious conviction, 'No Cross, No Crown,' and 'Fruits of Solitude,' contain the most valuable treasury of advice and though long forgotten by students of English literature they came into fresh popularity through the praise of Robert Louis Stevenson. This brilliant writer found religious consolation and promise in the 'Fruits of Solitude,' and cullings from it adorn many of his pages."

There is one small girl in the Palmer family, Miss Mary Dixon Palmer, at present attending the Friends' school. Her parents being both college trained, Miss Mary will probably go either to the alma mater of her father and mother, Swarthmore or to Bryn Mawr. She is a studious little girl in her tenth year, and shows no desire to figure in a social career. In Stroudsberg, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are personages. Mr. Palmer is connected with every public-spirited movement and his wife is arrayed on the side of all that means civic betterment and more hopeful conditions for every class of working people. But they are as reserved and conservative there as here and though they are social powers they are not conspicuous in social affairs, nor what is called "leaders of society" even in a restricted sense. Mrs. Palmer is not a club woman, though she is allied with many useful patriotic and civic societies. From both sides of her house she is descended from English pioneers who came to Pennsylvania or to New York, then New Amsterdam, in the latter part of the seventeenth century. Her father, who resided in Easton, Maryland served in the State Legislature and in Congress and was a highly respected citizen. In appearance Mrs. Palmer is typical of her training and her convictions. She is always gowned quietly though with excellent taste with expert attention to details and to richness of fabric. Her home presents the same aspect of comfort and richness without the least obtrusiveness. She is frank in manner and speech and has the excellent habit of speaking from conviction as rather than for motives of policy.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson, a direct descendant of Gurdon Saltonstall, Colonial Governor of Connecticut in 1780, has died at Saratoga Springs in her 102nd year. She was born in New London, Ct.

ALFONSO'S FAMILY STILL GROWING.

INCREASE IN ROYAL PRINCES MAY EMBARRASS SPAIN.

Question of What to Do With Descendants of Monarchs Is Becoming Serious Problem in Europe Especially in Countries Burdened With Heavy Civil List.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, March 15.—At Buckingham Palace and in English court circles generally there is great interest in the event expected shortly in the household of the Spanish royal family. Although married as recently as 1906, King Alfonso and Queen Ena have already four children, and would have had five if one royal infant had not died soon after birth. The little stranger whose advent is expected will maintain the almost monotonous regularity with which events of this kind have occurred in the royal family. The question is no doubt an extremely delicate one; but it certainly does, and will, arise for serious consideration, and it is this: Having regard to the uncertainty of Spanish politics and the growing menace of republicanism—to say nothing of the fact that royal princes and princesses are a charge on the state—is it altogether prudent, or even just, that such a large family should be brought into the world?

PROBLEM OF PRINCES.

"What to do with our princes" will one day become a serious problem not only in Spain, but also in other countries. No sane person likes republicanism, but almost every day brings some sign that the monarchial idea is slowly, but surely, weakening throughout Europe, and these signs it would be stupid to ignore. Yet, strangely enough, in proportion as the monarchy is losing its hold, so the families of monarchs are increasing, and it is safe to say that at no period in history has the average number of children in the royal families of Europe been so high.

STILL MORE MAY COME.

In the case of the royal family of Spain, both the King and Queen are still quite young, and there is no reason to suppose that the number of children born to them will fall short of double figures. One has, of course, to remember that the still powerful influence of clericalism is largely responsible for this, for, to put it bluntly, the limitation of families is strictly forbidden by the Roman Catholic religion. Then, unfortunately, the Spanish royal family is not remarkable for robust health.

Although the late King's malady has not yet declared itself in King Alfonso XIII, yet His Majesty's health is a matter of constant anxiety, and he has already undergone several operations for his throat. Moreover, his second son, the infant Jamie, has ever since his birth been in a precarious state of health, and can never be much more than an invalid. Financially, too, the problem is likely to become acute at no very distant date. Each infant and infanta will have to be provided with a civil list befitting their station, and the burden, for a comparatively impecunious country like Spain, is sure to be resented by a large number of the people.

MADERO'S ERRATIC ACTS CHARGED TO SPIRITUALISM.

Inside Story of Facts Leading Up to Death of Mexico's Late President Show Him to Have Been Irresponsible and Guided by Belief in Occult—Uprising Said to Have Been Hastened on This Account.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 12.—Now that the chief actor in the events leading up to what is known in Mexico as the "tragic fortnight" has forever been removed from his sphere of action, it has been decided by friends of the present government that certain facts heretofore carefully concealed from the public, should be given to the world in order that the real conditions existing in this country previous to the last revolution may be known, especially to Americans who were friends of the former executive.

More than six months ago rumors began to circulate in the capital that the health of President Madero was gradually giving away under the strain imposed upon him as the head of the nation and also by the fact that the revolutionists in both the north and south were bradually gaining ground and that it was only a question of time when the then existing government must give away to the popular will.

MADERO A SPIRITUALIST.

In the beginning the announcement was made that President Madero had interested himself in the study of the occult sciences and a little later it was known to a coterie of political enemies that at least three spiritualistic mediums had been employed to give interpretations to messages, said to have been received from beyond the tomb.

Only the merest hints of what was really passing in the National Palace were allowed to reach the press and The Times correspondent was among the first to be threatened with the dire vengeance of the government if the subject was ever referred to again.

Two weeks later at a private seance attended by the President and a few chosen friends, the spirit of Moctesuma, the Aztec emperor, was announced and, according to a friend of Gen. Felix Diaz, who was present as an invited guest interested in such matters, the shade of the great ruler divulged the fact that more than $300,000,000 in solid gold had been buried in the center of Lake Texcoco. It was announced that at 1 o'clock in the morning of the same night President Madero called his engineering staff and demanded estimates on the cost of draining the lake. As this operation presented no great engineering difficulties, it was explained to the Executive that the waters formerly composing the lake proper, at present were underlying the city and were of incalculable value in preventing destructive earthquakes, as the force of the temblors was broken by the layer of semi-liquid mud.

MADERO'S WILD PLAN.

Despite these revelations the President is said to have ordered a full set of working plans and at a later meeting of a well-known secret order to which he belonged, President Madero is said to have announced that the Madero family would soon rival the Rothschilds in wealth.

During the next few weeks it was reported that a large number of former great men had appeared at the Presidential seances, but in each case their communications were carefully guarded from the public and the press. It was not until a few weeks ago, when the announcement was seriously made that Bismarck had been pleased to communicate with President Madero, that members of the revolutionary junta began to ask if Mexico was not ruled by a madman?

The story of Bismarck's alleged appearance in his spiritualistic robes of office and the advice that he is said to have given Madero regarding the proper method of governing "an ignorant people" was immediately telegraphed to The Times and later sent back to this country translated into Spanish. The publication of this statement, which was duly credited to the Los Angeles Times, created a sensation and steps were taken to verify the facts. As the story could not be denied in the face of positive evidence to the contrary, a few days later The Times was informed in confidence that another revolution, having for its object the downfall of the Madero government, was being planned and that "action" could be expected within a few weeks at the longest.

MADERO AWARE OF DANGER.

That Madero was aware of his danger is shown by the fact that he personally ordered the removal of Gen. Felix Diaz from the prison of San Juan de Ulua in Vera Cruz, to this city, where the President explained Gen. Diaz could be kept under constant observation.

Less than a week before the uprising of February 9, certain American newspaper men were informed that the time "was nearly ripe" and the night previous to the attack on the National Palace word was sent to those in the secret "not to fail to go to church early in the morning."

It has been charged, but subsequently denied, that an English correspondent interpreted the "go-to-church-early" message for the President's benefit, and for this reason the soldiers quartered in the palace were in a measure ready to receive the revolutionists.

Word already had been given that the palace had surrendered, when Gen. Bernardo Reyes, who had just been released from prison, dashed up at the head of his rebellious troops and was immediately shot through the head.

The subsequent execution of Gen. Gregorio Ruiz, by order of Madero and in defiance of Mexican law, produced a reaction in favor of the revolutionists, even among those who were disposed to uphold the legally-elected executive. The slaughter that followed the ineffectual attempts to take the Ciudadela with troops armed only with Mausers, added to the flame of discontent and this condition was seized upon by Gen. Diaz, to direct confidential letters to the army chiefs suggesting that some means be adopted to put a stop to the civil warfare, which by this time was beginning to be felt on both sides.

SECRET CONFERENCE FOLLOWS.

Then followed the secret conference at which it was decided that the President and his chief advisers should be placed under arrest until the country could be pacified sufficiently to permit of a national election. It is now believed, however, that at a council of war, the lives of Madero and Vice-President Pino Suarez were demanded as the only hope of guaranteeing peace, and it is now known that Gen. Blanquet intimated to President Madero that his immediate absence from the country was the only method of stopping the fight. Madero is said to have demurred to this proposition, and it was then decided that "something must be done."

It is stated that Madero was accused of being a spiritualist, and did not deny the allegation, declaring it to be his right to join whatever church his conscience dictated.

GOOD WORD FOR WILSON.

Austrian Emperor Admires New President.

Vienna Again More Friendly Toward Serbs.

Archduchess Gives Up Court For Happiness.

BY EMIL ANDRASSY.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

VIENNA, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Great age has not enfeebled the mind of the Emperor Franz Josef, and never has he been worked harder in the adjustment of the affairs of the dual-monarchy. Outside events also engage his attention, and his leisure moments he devotes to listening to one of his secretaries reading the foreign newspapers and discussing interesting happenings and topics.

Thus, a friend of mine found him sitting, his pipe in one hand and the other holding a very good portrait of the new American President, Woodrow Wilson, a few days ago in the garden of the palace. Even in inclement weather the Emperor loves life in the open.

Franz Josef was examining the picture with a friendly, critical eye. After his visitor was presented he talked about Mr. Wilson and asked numerous questions as to his life and children.

"He is a very great man—a very fortunate man, too," he observed thoughtfully. "It is much to know that you have really been chosen as most fit to govern such a vast number of people."

The Emperor has written a personal autograph note to the President, wishing him an auspicious administration.

The changed tone of the leading Austro-Hungarian papers toward Servia and their desire for a friendly political, commercial and economic understanding with the Balkan states, and in particular with Servia, have produced the deepest impression and lively satisfaction throughout Servia.

Austro-Hungarian diplomacy has often expressed a desire for a hope for better political and economic relations with Servia, but during the last quarter of a century has acted as though it wished to obtain the contrary results. If an article appeared against the Austro-Hungarian policy in some independent Belgrade paper the export of Servian pigs was stopped, and Servian trade, having no other outlet except through Austria-Hungary, experienced all sorts of vexation.

In 1904 a tariff union was contemplated between Servia and Bulgaria, but Austria-Hungary protested, threatening the denunciation of the commercial treaty with Servia if the tariff union was concluded. Servia was frightened and abandoned the union, but in spite of this Austria-Hungary denounced the commercial treaty, and declared a tariff war upon Servia, which lasted three years.

On the eve of the annexation crisis a commercial "provisorium" was arranged, but Austria-Hungary felt dissatisfied and expressed a desire to put the commercial relations of Servia on a broader basis. Servia acquiesced, the provisorium was denounced, and a new commercial treaty discussed and concluded between the two governments. But Count Aehrenthal was unable to obtain the ratification of the Austrian and Hungarian Parliaments, and therefore, a new treaty, worse than the provisorium, was concluded to meet the views of the Austro-Hungarian agrarians.

Now, Austria-Hungary again feels satisfied with the existing commercial and political relations with Servia, and her renewed desire to change them for better ones filled all responsible quarters in Servia with satisfaction. Austria-Hungary's wish will be met half way.

TWO GREAT REVIEWS.

King of England Will Have His Armies March by to See If They Are in Fighting Trim.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] King George will hold two great reviews of troops in London during the coming summer. The first will be a review of the Brigade of Guards, and it will be notable as the first occasion on which the sovereign has held a review of all the battalions of the guards. The second will be a review of the Territorial Force, at which those units at or approximating to full strength will be represented.

GERMANS ARM IN EARNEST.

Propose to Increase Forces Fifty Per Cent.

Search Every Cranny For More Revenue.

Kaiser Helps Jesuits to Re-Admission.

BY MALCOLM CLARK.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

BERLIN, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The experts of the Imperial Treasury are now hard at work looking into nooks and crannies where taxable wealth is scented in order to devise new means of raising the $17,000,000 addition to the maintenance cost of the military establishment. Verily, Germany is arming in deadly earnest and the French remonstrances are as nothing compared with the bitter attacks upon Kaiser and Chancellor uttered day after day by the German Radicals.

The German army consists of twenty-four army corps. Each army corps consists of two divisions of the line, besides cavalry. These forces are recruited by conscription, and about 43 per cent., or considerably less than half of the youth of the country are chosen. The selection is generally made of those whose physique is the best. It is now proposed largely to increase this proportion, and to train almost all who are physically fit, perhaps 64 per cent. instead of 43 per cent., of the annual contingent of youths available. If this idea is put into practice, a corresponding increase in the fighting units of the German army will be required; so that, instead of mustering twenty-four corps in the first line, there may be thirty or even thirty-two. The existing organization provides four categories of troops. Four or five annual contingents constitute the two divisions of the first line in each corps. The next four contingents duplicate this array, for each division of the line has its reserve division, which would be mobilized immediately after the march out of the line division, and would perhaps be able to follow it in a week or less. In two weeks after the decree of mobilization the German army would be completely duplicated and ready for action with ninety-six divisions of infantry, besides cavalry and artillery.

Besides the divisions of the line with their corresponding reserve divisions, and a certain surplus of soldiers not allotted to these units and left at their depots, the German army comprises two other lines or categories of troops. They are the Landwehr and Landsturm. The latter is not organized in peace, and would only be called upon in a prolonged struggle, but the Landwehr regiments would be assembled in arms as rapidly as possible after the mobilization of the reserve divisions, and should produce as many troops. Their role would be to garrison and defend the fortresses in the homeland, to guard and keep open the lines of communication of the field army, and no doubt their help would be called upon if an important fortress had to be reduced by siege or blockade. The organized forces then at the disposal of the Kaiser are three bans, each of nearly 1,000,000 armed men. Behind these, again, stand the unorganized contingents which could be called up as required to replace the losses of war. Not less than 2,000,000 more Germans belong to this last ban.

JESUITS ARE ADMITTED.

The German empire has wiped off the statute book the law forbidding the Jesuit order to preach or practice in the rule of their communion in the Fatherland. The repeal of the expulsion law was affected by a private bill and it passed through all stages without a division. It is understood that Kaiser Wilhelm personally interested himself in the progress of the bill and one of his reasons is said to be the fact that a German is now the "Black Pope," or Superior General of the Society of Jesus.

PRINCES TURN TO ATHLETICS.

When the American athletes come to Berlin in 1916 to compete in the Olympic games they will find among the gladiators of path and field arrayed against them in all probability no less than three German Princes. Prince Joaquim, the Emperor William's youngest son, has joined the officers' section of the Berliner Sport Club with the expressed intention of contesting for international championship against the all-victorious Americans. Following Joachim's lead, his cousins, Princes Sigismund and Friederich Karl of Prussia, have taken to casting the javelin and sprinting on the track. Friederich Karl is described as a marvel for speed in the shorter distances while Sigismund is gaining ground steadily as an endurance runner.

PRIEST SLAIN IN CHURCH.

The people of Mulheim have been shocked by a most unusual murder, perpetrated in the Church of St. Engelbert during the celebration of mass. While the congregation was absorbed in its devotions, a man who clutched something underneath his cloak entered the building and stole softly on slippered feet to one of the confessional boxes. There he pulled back the curtain, and producing a gun from beneath his cloak, fired both barrels over the head of a young girl who was confessing, at a priest on the other side of the inner window, killing him instantly.

The victim was a visiting missionary, and the murderer when arrested stated that he had "made a mistake," as his intention had been to shoot a local priest who had "stolen his guardian angel."

BORROWER FEELS LIBELED.

The non-return of a borrowed book forms the basis of a libel action which will shortly come before the Bavarian courts at Bamberg. A professor lent Heine's poems to a friend, but as the book had not been returned at the end of eight weeks, despite frequent warnings, the professor sent his forgetful friend a post card on which was pasted the following cutting from a newspaper: "The German buys no books. He borrows them and never gives them back."

The borrower felt himself libeled and, though he has not yet returned the volume, instituted proceedings. It appears that he lent the volume to a lady, who in turn lent it to someone else.

Madero's Erratic Acts.

dero was again called into conference with his ministers and the army chiefs under his command, and again Gen. Blanquet demanded his resignation in order to save the country.

Seized with a show of sudden anger in which it was believed that President Madero was about to have another epileptic fit, such as common report among the ruling classes attributed to him during the last few months, the President demanded to know if he was surrounded by spies, traitors or both, and upon receiving no reply, it is asserted that without warning he drew an automatic pistol and shot Col. Riveroll through the head, the latter being nearest to the executive at the time of the shooting. An attempt was made to kill Madero by Gen. Blanquet, but this was frustrated by Gen. Huerta, who demanded that Madero be held for legal trial on the charge of murder and also the charge that he had taken the country's funds from the banks the previous day.

REPORT OF REVOLUTIONS.

During the two or three days that followed, word was received at the revolutionary headquarters that the Madero family were preparing counter revolutions against the Huerta government. The arrest of Gustavo Madero, the chief of the Maderista party, brought to light the now celebrated list of suspects who already had been condemned to death at the hands of the Porristas, as the secret faction of the Madero party was called, and this tended to add fuel to the flames.

In the list were more than a score of Americans, some of whom already had mysteriously disappeared, and others who had been called upon for "loans" and subsequently had refused to give anything to the dying cause. Upon being questioned by the chiefs of the movement, Gustavo Madero assumed an insulting attitude toward his captors and assured them that he would make short work of them as soon as he was again restored to power. It is not believed that Gustavo knew at that time that his brother and the Vice-President were already prisoners in the hands of Huerta, but be this as it may, that evening it was decided that Gustavo must die.

In this case there was no attempt to veil the fact hat he was executed for the good of the country, and he was made to understand that other members of the family would soon follow. He is said to have admitted that his brother was arbitrary and obstinate, and acted at times as if bereft of his senses, but as this did not excuse the many crimes with which he himself was charged, Gustavo was invited to "take a ride to the Ciudadela," where he was placed against a wall and in the light of the full moon, which cast an unusual radiance over the city, he announced that he was ready, and a moment later fell pierced by a dozen Mauser bullets. An official of two instrumental in the death of Gen. Reyes met the same fate a moment later.

FATE OF MADERO.

On the night of February 22 President Madero, already having resigned under duress, and Vice-President Suarez were also invited to change their quarters to the penitentiary of the Federal district. On the way it is alleged that a band of Maderistas attempted to effect the release of the two prisoners, and that in the battle that followed both Madero and Suarez were shot down. Several others are said to have been either killed or injured, but as their names were not made public, the matter was allowed to drop.

As stated by an official high in the council of the present regime: "It just had to be done. That is all."

Among Americans generally and especially those connected with a prominent secret organization, the belief exists that there is ample proof to show that the plucky little man who won a place for himself in Mexican history, "had not been himself" since being called upon to assume burdens that would have staggered even Bismarck himself in his palmy days. The result still remains an enigma, but the friends of the government hope for better things.

HALDANE COMING TO AMERICA.

Though British Law Forbids His Leaving the Realm, He Will Address American Bar Association.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the approval of King George, Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, has accepted the invitation of the American Bar Association, tendered by Frank B. Kellogg, to be its guest of honor and deliver the annual address at the meeting of the association, which is to be held this year in Montreal on September 1.

This is an exceptional honor, as under the English law the Lord Chancellor is the keeper of the great seal and is not allowed to leave the realm while he holds office.

Lord Haldane sails on August 22 with his sister, Miss Haldane, and will stop a couple of days in New York. He will then go to Montreal, address the Bar Association and leave for England on September 3.

Frank B. Kellogg, president of the association, was in London four weeks on this mission.

Women's Easter Suits and Coats

Infinite variety is the distinguishing characteristic of the Hamburger showing. Materials include wool poplins, wool bengalines, brocade silks, worsteds, checks, silk poplins, eponges, coliennes, silk moire, Bedford cords, whipcords, stripes, mixtures, etc. Among the favored shades are gray, tan, navy, Balkan blue, rose tints, sand, taupe, brick, smoke, brown, etc. There are stunning plain tailored models, Balkan blouse and trimmed cutaway styles. The new collars of satin, Dresden silk, Bulgarian linen and embroidery add a much admired touch to many of them. Prices range from $45.00 to $100. Alterations, when necessary, are made by experts and guaranteed to please you.

*CREAM SUITS—Our display is exceptionally complete. The numerous styles include Russian and Balkan blouse effects, cutaways and the strictly tailored models. Some have trimmings of embroid*ery on collar, cuffs and revers—fancy pearl or self-covered buttons are used and Dresden silks trim some of the cream suits of the finer grades—$25.00 to $65.00.

Stunning Easter Suits at $35.00

Made of serges, French and mannish worsteds, Bedford cords, whipcords, poplins, basket weaves, diagonals, eponges, mixtures, checks, etc., in gray, tan, navy, Copenhagen, Balkan blue, rose shades, taupe, sand and brick. Jackets are 24 to 28 inches long—cutaways, Balkan blouse effects, strictly tailored and Bulgarian styles. Plain skirts are invariably used with the blouse jacket. There is, however, a clever way of introducing just a suggestion of "pucker" at the foot of the skirt, and tucks and plaits are adroitly used to mitigate the severity of outline in an effect wholly neat and decidedly smart.

CREAM COATS—Of chinchillas, ratines, eponges, plain and fancy Bedford cords, serges, diagonals, etc. The three-quarter cutaway or 37-inch coat is especially popular. Trimmings consist of braids in many designs, frogs, fancy buttons and embroidered Dresden ratine. All are lined with soft silks, some of which are in beautiful Dresden designs—$25.00 to $50.00.

Smart New Easter Coats $25.00

Made of novelty worsteds, fancy serges, Bedford cords, chinchillas, covert cloth and diagonals. Nearly all are lined with peau de cygne of contrasting shade and collar and cuffs are sometimes trimmed with this lining. The cutaway, three-quarter coats are especially popular. Embroidered collars and cuffs, buttons of many designs and folds of self-material are used for trimming.

Women's New Easter Dresses

Never was the Great White Store so well prepared to meet the needs of the discriminating woman. Fabrics, both silk and wool, whose beauty of tone and weave would lend interest to styles far less artistic and distinctive are here in profusion. Given slenderness of line, the choice of the right shade to bring out the best in eyes, hair and complexion and the success of the 1913 costume is assured. To these essentials, the world's arbiters of fashion have added style individuality and exclusiveness and the result is an assemblage of frocks you would search far and never equal. All the materials named in Fashion's list of favorites are included. Not a shade that has her sanction is lacking. Trimmings are noteworthy for richness, harmony and the discretion with which they are used. Prices $35.00 to $125.00.

CREAM DRESSES—Materials are mannish serges, French serges, ratines, Bedford cords, etc. The trimmings—and on trimming depends much of the charm and distinction of the dress—are Roman* striped silk that is used for sashes, belts and buttons, frogs and ornaments of braided cords and buttons of pearl, bone or agate in all shapes and sizes. Persian and Dresden silks, laces and embroidered cuffs and collars are employed to achieve effects of exceptional style merit. Priced from $35.00 to $65.00.

Graceful Afternoon Frocks $25

Eoliennes, ratines, foulards, eponges, serges, Bedford cords, etc., in tan, gray, navy, smoke, rose tints, brick, Balkan blue and other fashionable shades. Skirts are draped in accordance with the prevailing fondness for attenuated lines and some show the pretty folds that are highly approved by the well dressed woman. Trimmings are of laces, embroidery, fancy buttons and pipings of satin, pongee or self-materials.

Exquisite Lingerie Dresses $25

Crepes, marquisettes and voiles are the materials used in making these dainty frocks. There are both Dutch and high neck models with long or three-quarter sleeves. Cleverly designed, and trimmed with embossed lace embroidery and finished with French embroidery buttons. To some French knots and polka dots of colored embroidery give an entirely pleasing touch of variety.

Pretty Dresses for Girls $5.00

Lawns, chambrays, ginghams and reps. There are plaid ginghams smartly trimmed with embroidery; dresses of hand-embroidered rep with belt of same material, and piquant Buster Brown dresses in many styles and colors, with embroidered sailor collar, patent leather belt and black silk tie. LADY EDWINA ROBERTS TO BE MILITARY BRIDE.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Lady Edwina Roberts.

LONDON, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lady Edwina Roberts, younger daughter of the famous field marshal, who is about to become the bride of Maj. Lewin of the artillery, is 39 years of age. She accompanied her mother to South Africa during the Boer War and resided at Pretoria.

When Lord Roberts was commander-in-chief, his wife and Lady Edwina, were so active at the war office that a considerable protest was raised. Lady Edwina has been her father's adjutant in his campaign for compulsory service, often addressing meetings. She is a first-rate shot with a rifle and fond of all out-door athletics. By a special clause the earl's title will pass to her son if she has one, as Lord Roberts' two sons are dead.

Her fiance, Maj. Frederick Elliott Lewin, is the son of Commander Lewin, R.N., and was born in 1873. After serving two years in the Londonderry Artillery he joined the Royal Artillery. In 1900 he became captain and next year joined the Egyptian army. He is now in command of the One Hundred and Forty-second Battery, R.F.A., at Borden.

William Boasts that He Has Evicted the Lessee of His Royal Farm for Inefficiency When as a Matter of Fact the Man Is Still on the Job.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, March 15.—Emperor William has suffered recently great humiliation owing to the snobbish flattery of the courtiers surrounding him, who, according to editorial articles in the newspapers, succeed in making him believe he has done things that have never even occurred.

The latest instance of this kind, that in which the Emperor told the German Council of Agriculture that he had evicted Helmuth Sohst, the lessee of a farm on his Kadinen estate, because of his inefficiency, has left an unpleasant impression on the public mind. The tenant is still in possession and will remain until his lease expires some years hence, for the court has decided that his contract has not been violated.

Two meetings of farmers in the vicinity of Kadinen have just been held to correct statements made by the Emperor, who also said that he had been the first to introduce into the province of West Prussia a superior variety of rye known as Petkus rye.

His Majesty's remarks were received with surprise and pain by his neighbors, who knew that both were incorrect. The meetings took issue with the Emperor as to the efficiency of the lessee and declared that Petkus rye had been planted in West Prussia for twenty years—in other words, before the Emperor acquired Kadinen.

One speaker wanted to know who poured such stories into the Emperor's ear, and said plainly that he had been lied to.

A resolution was passed declaring Sohst to be "an extraordinarily industrious and efficient farmer—with a lively interest in his work and a full understanding of agricultural questions."

As for Petkus rye, the pastor of the church said that it had long been planted in that region, and probably every farmer present used that variety.

The Emperor had told the Council that the farmers of the vicinity crowded in front of his barns at threshing time and fought for a chance to get some of his Petkus rye for seed and that consequently he did an excellent business with his crop. On the other hand, the farmers at this meeting declared that none of the neighboring farmers had bought Petkus rye of the Emperor, neither did they know of anybody that had done so.

The meeting finally voted an expression of its "deepest pain that our most beloved Kaiser has been so incorrectly informed about his lessee of long standing."

Meanwhile Sohst has become the most talked of man in Germany. He likes a legal fight—when he has the contract in his favor—and he proposes to fight it out with the monarch, even though his suit should be taken to the Supreme Court.

REAL TERROR TO THE BRITISH.

AMERICAN PROFESSOR IN A NEW ROLE.

Wallace Is Showing the Royal Keeper of the Records that the Bureaucrats Really Know Nothing About the Great Treasures They Have in Their Archives.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—Prof. Charles W. Wallace, the well-known American Shakespearean scholar, has proved himself an especial terror to British keepers of public records in recent years, according to evidence given before the Royal Commission on Public Records. His first accomplishment was to show them that they knew nothing about their own treasures by making his notable Shakespeare finds among sacks of unsearched documents in the Record Office of Chancery Lane.

Lately, it seems from the testimony of Dr. R. R. Sharpe, of the Guildhall Record Office, that Prof. Wallace has been attempting to invade the priceless treasure-house of the city of London. He said that Prof. Wallace had been worrying him about searching for possible Shakespearean records and he admitted that such records might exist among the large quantity of unexamined papers at the Guildhall.

The Mayor's court records which Prof. Wallace is yearning to consult extend to the thirteenth century, but according to Dr. Sharpe nobody can read them, and if there were persons who could decipher them the city corporation would not let them.

Dr. Sharpe wants to train a man to read them, but cannot get an appropriation for the purpose. He explained that every provincial town of Germany spends more than the city of London in looking after its records. All of this could be remedied he said, by the city giving up every year one of its frequent banquets.

In the meantime Prof. Wallace will continue to make life uncomfortable for those record-keepers not in a position to assure him that they have no references to the Bard of Avon among their archives.

CONNAUGHTITES GOING AWAY.

Duchess and the Princess Will Not Return to Canada, But the Governor-General Will.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) March 15.—The Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada; the Duchess and the Princess Patricia will sail for England on the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Britain, leaving Halifax on the night of March 22. This announcement becomes public in a bulletin from Government House. The Duke's military secretary, Lieut.-Col. Lowther, brother to the Speaker of the English House of Commons, will remain in Ottawa during the Duke's absence.

The Duchess and the Princess will not return to Canada, but the Duke is expected back in May, and two other members of the royal family may return with him to discharge the numerous social duties of Government House.

One of Loveliest Hostesses In Eternal City.

Princess Radziwill,

AMERICAN PRINCESS DRIVES LION AND TIGER.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Princess Radziwill, who recently caused a sensation in Rome by attending a ball in a chariot drawn by a lion and a tiger, was Miss Dorothy Deacon of Boston, before her marriage. She is accounted one of the loveliest hostesses in the Eteternal City. She is known in Rome as "Velta," and is exceedingly popular.

When she made her debut in England, Miss Deacon was acknowledged to be the prettiest girl of the season and had a corresponding social success. She was equally well known at Hamburg, where everybody from royalty downwards, fell a victim to her charms and beauty. At the time of her marriage to Prince Radziwill, she was only 19 years of age.

Announcement of her marriage, which took place at the Roman Catholic Church of St. Marys, Cadogan place, came as a great surprise to her friends on both sides of the Atlantic. Her husband is 24 years of age and a scion of the ancient house of Lithuania.

LONDON SOCIETY BELLE TO WED POPULAR OFFICER.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—Miss Chloe Browne, whose marriage to Capt. Hugh Bagot Chester will take place in London the middle of this month, is a perfect type of the modern English beauty, her characteristics being highly accentuated by her health and penchant for athletics.

Miss Browne is the daughter of the late Hon. Arthur Browne, who was a brother of the late Lord Kilmaine, and she is also on her mother's side a niece of Sir John Don Wauchope, Bart. of Edmonstone, Midlothian. The bridegroom is a son of the late Col. Heneage Bagot Chester of Zetland House, Maidenhead, and nephew of the late Lord Alfred Harvey. His half-brother is the well-known and popular sportsman, Capt. Bertie Sheriff.

The marriage has attracted particular attention in social circles and a number of titled noblemen will attend the ceremony.

TO SAVE TIME.

There's Plenty of It in the Universe, But Seemingly Not Enough for the Britons.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—A national crusade for the saving of time is to be inaugurated shortly in the British Isles by the "Optimists," a new organization of business men strictly limited to the discussion of trade affairs and with its membership open to men of all creeds and politics.

The following list of time-wasting evils will be attacked by the optimists: Time wasted by irrelevance at public meetings; by unpunctuality a appointments; by keeping expensive commercial travelers waiting; by commercial travelers who fail to tell their story concisely; by inefficient railway service; by failure to grapple with traffic problems of streets; by Parliament through obsolete and childish rules; by the courts for want of more judges; by shopmen showing goods which people do not want to buy; by customers who do not state price they want to pay when they come in.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 15.—President Wilson's teetotal policy at the White House has aroused the resentment of the London Standard, which editorially warns the President against "gaining the fatal reputation of a crank."

Other papers refrain from comment, but the Daily Mail has taken occasion to ascertain that there are about 100 teetotalers in the British House of Commons, and on this point remarks that President Wilson's ideas would not suit the majority of British and Irish members.

M. ROSTAND IN TEARS.

Forgets to Ask for an American Copyright on His "Cyrano" and Is Out of Pocket.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

PARIS, March 15.—[Special Dispatch.] M. Rostand continues to bewail his misfortune in not being able to demand his own price for the presentation of "Cyrano" in the United States. A well-known American lawyer in Paris, Donald Harper, who has just been decorated with the Legion of Honor, says if M. Rostand received nothing for the performance of his plays in America, it must be simply due to the fact that he neglects to take out a copyright. He cannot expect the copyright law to apply to his works automatically. It must be applied for, and if French authors fail to make the application they alone are to blame.

"The United States," said Mr. Harper, "joined the International Copyright Union in 1891, and since then, if foreign authors allow their works to be pirated in America, it is their own fault." The copyright fees, it seems, are a mere trifle—two shillings for a copy of a book or play deposited with the librarian of Congress. Surely the librarian of Congress cannot be expected to remind foreign authors each time that they had better apply for copyright at once. Perhaps M. Rostand, Mr. Harper suggested, also imagined that the American public was "a negligible quantity."

Curiously enough, this suggestion is borne out by the statement in the Temps that M. Rostand took out copyright for "Cyrano" in every country except in the United States.

How to Brown Hair Without Detection

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Tint Hair Stain Can Be Applied in a Few Minutes Every Month.

There is a way of staining gray, faded or bleached hair any shade desired, from a beautiful, rich brown to almost black, so that it is difficult, if not impossible, for even experts to detect that the hair has been treated in any way.

This preparation has the tremendous advantage over hair dyes of containing no silver, sulphur, lead or other poisons which invariably cause hair-falling. It has no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease, and does not rub off on the clothing. It makes the hair grow out fluffy and luxuriant.

A liberal amount as a laboratory trial package of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain, together with a booklet on hair, is sent by Mrs. Potter's Hygienic Supply Co., 1745 Groton Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio, in plain, sealed wrapper, if you will send 25 cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue the treatment, full-sized packages may be obtained at drug or department stores for $1.00 a package.

It is applied in a few moments with the comb, and it stains the hair evenly, from tip to root. It produces any shade desired, from a beautiful, rich brown, to almost black.

One bottle of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain can last a year.—[Advertisement.

SCIENTISTS, EDUCATORS.

Langdon Warner, until recently a member of the Chinese and Japanese department of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, will leave this summer for China, where he will secure practical data for the establishment of a new school of archaeology in that country. The work will be under the auspices of the American School of Archaeology. At present there is but one school of that nature in China, that established by the French.

Norbert Weiner, who has for years past borne the sobriquet of "cleverest boy in the world," has just been awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy at Harvard University, at the astonishing age of 18 years. Notwithstanding his scholarly accomplishments, young Weiner is a sturdy youth and athletic.

Among those who received the Elliott Creson gold medal from the Franklin Institute, in Philadelphia, a few days ago was Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, of Schnectady, N. Y. Dr. Steinmetz is head of the electrical engineering department of Union College and chief consulting engineer of the General Electric Company. He has worked out the problems relative to electrical work by the analytical method more successfully than any other person and has applied that method in all the fields of electricity.

Dr. Wallace W. Atwood, who has taken the chair in the geology department at Harvard, was recently presented with the Culver gold medal by the American Geographic Society. He is recognized as the highest authority on physiography in America. For several years he has been a member of the United States Geological Survey, his most important work being the survey and mapping of the Alaskan coal fields.

Ronald Montagu Burrows, the new lay principal of King's College, which recently became affiliated with London University, is one of the most distinguished Greek scholars in England. He is professor of Greek at the University of Manchester, where he has also been dean of the faculty of arts.

Dr. O. W. Richardson of the department of physics in Princeton University, has been elected to membership in the Royal Society of Great Britain, an honorary scientific body. Dr. Richardson is honored because of his important experimental discoveries fundamental to the electric and kinematic theory of matter.

Take Off the Fat Where It Shows

Most women suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so located that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat woman pass them on the street or in public places make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. This season's dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery, and the slender woman's delight. [illegible] all the [illegible] will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has as many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of about 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal away from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

BY A PRINCESS OF THE REALM.

LIFE IN THE SENSUOUS "LAND OF THE AFTERNOON."

"BETWEEN Five and Seven" is the title of the newest French play and it deals exclusively with those mysterious two hours before dinner.

According to the author, the Frenchwoman carries on most of her little clandestine love affairs between 5 o'clock and 7, and he adds a new and naughty significance to the French passion for "le 5 o'clock," which is French for afternoon tea.

The play has been translated for English audiences and has met with the same success there because the appeal meets the same conditions, but such a play is never likely to "catch on" over here for the simple reason that American women do not have clandestine love affairs.

Not that American women are morally superior. At least, I don't believe so. But, rather, because American women have a way of specializing in one man at a time. When you love him, marry him. When you don't, divorce him.

In short, we prefer to legalize our little love affairs over here, which, of course, is not necessarily more respectable, while it is certainly more costly. Few, indeed, are the "I-will-go-my-way-and-you-go-yours" marriages over here. That is a state of affairs we won't tolerate for a moment. The family, that ominous awe-inspiring shackle, plays such a very large part in European affairs. Family name, family interests and family reputation have to be considered before personal desires every time. A divorce or even open rupture is considered bad for the family, wherefore it is common for dissatisfied husbands and wives to live their own lives, go their own way and concede a wide tolerance, a brutal indifference to each other's "carryings on" in order that the family annals may go down to history ostensibly unblemished.

So in the end the morality on either side of the Atlantic is much the same. Over there they are aghast at our easy divorces, which they consider sinful to a degree. And we are aghast at their "three-cornered" domesticity which we decline to consider at all.

Wherefore we shall remain unmoved at the profound article which appears in a current magazine on the subject of the American girl's free choice in husbands, which is unequivocally condemned. The fact that the marriages are made almost exclusively by the parents and guardians in France, where divorces are rare, and exclusively by the boys and girls themselves in the United States, where divorces are many, is held up as proof positive that the French method is correct and desirable.

The fact is, neither method is entirely without its drawbacks. The French method necessitates great concessions, a wide tolerance. Ours relieves us of all concessions and encourages intolerance.

It would seem that a half-way measure by which natural selection could have a free hand, but at the same time receive the safeguards of delay and parental conferences, would be the ideal.

⁂

At present a long engagement is almost regarded as a disgrace in this country. In a general way the young people are more than satisfied if they have known each other for three months. In cases where there is some good reason for a long engagement, such as inadequate finances, the engagement is always kept a dark secret. The modern maid expects to be married within a couple of months of the announcement of her engagement and when, for any reason, this is out of the question, you will find her and her mother are perpetually apologetic and explanatory on the subject.

All of which is, to say the least, a pity. A year's engagement should become fashionable. It could do nothing but good. It would make for better understandings and a genuine foundation of friendship to fall back upon when the romantic glow has worn off. Too many of us are busy proving the old proverb "Marry in haste, repent at leisure" nowadays.

We may possibly be persuaded to try the delay, but we shall, I fear, balk at the parental conferences. How many girls and boys hold their parents' opinions in respect? The modern son and daughter are absolutely intolerant of discipline of any kind and nearly all of them patronize their parents both privately and publicly. The idea of permitting mother and father to advise one upon so intimate a subject as love and marriage strikes them as utterly absurd, positively laughable. So they continue to blunder in their own abundant precocity, continue to marry in haste and divorce at leisure.

Really the position of the modern parent is most unsatisfactory. The rising generation of playwrights and novelists seem bent upon holding fathers and mothers up to ridicule. When they are not pig-headed tyrants they are affectionate fools. Barrie seems to be the last champion of mothers and even he has a knack of making fathers the most preposterous fools. Recalling the Darling Father in "Peter Pan?"

We had another good instance in "Bunty Pulls the Strings" a few weeks ago. Clever daughter, foolish father. Shaw's fathers and mothers are mostly fools.

And the worst of it is the state of affairs is not much exaggerated. I have been reviewing some of our pretty and wealthy debutantes lately and one cannot help being impressed with the fact that many of them are being pathetically spoiled. They have nothing left to wish for, discipline they know not, and unselfishness of any kind never enters into their calculations.

Father and mother are mere appendages for administering to their wants. They take all from their parents and give nothing and presumably their husbands will receive like treatment. There is a "scene" whenever their slightest wish is thwarted. One can only sigh to see such good human material spoiled. What are the fathers and mothers thinking about?

A Paying Proposition.

'Tis true that it takes more money to swing a deal nowadays than formerly, but it is equally true that substantial fortunes can still be made by taking advantage of the rare bargains daily offered in the "For Sale Business Property" columns of The Times "Liner" section.—[Advertisement.

Remunerative Employment can be obtained by a careful day after day reading of the "Help Wanted" columns The Times "Liner" section.—[Advertisement.

HE WEEK.

Mission and the Estudillo home, where Ramona was married. Mr. and Mrs. Scholl entertained with a theater party and supper of twelve for their guests before the latter's return.

Handsome Breakfast.

A handsome breakfast yesterday at Hotel Alexandria had for its hostess Mrs. Walker C. Graves of San Francisco, who is domiciled at the hotel. A wealth of spring blossoms adorned the table in honor of Mrs. Mary E. Hart of Alaska, who was present as special guest. The hostess, who is the wife of a well-known San Francisco attorney, is the daughter of the late Jefferson G. James, an old pioneer of the State.

Church Affair.

Members of the executive board of the Woman's Aid Society of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church will be at home to ladies of the church and their friends at the home of Mrs. Hartwell, No. 825 West Seventeenth street, March 18. A feature of the afternoon will be an address by Mrs. H. Montague Porter, who will give one of her travel series, entitled, "Around the World in Twenty Minutes," and a reading by Miss Lettie Garretson. The hostesses will be Mrs. S. S. Salisbury, Mrs. W. E. McVay, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. G. A. Brock, Mrs. Allison Barlow, Mrs. L. C. Blakesley, Mrs. Edwin S. Rowley, Mrs. William Bayly, Mrs. J. R. Thomas, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Mrs. J. S. B. Matthews.

St. Patrick's Dinner.

Mrs. William H. Harrison utilized the St. Patrick motif in entertaining with a dinner party at her home, No. 228 Kingsley drive, Friday evening. Jonquils in low cutglass vases adorned the table, while shamrocks were scattered over the cloth. Hand-pointed shamrock cards bearing unique verses, marked covers for Mr. and Mrs. Tod Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright, Mr. and Mrs. James Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corwin. Auction bridge was the pleasure of the evening following dinner.

Returned Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDonald and daughter of Butte, Mont., who have been the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Catron, of Playa del Rey for the winter, returned home today.

Orpheum Theater Party.

A congenial coterie of friends enjoyed a party at the Orpheum Friday evening, followed by a pleasant hour at the Chocolate Shop. Included were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Girard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Massey.

Going Abroad.

Mrs. Jaspar Crandall, No. 615 Berendo street, left Wednesday for New York, where she will join the party of eighteen with Mrs. Cecilia White sailing March 28, on the Carpathia for a three months' sojourn abroad.

Revelers' Club.

Mrs. S. Berry, No. 331 Coronado street, entertained with a five hundred party last evening, complimenting the members of the Revelers' club. A profusion of red carnations adorned the rooms and yellow jonquils and ferns embellished the large table, where refreshments were served following the games. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Peckham and Mr. Balfour. Special guests were Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones, and members Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Waggoner, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Van Horn, Mr and Mrs. T. E. Fitzgerald, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Ketchum.

Going Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGinn, who have been wintering in Southern California, returned Tuesday to their home in Omaha.

Mrs. E. L. Dodge Honored.

Mrs. E. L. Dodge of Michigan was the honoree at a luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. Charles Reynolds at her home, No. 1620 Wilton place. Centering the table was a brass bowl filled with jonquils and hyacinths, and hand-worked daffodil cards marked covers for Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. L. Lavin, Mrs. Fritz Twilliger, Mrs. Fritz Werner, Mrs. A. L. Skinner, Mrs. O. H. Casebeer, Mrs. George A. Howell, and Mrs. Henry Werner. Dainty fancy work was enjoyed during the afternoon.

Home Rented.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Donato have rented their home, No. 117 Benton way, and have gone to Pacific Grove, where Mr. Donato will pass the summer. Madam Donato will return to Los Angeles at the end of next week. On the 25th she will accompany Mrs. John Stearns and her daughter, Miss Katherine Stearns, of St. James Park, on an European tour of about seven months.

While away they will visit interesting centers, including London and Paris, and will take an automobile tour throughout England, Ireland and the south of France.

Dinner Auction Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Brooks of Oxford avenue entertained the members of the Dinner Auction Bridge Club Thursday evening at their beautiful new home. The affair was also complimentary to the birthday anniversary of the host. A shower bouquet of enchantress carnations was used as a centerpiece for the table, and pink stock was utilized in the rest of the home. After dinner, auction bridge was the pleasure of the evening and prizes were captured by Mrs. Brooks and Mr. Hubbard. Members present were—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher Hobert, Mr. and Mrs. William Hubbard, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Ellis.

Home from Eastern Trip.

Mrs. Robert Hardy and Miss Lois Cook, who have been enjoying an extended eastern trip, returned Tuesday. They have taken a home at No. 1320 South Bonnie Brae street, where they will be at home to their many friends. While away they were royally entertained, many handsome affairs having been given in their honor.

Handsome Party.

In the week just closed there was no more radiant function than the handsome ball given Friday evening at the Woman's Club House by Miss Dolly Haskell of No. 819 South Bonnie Brae street. Especially pleasing was the arrangement in the ballroom with yellow acacia, jonquils, potted palms and ferns. Punch was served throughout the evening, and an orchestra furnished delightful music for the dancing.

Alpho Rho Dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. George F. Bovard and Dr. and Mrs. Stowell were the honored guests at a dinner party given by the active members of the Alpho Rho Sorority, at their home, No. 3575 South Figueroa street Wednesday evening. A graceful arrangement of daffodils and violets was utilized to carry out the sorority colors in the table decorations. Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Bovard, Dr. and Mrs. Stowell, Miss Inez Johnston, Miss Nora Parker, Miss Hope Ainley, Miss Geraldine La Fetra, Miss Irene Le Roy, Miss Mildred Cowdery and Miss Gladys La Fetra.

Series of Luncheons.

Mme. Chatney roses, lilies of the valley and maiden-hair fern arranged in gold baskets were used in decorating two smart bridge luncheons given Tuesday and Wednesday of this week by Mrs. W. A. Morehouse at her home, No. 754 South Bonnie Brae street. Luncheon was served at small tables, which were later cleared for auction bridge, and gold-monogrammed cards marked covers. On Tuesday prizes were captured by Mrs. Variel, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Rixon, and on Wednesday by Mrs. S. M. Goddar and Mrs. John McAlester.

Returned to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irwin, who were two months at the Hotel Lankershim, have returned to their home in Detroit and Albion, Mich.

Greene-Fuller Wedding.

Attired in a handsome charmeuse gown draped with chiffon trimmed with Bohemian lace and made with a long court train, Miss Gladys Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Green, of No. 1753 Orange drive, became the bride of Robert Edward Fuller last Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Angels. One hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Harry Thompson, rector of the church.

The maid of honor was Miss Edith Holder, who wore a stunning gown of pink charmeuse with an overdress of chiffon the same shade, made panier effect and trimmed with lace. Her head-dress was a picture hat trimmed with pink roses and she carried a bouquet of long-stemmed Killarney roses. The Misses Mildred Nulsen and Josephine Berdine, who arrived from St. Louis last week to attend Miss Green as bridesmaids, were prettily gowned in white chiffon embroidered in pink and trimmed with pink charmeuse. Both wore white picture hats trimmed with pink rose buds and carried handsome bouquets of long-stemmed Killarney roses.

Boyd Comstock of Los Angeles was best man and the bride was given away by her father.

Ropes of smilax, fern and almond blossoms made artistic decorations for the romantic little church. White tulle and smilax was used to decorate the altar. Hary Girard, organist of the church, rendered most effectively Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller left for an extended wedding trip to New York.

GIN FOR THE KIDNEYS

Doctors agree that good, pure gin, when properly prescribed, is wonderful medicine for kidneys, liver and bladder. The one best prescription in which gin is used is given: "Six ounces good, pure gin, one-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu." (Be sure to get the genuine Murax compound in original sealed wooden package.) Any good druggist has it or can quickly get it. Shake bottle of mixture well each time and take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day after meals.

This should be taken at first sign of kidney trouble, pain in the back, frequent or highly colored urination, scalding urine, rheumatic pains in the joints, puffiness under the eyes, dimmed vision. The serious forms of kidney trouble are thus prevented.

LOOK YEARS YOUNGER! GRAY HAIR DARKENED BEAUTIFULLY WITH SAGE

Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Falling Hair and Cure Dandruff.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alchol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and it surely helps folks appear years younger.—[Advertisement.

Rosa Noviosa, the Charming Little Actress from Sunny Italy, Who Is a Star in the Coming Production of "The Tik Tok Man," Knows and Appreciates the Value of Sempre Giovine.

Miss Noviosa says: "I am not interested in Sempre Giovine because it originated in my native country but because it is really the best preparation I have ever used—and while playing in Grand Rapils, Mich., the home of Sempre Giovine, I, together with some other members of my company, availed ourselves of the opportunity of visiting the laboratories to learn more about Sempre Giovine. Sempre Giovine is from the Italian—meaning Always Young—and is pronounced as though it were spelled Sem-pray Jo-ve-nay.

"This formula had been a family secret for several hundred years and was presented to the American public about twenty-five years ago by Mrs. J. C. Carr, who is the active president and manager of the Marietta Stanley Co. We met this charming lady, who personally conducted us through the neat and beautiful building—and it was with keen interest that we observed the modern and sanitary equipment which is used in making Sempray—'the little pink cake—for complexion's sake.' After carefully watching all the details and science used in the manufacturing of this wonderful product, we were all fully convinced that Sempre Giovine was the one item above all else that was necessary for our future toilets, and I firmly believe that any one who will use Sempre—just once—will agree with me when I say it is the one supreme toilet necessity—and I heartily endorse the daily use of The Little Pink Cake for YOUR Complexion's Sake."

ROSA NOVIOSA.

Sempre Giovine (pronounced Sem Pray-Jo-ve-nay) is sold and recommended at all drug and department stores. Call at your favorite Toilet counter for it.

The Living Room

"ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME" should be centered and typified in this room. As an obvious exponent of the individual tastes and characteristics of the household, it should contain many little personal belongings and conveniences; and its style should be quiet, dignified, unpretentious and "homey;" conducive to rest, ease and recreation.

It is a room "general" in character and uses; the family rendezvous and meeting-ground; and any attempt at a formal, stilted, "period" treatment of decoration or furnishing should be carefully avoided.

Soft, harmonious colorings, inconspicuous designs, luxurious furniture, carefully-regulated lighting, are all essentials.

In it we may, and should receive our more intimate friends; admitting them to the "home-circle." Therefore, the room should be so consistently artistic and harmonious, that we may be justly proud of, and not apologetic for it; and our guests have good reasons to approve and praise, rather than criticise it.

A little thought and care will make this room what it should be,—the most attractive in the house; and justify our efforts.

By day it may be a comfort and delight to the feminine members of the family, while the busy "male contingent" looks forward to it for a long evening of relaxation and enjoyment.

"Now stir the fire, and close the shutters fast,
Let fall the curtains, wheel the sofa round,
And while the bubbling and loud-hissing urn
Throws up a steamy column, and the cups
That cheer but not inebriate wait on each,
So let us welcome peaceful evening in."

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions

[From the Dermatologist.]

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in early spring, may readily ge gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness, are best treated by a simple solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.—[Advertisement.

Sample Suits

Are Suits Unusual

Every suit in our store is a genuine sample, made with extraordinary care, because it represented its manufacturer throughout his whole trade relationships. Is it any wonder that women get longer wear, better wear, better style, out of sample suits than they do out of the general run of suits made in the usual way, hurried through to fill rush shipments from regular dealers?

We Sell $30 and $35 Sample Suits, Coats and Dresses for $20

And at this price we are making a specialty in suits of blue serge, a specialty in dresses of fine lingeries, a specialty in coats of semi-draped effects in lighter colorings. Look elsewhere, see what you can find for $30 or $35, and then see these $20 garments.

for Small Women $5.95

—Many who inspected the garments before they appeared in the department thought they were to be a big feature at $8.50, and indeed they'd readily sell at that.
—These dresses are made of heavy storm serge, three different styles.
—And choice of white, navy, Copenhagen, brown and tan.
—One of the styles pictured has Persian trimming on collar and cuffs, also Persian trimmed vest and piping at waist.
—Made with the new high waist line.

Monday the Day for Small Women's Suits

—And we cannot overlook the opportunity of directing the attention of the small women of Los Angeles to the importance of this line of

New Suits at $15

—How much more they are worth is not the only question that is to be considered. It's the wonderful style and the clever way in which they are made, that's so important.
—Plain tailored or Norfolks in the black and white Shepherd checks, also black or white in the mannish serges.
—And clever mixtures in novelties and plain tailored styles. Just compare them with the ordinary suits for small women at $15, $17.50 to $19.50.
—And this directs your attention to the wonderful line of suits in this department that we are presenting from $16 to $35. Particular mention of the Bulgarian Blouse Suit. This Easter week will be important in this department.

Easter Silk Sale

"It's the Week Before Easter! Just Look at the Beautiful Suits!

"A 40-Inch Silk Charmeuse $1.10

—"It can't be!" "Yes, it is. I saw the silk myself—A wonderful value.

—"But you know, Bullock's Inauguration month is notable for accomplishing wonderful results—and Bullock's Silk Store has put out some of the strongest of all Inauguration month's values.

—"There isn't an unlimited yardage of this plain and brocaded charmeuse—but there should be enough to go around. Pink, ivory, Nile, gold, turquoise, sky, taupe, brown, French blue, Nell rose and other good shades.

—"A quality silk—a superlative value—for Monday at $1.10 yard.

"Then the Other New Silks

—"You should see the new Bulgarian effects that Bullock's is showing — Such brilliant—such extraordinary patterns, they do make up into the most marvelously becoming dresses and waists.

—"Then there's a New Charmeuse at $1.75—a superb quality, in every good color; a 36-inch Plush Silk Messaline at $1.00; A Royal Brocaded Plush at $2.50. Oh! and ever so many other new silks. Don't miss seeing them on Monday.

—"Beautiful

—"And indescribable.

—"I thought Bullock Hats had reached their maximum—but these—they make me catch my breath—they're just too lovely for words—"

—And They Are—

—The Easter Hats

—that are to form a glorious display on Monday morning—masterpieces. Pannier, the new droop bonnet effect, in delicate tones, rich demurely among brilliant Bulgare Fantasies. A wealth of styles and colors—even at $10 and $15. See them Monday.

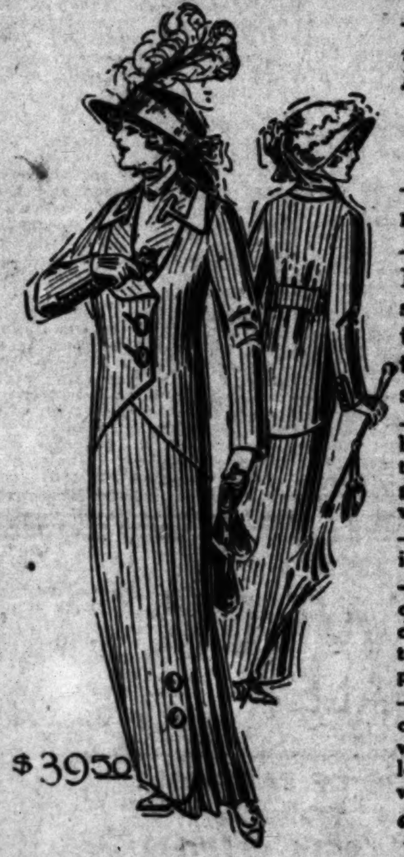
"50-Inch Serge $1.00

—"Just feel the Quality of it"—That tells the value—

—"A weighty, wool serge—Yes, in navy, gray, black and brown. If any woman is planning to make a new serge suit or skirt—This should be her opportunity—The serge is very unusual at $1.00 yard—An Inauguration month feature—

—"Black-and-White Checks at $1.00—that are 42 inches wide—should interest Monday buyers, too—

—"And the new novelty cords (straight and diagonal;) the stripes and invisible checks are inviting women to come see the new Dress Woolens at Bullock's now."



—"That are to start the selling wheels to whirring merrily bright and early, right at the opening Monday—

—"New Suits, they're New Values.

—"They're to Sell at $39.50.

—"They're just about the prettiest, cleverest, most attractive styles that I have seen this season

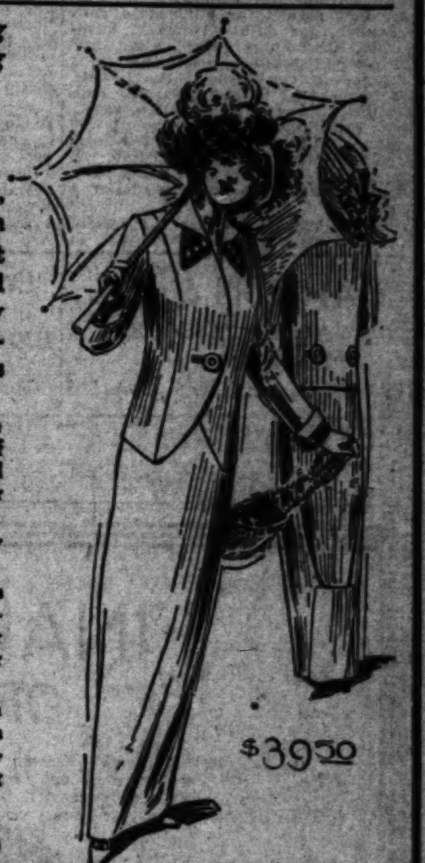
—"A hundred of them and a few more, that Fashion had been hiding away as a delightful surprise for some one—Wasn't Bullock's lucky to get them? But wait! Don't form an idea until you see them—and don't fail to see them as soon as you can on Monday—

—"Suits of rough white Bedford cloth—of white basket weaves—Suits of wide striped novelties—of tan, mode, French blue, mushroom, navy, gray and green serges, Armure cloths, eponge and other weaves—

—"Suits that show the very favorites of all the new ideas in trimmings.

—"Suits that are notable chiefly for the cleverness of their style—their difference—their bewitching individuality—the remarkably high character of their tailoring—and the remarkable reasonableness of their price—

—"Values! You should have heard Fashion go on over them. Indeed, they are values—that no woman who has not purchased her Easter suit should overlook. A feature of features for this greatest spring week of all. Monday, at $39.50.



"The New Dresses at $15

—of dainty white Crepe or Voile—with wide lace bands, narrow filet insertions, tiny tucks—visions of loveliness—some with cutaway simulated overskirt of ecru embroidery with revers and collar to match—some with brilliant ribbon girdles. The wonder to me is, how they can be sold for $15.

"Dresses at $22.50

—"of white ratine crepe—some with even stripe; of white voile with macrame, cluny and Irish lace. Simulated double skirts and tunic effects are prominent among them. Girdles in pink, claret, national red, callot blue, velvet or Nell rose, orchid, or French blue satin—$22.50.

—"Then there are other dresses at $25 and $29.50. Do you know, I think this week before Easter should be the busiest week of springtime at Bullock's—2nd floor."

"Dresses at $19.50

—"Many will think are more delightful than those at $15—They are unusual—both as concerns beauty and price. Dresses of white marquisette, net, voile; of white striped pebble crepe and of plain white crepe—with embroidery, ratine, lace, buttons, and the prettiest trimmings. Sashes and girdles of white, pink, amber, Nell rose, callot blue, and dark French blue—

—Sharp contrasts that are the earmarks of style perfection—$19.50."

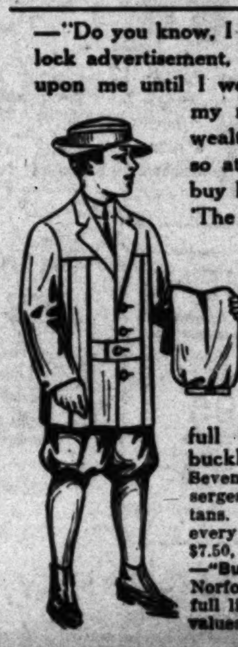
"'The Store for Your Boy'

—"Do you know, I have seen that headline in many a Bullock advertisement, but it's full significance never dawned upon me until I went to the Boys' Clothing Section for my nephew's Easter suit. There, amid a wealth of faultlessly tailored garments, all so attractive that I was almost tempted to buy him half a dozen suits, I saw why it IS 'The Store for Your Boy!' "



The Easter Suit For Your Boy

—New spring suits—new in models and materials, new in make-up and in wear-worthiness—the coats alpaca lined and the bottoms faced—pants full lined. Semi-peg models, with side buckle straps, and watch pockets.

Seven different models in Norfolks. High-grade serges and cheviots in blue, browns, grays and tans. Worsteds, tweeds and homespuns, too, in every wanted shade. 6 to 18-year sizes. $6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12.50 and $15.

—"Bullock's $5 Suits—in double-breasted and Norfolk models with two pairs of Knickerbockers, full lined and with taped seams. Famously good values. (3rd floor.)

"Coziness

—"At little cost.

—"I saw some of the most bewildering drapery fabrics at Bullock's——bewildering because they so perfectly reproduce the effects heretofore obtainable only by the use of far more costly draperies. Bokara Drapery it is called—a wonderfully clever imitation of costly tapestry—and only 60c a yard. And dozens of other inexpensive fabrics that possess really remarkable decorative possibilities."

Cheerful Chintzes 40c Yd.

Cretonnes 25c Yd.

—Dozens of really artistic designs in soft tones that will blend with surrounding woodwork and papering. Blue, gold, pink and green patterns suitable for bed sets, draperies, box coverings, etc. 25c a yard.

New Scotch Draperies

—Just in from over the water—quaint, pleasing designs in soft tones of brown, green, blue and rose—especially desirable for the overdrapes of living-rooms, dining-rooms and libraries. 48 inches wide, $1.15

Figured Dimity 40c

—Small dainty figures and stripes in blue, rose, yellow and lavender. 28 inches wide. 40c a yard.

Two Generations Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative-tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mrs. Clara Lewis, Becks' Store, Ky., who gave it to her baby, Elsie, while teething, and says: "It is the best medicine in the world for the stomach and bowels." She writes that she keeps it in the house for every member of the family, takes it herself and that her mother recovered her health and gained in flesh by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

HOSKING & GRAY, OWNER J. J. HAGGARTY, 523 S. Broadway

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. R. B. Williamson, Mrs. Magauran, Miss G. Pease, Miss Rogers, Miss A. Pease, Mrs. Palette, Mrs. Nellums, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Belknap and Miss J. Pease.

At Mt. Washington.

Miss Alice Gastron entertained eighteen Kansas City friends for luncheon at the Mt. Washington Hotel on Monday. The table was beautifully decorated with yellow acacias and maiden-hair ferns. H. W. Dent has returned to the Mt. Washington after an absence of a week at Hotel Coronado.

Dinner Party.

Mrs. George F. Bidwell entertained with an informal dinner party at No. 1825 North Curson avenue last Monday night. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wattles, Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh and daughter, Miss Dorothy, of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkendale of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell. Ramunculus and fern effected a pretty table centerpiece.

From Salt Lake.

Miss Mabel Clark, the noted coloratura soprano, who has been singing in the Tabernacle at Salt Lake, has returned to this city and taken apartments at the Gilligan.

L.A.A.C. Ladies' Night.

Thursday night was ladies' night at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The big dining-room was brightened with huge bunches of roses and sweet peas and Mier's orchestra rendered one of its happiest programmes. Many brilliant dinner parties, both large and small, marked the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lashbrooke had Mrs. W. W. Hadley as their guest.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wheeler of Peoria, Ill., were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Soper of Bloomington, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Mage, Rev. and Mrs. Thropp and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Richardson of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Carter gave a jolly dinner party in the English room. The room itself, and the table, too, were exquisitely decorated. Those attending were J. E. Carter, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Carter, Jr., of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Tillotson of Wayne, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Langdon, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Carter of Los Angeles.

The tapestry-room was also the scene of a brilliant dinner party, given by Thomas Beyrle, in honor of the twenty-second birthday of his friend, Howard Taylor. The latter was called upon and gave a neat little speech, as did Miss Jachins and Miss Taylor.

Willard Mason and Mrs. Frank G. Mason were the dinner guests of R. J. Mier.

For Charity.

The members of the young woman's auxiliary of the Children's Hospital will be the hostesses at a brilliant charity ball Tuesday evening, April 1, at the Hotel Hollywood, for the benefit of the new hospital, which is now being erected at Sunset boulevard and Vermont avenue.

Two hundred invitations will be issued for this big event of the season. The merry affair will take place in the spacious dining-room of the hotel. The Invitation Committee consists of Misses Jessie Parker, Marion Viroque Baker and Helen Somers.

The ballroom will be attractively decorated and those in charge will be the following young ladies, popular in Hollywood society circles: Misses Frances Parker, Gladys Percy, Helen Somers, Ethel Shrader and Mary Creyts. Presiding over the punch bowl will be the Misses Marjorie Thompson, Charlotte Wadsworth, Florence Thornburg, Myrtle Hoel, Tressa Bardeen and Hazel Sparling.

A fine time is assured by the announcement of the Hospitality Committee, which will be composed of the Misses Marion McPherron, Viroque Baker, Mabelle Lewis, Sue Roen, Jessie Parker, Isabel Parker, Ethelyn Hunkins and Ethel Shrader.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary is a Hollywood organization of young society ladies, who take an interest in charitable work. It has been organized but a short time, but in that period has taken many steps that will result in appreciable financial benefits to the cause of orphans. The officers of the auxiliary are Miss Jessie Maie Parker, president; Miss Isabel Long, secretary, and Miss Ethelyn Hunkins, treasurer.

Makes Your Backache Quickly Disappear

A Few Doses Relieves All Such Miseries. Bladder Weakness, Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism Promptly Vanish

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with backaching, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Croxone is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the poisons and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away, all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Croxone is such, that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back, and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous, tired and run down, or bothered with urinary disorders, Croxone will quickly relieve you of your misery. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

Engagement Announcement.

Glendale.

THE Tuesday Afternoon Club of this place gave a box social, known as a "guess-what" party, in the Country Club rooms at the corner of Third street and Brand boulevard this week. Each member was privileged to invite a friend, and was expected to provide luncheon for herself and guest. Coffee, cream and sugar was served by the club. The Matinee Musical Club of Los Angeles furnished a pleasing programme during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sale of Indianapolis, who, enjoying a sightseeing trip of three months in Southern California, are passing some time at the home of Mrs. C. S. Mooreman.

A pleasant affair was the silver anniversary shower given to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flower at their home, No. 318 South Louise street, by their children, all of whom are residing in Glendale. The honor guests were presented with an elegant silver service. Mr. and Mrs. Flower are among the most popular residents of this city, Mr. Flower being owner of several business blocks and residences.

At the home of Mrs. Mary H. Gridley a benefit for the Parent-Teacher Association of the West Glendale school will be given.

The members of Chapter L, P.E.O., held an enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. F. L. Albright, No. 309 Orange street, Wednesday. The morning session was devoted to business, while in the afternoon the annual election of officers took place and a programme was rendered.

The Valley Dinner Club was entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Powell on Alosta avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Katz have as a week-end guest, Mrs. Katz's sister, Miss Fleishman, of Los Angeles.

On Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Miss Marie Wick to Roland Pettijohn was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isom W. Haskell, on lower Azusa avenue. The Rev. Mr. Smith of the Baptist Church, of which the bride is a well-known member, officiated. Only members of the family were present at the ceremony. Both young people are well-known throughout the valley and enjoy a wide circle of friends. After a short honeymoon spent in San Diego the young people will return to Azusa and make their home on San Gabriel avenue, near Sixth street, where they have a modern home furnished and awaiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Burt have returned to Auzsa after having spent two months' vacation at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powell were guests of Pasadena friends on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Smith of Bonita avenue had as their guests for dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Mills and daughter of Inglewood and Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Smith of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana C. King of Los Angeles and Mrs. King's sister, Miss Payne, also of Los Angeles, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hillis of San Gabriel avenue. After lunch the party motored to Riverside, returning late in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Christian entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Sawyer of Santa Ana over the week-end. Prof. Sawyer was a member of the faculty of Citrus Union High School for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer made many friends while residents here.

Mrs. E. H. Miller of St. Paul, Minn., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Case of Angelino avenue. Mrs. Miller expects to spend several months in Azusa.

William Devereau of San Francisco, a former resident of Azusa, spent several days with old friends the latter part of the week.

M. W. Thompson of Murietta is the guest of his cousin, T. T. Thompson.

Duarte.

ONE OF the pleasant functions of the week was the dinner and card party given Thursday evening by Mrs. Emily Munro Seymour and Taylor Renaker, at the San Gabriel Country Club, complimentary to the ladies and gentlemen of the Duarte Five Hundred Club. The party of twenty-four motored to the clubhouse, where they formed a merry dinner party, after which cards were enjoyed. The members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sarwine, Mr. and Mrs. William Beardslee, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Menager, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Downe and Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter, Miss Hilda Carter and Madame Gordon Norman, were guests of Mrs. Dunn of Edendale last week, at a charming reception tendered Miss Crawley. On Sunday the Carters were again the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Two pleasant March functions have been tendered the ladies of the Methodist Church during the past fortnight. Last Friday Mrs. Ludie Gerhart Cross opened her new home on Buena Vista avenue for an all-day meeting and quilting bee, which was greatly enjoyed. At noon a buffet luncheon was served and the afternoon spent at needlework. This week Mrs. Walter B. Leffler gave an enjoyable tea and Kensington party in honor of the same ladies, at her home on Oak street.

Mrs. Alexander B. Downe was the hostess of the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club which was organized last month. The large living-rooms were brightened with spring blossoms and ferns and among the members and guests present were Mesdames H. L. Ellsworth, William Beardslee, L. G. Cross, E. S. Huline, Andrew Ryder, Richard Poor, Charles Anderson, E. L. Menager, W. K. Shaw, E. H. Morgan and C. H. Sarwine.

The champion Duarte Ladies' Hockey Club entertained the Los Angeles Manual Arts High School eleven Saturday and played a matched game on the Bradbury fields, which resulted in a score of 5 goals to 0 in favor of the Duarte players. Coached by Gerald Young and Will Bacon, they easily won the game. The captain, Miss Alice Scott, and the Misses Marjorie Maddock and Marjorie Morgan played in their finest style. After the Duarte game the Y.W.C.A., and U.S.C., teams of Los Angeles had a match game on the Bradberry fields. All the players were the guests of the Duarte club of which Mrs. William H. Young is social secretary.

Among Duarte folks who have been entertaing guests are Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shaw, who had as their house guest last week Miss Jennie Durfree of Upland. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ryder had as their guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denton of Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Ken-

Try the New Way of Curing Corns

Easy As One, Two, Three; No Fuss, No Pain, by Using "GETS-IT."

Just take two seconds to put a little "GETS-IT" on that corn. That corn is "done for" as sure as the sun rises. The corn shrivels up, vanishes. That's the surprise you get by using this new-plan corn cure. There's nothing to stick to the stocking or sock; your corn pains stop. You've saved the bother of applying plasters that make the corn bulge out from the core. You're saved salves that eat into the healthy flesh and "pull;" no more fussing with bandages. You don't have to help by picking and dragging out your corns, or cutting with knives or razors.

"When I Think of All the Things I Tried for Corns and Failed, and "GETS-IT" Got 'em in a Hurry."

"GETS-IT" is safe, painless, stops pain, never hurts healthy flesh. It is guaranteed. Try it on warts, callouses and bunions, too.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists' at 25 cents a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Los Angeles by The Owl Drug Co.

ECZEMA

(Also Called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.)

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Remember, I make this broad statement after putting twelve years of my time on this one disease and handling in the meantime nearly half of a million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed treatment that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, just give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me today I believe you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it and you will see I am telling you the truth.

THE Newest Authentic Modes IN

Women's and Misses' Tailored Suits

Will have their first sale tomorrow at Swelldom in a remarkable offering of Spring styles.

A Swelldom reproduction is simply a Paris model seen through a double lens

¶ In this collection of tailored suit styles are the latest contributions from the European centers of fashion. If you could be transported overnight to Paris, Vienna or Berlin, you would find the smartest models in these Old World cities to be nothing but counterparts of those assembled here. You would find, too, in seeing those models which failed of our approval, full and flattering proof of our judgment and discrimination.

¶ There are possibly one hundred and fifty different models in the present Swelldom selection of Spring suit styles, and these represent the cream of contemporary fashions. Even models that had their Paris debut as recently as the election of M. Poincare to the Presidency of the French Republic are included in this spirited array of tailored suit styles. And whether it be a simple little suit on demure and dainty lines, or an elaborate creation, rich in design and ablaze with color, it reflects the original model as perfectly as the original model reflects the idea in the mind that thought it.

EXHIBITION OF A FAMOUS RELIC

Barker Bros. announce the exhibit this week in their windows of a most remarkable relic of great historical interest. This is none other than the actual anvil used by the great allegorist, John Bunyan.

It is well known that the famous author of "Pilgrim's Progress" was a tinsmith prior to his religious calling. John Bunyan was born in Bedfordshire, his early youth being spent in and near his brithplace, Elstow, and the well-known cottage that bears his name is still to be seen. The anvil was discovered in a neighboring town, and was purchased by a marine store dealer at the prevailing price of old iron. Whilst engaged in the course of his business his eye fell on what looked like inscribed letters, and upon closer examination there was found on three sides of the anvil the words: "John Bunyan," "Helstow" (as the name of the town was formerly spelled) and the date "1647." Efforts were naturally made to trace its history. It was found that it had for many years been in actual use by an ironmonger in the town of St. Neots. It was further discovered that a family of the name of Carrington, who were previously the owners of the ironmonger's business, were using the anvil during the early part of the last century. Tracing it still earlier, it was found that it originally came from Bedford. By this time the anvil had aroused considerable interest and prominence was given its existence in all the foremost London daily papers. It was brought to this country, and has been offered to Mr. J. P. Morgan, who already owns J. Bunyan's will, the warrant for his arrest, and Fox's "Book of Martyrs," originally in Bunyan's possession. This anvil is valued at nearly $30,000, and is heavily insured by Lloyds of London.

There is little doubt that this anvil will soon be one of the treasured relics of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and you are invited by Barker Brothers to view this remarkable historic object, which is being exhibited this week in Los Angeles, for the first time in the United States, there having been no other public view previously given in this country.

Is Your Hair Gray?

This Simple Recipe Will Darken It So It Cannot Be Detected.

A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water and then adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results, both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a trial. If your druggist is out of Barbo Compound, ask him to get it for you from this supply house, as a substitute for it is not possible in preparing this mixture. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations and much less expensive.

SOCIETY.

neth Carter had as their week-end guest, Messrs. Spence Turner and F. H. Hopkinson of San Fernando.

Mrs. Alice Lewis Castello was the hostess Monday of the ladies of the Duarte-Monrovia Encinitas Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at her pleasant home on North Alta Vista street. Beside the business session, there was a patriotic programme, followed by a 4-o'clock tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Sarwine motored to Mentone on Friday, where they made a brief visit before continuing their trip through Riverside.

Miss Susie Boden was the hostess of the Woman's Missionary Circle at a prettily-appointed tea, which had for its chief feature of entertainment, an interesting programme, presented by the members. The theme was Africa and the approaching centenial of Henry Livingstone made it of special interest. Mrs. W. B. Leffler is the president of the circle.

San Jacinto.

THIS week the P.E.O. Society gave its annual banquet to which all B.I.L.'s were invited. The affair represented the close of the year's work of the P.E.O. An elaborate menu was served and toasts were responded to by many of the ladies and gentlemen present, as they were called upon by the toastmistress, Mrs. Hattie M. Thomas. Mrs. C. D. Pool, the president, presided.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Glass and Mr. and Mrs. Dynes returned the first of the week from a short visit to Los Angeles.

Mrs. C. B. Woodhead arrived during the week for a few days' visit at the Woodhead ranch, northwest of town.

Mrs. B. H. Crow is spending the week with relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Castillo are entertaining Mrs. C. C. McIntosh and son of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Mawhinney are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Emerson, having arrived from Los Angeles Monday. The Mawhinneys are from Pittsburgh and are spending the winter in Southern California.

Harry Jordan, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. J. B. Jordan, for some time, left Thursday for his former home at Visalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farmer returned Saturday from a few days' visit to Los Angeles.

On March 18 the Ladies' Aid of the Christian Church will give a St. Patrick's social.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce are entertaining their daughter-in-law, Mrs. O. A. Pierce of Los Angeles, and her mother, Mrs. Root, from Ohio.

A. J. Sanders, a retired horticulturist and capitalist of Orange, is visiting his sons, W. H. and F. A. Sanders of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lake expect to leave in a short time for Los Angeles county to reside. Mr. Lake will engage in the lumber business.

Mrs. Putnam, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Colton, visited Riverside this week.

Colton.

ONE of the prettiest St. Patrick's Day parties among the younger set was that given by Miss Katheryn Isbell Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Isbell, the affair being a surprise complimentary to Raymond Rains, who has just returned from Indio. House decorations and elaborate refreshments carried out the Irish theme and two shamrock-shaped cakes, iced in green, honored the birthdays of the hostess's aunt, Mrs. C. B. Fuller, and Miss Helen Garner. The guests to share in the charming event were the Misses Gertrude Zempleber, May Sharp, Edna Gorall, Dorothy Armstrong, Mildred Bunnell, Thelma Riley, Helen Garner, Frances McDonald, Paulette Guire, Ruth Hatchett, Bertha Hartley, Lenna King, Mable Jones, Thelma and Katheryn Isbell, Palmer Willets, Chester Hartley, Raymond Bunnell, Liston Oakes, Walter Pritchard, Harold Hunter, Anthony Gill, Elmer McIntyre, Roy Klinker, Floyd Summers, Stonewall Mise, Dale Van Every, Glenn Weaver, Frank Junod, Fay Vaughn, Fred Swartz, Thurlow Sager, Mrs. Paraline Rains, Mrs. C. B. Fuller and Mrs. Isbell.

Celebrating the ninth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Erichsen an informal dinner party was given by Miss Leona Erichsen and Mrs. H. Smith at the pretty bungalow home of the former. Peach blossoms adorned the rooms and the dinner-table, which the guest company surrounded at 6 o'clock to enjoy an elaborate menu. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Erichsen and daughter Helen, Mrs. L. George, Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith and son Ray, Miss Leona Erichsen, Albert, Ed, Ira, Englebert and Walter Erichsen.

Mrs. A. H. Griswold, who, with her husband, left Thursday for her new home in El Centro, was the guest of honor at a reception Tuesday afternoon, tendered by the Colton Woman's Club, of which she is a past president. The affair was strictly informal and just to give an opportunity for a farewell visit between the club members and Mrs. Griswold.

Complimentary to Mrr. R. M. McHargue and Dr. Wallace McHargue, whose birthdays occur but a few days apart, the husband and wife respectively of the two entertained with a card party at the doctor's home Tuesday evening, the affair bein in the nature of a surprise to the honoress. Prize winners in a whist tournament were Mrs. George Ahler and C. E. Mead, the trophies being a hand-painted plate and a box of stationery. A daintily-appointed collation was served at a late hour. Those to share in the charming phases of the pleasant event numbered Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Knopsnyder, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rucker, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Whitmer, Mr. and Mrs. George Ahler, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burns, Attorney and Mrs. Robert McHargue, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace McHargue.

Mrs. M. A. Bausch, Mrs. L. C. Newcomer and son Lucian, Mrs. M. A. Shumate and son Frank, Miss Estelle Ross, Miss Lewis, Mrs. D. W. Villets, Mrs. Amphlett and daughter Cora, Mrs. C. M. Van Every and Palmer Willets were among the Colton folk attending the Los Angeles fashion show. Mrs. Bausch and Mrs. Newcomer also took in the "Mission Play" at San Gabriel while in the city. Mrs. Shumate witnessed Bernhardt in "One Christmas Night" and Miss Ross and Miss Lewis heard Tetrazzini in "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Anaheim.

AMONG the social events during the past week was an indoor garden party given by Miss Ruth Lemon at her home, No. 200 Citron street, Friday evening, March 14. The hostess desired to entertain a number of her friends and she originated the unique indoor garden affair, and directed the decorating. Two spacious living-rooms and reception hall were transformed to resemble a garden. An abundance of green branches of bamboo, pepper boughs, and palm leaves formed an excellent foundation for the garden. Potted plants and other greenery were used to carry out the garden scheme. The reception hall resembled a tea garden, as real peach blossoms in large quantities, formed the decoration for this space. Suggestive of approaching St. Patrick's Day, green tissue paper streamers formed a canopy the entire length of the large living-rooms, and from the center of this canopy were suspended a row of Japanese lanterns. The jolly party enjoyed games suggestive to the occasion until a late hour.

Miss Ruth Lemon,

A pretty Anaheim miss who was hostess at one of the smart functions in the Orange county town last week.

At the residence of Mrs. M. Wiley, a shower was given Monday evening, to Miss Pearl Barnes, of Beaver Crossing, Neb., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mayhew for the winter months. Miss Barnes was made the recipient of many gifts in view of her approaching marriage to Charles Virgoe, who recently arrived here from London.

Inglewood.

THE most brilliant social event of the season in Inglewood was that of Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stevens entertained in Masonic auditorium complimentary to their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Fink of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Miss Irene Lee of Los Angeles. One hundred and sixty guests were present to do honor to the occasion and enjoy the dancing. Lung Trouble Yielded To This Medicine

Consumption is a flattering disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact. If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. If a so-called "cold" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious, or any of the symptoms are present, such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing—take Eckman's Alterative—as Mr. Betterswerth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen: I wish to say for your Alterative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequaled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble. The spring of 1903, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But, at last, James Deering of Glasgow Junction insisted that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles, I felt as well as ever in my life.

"I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alterative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine."

(Sworn Affidavit) A. C. BETTERSWORTH.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Company and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.—[Advertisement.

¶ Extraordinary Conditions Compel Forced Sale of Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Beautiful Furniture—Sensational Reductions for a Few Days to Make Quick Turn of a Full Thousand Articles

—Reason For This Sale!

This is an unexpected piece of good fortune for the furniture buyers of the Southwest. It has been brought about by unexpected conditions which we have been unprepared for and unable to overcome in any other way. As the public well knows, we have been handling in addition to our enormous retail trade a tremendous apartment house and hotel furnishing business. During the past few weeks there has been delay in the completion of several large buildings for which we hold furnishing contracts. The furniture for these buildings has been held in our warehouse a number of days longer than we expected. Now our new Spring goods have begun to arrive—dozens and dozens of carloads—great quantities already here and immense shipments en route and to follow. Our retail floors are crowded now, as always. Under this present condition our warehouse is inadequate to handle these incoming new goods. Our only recourse is this present forced sale, by which we can decisively stimulate business for a few days, and thus relieve the congestion.

Reductions Mostly HALF-PRICE

The Articles Illustrated Are Just a Hint of the Character of the Offerings in This Sale!

There Is Great Variety and the Assortment Is Satisfying

—Savings Now ¼ to ½

For this sale we have gathered together in convenient manner, from our ten immense furniture floors, hundreds of articles of high-grade pieces, which are now marked for quick sale, at reductions of 25 to 50 per cent. The offerings in this sale are largely composed of the better class of medium grade and highest quality lines, and embrace an immense variety of articles for all rooms in a home, and all homes. There are hundreds of pieces at actually half-price, hundreds at a full third less than regular, and hundreds at one-quarter off usual prices. There are many splendid pieces—especially in the higher price lines—at prices that are actually less than the goods could be bought for today at the factories. There are values in this sale which are genuinely remarkable. With the additional wholesale cost of furniture which went into effect the first of this year, this sale becomes all the more surprising. We say, come, see for yourself!

Mrs. E. F. Goff is entertaining Mr. Goff's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Goff, of San Diego, for a month or two.

◆

Corona.

THE Woman's Club of the Baptist Church was entertained Friday by Mrs. Suydam. No programme was given, but a part of the afternoon was spent in the discussion of home and foreign missions. Those present were Mmes. W. H. Jameson, T. C. Jameson, V. A. Glassco, R. E. Blichahn, W. H. Hurek, J. P. Rice, F. W. Reynolds and E. H. Smith.

Mrs. Juliet Powell Rice and Mrs. Charles Dickinson have organized their younger pupils into a music class which meets at the home of Mrs. Rice Wednesday afternoon. The little tots will be taught folk dancing. Their teachers are planning to drill them in a cantata to be given the first of May when they will wind the May pole and give a folk dance.

Mrs. George Brown and her sister, Mrs. Douglass and Miss Douglass of Denver, who are Mrs. Brown's house guests, spent Thursday with friends in Riverside.

Miss Hazel Chambers of Pasadena was a guest of friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Denis Newton and daughter, Myrtle, who formerly lived here, but who now reside in Modesto, are guests at the home of Mr. Newton's brother, I. A. Newton and wife.

Mrs. A. J. Ware entertained several little girls Wednesday afternoon in honor of the ninth birthday of her niece, little Miss Florence Ware, with a poppy party. The invitations were hand-painted with a poppy upon each. After bright little games were played the little tots were invited into the dining-room where dainty refreshments awaited. Each mound of ice cream had a tiny yellow chicken perched on top. The favors were little poppy-shaped baskets full of candies.

The Country Club gave a St. Patrick's ball Saturday evening at the clubhouse. Several hundred invitations had been issued and many attended the brilliant affair.

Monday evening Miss Ruth Boling will entertain the Baraca class of the Methodist Church at her home on Olive street. Decorations and games suggestive of this ancient holiday have been prepared.

Mrs. A. W. Bates gave a music recital Friday evening. About seventy-five guests were present. Miss Hilda Milbank gave most of the evening's entertainment. Miss Milbank is but 16 years of age and gave the following selections on a piano with the skill of a professional: "Humming Bird," P. Perillo; Heller study; "Waltz Caprice," Newland; "Evening Star" from Wagner's "Tannhaeuser;" C Sharp Minor Waltz, Nocturn and Polonaise, all by Chopin; "Traeumerei," Strauss, and Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique."

◆

Monrovia.

MISS ANNA CREWS entertained the Octo Club at her home on East White Oak last night. Mrs. Crews and Mrs. Hugh Marshall were the guests of the club. Five hundred was the game of the evening, the first prize, a guest towel, being won by Mrs. Marshall.

A. W. Hazen and Leon Jacobson, playing partners, won for the second and final time, at Tuesday night's Granite Club razzle-dazzle, the two handsome steins put up by the club as the prizes for the 1913 whist tournament. The steins were captured by Hazen and Jacobson in January and in February Boyd and Hunter made the high score. This month the first team came back with a score of 61 and annexed the trophies for the second time. It is a rule of the tournament that when one team wins the prize twice in succession it shall be declared their property. Last night's contest began promptly at 8:30 o'clock, with Crones and Morris heading the north and south bunch, and Monroe and Dingman leading the east and west crowd. It is the custom to play until 10:30, then adjourn to the dining-room, where the winners are treated to an appetizing lunch by the losers. Since the first of the year the contests have been more exciting, owing to the trophies at stake. The evening's play was won by the north and south side, the high hand score going to Slosson and Slosson, who made 13 points at one hand, and pushed the winners of the prize closely by a tally of 59 to Hazen and Jacobson's 61.

Mrs. George W. Hutton of Santa Monica was the lecturer at the meeting of the club yesterday and gave a very interesting talk on "The Relations of the Different Instruments of the Orchestra." Mrs. Hutton is the chairman of the Music Committee of the District Federation, and is thoroughly at home in musical discussion. In her lecture she dealt with each instrument of the orchestra, describing its own peculiar characteristics of tone quality and compass, its place as a solo instrument, in obligato and in orchestra. Her remarks were effectively illustrated by orchestral selections, instrumental solos and obligatos played upon a Victrola. Mrs. W. G. Davidson was hostess for the day, and Mrs. C. E. Slosson acted as temporary doorkeeper. Great plans are being made by the club for the entertainment of the ladies when the federation meets here March 26. More than 100 clubs will be represented, and it is the earnest desire of the Monrovia ladies that the city should look spick and span when the visitors arrive.

Rialto.

FOREMOST among the events in society the past week was the shirtwaist party given at the home of Mrs. J. R. McKinley, who with her daughter, Mrs. John Bradford, entertained in compliment to their house guests, Mrs. Clara McKinley, of Humeston, Iowa, and Mrs. O. W. Dalgleish of Carruthers, Cal. A profusion of beautiful pink peach and almond blossoms combined with lacy greenery, were the graceful decorations used throughout the rooms, where nearly a hundred guests devoted a pleasant period in conversation and needlework. An interesting feature was the construction of a shirt-waist contest, Mmes. Louise Buxton and J. H. Crowder winning the trophies. Delicious refreshments were served from small tables placed on the screen porch, which was converted into a beautiful Japanese room. Pretty screens, garlands of ivy and smilax, and many wall vases holding the beautiful spring blossoms being most effectively used. Table appointments were St. Patrick emblems. The hostesses were assisted by Misses Lois Martin and Edna May Winslow.

The wedding of Miss Maecie Fern Needham and Arthur Edward Howard of San Bernardino, was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home

A Beautiful BUST
GUARANTEED in 30 days

I have helped thousands of women to obtain perfect development through a simple means by which any woman can easily enlarge her bust to the exact size and firmness desired.

Free to Readers of Los Angeles Times

Thousands of women are today the possessors of beautiful busts and perfect forms as the result of an accidental discovery made more than two years ago by Mme. Margarette Merlain, whose fame has now spread to nearly every part of the world. While taking a new prescription for building up her health, Mme. Merlain suddenly noticed that her bust was growing from almost nothing to a very large size; in fact, her bust measure increased six inches in 30 days.

Physicians and chemists to whom the matter was reported arranged to try the new treatment she had used on ten other women without busts. The results obtained within a few days truly astonished the sages of medicine and science, and in a few weeks each of the ten women had obtained a most marvelous enlargement of the bust. Next it was tried on fifty women without busts, and the same marvelous enlargement was obtained.

Mme. Merlain is herself a living example of the great power of her remarkable discovery. By many she is considered to have the most beautiful bust and most perfect form of any woman in Europe. But best of all, this wonderful discovery not only succeeded in her own case and in those where special tests were made, but it seems to have worked even more astonishing results in the cases of others, even after ordinary pills, massage, wooden cups and various advertised preparations had all been tried without the slightest results.

Miss Helen Marion Buckett of No. 166 Cholmeley road, Reading, writes: "Since using the Venus-Carnis treatment my bust has developed in all four inches, an improvement for which I am extremely thankful."

Mme. de Ziebrovsky of Paris says: "My bust was flat and soft and, thanks to your marvelous treatment, I now have a bust, firm and well developed, which is the admiration of all. I am all the more grateful to you as I had already tried several other remedies which had all been without the least results."

Mme. Dixon of Cannes says: "The great hollows in my neck, which were my despair, have completely disappeared. My bust has become firm and considerably larger, and I am now able to wear low-necked gowns without shame and humiliation."

Mme. McGee of Colwyn Bay, Wales, says: "My breasts, which were a short time ago quite flat and undeveloped, are now, I am proud to say, round and just as large and firm as I desire to have them. I also feel much brighter and better than before."

Mme. Districh of Leipzig, Germany, writes: "I am entirely satisfied, and I never imagined that such results would be possible, because for several years I have been ill and was constantly following treatments of one kind or another. I have not only obtained a beautifully curved form and firm flesh, but my general health has been greatly improved."

Dr. Colonnay of the Faculty of Medicine of Paris declares: "No matter whether a woman be young or old, nor what her condition of health may be, I firmly believe that in the Venus-Carnis treatment she has an infallible method for developing and beautifying her bust."

Dr. Domenico Scuncio of Prata Sannita, Italy, states: "I beg to confirm my previous letters concerning the Venus-Carnis treatment, and I have pleasure in informing you that my patient has used this treatment and is very satisfied with the really marvelous results that she has obtained. I can therefore conscientiously state that this treatment is excellent, and that is can in no way be compared to others of its kind claiming to give the same results."

There are hundreds of just such statements as the above on file in my office, as well as actual photographs taken one month apart, before and after the use of this remarkable treatment. You could see them for yourself, but as you cannot call, I will gladly send you, absolutely free, and under plain sealed cover, complete information regarding the exact means by which you can enlarge your own bust to the size and firmness you desire. All I ask is two 2-cent stamps to help cover cost of mailing, and I positively guarantee you a beautiful bust in thirty days, no matter how flat or undeveloped you may be at present. What this treatment has done for others it is bound to do for you. Use the free coupon below today."

FREE COUPON for obtaining a BEAUTIFUL BUST in 30 days.
Cut out this coupon and send today with your name and address, enclosing two 2-cent stamps to help cover mailing expenses, to Margarette Merlain (Dept. [illegible]), Pembroke House, Oxford Street, London, W., England, and you will receive full information regarding the exact means for making your bust as large and firm as you desire, absolutely free, under plain, sealed cover.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Miss Berle W." asks: "Will you kindly prescribe a safe remedy to reduce my weight? I prefer a tablet, as I cannot take liquid medicine."

Answer: Obtain of any well-stocked druggist a tube of 5-grain arbolane tablets and take as per the directions which accompany the packages. You will reduce at the rate of a pound a day after the first few days of treatment. This remedy reduces goitre also.

* * *

"Howard" writes: "What can I take for headache, dark spots before my eyes, dizzy spells and also constipation?"

Answer: Constipation is the cause of all your trouble, but I can cure you if you will follow my directions. Get at the drug store three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). These are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions. These little tablets purify the blood, the bowels and liver are stimulated into healthy action and will gradually cure your trouble.

* * *

"Little Girl"—To cure your child of bed-wetting get tincture cubeba, 1 dram; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz., and tincture rhus-aromatic, 2 drams. Give 10 to 15 drops in water about one hour before meals.

* * *

Doctor: "I have been a sufferer of catarrh of the head for many years. It has also affected my stomach, bowels and blood. I suffer greatly and would appreciate an immediate answer."

* * *

[illegible]: I should recommend the following local treatment for you. Get two ounces of Vilane powder and to a pint of warm water add one-half teaspoonful and snuff from the palm of the hand through the nostrils two or three times daily. In connection with this make a catarrh balm of one ounce of vaseline or lard and a level teaspoonful of Vilane powder, apply this balm to the nostrils as far up as possible. Also obtain the following ingredients, mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful four times daily: Syrup sarsaparilla comp., 4 ozs.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; fluid extract buchu, 1 oz.

* * *

"Kathryn" writes: "If you know of anything that will stop premature baldness, cure dandruff and itching scalp, I should appreciate a reply."

Answer: The following simple remedy will cure dandruff and promote a luxurious growth of hair. Ask for plain yellow minyol which can be had in 4 oz. jars and use regularly according to directions. I have seen the most astonishing results from its use that I heartily recommend it to all who suffer with any disease of the scalp.

* * *

"Mrs. A. F." writes: "Really if I could find a true remedy to increase my weight I should be the happiest woman alive. I am so thin and scrawny, it is a shame. Why can not I be like other women? I do not work hard and have pretty good health."

Answer: You can "be like other women" if you will follow my advice, which is to take three grain hypo-nuclane tablets packed in sealed cartons with directions, and most widely prescribed by intelligent physicians everywhere. They improve the nutrition, add red blood corpuscles to the blood, improve the complexion, but thorough and regular use must follow to get these good results.

* * *

"Mr. Ben" writes: "My joints are becoming so stiff from rheumatism that I can scarcely walk. Is there any help for me?"

Answer: Of course there is help for you and for all others who suffer from rheumatism. Take the following and you will be entirely cured: Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ oz.; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 5 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again at bed time.

* * *

"Mary J." says: "Every winter I have a cold which lasts till spring. I have tried several doctor's prescriptions but they do no good so I ask you what to do."

Answer: The best medicine to relieve colds and coughs is made by mixing the contents of a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentholaxene with honey or home made sugar syrup. Full directions for making are given on the bottle and also how to take. You will find this will cure your cough in a very few days and it is perfectly harmless and pleasant to take.

* * *

"Miss A." writes: "I have a very bad case of dyspepsia. I am afraid to eat a hearty meal. My breath is bad and I am cross and irritable most of the time."

Answer: If you will get the following tablets and take according to directions which accompany the package, you will soon be rid of all distress in your stomach. It will also help your constipation. They are called tablets triopeptine and are packed in sealed cartons. If this trouble is allowed to stand it will cause appendicitis, so begin taking at once.

* * *

"Helen" writes: "Please tell me what to do to gain an appetite. I cannot eat and am thin and nervous."

Answer: You need a good system tonic and the best one that I could tell you of is: Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 5 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. Mix and always shake well before using. Take a teaspoonful before meals for several weeks and you will gain an appetite and your whole nervous system will be restored to its natural state.—[Advertisement.]

To Save Feathered Beauties.

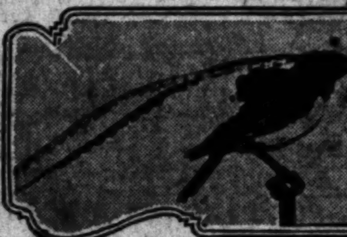
HAT FASHIONS MAY BE CHANGED BY CONGRESS.

The Special Session May Make Feather Decorations Unlawful and Thus Force a New Vogue—Such Action Necessary to Save Beautiful Birds from Being Exterminated—Other Nations Will Co-operate in a World Campaign.

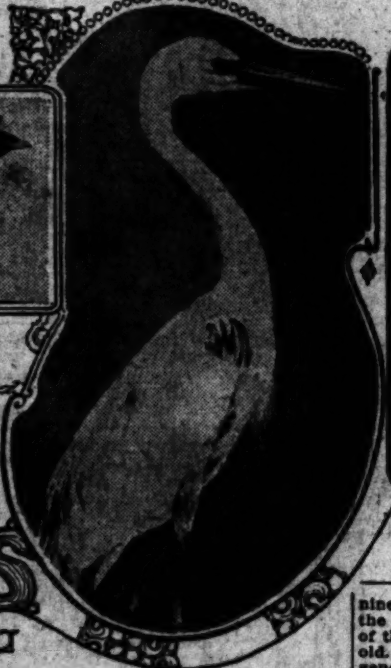
BY WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY.

THE Congress of the United States is asked to supersede Paris in stipulating the manner of Easter bonnet that shall adorn the heads of America's fair femininity. For the present Easter Sunday American woman may run riot and use whatever manner of headgear she may choose, but this is to be the last season in which she is to have that privilege. The special session of Congress will be shown the dire consequences of the course matters are taking and will be asked to take a hand in the hat question. Chapeau legislation seems almost sure.

Unless this course is taken a score of the most beautiful things that the world has ever possessed will be destroyed forever. These are the birds of brilliant plumage that flash in the woods from pole to pole. The magnificent bird of paradise cannot survive the blow guns of the natives of New Guinea another five years unless the use of its feathers in millinery is stopped. The lyre-bird of Australia, greatest of mimics, is almost gone. The snowy egret is being wiped from the jungles of tropic America.



A rare bird from the South Seas, found by the plume hunters only to be exterminated.



The Egret, tragedy queen of the bird world.

Beauteous Birds

That have shared milady's deadly favor.

The great condor of the Andes is fast becoming but a memory because milady likes its feathers. There is but one passenger pigeon in the world, and it has no mate. The terns of the Atlantic Coast have been kept alive only through the agency of bird preserves. Humming birds are killed by the millions and their skins are sold for 2 cents each. Even the stork, symbol of birth, is threatened with extinction.

And now appears the friend of bird life who, by the scratch of a pen, would stop the unthinking barbarity of women who wear bird-trimmed hats the world around by making it impossible for them to do so. Thus would the slaughter lose the cause of its existence. Thus would the birds be saved. The simple expedient is to prohibit the introduction into any country, beginning with the United States, of any wild bird plumage.

CAUSE OF THE SLAUGHTER.

The world campaign against all these creatures of the air has been developed only in the last two decades and it is only just now that the public is awakening to the fact that the birds of the world will be exterminated unless prompt action is taken. Women have worn feathers for more than twenty years, but the great world demand and world attempt to supply that demand has reached a dangerously effective state only of late. The world today takes its fashions from Paris and Berlin and London. The command of those centers to put feathers on the hat has traveled the world around, Paris and Berlin and London then set about supplying the demand. They have sent forth the word wherever their traders go that there is a market for the feathers of brilliant birds. The traders have offered attractive prices to hunters everywhere and the hunters have enlisted the aid of the natives of all lands.

The trogon, that resplendent green bird which is the national emblem of Guatemala, has been hunted so nearly to extinction that the New York Zoo is unable to secure a live specimen. The cock of the rock which finds its home in the high mountains of Peru, is being worn on women's hats in Piccadilly. Silver pheasants are being killed in Burmah and shipped illicitly to London by way of Rangoon. The natives high up on the Amazon are slaughtering humming birds in untold millions. The isolated islands of the Pacific are being visited by poachers and the bird life upon them exterminated. All this is happening on the basis of a great industry that is quite naturally created by a demand for plumage on the part of the wearers of feminine headgear.

In this demand for feathers the highest prices are always paid for the most beautiful birds. Quite naturally in accordance with the law of demand and supply, the birds that are most prized for their beauty will be the first to disappear. When the most beautiful species are gone the plumage of less attractive birds is substituted and those species are likewise exterminated. In this way first one of these magnificent creatures of nature is wiped off the face of the earth for all time, and then its successor is forced to run the same gamut. So is a sort of a fugitive law set up by the spoilers under which the victim is left no chance of escape.

TO THE RESCUE.

The various commonwealths in the United States have passed more or less efficient laws for the protection of game within their borders. The Federal government likewise has a law which prohibits the interstate shipment of game protected by given States. These laws are somewhat difficult of enforcement, but are comparatively effective.

With relation to the birds that are slaughtered in foreign lands, this government has taken no action other than to place a duty of 20 per cent. on imported raw feathers and 60 per cent on imported dressed feathers. Some of the States have stipulated that the feathers of no species of bird found in that State shall be offered for sale, even though imported. The general sale of feathers, however, makes it easy for the dealers to evade the law.

Now appear the representatives of the great associations that are friends to bird life and that want to prevent the extermination of attractive birds, whether they are native of the United States or of some other community. Prominent among these advocates are such men as Dr. William T. Hornaday, president of the New York Zoological Society; T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary National Association of Audubon Societies, and Henry Oldys, bird expert of the Department of Agriculture. These men see a way out.

The special session of Congress is to revise the tariff. When, in that revision, the schedule is reached which has to do with the duty that is imposed upon imported feathers, the friends of bird life will ask that a very simple little clause be inserted. This clause will read something as follows:

"Provided: that the importation of the plumage of any wild bird is hereby prohibited."

So, at a single stroke, would it be made impossible for the women of America to wear the plumage of wild birds upon their hats. If any woman were to appear wearing aigrettes after the passing of this law, she could be called upon to explain the source from which she secured them. The merchant selling them would likewise be faced with the necessity of a satisfactory explanation and so might the aigrettes be traced to the source from which they came. As it is unlawful to kill the egret in the United States and unlawful to import its plumage, there would be no escape.

AIGRETTES AND LADIES' MAIDS.

It has been suggested that under such a law the aigrettes that are now in this country would be very highly prized and would continue to appear on hats for years to come. The bird lovers state that they have no fear of the feathers appearing on fashionable hats even on Easter Sunday, a year from today. They base this assertion upon an alleged understanding of a certain phase of the feminine mind. Wearing an aigrette in the first place would be a confession of the use of plumage that was a year old. Such plumage would be quite generally discarded at the end of the season and would come to be worn only by ladies' maids and such members of the servant class as fall heir to the discarded raiment of their mistresses. So would the popularity of the feather as a hat adornment cease to exist at the end of the season.

Of course the closing of the American markets to bird plumage would not of necessity stop bird slaughter the world around. It could be expected to have a very material effect, however, for the dictators of fashion want to give their edicts force the world around. The American market is very important and Paris would think twice before discarding the American hat trade.

In England the campaign against the use of bird plumage is even more active than in America. The House of Commons and the House of Lords have each passed a bill prohibiting the importation of bird plumage, but at different times. The law has thus never been written on the statutes. It is bitterly fought by the feather merchants of London who are the most powerful in the world. With the prohibition effective in America it is probable that Great Britain would immediately follow suit as would Germany. This would put Paris in a position where its styles, if they sanction bird plumage, might not be adopted in the greater part of the world. So would America become a pioneer in the application to bird life of that principle under which she has already saved from extinction the buffalo, the elk, the fur seal, and other creatures of the wild.

TRAGEDY OF THE EGRET.

The stories of the vanishing birds are many and tragic. There is, for instance, the egret, that beautiful bird of the heron family, which was at one time familiar in forty States of our own Union. The egret is a wanderer by nature and the youth of this nation of a generation ago was sure to see it at one season or another stalking shyly about the marshy places of a neighborhood or standing majestically upon some tree limb along the creek.

But the feathers of the egret, some twenty years ago, began to come into fashion. Steadily the demand began to bring forth more and more feathers from the haunts of the egret. Hunters learned of the possible profits, of the habits of the birds, and found great rookeries in the swamps of the south where they came in season to build their nests and rear their young. Soon it was discovered that during the nesting period the feathers of the egret developed peculiarly and were much more attractive than at other times. Soon the public came to demand that particular variety of aigrettes which were in reality the marital plumes of the species that developed at nesting time.

To supply this demand the hunters came to make special efforts to kill the birds at the time that these aigrettes were especially developed. This was while the mother was feeding her young. The hunters hung about the rookeries and spared the lives of the mothers until the young were in the nests and then killed them. With the mother dead the young slowly starved and thus was the sacrifice multiplied. Thus did the killing of one bird mean much more toward the extermination of the species than it would seem.

So the egret came to be very scarce in the United States. Its final refuge was in the swamps of Florida and here it was long hunted after it had practically disappeared from other haunts. Finally the various States prohibited the killing of the egret, and, while the law is very difficult to enforce, they are being preserved and allowed to multiply to a certain extent.

The egret was formally abundant almost the world around in tropical and temperate zones. Its practical extermination has already been brought about in many countries. At present the greatest activity on the part of egret hunters is in Venezuela and Colombia. So rapidly are the birds being killed in those tropical countries where they are making their last stand that it is estimated that none will exist in another decade.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL BIRD.

Unquestionably one of the most beautiful creatures that has been called into existence since the world began is the bird of paradise, peculiar to certain of the South Sea Islands. New Guinea is the chief home of the bird of paradise. This creature of the tropical forests which, when strutting, surrounds itself with an aura of beautiful plumage, has astounded travelers from all parts of the world since first they began visiting these islands.

The range of the bird of paradise is very narrow, being limited to those islands of which New Guinea is the center. Because of this limited region in which it is found it is a species that may be easily exterminated. Travelers who visited New Guinea a score of years ago told fantastic tales of these beautiful creatures of the air and of their abundance. Specimens of them were brought back to the Western nations and some began to find their way into the millinery trade.

The beauty of the feathers attracted much attention and created a strong demand. The traders began to call on the hunters and the natives for bird of paradise plumes. The offer of money accomplished its result. The natives of New Guinea went forth into the forests to slay these creatures of beauty, that had been theirs since the beginning of time. In these native haunts they climbed high into the tops of trees and there laid in wait with their blow guns until a bird approached into range of these silent implements of death. The noiseless shot pierced the creature of color on a near-by twig but its fall was so silent that not even its mate was warned of the danger.

So one and another and another fell and so was the demand for plumes supplied but to cause a greater demand. Thirty and forty and as much as sixty dollars is the price of the skin of a single bird of paradise. The time for their production is almost past. The traveler who twenty years ago saw one of these splendid creatures on every bough in the New Guinea forests may now travel a day and never see a bird. If the demand still continues the time is

LYRE BIRD OF AUSTRALIA.

The lyre bird of Australia is another rare species that is among the most remarkable of all birds. It gets its name from the peculiar shape of its tail feathers which resemble in a remarkable way the form and appearance of a lyre. This bird is unknown except in Australia. It was at one time very abundant in that island, but like the bird of Paradise it suffered when the millinery trade placed a price on its life. Australia protects it by making its slaughter a violation of the law and its shipment a fine of $250. This does much toward giving the lyre bird a chance, but as long as there is a high-priced demand for these birds there will be poachers to evade the law. But a short time ago 200 lyre bird skins were seized en route to London from Australia.

This bird is the most remarkable mimic that there is among all the creatures of the world. It can sing a song of any other bird of the woods. One which lives near a house will mimic most remarkably all the sounds of that household. The ax of the woodchopper, the bark of a wild dog, the screech of a saw, the laugh of children, and even the spoken words of the teamster will be reproduced with a remarkable exactness by this

A VISIT TO ANATOLE FRANCE.

BY MRS. JOHN LANE.

In a quaint old room in that famous rambling series of mansions known as the Albany—once familiarly called the "Rope Walk"—which stands in the midst of London, and yet seems so far away that the turmoil of Piccadilly reaches it as a faint murmur of bees and locusts in the country of a summer day, there hangs a wonderful picture of Anatole France, by the well-known artist, [illegible]. He sits, his knees crossed, in a Roman chair enveloped in a gray dressing-gown, a small skull-cap of vivid red, just the needed touch of color at the back of his head, an eloquent hand upraised, a familiar gesture, while the strong, speaking face, with its brilliant dark eyes, the short pointed beard and the heavy mustache, take one back to the great men of mediaeval times. The soul of Anatole France has left its imprint on that keenly intelligent face which it has illumined for some sixty-seven years. In those dark eyes one can read the love of beauty, the pity, the wit, the irony, the whimsicality, the profound and all-embracing knowledge, and the virile power which all combined have produced the genius of Anatole France. There he sits in this historic room, surrounded by the portraits of bygone men famous in English art and letters, full of the memories of the past and the promise of the future. How thoroughly he looks at home in this room, lighted by one great leaded window, full of memories—for here, where during a part of the time that he wrote his History of England Macaulay lived, was discussed and planned the memorable enterprise of publishing the writings of Anatole France, thus giving to English readers for the first time the opportunity of studying the works of the greatest modern author of France, if not of the world.

The thanks of the English public are due to Mr. Frederic Chapman for planning and so ably editing this remarkable series, and for selecting so brilliant a staff of translators to accomplish a work which the perfection and charm and lucidity of Anatole France's style rendered all the more difficult.

Among the translators who have so admirably accomplished their task are Alfred Allinson, Robert B. Douglas, A. W. Evans, Mrs. Farley, Lafcadio Hearn, Mrs. W. S. Jackson, J. Lewis May, C. E. Roche and Miss M. P. Willcocks. And to Miss Winifred Stephens especial recognition is due for her masterly translation of the most difficult and erudite of historical works, his "Jeanne d'Arc," for in that she has brought to bear not only her consummate knowledge of French, but her indefatigable and scholarly research into the contemporaneous history of that time.

From a sight of Anatole France on the walls of the old room in the Albany to seeing him in the Villa Saïd, his famous house in Paris, seemed only an unbroken continuity from that wonderful portrait. I was there as an intermediary between an English publisher devoid of French and a great Frenchman devoid of English. To reach M. France, even on his Wednesdays, visitors have, though unconsciously, to submit to a keen scrutiny from the other side of the "Judas" grating in the front door. The dragon who reconnoiters is either a kindly, plump housekeeper or her husband. Usually it is the wife who interpolates her plump person between the great man and the world. She is by belief a strict Calvinist from Geneva, and her only criterion is Geneva. An unfailing recommendation is "J'écris pour le Journal de Genève." That she cannot resist, and it is sufficient to admit the wily suppliant to the very presence of the Master.

As we waited for the door to open I had an attack of nervous prostration on the doorstep, for I suddenly realized that I was about to behold the greatest master of style in the world, whereupon my French [illegible] immediately began to take flight, and by the time we were following the pleasant dragon upstairs it had quite departed. In a flash of [illegible] I observed that the stair walls were covered with treasures collected by one with the keen eyes and the love of an inspired connoisseur—early German wood blocks, old [illegible], old etchings and specimens of [illegible] metal work; but I only [illegible] an acute stage fright when [illegible] opened a door and we were ushered into the presence of the Master himself. He stood there, the same commanding personality as in the painting, but this time in ordinary [illegible], and not as I longed to see him in the famous gray dressing-gown and the little red cap, but with [illegible] charm, at which even the [illegible] can but hint; the captivating smile, the genial courtesy, and that [illegible] presence, which he must have inherited from some ancestor of the time of Rabelais.

[illegible] He reminded them of the [illegible] despairingly trying to collect [illegible] French when heaven [illegible] to my aid. The Master was not alone; he stood in the midst of a group of seven or eight young men—[illegible], journalists and artists, [illegible]—and just as he courteously [illegible] time to translate my [illegible] English, one separated from [illegible] and introduced himself to [illegible] proved to be a distinguished [illegible] to the Mercure de France, [illegible] to my companion that [illegible] met in London.

[illegible] resigned all further efforts [illegible], and so gave my companion the opportunity to explain [illegible] France the technical details of the plan for publishing the [illegible] translations both in [illegible] and America, and at the [illegible] it was a stimulus for him [illegible] M. France's interest and [illegible] of so important an undertaking.

[illegible] Anatole France without even [illegible] who he is, is to realize that [illegible] a great and vital personality. [illegible] of his language and gestures, [illegible] penetrating glance of his [illegible] background of which is [illegible] which is the [illegible] demands of all to whom [illegible] gift of humour, once seen [illegible].

[illegible] but realize the profound [illegible] knowledge he has gathered [illegible] bygone centuries, and that [illegible] history, literature, and art [illegible] the secrets of past and [illegible].

V

[illegible], after all, the higher intellectual [illegible] of the average [illegible] compared, for example, [illegible] English-speaking nations, [illegible] greatest writer, whose vast [illegible] knowledge places him in the [illegible] of the most brilliantly [illegible] of his time, should also [illegible] of the most popular writers. [illegible] Never does he descend to [illegible] to what might be supposed [illegible] the level of ordinary popular [illegible] lifts his readers [illegible] high plane. In what [illegible] is there another popular writer whose works make such a high appeal, and what other country is there that has such a high intellectual record?

The famous Wednesday morning receptions begin at about 10:30, and are usually held in the "salon," full of old carvings and precious mementos of Greek and Egyptian art—Tanagra figurines and other priceless sculptures in marble, ivory and wax. On other days of the week, M. France receives his more intimate friends in the "grenier," which has been converted into a writing-room, and the more privileged few, who visit him on Sundays. At other times he leads the way to his bedroom in which he unfolds a curious fastidiousness of taste in decoration—delicate ivory-white silk hangings and an ivory-white bed of a Directoire pattern. For it is his whim to surround himself with whatever is suggestive of the last work on which he is engaged. So the intricate glory of the Renaissance had to make way for the simplicity of the Directoire when he wrote "Les Dieux ont soif," the English translation of which, "The Gods are Athirst," is just about to appear. Here he also receives the elect—usually beginning with his barber, a super-barber he must be and a student of at least the surface of history, or how could he cut the master's beard in such an historic fashion? If the tonsorial artist comes late, as he often does, that does not matter, for he not only performs his duties unabashed by the presence of the distinguished in art and literature, but he joins in the conversation, and if it is to his taste he has been known to stay the whole morning.

VI

It may not be generally known that his pen-name—France—he took from a nickname by which his father was called in his own young days, during his military service, because of his absorption in the history of the France of the great revolution. So Anatole Thibault became famous as Anatole France, and his father was always known as "le vieux France." Teaching was the first step in his career. He taught classics, and it has indeed been told of him that he often became so engrossed in his subjects that he entirely forgot his pupils. From that time on he began to write, prefaces, desultory articles, finally short stories, among the earliest being "Jocasta" and "Le Chat maigre," which led him to what is truly his first novel, and that was "Le Crime de Silvestre Bonnard," which has been so marvellously rendered into English by Lafcadio Hearn. Those who wish to know more of his early days, I would refer to that beautiful work just published in English, called "My Friend's Book," in which Anatole France has, with exquisite touch, wonderfully recaptured the days of his childhood.

As I was about to leave, M. France gave me two of his books as a remembrance, and added, with a twinkle in his eye, "I should like to write in them 'to my sister author,' but there is no such expression in French; so I must write, 'to my brother author.'" So it stands. Then in parting he gallantly kissed my hand.

"I shall keep this glove for ever as a sacred remembrance," I said to my companion, for I was quite overcome with awe and reverence. But, alas. The very next time I tied up a bundle of gloves for the cleaners', and when they were irrevocably mixed, I remembered, with a thrill of horror, that among them was the sacred glove which the master had kissed. Which one it was I could never again know.

It was a tragedy of a comic kind which, I always thought, would have appealed to the master.

THE UNCHLOROFORMED.

Adolphus Osborne, 91, of Brockton, Mass., the other day married Miss Juann Wadleigh, aged 30.

George Munsinger, Howard, Kan., has celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary. He has 144 descendants.

Heinrich Leifhold of Brueggen, Prussia, has celebrated his second silver wedding. He married again in 1888 after the death of his first wife.

Nelson Shaw of Housatonic, Mass., 88 years old, has been out coasting this winter with a company of boys, of whom Mr. Shaw seems the youngest. He uses a bob sled on which he has been sliding down hill for thirteen years.

William Huggins of Grand Fork has enrolled as a student at the North Dakota corn and clover growing convention. Mr. Huggins is over 104 years old.

Because he was unable to procure a lower berth on the train from Bristol, Va.-Tenn., to Washington, Dr. J. A. Murphy of Bristol was unable to see Woodrow Wilson inaugurated President. Dr. Murphy is 91 years old and has voted the Democratic ticket for sixty-nine years. His first vote was cast for Polk in 1845. He attributes his present vigor to outdoor living and horseback riding.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men.

I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3780 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.—[Advertisement.

WELL TOLD STORIES.

A Costly Virtue.

[Chicago Record-Herald:] "Uncle Joe" Cannon, apropos of Washington's Birthday, said in Danville:

"Washington was veracious. Veracity, I suppose, worked better in those days. It's a virtue now that often costs its owner dear.

"A Danville man howled downstairs from his den the other night:

"'Who the dash-blank-asterisk went and broke my new meerschaum pipe?'

"Little Willie, mindful of the approach of February 22, shouted back in cheery tones:

"'I done it, pop. I cannot lie.'

"'You can't, eh?' roared the father, running downstairs, strap in hand. 'Well, you won't be able to sit, either, when I'm through with you, begosh!'"

Human Misunderstanding.

[Washington Star:] Elihu Root, at a Chamber of Commerce dinner in New York, said:

"There are hundreds of thousands of people outside of the great industrial communities who think the Chamber of Commerce a den of thieves, who think that the manufacturers of the country are no better than a set of confidence men."

Discussing this regretable misunderstanding afterwards, Root smiled and said:

"It is a misunderstanding that will come right in the end; but just now, if a rich man ventures to say to a poor man, 'I believe in putting by something for a rainy day,' the poor man would sneer bitterly and reply:

"'Yes, that's why I and my friends lose so many umbrellas.'"

A Real Pioneer.

[Tit-Bits:] "It is to the pioneers of big movements that the credit and honor belong, not to the followers," said a lecturer on vegetarianism in a Highland village, and he exhorted his hearers to become pioneers of vegetarianism in that neighborhood, says Tit-Bits.

At the conclusion of his lecture he was warmly shaken by the hand by an old lady, who thanked him for speaking so kindly of her son Donald.

"But I think you have made a mistake," replied the lecturer. "I don't know your son and I'm not aware that I mentioned him tonight."

"Yes, yes!" said the big lady. "Donald is one of those pioneers of big movements."

"Oh, I see," replied the lecturer. "What is your son, madam?"

"What is Donald?" said the proud mother, in a surprised tone. "Why, Donald walks in front of a steam roller with a red flag."

A Resourceful Scot.

[London Telegraph:] A Scottish tourist walking about the streets in Paris, some distance from his hotel, found he had taken a wrong turning, and, to make things worse, he couldn't, through ignorance of the language, ask the way.

Then a happy thought struck him. By dint of signs he concluded a bargain with a fruit hawker for a basketful of gooseberries, and then, to the amazement of everybody, went about shouting:

"Fine Scotch grossets! A penny a pun'!"

This went on for a while, till a fellow-countryman rushed forward and asked:

"Man, d'ye think ye're in the streets of Glesca that ye gang about like a madman crying grossets?"

"Ech!" replied the hawker, with a sense of relief, "ye're just the man I was looking for. D'ye ken the way to the ——— hotel?"

In a Tight Place.

[Chicago Record-Herald:] Colgate Hoyt, Jr., at a dinner in New York, told, apropos of Washington's Birthday, a story about Washington.

"When Col. Lee," he said, "was getting up a subscription for a monument to the Pater Patriae, he called on a certain rich man.

"But the rich man refused to subscribe.

"'No, sir,' said he. 'I see no necessity for a monument to Washington. His fame is undying, sir. He is enshrined in the hearts of all his countrymen.'

"'Is he enshrined in your heart?' asked Col. Lee.

"'He is, sir.'

"'Then all I have to say,' replied the colonel, 'is that he is in a tight place.'"

CHURCHMEN.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, who has been elected chief rabbi of the United Hebrew Congregation of the British Empire by a vote of 298 to 56, is a resident of New York. The vote represents the orthodox Jews of the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other parts of the empire. Dr. Hertz is a Hungarian and came to this country in 1884, at the age of 12, and was educated at Columbia and the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, in New York. He has been a rabbi of Jewish congregations in Syracuse, N. Y., and Johannesburg, South Africa, and since September, 1911, of the congregation of Orach Chaim Synagogue, Ninety-fifth street and Lexington avenue, New York City.

The Rt. Rev. Charles Perry Scott, bishop of North China, has resigned his place, and will leave next autumn. Bishop Scott was ordained in 1870, and has held his present position since 1880. Practically his entire clerical life has been spent in China, as he went to Chefoo as a missionary soon after being ordained. He is an Englishman, the son of a minister and is a graduate of Jesus College, Cambridge.

C. T. Studd, who was one of three brothers who made the Cambridge cricket eleven famous in the early '80s, and who since has had adventures in India and China, feels that he has got to be in the "line," and will lead a party of plucky Cambridge men who have volunteered for service as missionaries into a practically unexplored region of Central Africa. Their destination is a tract of country occupied by the Niam-Niams, a cannibalistic tribe, of whose language not one of the party knows a single word.

Rev. William Albert Frye of the Woodlawn Park Methodist Church, Chicago, recently preached a left-handed sermon, and all who participated in the day's service used their left hand exclusively. Queen Victoria, he said, "was born left-handed. It was the left hand that brought Michael Angelo fame. Rube Marquard, Sir Robert Baden Powell, Landseer, Ty Cobb, the Crown Prince of Germany and most of the crowned heads of Europe are left-handed or ambidextrous. Yet that man Caesar Lombroso says left-handed people are criminals, weak-minded, insane; that they belong to the lower, savage order of mankind, akin to the beasts. I would have liked to punch that man Lombroso—he was a fakir. His facts are not facts. He asserts our kinship with monkeys and parrots—says these are left-handed. But that is not true. Of twenty-five monkeys I tried twenty-three reached out for a cookie with the right hand, and of seventy-five parrots sixty-three grabbed a cracker with the right claw. Who's close to the animals, right-handed men?"

Rev. Father F. L. Odenbach, weather expert of St. Ignatius College at Cleveland, O., is at work on a device which will keep accurate tab on the sun, will show its coming and going, and record exactly the length of time it shines. The device is constructed on the principle of the metal thermometer. Two strips of the same metal are used, asbestos being placed between them and the outer strip coated with black paint. Temperature will actuate both strips the same way, but the outer one will become much hotter when the sun shines. Its expansion will establish electrical contact with a clock, which makes a record every minute.

REMEMBER the old elastics in hose supporters—lasted no time? That's the kind of elastic all other makers still have to use in corsets—they have no other.

Nemo elastic fabrics—Lastikops Webbing and Lastikops Cloth—are patented Nemo inventions, used only in Nemo Corsets.

They are partly elastic, partly non-elastic; needle doesn't cut the rubber strands—they don't "give out," like all other elastics, but will outwear the corset.

The Magic Art of Growing Hair—and Other Beauty Secrets

By Miss Valeska Suratt

Valeska Suratt Is the Only Woman on the American Stage Who Wears No Puffs, "Rats" or Switches

Miss Suratt in Her $3,000 Black Velvet Costume Trimmed With Rhinestones

"You Should Notice the Difference in Your Hair Anyway in a Week or Ten Days."

ONCE I knew a lady, "and a very nice lady was she," whose comb was always tangled with a mass of broken and dying hair after she had finished combing it. Of course, some hair will always come out on the comb or brush, but what I mean is that at every combing she drew out almost enough hair in a week to make a good-sized pin cushion.

If her hair had not been naturally rapid in its growth she would by this time be almost bald. She had to wear rats and puffs and switches, of course, as most women do, to make up the lack of hair. She tried nearly everything under the sun, and quit disgusted.

That "nice lady" was myself. Now this lady, very remarkable as this may seem to you, wears no rats, no puffs, no switches. She has enough hair to make it up in any way she likes in a few minutes, without having to have recourse to any of these subterfuges.

How do I do it? How did I stop my hair from falling out after having tried everything recommended by my friends and most of the treatments advertised? It flashed across my mind one day, when I noticed that the falling hair was greatly decreasing in quantity, that the cause of it was a certain head-wash I had been using for some time. I at once experimented further, and found, what I have been able to prove since, is the most remarkable hair and scalp treatment I have ever used or heard of, and I have tried them nearly all.

Here it is: With a half-pint of water mix half a pint of alcohol. To this add one ounce of beta-quinol. Shake thoroughly, and it will then be ready to use. If you prefer you can use imported bay rum instead of the water and alcohol.

The beta-quinol you can get at almost any drug store for not more than 50 cents. The ordinary prepared hair tonics which you buy in the stores usually cost you one dollar. But this formula makes one full pint of the best hair grower and tonic one can ever hope to obtain.

○ ○ ○

This formula should be applied very freely on the scalp after brushing the scalp generously for a few minutes all over. Rub the tonic thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips. This will surely stop your hair from falling out. You should notice the difference anyway in a week or ten days. After a while you should notice your hair beginning to take on new life. It will have a more silky appearance and will begin to grow so luxuriantly that it will be one of your greatest prides.

MRS. ELLEN T. asks: "What can I do to get rid of pimples? I have had them for years and no creams or lotions seem to do any good, in spite of the fact, too, that I am very careful what I eat."

The food you eat has really less to do with the presence of pimples than most people think. Besides, you can surely get rid of them without having to diet at all. If you will dissolve twelve ounces of granulated sugar in one-half pint of water, and add one ounce of sarsene and mix the whole together thoroughly, adding more water to make a pint, you will have one of the most splendid and effective pimple removers it is possible to obtain. Sarsene is a liquid which you can get at the drug store by the ounce. It makes a blood remedy which has an exceedingly wonderful purifying effect in a very short time. Take one or two teaspoonfuls of this mixture three or four times a day, with a little water if desired.

You will, of course, appreciate the fact that I am giving you something which is absolutely safe in every respect.

You will find the difference in your face in short order. I have had many use this formula, and it has invariably done its work in brilliant fashion.

○ ○ ○

FLORA FRECKLES—I am surprised you should consent to use such a rank poison on your face. This constitutes the main principle in most of the treatments sold for whitening the skin. It makes the skin rough, eats into the outer skin and usually ruins all prospects of ever beautifying the complexion. Sometime ago I gave my readers my secret for whitening the skin, which I believe you will say is really a marvel. It will at the same time make your face bloom like a rose, and as soft as velvet. I will repeat it here in a few words:

Boil half a pint of water. Add 2 tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding 1 ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. After bathing in the morning, hold a wet, hot towel to the face several times for several minutes. Rub this cream on the entire face liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of zintone for about 50 cents.

○ ○ ○

CORAH.—Many women complain of red, rough hands. If you will read my instructions above to Flora Freckles you will surely see the result in a short time. This formula will whiten and soften the arms and hands most beautifully

○ ○ ○

MISS ENGAGED—I have had a great many requests for the best hair remover. Next Sunday I will give you full details and the formula. I use it constantly. The results will surprise you.

FONDA—"What shall I do for wrinkled hands? I am only 21 and they are a sight. Also for crow's feet."

This is one of my beauty formulas. I gave it some time ago, but will repeat it here:

In one-half pint of boiling water, pour two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. In a few minutes add two ounces of eptol and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove from the fire and stir constantly until cold. Keep in air-tight jar. You should be able to get eptol at any good drug store, and it should not cost you more than 50 cents. This will last quite a while.

Apply this cream every morning with the tips of the fingers, after washing your face with very warm water and soap. Use very liberally. After you have applied it take up the flesh in your fingers, pinch it and roll it for a few minutes until the cream disappears. Then apply your complexion powder. This cream will not grow hair.

NAMELESS—You will find a remarkable difference in your scrawny neck and lack of bust development by using the following:

In a half-pint of hot water, dissolve two ounces of ruetone and half a cup of sugar, all well mixed together. Of this, take two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day in a wine glass of water, after your meals. I have found this to be a peculiar tonic, giving astonishing results in a few weeks' time. It will cost you one dollar at the drug store. It will do all you can ever ask of any treatment for this purpose. You will assist the development a great deal by massaging the bust with the eptol cream mentioned above.

○ ○ ○

EUNICE—If you will use the beta-quinol formula treatment given above on your eyebrows, you will find a decided result in a short time. It is a very powerful promoter of hair growth, the best I have ever known. It will do the work.

○ ○ ○

BARBARA T. N.—For blackheads, first wash the face with hot water and soap. Next sprinkle some neroxin generously upon a sponge made wet with hot water. Then rub well for a few minutes on the parts of the skin which are affected with blackheads. You should be able to secure the neroxin at any druggist for 50 cents. You will find this formula very remarkable in results if used faithfully until all blackheads are gone.

○ ○ ○

MRS. O. N. S.—Superfluous hair on the face, hair in the arm-pits, and the small "fuzz" that spoils the cleanly, unblemished appearance of the faces of so many women, can be removed with the greatest ease, without leaving the least mark or reddish spot.

Get at any good drug store one ounce of simple sulfo solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has actually dissolved. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water.—[Advertisement.

"This Hair Formula Is the Best I Have Ever Known."

Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

A. J. B.: You can have beautiful, long, glossy and fluffy hair of rich, even color if you shampoo carefully at least once every month with any wash that does not contain "free" alkali. Do not use soap. The best, most dependable and really delightful mixture is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. This is enough to cleanse both hair and scalp thoroughly of dandruff, dirt and excess oil and the hair dries quickly and evenly with a wonderful gloss and delightful soft fluffiness.

Mrs. M.: Clogging skin with powder is likely to ruin the finest complexion, enlarge pores and produce pimples and blackheads. An economical home-made spurmax lotion is fine for complexion faults and frequently used instead of powder, as it is invisible when on and imparts a delightful, velvety smoothness and healthy hue to the skin. Get four ounces of spurmax from your druggist and dissolve in a half-pint hot water, to which add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. The spurmax lotion prevents chaps and overcomes oiliness and that lifeless look to the complexion.

Florence: Your pimply skin and rundown feeling is doubtless due to impurities in the blood, which cause most skin eruptions. The best and most effective remedy is this home-made and very inexpensive one: Dissolve one ounce kardene in a half-pint alcohol (not whiskey) then add a half cup sugar and enough water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and it will expel poisons from the system, clear and tone skin and build up and strengthen entire body.

Blanche B.: Yes, you can reduce your superfluous flesh without dieting or exercise. Relief may be found in this harmless remedy: Dissolve four ounces parnotis in 1½ pints of hot water and take a tablespoonful before meals. It removes fat rapidly and leaves the skin free from wrinkles or flabbiness. It has helped many who have tried for years to find relief.

Mrs. F. P.: It is humiliating to have a fuzzy growth on your skin, but if you will follow these simple directions it will soon vanish: With a little delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface. Apply and let remain two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and all trace of hair will have vanished. This is a harmless way to banish hair or fuzz and does not mar the skin.

Mrs. X.: For your thin eyebrows, I would suggest applying pyroxin with forefinger. This induces them to grow thick and glossy. Short eyelashes will grow long and silken, with a beautiful curl, if you apply pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. Care should be used not to get any pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

Bras F.: There is only one dandruff cure I recommend and it not only rids the head of dandruff but aids the growth and appearance of the hair. It is, in fact, a perfect quinine tonic which you can make at home. Get an ounce of quinzoin from your druggist. Dissolve in a half pint of alcohol (not whiskey) to which solution add one-half pint of cold water. Rub into scalp once or twice a week with tips of fingers. It is effective and helps the growth by stimulating scalp to perfectly natural action.

Ruth: I always cure dull, listless, tired, aching eyes by the use of this simple, inexpensive, home-made tonic, which can be prepared very easily by just dissolving an ounce of crystos in a pint of water. Two or three drops placed in each eye, quickly relieves that smarting, burning sensation, reduces inflammation and gives beauty, sparkle and brilliancy to the eyes.

Eating After the Cow.

[Indianapolis News:] Tom, 5 years old, sat looking at a plate of cold tongue. "What's that?" he asked at last.

"Cold tongue," was the answer.

"Are we going to eat it?"

"Certainly."

"Well, have we ever had any before?"

"Yes."

"Did I eat it?"

"Of course you did."

"Well, what you think of that? And after it had been in a cow's mouth."

John Haviland, a seventy-four-year-old mountaineer, recently came to Huntington, W. Va., with his fifteen children and twenty grandchildren, and announced that he was looking for work for himself and his children and grandchildren. In the party there were ten of Haviland's children, who are married. When surprise was expressed at the number of children and grandchildren who had accompanied Haviland in his search for a position, the aged mountaineer chuckled and said: "Huh! I left thirty-seven great-grandchildren back thar in the mountings. If I can git all these lads and lassies somethin' to do, I'll send for another bunch."

LOOKS LIKE THE MAN FOR CITRUS GROWERS TO KNOW

Personal and Political Talk With A. Mitchell Palmer, Who Will Be President Wilson's Confidential Agent in the Lower House of Congress—He Will Help Write the Democratic Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The duel between Charles M. Schwab, the suave specialist in metals and money, and Alexander Mitchell Palmer, a Quaker lawyer, living out in the country, began in 1908. The same Mr. Palmer, be it understood, who could have been Secretary of War in Woodrow Wilson's Cabinet, and who will be one of the real pillars of progression in the new administration. Needing a little enthusiastic support, Schwab called to the 10,000 workers in his steel mills at South Bethlehem. They poured forth alacriously, rolling up their sleeves energetically.

Figures cannot be given with precision, but persons who ought to know say that about 90 per cent. of Schwab's re-enforcements went over to Palmer when they reached the polls. However that may be, Palmer—A. Mitchell, to write it down as he writes it himself—came to Congress from the Twenty-sixth District of Pennsylvania. Likewise, he came in 1910. By 1912 the habit was chronic, and he came again.

The Schwabian argument was that Palmer antagonized the status quo, economically. The Palmerian reply was that Schwab robbed the consumers of steel rails, armor plate, and so forth. Conciliation was unthinkable after Palmer said that Schwab, with a primary investment of $300,000 in cash, had, by adding his profits thereto, built up an establishment capitalized at $15,000,000, on which a dividend of 10 per cent., or $1,500,000, was paid annually. Meanwhile, Mr. Palmer asserted, Schwab's workmen, for the most part, were receiving no more than 18 cents an hour for their labor.

Thus the duel fiercely opened five years ago has continued. On the one side, an ocean of money. On the other, an ocean of words and a tongue brutal as a hatchet. Now the phrase, "a Quaker lawyer," may suggest a benign theeing and thouing person wearing baggy trousers and a countenance like a missionary. Moreover, to habituate him out in the country scarcely gives a potent and sophisticated touch to the picture. A soda biscuit label, however, does not reduce the explosive and tearing powers of a can of nitroglycerin.

Persons depending on iron and steel for their bread and butter and, indeed, all men and all women who live by labor or get dividends on their capital, ought to know the facts about Mitchell Palmer. If better times dawn, he will, in part, be responsible. If bad times come, he will rightly be censurable. Besides, he is to be President Wilson's confidential agent and official spokesman in the House of Representatives. Moreover, the duel with Mr. Schwab is to go on indefatigably.

SAILED WITH WILLIAM PENN.

Mr. Palmer will be 41 years old on May 4. His ancestors came from England with William Penn in the sailing ship Welcome. The Palmers, therefore, are old and historical settlers. Many Quakers are rich. They are frugal, industrious, and very good at bargains. Mitchell Palmer's father sent him to Swarthmore College, being a man in comfortable circumstances.

"Once educated," the son told me, "I was to look out for myself. Nothing was said, perhaps, bearing directly on the subject, but I sensed the feeling of the family and, further, had an assortment of personal convictions. Novels have been written picturing domestic life among the Quakers. Fathers in such stories are commonly described as going around with rods in their hands and stern expressions on their faces. I am a birthright Quaker, that is, to say, both my father and mother were members of the denomination. I also married into an old-time Quaker family. No gentler or sweeter men ever lived than the Quaker husbands and fathers of Pennsylvania, and other eastern States. I know all about them.

"Well, to return to my own case, I borrowed money of a college friend and took a course in shorthand. Then I studied law while holding the office of court stenographer. While thus engaged I was hired to sue a man for $30. He had purchased some firewood and had procrastinated in the matter of its payment. The cause was tried before a justice of the peace. I won rather easily. The fee, I informed my client, would be $5. That was more than twenty years ago. The fee is still uncollected, though my first client, and I honor him as such, tells me every time I see him that he means to pay it.

WALLOPED AS A YOUNG LAWYER.

"I was admitted to the bar at the age of 21, and was immediately taken into partnership by John B. Storm, who had served three terms in Congress and had a large and lucrative practice. Unfortunately for him, and for our clients, his health was bad. A great deal of business consequently came into my management. The experience was excellent for me, if for no one else. I had to try cases against men who had been active and successful lawyers for years. Often I was beaten. Defeats, however, are frequently of value to the victims, in that they promote industry and improve tactics, and are chastening to the spirit. Some things can be learned in no other way. I was walloped good and hard by a lawyer, who, to my growing consternation, turned up in nearly every big case I tried. I am indebted to him. I now understand, but I didn't think so at the time. There is romance in poverty, I know, but I was never poor. There is tragedy in sitting gloomily in one's office and waiting for clients who do not appear. As for myself, I had more work than I could do."

"And ultimately became a corporation lawyer?" I observed.

"There is a good deal of buncombe spoken and written about corporation lawyers," Mr. Palmer answered. "The lawyer never lived who didn't want to do business for the best man in his city or town. The best men in a community are those who are doing the things that ought to be done. They are merchants, bankers and manufacturers. Lawyers want them for clients, physicians want them for patients, and preachers want them in the high-priced pews. Stroudsburg, where I lived and where I have always practiced law, had a population of 4400 in 1910. We have had no immense corporations, but we have had several small ones, and I was always glad to get their business. Men in little places and large places come together and organize corporations. That is the way business is done nowadays.

BELIEVES LAWYERS ARE HONEST MEN.

"Furthermore, a corporation lawyer is not the worst lawyer in town. I was also the local attorney for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, and represented it in actions brought for personal damages. Poor men also were numbered among my clients. I was accused of being a corporation lawyer when I ran for Congress the first time. The charge, however, had no injurious effect on my campaign. People are not easily misled when they know the man and the facts.

"It often happens that a lawyer, getting into politics, is distrusted because of his supposed sympathy with corporations. There are some bad lawyers. As a class, however, lawyers are responsible and upright men. They take an oath of fidelity to court and client when they begin their practice. They feel their responsibility to the community, as represented by the court, as well as to the man by whom they are directly employed. When they are elected to public office their feeling of personal responsibility is not lessened a particle, and a whole city, a whole State, or the whole nation, in place of a single man or corporation, becomes their client. We have seen that a Wall street lawyer like George W. Wickersham, Attorney-General under President Taft, cannot justly be charged with leniency toward the interests and big corporations. I am led to make the remarks because of the buncombe one hears in politics about successful lawyers, and not because I want to defend myself. My corporation clients were small community organizations."

"How did you get into Congress?" I inquired.

"I suppose that most young lawyers in small towns think of the public service. They mean to practice, accumulate some property, and round out their lives in politics. But I had no intention of running for Congress at the age of 36. I was a Democrat, but a free-lance, going with my party when I thought it right, but reserving the duty to criticise it when I thought it wrong. Nothing aroused my ire so much as the Democratic system of sending men to Congress.

DISTRICT OF MILLS AND MINES.

"Our district has been Democratic for a great many years. It is compose of the counties of Carbon, Monroe, Northampton and Pike. Anthracite coal was first mined in Carbon county nearly a century ago. We give the United States about 80 per cent. of its supply of slate. The 10,000 men at Mr. Schwab's steel works are my constituents. Cement is manufactured in immense quantities. The district, industrially, is of great importance. It was modern in every respect except in its politics.

"The Democratic leaders in the four counties got together long before I became a voter, and entered into a bargain that was to be binding for fifty years. It was known as the rotation agreement concerning members of Congress. No man at first was to serve more than one term in the House of Representatives and the nomination was to be given to a different county every two years. I didn't want office; I wasn't kept out of Congress, you understand, and therefore could condemn the contract and not be accused of selfishness. It was very obnoxious to me as a free-speaking man and free-thinking Democrat. It was a trust, in the first place, entered into by machine politicians, and, furthermore, was bad for the district. 'Just about the time a man learns the names of the principal streets in Washington,' I said, 'he is brought home and some one else takes his place. The arrangement is not only infamous, but it is idiotic.'

" 'You have been preaching sound doctrine for several years,' a number of men said to me in 1908. 'Now, if you are really in earnest,' they continued, 'you will mix it up with a little practice. Run for the nomination and break up the combination.' I tried to back away, but I couldn't do it honorably. I had talked rather loudly and bitterly, and, at least, had to be consistent, or thereafter keep my mouth shut. So I announced my candidacy. 'Rotation is rotten,' I shouted at every opportunity. That was my platform. It was alliterative and not over-refined, but it was short, it told the truth, and it pulverized the trust.

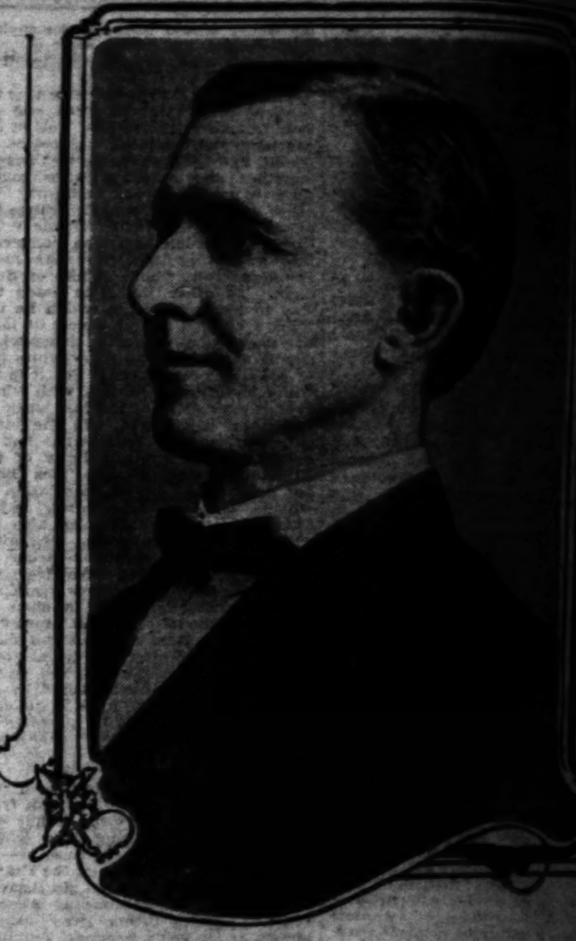
"The organization in each of the four counties called their leaders into the field, but I beat them at the primaries after a campaign on the stump, and was nominated. Then I had another contest, to be elected. So far, since 1908, I have had six pitched battles in my district. Three of the counties are now favorable to me and perhaps my worst home troubles are over. I am the first man in many years to serve two consecutive terms in Congress, and I think I am the only man who has had three consecutive nominations. I made a tariff speech two weeks after entering the House of Representatives. Marlin E. Olmsted of Harrisburg, was in the chair. I had once gone to Harrisburgh with the idea of becoming his partner. He had an extensive practice, especially in tax litigation. I found that I could make a great deal of money as Mr. Olmsted's partner, but that I should lose my identity. So I returned to Stroudsburg in a month or two. Well, Mr. Olmsted was in the chair, as I have said, and I was sure I had one friendly listener, even if he didn't agree with me. After I concluded my speech, George D. McCreary, one of the members from Philadelphia, congratulated me, saying: 'I was a judge at a debate years ago, when you were a student at Swarthmore and decided against you.' So my initiation into the oratory of Congress was exceedingly pleasant."



Atty.-Gen. B. F. Looney of Texas,
Who leads attack on oil companies.

Since his first speech on the tariff, Mr. Palmer has made others on the same question. He thinks, evidently, that many fortunes in this country were obtained unfairly, and more than once has hinted at measures of restitution. A tax on incomes and a tax on inheritances, he declared in his first speech, "will afford to the government a means of recovering for purposes of operating the government, a portion of the wealth which the same government has allowed the possessors to acquire by reason of the favoritism legalized in the protective tariff enactments on our statute books." Like Mr. Wilson, he seems to be a theoretical free trader.

CLEVELAND CAPTIVATED HIM.

"You live in one of the busiest and most prosperous manufacturing regions in the country," I said. "When did you become an enemy of protection?"

"At college, I suppose," he answered. "I was a student at Swathmore in 1888, when Mr. Cleveland ran for President the second time. His famous tariff message of December 6, 1887, filled me with enthusiasm. A national election was coming on, and he again was to go before the people as a candidate. He might have dodged the issue, but he bravely told the country that customs duties were a tax which was invariably added to the prices of products. Mr. Cleveland overturned all traditions and limited his message to Congress to a single subject. He made no other recommendations.

"Friends warned him that the message would cause his defeat at the polls the following year. Col. Alexander K. McClure of my own State, and John G. Carlisle, who was to be elected Speaker of the House of Representatives on the following Monday, spent several hours with him on Saturday night, previous to the opening of Congress. They begged him to change the message, but he refused to accept their advice. The great document went to the people. 'It is a condition which confronts us—not a theory,' Mr. Cleveland told the country. That phrase has gone into the literature of our politics.

"The courage of President Cleveland captivated my boyish imagination. Washington seemed far away and was wrapped in romance. Young fellows, meaning to be lawyers, hope some day to live in that city, to be part of the government, and to accomplish mighty things. They study public questions and read about their heroes in the newspapers. And their studies go further than is often believed. President Cleveland settled my tariff convictions. He was beaten in 1888, but his moral victory was honorable and revolutionary. I have come to Washington since then; I am here in the situation I once read about, and my opinions on the tariff are unchanged."

TELLS OF HIS BATTLES WITH SCHWAB.

"Mr. Schwab's iron and steel works," I said, "are located in your district?"

"Yes, and so is Mr. Schwab a good part of the time. He has been my most active enemy politically. I had scarcely got in the House of Representatives when Mr. Schwab's workmen went on a strike. They wanted better conditions. A committee of them came to see me. I heard their story, and then concluded that they were right. A rumor started in South Bethlehem that the strikers meant to call on the President, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy and tell them that inferior work was being done for the government. Mr. Schwab naturally was excited. He notified the merchants of South Bethlehem that if he didn't win the strike he would shut down his works. He loaded them on a railway train and brought them to Washington. I didn't change my opinion, however, as to the merits of the case. The strike was settled and the men went back to work. Their conditions were improved and the cost fell on Mr. Schwab. I suppose I shall have trouble with him so long as we both live in the same Congressional district."

"Will the tariff bill which you will help to write during the special session of Congress next month be enacted into law?"

"There is no doubt of it. The Senate and House will agree on a bill and President Wilson will sign it. While the bills we sent to Mr. Taft, only to be vetoed, were not sacred and their rates were not immutable, they will, as a whole, be followed [illegible] measure we shall propose. [illegible] in the Payne law will be [illegible] went to the country on [illegible] tion and won. PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE.

NOTED ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST OF NATIONAL FAME AND REPUTATION.

STUDIO PARLORS, 539½ S. BROADWAY. A RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES 29 YEARS.

PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The horoscope shows the powerful influence of the planets in all affairs of life. It shows diseases, deaths, love and marriage, financial affairs, talents, environments, about children, relatives, when and where to travel, what to seek or avoid, when in danger of losses, troubles, etc., etc.; also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES of these events for the FUTURE.

PROF. ALTHOUSE read E. H. Sothern, Nat Goodwin, Schumann-Heink, Gadski, Admiral Schley, David Starr Jordan, ex-Gov. Pardee, ex-Senator Clark, Senator Smoot, Baron Rothschild, Gen. Chaffee, Edison, Sousa, Modjeska, Sembrich, Julia Marlowe, Anna Held, Jefferson, Capt. Hobson, Lillian Russell, Calve, Admiral Evans, H. E. Huntington, De Wolf Hopper, Maxine Elliott, Ethel Barrymore, etc.

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S SKILLED work must not be classed with other readers. Therefore do not waste your money on the idiotic advice and warning of HUMBUG astrologers, palmists, psychics—those doing dishonest work.

PROF. ALTHOUSE gives expert PALM readings with each astrological reading.

DR. J. A. LARSEN writes: "I want to say that your reading was the most satisfactory thing I have ever had in my life. I know a great deal about these sciences, and I consider your work as the most THOROUGH and reliable of any reader in the United States."

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting of HOROSCOPES and in HAND reading has brought him a LARGE AND SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances. Personal attention given. STRICT PRIVACY. HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK that skill and many years of experience can produce. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE solicited.

Daily and evenings; Sunday, 10 to 3.

MRS. MASSON,

the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 322 S. SPRING ST. (over Owl Drug Store) by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.

The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigation along psychological lines that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT information.

PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life.

Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, and ways and means of climbing out of a rut of ill luck into wide paths of success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.

MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.

FIRST-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

HENLEY.

LOS ANGELES, NOTED SUCCESSFUL SEER.

HIS ADVICE HELPED TO MAKE LOS ANGELES WHAT IT IS TODAY.

THE OLDEST PSYCHIC IN THE CITY, TWENTY-FOUR YEARS.

317 W. THIRD, NEAR HILL.

Before you go into anything of importance or undertake anything serious—in business or love, or marriage, or before you make any change—you should consult the master mind of psychics.

DON'T FORGET.

If you contemplate consulting a psychic, several things should be taekn into consideration—ABILITY, the HONESTY of methods, the FAIRNESS of dealings, the HIGHER degree of work, the ACCURACY of each prediction, the COMMON SENSE used with it, the INTEREST taken in each case, the RESPECT shown to each caller, the fact of SECRECY in consultation, the FEE charged for services.

WANTED — IF UNABLE TO ATTEND school six months, Gregg or Pitman shorthand are NOT for you. Fifty of our students study these methods and [illegible] pleased, but they are NOT for you. [illegible] afraid of so-called short methods [illegible] admit you have just cause to [illegible]. If, however, a reputable institution offers a short method which they guarantee to be the equal of any system in the world, will you investigate? Founded by the S. P. [illegible] Co., 1907, the MACKAY BUSINESS COLLEGE has been almost the exclusive source of supply of stenographers, book-keepers and telegraph operators for that company, and we state positively that Stidger [illegible] LEAD THEM ALL. Hundreds of Stidger stenographers are employed by local business houses. They all make good. There are no failures in our Stidger classes. The system is so easily learned, the characters so plainly read that a child can master it. If you operate a typewriter, you can learn Stidger shorthand easily in one month. For those who only wish to remain in the business a year or two, it would be a waste of time and energy to study the old methods. See Instruction Course. FRIENDS! ROMANS! COUNTRYMEN! Pin back your ears! Pull down your vest! Wipe off your chin! Don't get excited! And "Listen Dearie" while I slip you a little advice. Of course you don't need it but inasmuch as it will cost you nothing and almost every prospective buyer of a second hand automobile is LOOKING for something for nothing, here's the dope. It's a self-evident fact that a chain is only as strong as its weakest link and isn't it equally true that a GUARANTEE is only as strong as the Firm behind it? Remember that, and you will have absorbed your most important piece of information in selecting a used car. One of our rebuilt and repainted APPERSON JACKRABBIT Cars with the regular SHETTLER guarantee as to their mechanical condition, is surely worth more to you and should give you better service than any new low grade car at an equal price. APPERSON cars are high grade and free from petty troubles; no matter how old they are. A rebuilt 1910 or 1911 car is as good a car for any kind of use as a 1912 or 1913 Model, providing they are all in equally as good mechanical condition—and that is where the SHETTLER guarantee comes in. Some of our very best and most valued customers are the purchasers of our rebuilt cars. They were told the exact truth when they bought their cars and are satisfied with their purchase. If you would only consider the matter carefully you could readily see that we could not afford to misrepresent the facts in regard to a rebuilt car any more than we would dare to take advantage of the buyer of a new APPERSON. Let's get acquainted.
Open Sundays from 8:30 to 12:30.

Riverside.

CONTRACT FOR POWER PENDING.

Riverside Utilities Board Makes Sudden Change.

Barrett Murder Trial Is Postponed Until April.

Chamber of Commerce Cannery Project Financed.

RIVERSIDE, March 15. — After continued adjourned sessions, the Board of Public Utilities has finally decided to advertise for bids for furnishing the city plant with power in lieu of that now being furnished by the Southern California Edison Company under one contract which is about to expire.

The board has been divided on the question of submitting the matter to bids, in view of the tentative offer of the Southern Sierras Power Company to establish its general offices here out of consideration of the award of this contract.

Just what will be the outcome of the negotiations with the Southern Sierras Power Company is still problematical, one of the obstacles being the necessity which confronts this company of having to install apparatus to reduce its current from sixty cycle to fifty cycle, to meet local requirements.

Bids will be received up to 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, when the board will meet to consider them.

MURDER TRIAL POSTPONED.

Owing to the fact that M. Estudillo, who is counsel for Ex-patrolman Barrett, charged with the murder of Acting Chief of Police Baird, is engaged in the Federal Court at Los Angeles in the trial of the Indians accused of the murder of Indian Agent Stanley, the postponement of the Barrett case was announced today. The new trial date has been set for Monday, April 7.

LOCAL CAPITAL FOR CANNERY.

The committee from the Chamber of Commerce on a cannery project has decided to interest local capital only, and will give its next attention to the matter of location. It is the belief of the committee that the stock will be disposed of here without difficulty, and that the cannery will be in operation in season to handle this year's fruit.

TID-BIT FOR PRESIDENT.

Some choice samples of Riverside marmalade, a by-product which had never been manufactured here to any extent until this year, has gone forward to President Wilson at Washington. A dozen glasses of the product, accompanied by an orange souvenir spoon and an appropriate note, were daintily packed in a box decorated with California poppies. The package was sent by the Riverside Citrus Products Exchange, formed by two enterprising local women.

EASTER ON MT. RUBIDOUX.

Arrangements have been completed for the unique Easter service which is annually observed on the summit of Mt. Rubidoux. Special interest attaches to the programme this year for the reason that Dr. Henry Van Dyke, the distinguished author, will read his poem, "God of the Open Air." Dr. John Willis Baer of Occidental College will also have a part in the exercises, which will begin when the first rays of the Easter sun appear over the rim of hills to the east of the valley.

DRIVER HAS FOOT INJURED.

South Pasadena Man Is the Victim When His Horse Is Struck by a Baseball Bat.—New Briefs.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 15.—Walter Fowble, driver for the Raab Creamery Company, is suffering from a badly-swollen foot and perhaps a fracture, as the result of the wheel of his wagon running over the member last evening. His horse became frightened from being struck by a baseball bat in the hands of a boy who was playing ball, and started to run away. Fowble was taken to his home in an automobile by a passer-by, and he is now under a physician's care.

Mrs. M. A. Riley, who owned the Fremont Apartments on Fremont avenue, has sold the house to J. R. Good of Boise, Idaho, who will take possession June 1. Mrs. Riley will remove to Pasadena, where she has purchased a home on North Hill avenue.

Long Beach.

RETRACTION IS SATISFACTORY.

LONG BEACH LITIGATION IS ENDED BY APOLOGY.

Campaign of 1911 Was Fruitful of Controversy and One of Rackets Landed in Superior Court—Paper Ceiling Falls and the Result Is a Fire Which Destroys Home.

LONG BEACH, March 15.—An echo of the red-hot municipal campaign of December, 1911, was heard today when Dr. M. A. Schutz, proprietor of the Riviera Hotel, who was an active charterite in that campaign, published over his signature in the Daily Telegram a retraction and apology for a statement made by him one week before the election, in which he implied that Timothy A. Stephens, Citizens' candidate for Mayor, had during his incumbency as Councilman some years before been suspiciously active in a railroad franchise deal, implying by the statement charges of graft.

In his retraction Schutz says that the statements were made in the heat of the campaign and in his enthusiasm he may have said things which were construed differently from what they were intended. He pays a high compliment to Stephens's honesty and integrity in the twenty years he has known him.

As a result of the public retraction Stephens's attorney said today that the suit instituted by Mr. Stephens for $25,000 damages for slander will be dismissed in the Superior Court on Monday next.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Just as Mrs. W. A. Haynes lighted her gasoline stove at 6:45 o'clock this morning the canvas and paper ceiling of the kitchen fell, and so fast did the resultant fire spread that the woman barely escaped the flames. She awakened her husband and the two with difficulty rescued their four little children and carried them to the street in their night clothes.

The house was of the California-cottage variety and burned so rapidly that the Haynes secured not even a handkerchief of their personal belongings. The shivering children were taken in by neighbors and the family will be taken care of until arrangements are made for their relief, as they are entirely destitute.

BOARD NAMED.

Mayor I. S. Hatch, Henry P. Barbour, president of the Realty Board, and W. H. Reider, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who were charged two weeks ago by a mass meeting of citizens with the duty of appointing an advisory board of seven members to co-operate with the City Council in work preliminary to and following a proposed bond issue of $1,480,000 for civic improvements, this morning announced their selection, which includes representatives of various civic organizations, and both organized and unorganized labor.

The advisory board consists of George H. Marshall, realty operator, who will be chairman; J. E. Cadwallader, carpenter and builder; Frank A. Wardner, former City Councilman; J. B. Green, realty operator; F. B. Fritz, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association; Edward H. Ralph, cement contractor, and C. T. McGrew, building contractor.

The duties of the board will be to secure data of plans and estimated cost of the different features of the improvements proposed to be undertaken with the bond moneys.

CHARGES UNFOUNDED.

As a result of a formal request of Messrs. George B. Earley, F. C. Yeomans and Glenn C. Burbank, former school trustees, who were under fire two years ago when an election of school trustees was being held, and who were charged with malfeasance in office in connection with Polytechnic High School matters, the three trustees who were chosen at that time have issued a formal statement that after two years' service on the board, during which the Polytechnic was completed, they are satisfied that the charges were unfounded and merely campaign slanders with which at the time they were not in sympathy.

They claim that when a similar request was made for exoneration at the beginning of their service they attempted to get an outside committee to investigate, but failed, and they did not believe it their duty to investigate. Now, on the eve of another election, they feel it their duty to answer the second request as a vindication of the accused men. The statement is signed by Herbert M. Haskell, Edward H. Wallace and C. A. Buffum.

CITY CLUB ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of the City Club, George Mortimer Roe, secretary of the club since its organization, was honored with the presidency of the club, Dr. Robert M. Sweet, and Prof. W. L. Stephens, vice-presidents; B. F. Tucker, treasurer and Walter H. Case, a newspaper man, secretary. A vote of thanks was given the retiring president, Attorney F. A. Knight, for his active work during the past year. A feature of the evening was the address by George Spicer on "The Club, the Duties of the President and Its 100 Members." The City Club was organized two years ago to work for civic betterment. Its membership is limited to 100.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Charged with having battered his wife up last night with a veiled threat to kill her, C. E. Winters was arrested on a warrant today and released on $500 peace bonds. Winters was recently ordered to pay his wife $25 monthly for the support of the family. Mrs. Winters announced today that she will institute a suit for divorce and separate maintenance.

Frightened by a motorcycle a spirited team of horses belonging to George H. Bixby, dashed through the business section of the city and finally collided with a buggy, overturned it and threw Mr. and Mrs. George Smith out upon the pavement inflicting painful injuries. The runaways were finally caught on Ocean avenue after they had wrecked the wagon to which they were hitched.

Monrovia.

DEATH SOUGHT BY ANGELENO.

Thinking Mind Going He Dramatically Woos End.

Tried to Throw Himself Under Electric Car.

Washington Pastor Takes a Pretty Monrovia Bride.

MONROVIA, March 15.—Because he realized that his mind was unbalanced and that he was a cause of constant trouble and worry to his family, George Born of No. 1122 East Forty-seventh street, Los Angeles, yesterday attempted to take his own life at Duarte by casting himself under the wheels of an electric car, and was prevented from doing so only by bystanders, who had noticed Born's unusual actions, and restrained him from his fatal impulse.

The authorities were communicated with at Monrovia and Deputy Constable Charles Daggett went over later, bringing the unfortunate man to the City Jail. There, in a moment of lucidity, he gave the officers the name and address of his sister, Mrs. G. M. McKenzie, No. 1132 East Forty-seventh street, Los Angeles. Mrs. McKenzie was immediately notified of her brother's condition and telephoned that she would come out at once. She arrived later in the evening and conveyed the man to her home.

According to the stories of the people in Durate, Born had been hanging around the vicinity for three or four days. He loafed principally in the orange groves and acted rather odd, although not enough out of the ordinary to cause people to think he was insane.

Born, when questioned, admitted he was not right, mentally, and said that he had decided to put an end to his existence, as he had become too great a burden on his sister. He had become despondent to a greater degree since the death of his mother some months ago.

According to his sister's statement he had been confined in a South Pasadena private asylum but had recently been released, having apparently regained his reason.

INFORMAL WEDDING.

Last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Wade, occurred the marriage of Miss Edith Wallace Wade and Rev. Fred Joseph Hart, of Okanogan, Wash. The wedding was a very quiet and informal one, only a small number of friends being present. Rev. Van Dorias performed the ceremony, using his beautiful ring service. The house was decorated in yellow, acacia boughs being used in profusion.

Rev. and Mrs. Hart will leave in a few days for their northern home, where Rev. Hart is pastor of the Presbyterian Church. He is also a graduate of the San Anselmo Theological Seminary, and yesterday Miss Wade received a telegram from the students, bidding her to "trust in the Lord and take Hart."

Elusive.

MONROVIA GOLD SEEKERS HOPE FOR AN EL DORADO.

MONROVIA, March 15.—Just above Monrovia, seperating the city from the mountains, lies a rough table land, twenty-five or thirty acres in extent, more or less flat on top and dipping gently to the south. This is the famous Gold Hill, a great splotch of color, shading from a pale gold, through bright red to a brick brown. Its sides are eroded with gullies and miniature canyons, while from the surface project occasional boulders, polished and smooth by the activity of some ancient water course. There it lies, scant of foliage, a gaudy splash of reddish gold against the milder greens and browns of the mountains behind, a landmark for miles around.

About this curious strip of land hangs a confused, jumbled mass of tales and legends, which, reaching back from the dim past of the mission padres down to the every day present, seem to justify the picturesquely descriptive name. For not only is Gold Hill of a golden color, but every cubic foot of its many acres contain glittering particles of the precious metal. Numerous and careful assays place the value at about 27 cents to the yard.

Scientists say that Gold Hill is an alluvial deposit, washed down by the Old San Gabriel River, which at some time prior to the last great convulsion of nature, which resulted in the present configuration of the land, ran parallel to the base of the mountains above Monrovia. The gold evidently comes from some larger body of metal higher up in the hills, and extends down into the city proper.

A laborer, digging in the street, can pan "color" from the earth he throws out. After a heavy rain, shining specks may be seen along the cement street gutters. Almost a dollar's worth of coarse gold was washed from an eddy near the head of Myrtle avenue. The problem of discovering this mother lode which has salted the neighboring hillsides so liberally has been worked and dreamed over by hundreds, from the pioneer prospector, with his pan and shovel, to the present-day mining engineer, equipped with the latest paraphernalia that science can devise.

The difficulties in the way of methodical search, are, however, even greater than usual, for the country, geologically speaking, is badly "faulted." Strata of rock are bent, warped and tilted, so that a promising dyke may be followed for a hundred yards or so, only to break suddenly and be entirely lost. Again, it is impossible to determine how far the metal was carried by the ancient river before finding a resting spot in its present location, although the character of the flakes, being dull in color and rather [illegible] to indicate that they [illegible] far, for gold, being [illegible] becomes highly [illegible] washed any distance [illegible] rocks. It is more than [illegible] gold being where you find [illegible]

Fresh impetus [illegible] the search from time to [illegible] rious finds. About [illegible] a colored man [illegible] ray, in the employ of Capt. [illegible] was digging post holes [illegible] the latter's ranch [illegible] Hill. Among the [illegible] ray brought to the surface [illegible] course of his excavation [illegible] an unusual appearance [illegible] from the rest, in fact [illegible] thought his employer [illegible] An examination showed [illegible] large quartz nugget [illegible] with virgin gold, and [illegible] hundred dollars. Capt. [illegible] was a member of the City [illegible] the time, carried the [illegible] rock to the board [illegible] and the next day the town [illegible] lated. Every man [illegible] able to bear a pick [illegible] in the hills, but the [illegible] same, the fabled [illegible] to be found.

Several years later [illegible] Violet Canyon [illegible] Hill from the north [illegible] of stone was picked up [illegible] $150 worth of gold [illegible] Still later, a [illegible] ter tunnel in the [illegible] for "Lucky" Baldwin [illegible] markable find of a [illegible] pure silver. FACT AND COMMENT.

[illegible] years the Fact and Comment has predicted that northwest Los Angeles would sooner or later come to be one of the most highly developed and densely populated sections of the city. This opinion, amounting to positive conviction, has been based on careful observation and [illegible] and is today being [illegible] justified. The northwest, with its rolling hills, its magnificent vistas of foothills and mountain ranges and its [illegible] level reaches, is, after years of comparative neglect, coming into its own.

The factors that have heretofore retarded the advance of the section to the north of the Westlake and Wilshire districts are not hard to discern. Bunker Hill, stretching like a gigantic redoubt from the line of [illegible] boulevard to and beyond Sixth street, has always acted as a barrier to proper development north of the latter thoroughfare and west of the business section. The close-in northwest has been comparatively well improved within the last five years in spite of the hill barrier, and thanks to its proximity to the center of business activities, but the lack of through streets into the downtown district between Sixth and Temple and between Temple and Sunset has always been and is still a deterring factor in the advance of a large area farther west.

Between Occidental boulevard and [illegible] avenue and west of the latter thoroughfare, clear from Sixth street to Sunset boulevard, proper growth has been retarded by the presence of the so-called Bimini slough, the unsightly ravine that winds its way from the vicinity of the Silver Lake [illegible] through the heart of northwest Los Angeles and up to the very edge of the exclusive Wilshire residence district. Sites near the brink of the slough have been shunned by builders and the beautiful high and level district beyond has suffered on account of the reluctance of street car patrons to cross and recross the unsightly depression every day on their way to and from the downtown district. No serviceable streets cross the slough between Sunset and Sixth, the connection across being afforded by a single wooden electric railway trestle. The whole city realizes that these deplorable conditions will be removed with the transformation of the Bimini ravine into the magnificent Silver Lake Parkway.

The very nature of the topography of a considerable portion of the northwest has conspired with the deterring factors mentioned to hinder the section's progress. Only in recent years have many persons in Los Angeles come to a realization of the advantages of commanding hillside and hilltop building sites. Such property in many other cities has come to have a premium value. Here, where seemingly the picturesque should have its greatest appeal, the hills have until recently been slighted. The last few years, however, have witnessed a marvelous change in this respect and hill sites are today sought by discriminating buyers.

[illegible] operations, such as those which have made southwest Los Angeles one great realm of attractive homes, have not ventured into extensive home building operations in the northwest for the very good reason that the large bodies of acreage required for this kind of development on a big scale have not been available in the latter section. The advance of the section has therefore been relatively slow as compared with the whirlwind progress of the level southwest, where one enormous tract after another has been cut up by the wholesale builders.

No Stopping Now.

There is no holding the northwest back now that it has started on its greatest advance. The impulse that is now transforming the section really came from within, antedating the assured improvements, such as the Silver Lake Parkway and the projected Bunker Hill tunnels that will certainly give the district new life and which are yet to come. The time had arrived when Bunker Hill or no Bunker Hill, Bimini slough or no Bimini slough, the northwest had to take its proper place in the city's residential development. A great part of the until recently undeveloped part of the section is classed as close-in property and it was needed to house the city's advancing population. The great volume of improvements in the past year in the northwest, especially those between Carondelet street and the eastern edge of the Bimini ravine, has in a way been an enforced development. It is this very overflow improvement, however, that has led to the "discovery" of the whole northwest and to its consequent awakening.

The recent widening and paving of Temple street from Benton Way west to the bottom of the Bimini slough, the cutting through of Coronado street from Third to Sixth, the extension of Reno and Vendome streets north of Temple and the opening of the former street between Temple and Second, together with other improvements of more or less magnitude accomplished, under way or definitely planned, are the result of necessities created by the development of the district rather than enterprises launched for the purpose of building it up.

Fully 250 homes have been completed or started in the area bounded by Carondelet street, the Bimini ravine and Temple and Sixth streets within the past eighteen months. Whole streets of beautiful dwellings have been created where two years ago a scant population lived at the very edge of the exclusive Wilshire and Westlake districts. North of Temple, which for some mysterious reason has long been a kind of line of demarcation' beyond which the subdivisionists did not care to venture, there has recently been a noticeable advance and the continuation of this development on north to meet that along Sunset boulevard is assured through the recent opening of three or four fine tracts. There is no more naturally attractive district in Los Angeles than that lying between Temple street and Sunset boulevard. The future of this section would be certain, even were the now-assured Silver Lake Parkway never to be created. The parkway will make of it one of the beauty sections of the city.

West of Vermont.

West of Vermont avenue, in the long-neglected area between Sixth street and the southern edge of Hollywood, there has been a marvelous advance in the past two years. The region in question is so large that the real magnitude of this development is not apparent to the casual observer. Here and there through the district whole streets of beautiful homes have sprung into existence in a comparatively short time. The advance has extended to and beyond Temple in many instances and the improvements have been almost without exception first class.

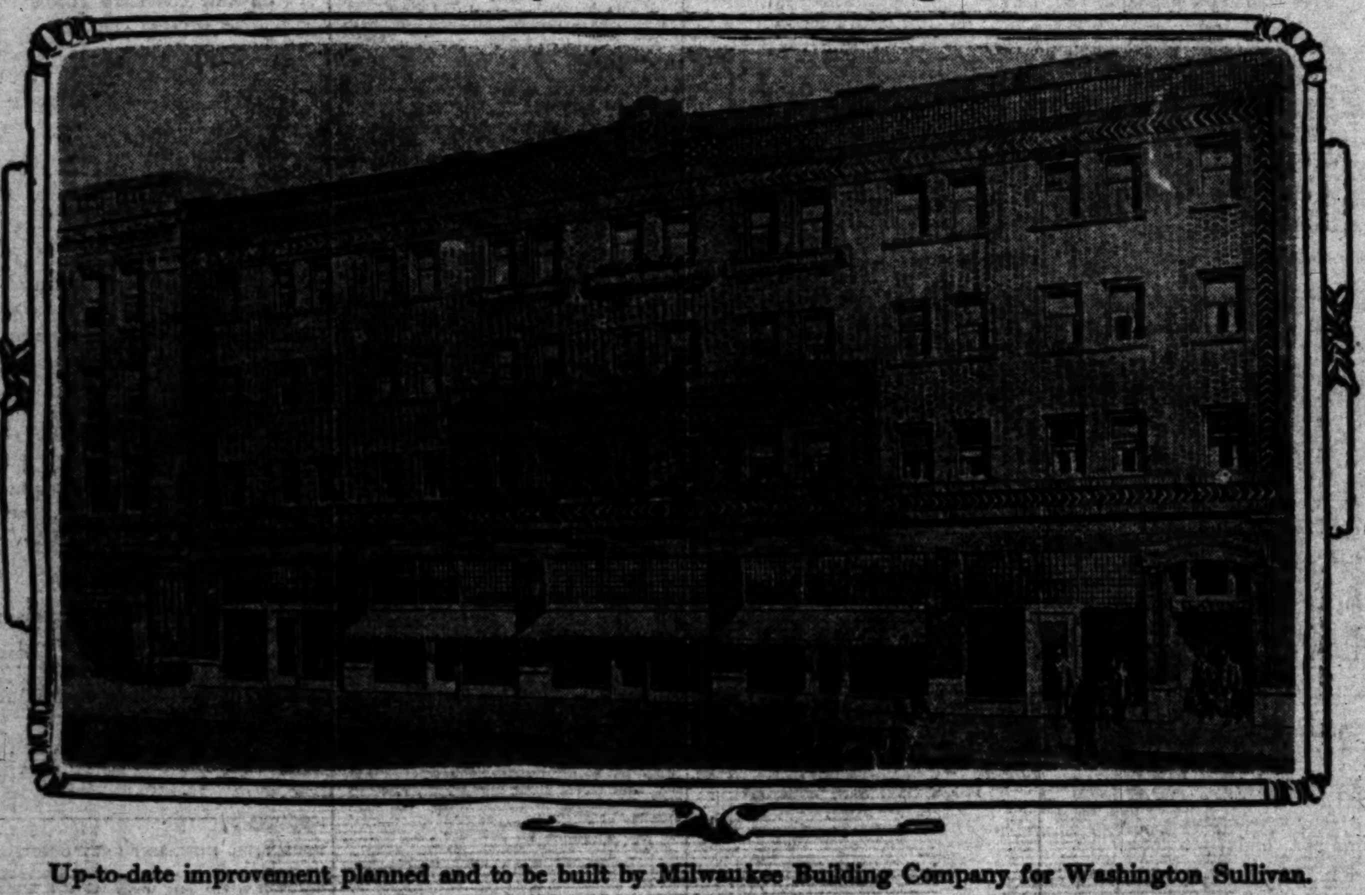
No other section of Los Angeles has a brighter outlook than has this region. This unlovely ravine, now such a detriment to the section, will become a positive asset after it has been transformed by the Park Commission into a magnificent parkway and an integral part of the park and boulevard system.

The extension of Temple street from the bottom of the ravine to Vermont avenue, an undertaking absolutely essential to the welfare of the farther-out northwest and which cannot long be delayed, will work wonders in the development of a large area. It is certain, too, that the city will have to bridge the Silver Lake parkway with viaducts carrying streets that now stop short at the edge of the Bimini slough across and into a district which has always suffered through lack of such access into the downtown section. The taxpayers, present and future, of the northwest, should never rest until this end is realized, for these streets are almost as important as the parkway itself.

The widening and paving of Vermont avenue from the foothills in Hollywood to Sixth street, an improvement practically assured for early completion, the building of the magnificent State Normal School group at Vermont and Melrose avenues, and the establishment of the Girls' High School at Vermont and First, are among the most important of the factors which will make for the certain advance of the region between Hollywood and the Wilshire district and to the west of Bimini. This whole section is bound to develop into a compactly-improved and highly-developed residence district within the next few years. To remedy the lack of proper transit facilities, the Vermont avenue crosstown line is sure to be supplemented by other routes ramifying into the entire area. The day when the city proper can boast a solid development to Hollywood cannot be far distant.

Another part of the northwest which will surely come into its own within the next few years is the region comprised in the heights along the northern side of Sunset boulevard and cityward from Vermont avenue. Fitful and unsustained development in the past has already crowned many of the hills along the boulevard with homes, and at the intersection of Sunset with the Bimini ravine there has recently been created one of the finest hill subdivisions in the Southland. Other subdivisionists are now taking an interest in this section and it is highly probable that Sunset boulevard, itself now the scene of a great improvement activity, may soon be the center of a compactly-improved residence district stretching to the old-time confines of Hollywood.

Attractive Store and Apartment Building for South Main.



Up-to-date improvement planned and to be built by Milwaukee Building Company for Washington Sullivan.

HOTEL LEASE SOLD.

C. W. Wells of Nelson, Canada, former Minister of Land and Public Works of the Dominion, has purchased the lease and furnishings of the Cordova Hotel at the southeast corner of Eighth and Figueroa streets, for a reported cash consideration of $27,000. The lease has ten years to run at a total rental of $159,000 and was bought from C. Henry Frost, who took possession shortly after the erection of the building by the Foy estate. The deal was handled by the H. Jerome Toy Hotel Brokerage Company. The hotel has 108 guest rooms. G. P. Wells, son of the purchaser, and an experienced hotel man, will run the new hostelry with the assistance of his brother, J. D. Wells.

MONTROSE ACTIVITIES.

The Pratt Sales Service, representing the Holmes, Walton Company, subdivider of Montrose, reports sales to the following since the opening of the tract on Washington's Birthday: F. C. Finkle, Oliver O. Clark, Dr. Joseph Kurtz, Dr. M. H. Chamberlain, Alice J. Gastren, E. E. Gastren, Mrs. Florence C. Betts, Katherine Pool, Louise J. Poole, Mrs. Sabina Judicka, E. H. Diers, John A. Oberg, J. J. Corum, Stanley R. Pratt, C. H. Pratt, R. A. Walton, Frank Walters, Glendale & Eagle Rock Railway Company, J. T. Ward, William Lehman, H. M. Jones, Francis J. Lester and E. L. Gilman. It is expected that the car line will be in operation to Montrose within thirty days. Street work is being rushed and building will soon begin.

MARCH BUILDING PERMITS SOAR.

ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS MAY BE BROKEN.

Applications Already Made for Erection of Structures to Cost Three Million Six Hundred Thousand Dollars, of Which Over One Million Is Issued.

Building permits issued to date and those for which application has been made, seem to indicate that the total for the month will reach $4,500,000, and exceed by $1,000,000 the biggest month in the history of the city.

For the first fourteen days of the month 786 permits have been issued for structures to cost $1,343,981. During the same period last year the corresponding figures were 471 and $645,563.

Applications for permits to be issued in March have been made for the Broadway Department Store, $1,000,000; wing of the Bible Institute, $230,000; Merchants' National Bank Building at Sixth and Spring streets, $860,000; the Southwest Museum, $54,000, and for miscellaneous structures to cost $170,000. These, taken with $1,000,000 additional permits, which it reasonably may be expected will be issued during the last half of the present month, may bring the March total to $4,500,000.

BUY ON ROAD TO SEA.

Building Company Purchases Sixty Acres Following Similar Deal by Another Concern—Other Sales.

The California Land and Building Company has just completed the purchase of fifty acres fronting on Washington boulevard between Inglewood and Motordrome roads, known as the "Bawer Piece," for a given consideration of $125,600. This is the second building company to buy a tract in the district between Los Angeles and Venice within two weeks, the Hibernian Home Builders having acquired fifty-eight acres, also on Washington boulevard.

Both transactions were handled by the Harry H. Culver Company, which also reports the following transfers: To Mrs. Susan W. Elliott, twenty acres south of the Playa del Rey line, now planted to alfalfa, for $33,182; to a Chicago investor whose name is withheld, forty-four acres fronting on the Venice Short Line, between Ivy Station and Palms, $103,400, tract to be turned over to a local firm for immediate subdivision; to F. L. Hoffman of Hollywood, thirty acres lying one mile south of Washington boulevard and half a mile this side of the Motordrome, now planted to alfalfa, $25,000; To H. E. Wolf, nineteen acres between Washington boulevard and the Playa del Rey car line, half a mile from the boulevard, for $35,316; to Mrs. J. A. Farish, five acres on First street, Palms, for $10,000; to Arthur B. Chase, twenty-one acres north of Palms and having an extended frontage on National boulevard, one block from the car line, $32,152; to Harry Spitzer, sixteen acres on Washington boulevard for $35,824, and to Mrs. E. C. Robertson, five-acre chicken ranch on Charnock road, between the Palms and Venice, $8000.

ACREAGE TO LOTS.

Property Between Los Angeles and the Harbor Sold at Enormous Increase Over Original Cost.

The Tatum-Winstanley Company reports the sale of 186 lots in the Harbor boulevard and Main-street tract addition. Lots 1 to 62 were bought by Valentine Hetzel, J. A. Wingate and Dr. Richardson for a given consideration of $27,500, and lots 63 to 186 by the American Home Builders for a reported consideration of $50,000. The property consists of about twenty-seven acres on the east side of Main street between Eighty-first and Eighty-third streets.

The tract was purchased eighteen years ago by Miss Cora Watkins for $450. Eight months ago she sold it to Jonathan S. Dodge, F. Winstanley and C. C. C. Tatum for a consideration reported at $50,000. The sale to Hetzel, Winget and Richardson was made by Harry Chase of the I. J. Silvis Company.

Fine Improvement for Site Near Washington.

Among the districts that have most rapidly forged to the front in the last year or two is the section in the immediate vicinity of Main and Washington streets where the activity of the Central and Pacific Improvement Corporation, a company organized by large financial interests for the exploitation and improvement of South Main, has resulted in high-class and substantial development operations. One fine improvement, the Rutland Hotel, has already been completed at the northwest corner of Washington and Main for Washington Sullivan, a director of the corporation named, and is now rented and fully occupied. At the southeast corner of the same thoroughfares the corporation itself is now building one of the largest and most attractive store and apartment structures yet projected in Los Angeles. Other smaller buildings have recently been completed on near-by sites.

The leader in the movement to bring South Main to the fore as a high-class commercial, apartment-house and hotel street is R. H. Raphael, president of the Central and Pacific Improvement Corporation. Raphael and others have for some time been working to have Broadway cut through from Twelfth to Washington. This plan has been given new impetus and resale of the Huntington block, with the assured extension of Broadway through that property from Eleventh to Twelfth.

The corporation of which Raphael is head owns Praeger Park, extending from Main to Grand avenue and north for a considerable distance from Washington street. This tract is eventually to be subdivided and put on the market as was the Huntington block and it is predicted by the owners of the holding that when this is done there will be a repetition of the success achieved by the syndicate selling the Huntington property. The Raphael interests hope to have Broadway extending as an unbroken business thoroughfare from the Broadway tunnel to Washington street, and bisecting Praeger Park, within the not distant future.

THE NEWEST IMPROVEMENT.

On this page of The Times appears a perspective of a new improvement projected for the part of South Main that is now directly receiving the attention of Raphael and his business associates. The structure, which is to contain both stores and apartments, is to be erected by Washington Sullivan on the west side of Main, immediately adjoining the Rutland Hotel on the north and occupying a frontage of 130 feet. The building is being planned and will be built by the Milwaukee Building Company.

The structure, like the adjacent Sullivan improvement, will be four stories in height. Its depth will be ninety-eight feet to an alley. The construction will be of brick, the exterior design following the modern conception of brick ornamentation, facing-brick of varying color-tone being laid in bond and studied patterns.

The first floor will contain five storerooms and the three upper stories, 120 rooms, divided into sixty apartments of two rooms each. Every suite will be provided with a dressing-room. Many modern conveniences, including an elevator and a trunk lift, will be installed. The property will be known as the "Euston" apartments.

FORTUNE FOR GARDENS.

Fifty Thousand Dollars to Be Expended in Beautifying of Grounds of New Hotel Huntington.

H. E. Huntington has authorized William Hetrich, the gardener of the Huntington estate, to expend $50,000 on the landscape gardening of the new Hotel Huntington in Oak Knoll, according to information given out yesterday by the associates of the railway magnate. The plans drawn by Myron Hunt for the completion of the former Wentworth Hotel call for a system of colonades entirely surrounding the building, and this will be the basis for the landscape gardening scheme as a whole. A wide lawn will sweep from the front of the hotel to the bluff overlooking the orange groves north of Huntington drive, while palm gardens will mark the ends of the hotel proper.

The ten acres purchased last month for the proposed hotel bungalow court will also be improved at this time and a concrete bridge will be built to span the canyon to the west of the building. An automobile road will be constructed to give an entrance to the hotel from the west, while an entirely new arrangement of the grounds to the north of the hotel has been planned. Under this scheme, the old garage is being torn down to give place for a new building that will hold 100 machines, and will provide private boxes for guests of the hotel. This building will have on its second floor, rooms for the chauffeurs and mechanicians of the various cars.

THE WHOLESALE DISTRICT.

The W. Ross Campbell Company reports the lease of the ground floor at No. 404 South Los Angeles street to the Oshkosh Grass Matting Company; of the fourth floor of Commercial Loft Building at No. 337 South Los Angeles street to the Seeley Electrical Company and the ground floor of Grayco Manufacturers' Agents building at No. 764 South Los Angeles street to Grether & Grether.

SUBDIVIDE HAACK RANCH.

Under the direction of Henry Haack, son of the founder of the Haack ranch, that several hundred-acre farm near San Fernando will be subdivided and sold in small suburban estates. Peter Haack, the original owner, spent a large sum in improving the property which fronts on the Southern Pacific Railroad.

1027—February Building Permits

Do you know that there is no city in the world whose record of growth, whose steady increase in land values can compare with the city of Los Angeles?

—Do you know that Los Angeles' record of building permits issued monthly, exceeds that of New York City?

—Do you know that Los Angeles has just really come before the eyes of the world—is just "opening into flower"—that the Panama Canal, the natural world-influx westward and a hundred and one other influences are working to build for this city a future unprecedented?

—Now—do you realize what it means to be able to call your own, a piece of ground in one of Los Angeles' best residential sections—West Adams Park! This property can be bought for less than is asked for any other Los Angeles property of equal attractiveness and advantages.

The lots in West Adams Park are near the $40,000 and $50,000 homes of the famous West Adams district—possessing many of the advantages of this select location and at a price within easy reach.

Visit West Adams Park—then judge. Take West Adams car and get off at Twenty-third avenue.

OUR idea of a home is one both PRACTICAL and ARTISTIC. By careful thought we manage to instill certain INDIVIDUALITY into each home.

It quite frequently happens that the PROSPECTIVE BUILDER'S IDEAS and PURSE do not correspond. In such cases our PRACTICAL knowledge comes to the rescue, and often where others have hopelessly FAILED, WE SUCCEED.

We build homes from the modest five-room cottage, at $[illegible], to the most elaborate dwelling. It rests with the INDIVIDUAL entirely, what his home will cost. By concentrating our PURCHASING POWER, combined with our PRACTICAL knowledge, and being in a position to DISCOUNT our BILLS, we can, for a given quality of work, discount our competitors' prices.

We build either by contracts on a fixed fee of 10 per cent. of estimated cost of work, or on our own lots in Los Angeles, Redondo and San Pedro, on easy terms.

We make no additional charge for our Architectural services, if we build, or if we fail to satisfy you both as to price and design.

Our REFERENCES are PEOPLE for whom we HAVE BUILT, who FREELY indorse us.

We make liberal building loans.

HOW
IT?

The above is often heard when we build homes and apartments so much cheaper than other building companies, and at the same time furnish money at 6 and 7 per cent. in payment of buildings erected by us. Well, it is just this way: we buy at wholesale and pay our bill with a discount. We do our own buying and our own building. Every rent payer can own a home on an easy payment plan. We build at first cost and share the profit with our customers.

BUILDING PLANS MADE TO ORDER.

When doing business with us you do not have to build from stock plans. We make plans and specifications free to our customers. What kind of a home do you want? Your credit is good with us. Money to build anywhere on your lot. You cannot afford to let your lot lie idle. Let the other fellow pay for your home.

We build bungalows, cottages and apartments. Every man can do business on our easy payment plan.

The brightest spot on earth is the home where sobriety dwells and peace abounds, where nothing [illegible] for the [illegible] of [illegible] and where love fills the crimson bowls of happy hearts to the brim with the champagne of laughter and the sherry of song.

Don't forget, the brightest spot on earth is the HOME, and that's what I have to offer. It's one of the prettiest 5-room bungalows in the southwest. It's a place that can be purchased on terms of $[illegible] cash and the balance $[illegible] per month. The price is only $[illegible], and it's the last house that I have left at that figure. It's a beautiful little place, with hardwood floors and all kinds of built-in features; lawn, fence, flowers, fine street with good car service.

Would you not rather fill your purse with money and keep its beautiful guide forever ajar for your happy children, while you they linger under your roof, than to clutch it with the miser's hand until all of the harpstrings of youth are broken, and all its music has forever fled? Would you not despise the soulless man whose greed for gold impels him to strangle the laughter and song of his own children, without giving them a home?

Read the above paragraph carefully, and then think it over. Have you been living in flats? Have you been living in apartments? If so, don't you owe your wife and children a home? I want you to consider one of the most beautiful 5-room bungalows in the southwest. The price is only $[illegible]; other houses in the same vicinity, and of the same class, are selling for $[illegible]. This house is beautifully furnished, brand new, and never been occupied. It has all kinds of built-in features, including bookcases, buffet, cabinet kitchen, etc. Oak floors, fine fixtures, pretty decorations, lawn, flowers. On a well built-up street, and fine car service. It's a pretty home, and if you want something that will bring happiness and laughter to those dear to you, consider this place. Terms: $[illegible] cash, $[illegible] per month.

An old bachelor, in the Tennessee mountains, once arose in church to give his experience, in the presence of his old rival, who was a widower, and with whom he was at daggers' points in the race to win the affections of one of the sisters of the Zion. Thus the pious old bachelor spoke:

"Brethren, this is a beautiful world. I love to live in it just as well today as I ever did in my life. And the saddest thought that ever crossed this old brain of mine is, that in a few short days at best, these old eyes will be glazed in death and I'll never get to see my loved ones in this world any more." And his old rival shouted from the "amen corner," "THANK GOD!"

I am sure, Mr. Reader, that you are not an old bachelor. You, perhaps, are married, but what you need is a HOME. I have one brand new 5 rooms, never been occupied, and best of all, it's

A FURNISHED HOME.

The furniture is brand new and never been used. The dishes are there; the rugs are there; all the furniture is there; the kitchen utensils are there. This furniture cost me $[illegible]. You can buy it on easy terms, or you can buy this beautiful 5-room house, move the furniture out, and I will sell you the house for $[illegible].

Terms, $[illegible] cash, balance $[illegible] per month, including interest. It's one of those up-to-date snappy places, with hardwood floors, and every known convenience, big living-room, [illegible] foot stream. It's near the car line, and on a fine street. Consider this pretty place, and I am sure you will buy.

A STRANGER IN A STRANGE TOWN.

Two old banqueters banqueted at a banquet. They banqueted all night long, and kept the banquet up together all the next day after the banquet had ended. They kept up their banqueting a week after the banquet was over. But they got separated one morning and met again in the afternoon. One of them said: "Good mornin'." The other said: "Good evenin'!" "Why," said one, "it's mornin', an' that's the sun; I've investigated the question." "No-sir-ee," said the other, "you're mistaken; it's late in the evenin' an' that's the full moon." They concluded they would have no difficulty about the matter, and agreed to leave it to the first gentleman they came to, to settle the question. They locked arms and started down the street together; they staggered on till they came upon another gentleman in the same condition, hanging on a lamp-post. One of them approached him and said: "Friend (hic,) we don't desire to interfere with your meditation, (hic) but this gen'lman says it's mornin' an' that's the sun; I say it's evenin' an' that's the full moon; (hic) we respectfully ask you (hic) to settle the question." The fellow stood and looked at it for a full minute, and in his despair replied:

"Gen'lmen, (hic) you'll have to excuse me; (hic) I'm a stranger in this town!"

Mr. Stranger, perhaps you have just arrived from the East. Perhaps you are living in apartments and flats. Do you realize that you can purchase, on very easy terms, only $[illegible] down, a beautiful 5-room house with hardwood floors throughout, that you can pay us the sum of $[illegible] per month, and get a real home, well built, by day labor, with every built-in feature, so that you will need very little furniture? It has a handsome fireplace and mantel; fine decorations, beautiful plumbing, and everything that goes to make a modern home. Don't stay in apartments; don't be A Stranger in the Town, but settle down and become one of our citizens. Los Angeles is the greatest place on earth. Buy a home and watch it increase in value.

A NOTE TO THE POLITICIAN.

An old Dutchman had a beautiful boy of whom he was very proud; and he decided to find out the bent of his mind. He adopted a very novel method by which to test him. He slipped into the little fellow's room one morning and placed on his table a Bible and a bottle of whisky, and a silver dollar. "Now," said he, "ven dot boy comes in, of he dakes dot dollar, he's goin' to be a beesnis man; of he dakes dot Bible he'll be a breacher; of he dakes dot visky he's no goot—he's going to be a drunkart." And he hid behind the door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table and picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket; he picked up the Bible and put it under his arm; then he snatched up the bottle of whisky and took two or three drinks, and went out smacking his lips. The old Dutchman poked his head out from behind the door and exclaimed: "Mine Gott! he's going to be a bolitician."

SIX-ROOM BUNGALOW
ON VAN NESS AVE.

Did you know that VAN NESS AVENUE is one of the prettiest streets in the city of Los Angeles? Did you know that I have the grandest, great big 6-room bungalow on the street? If you don't know it, come out and I'll prove it. This house is in a class by itself. It's one of those bungalows that made Southern California famous. It's a great big house. It has a big living room, handsome fireplace, built-in bookcases and all kinds of good features. It has a beautiful dining room opening off onto a side pergola, and by the way, this porch dining room open into a very handsome and dainty breakfast room. The kitchen is grand. It has all kinds of built-in features, and is in white enamel. Two laundry trays, handsome bathroom opening into a hall connecting with the bedrooms. Big, wide cement porch. Oak floors throughout the house. The plumbing is about the same class that you would find in a $15,000 home, and believe me, it's some plumbing. The house is complete, including fences, lawn, shades, fixtures, walks, etc.

My price is $4250.

Terms—$250 cash, balance easy.

Now, if you want something up-to-date and snappy, come out and let's talk it over. You will find me in the afternoons at 3754 ARLINGTON STREET, or telephone me at VERMONT 50, on the Sunset phone.

FOR SALE—

SIX-ROOM BUNGALOW.

If you don't need the furniture, I will move it out, but say it's the daintiest little bungalow, or I might say the dandiest big bungalow for the price, you ever saw. I went down to the furniture company and bought all the furniture, chairs, dishes, draperies, rugs; in fact, the whole thing, for about $350. I just did this to show off the furniture—the house speaks for itself. And believe me, it's some house. It has a living room 19 feet across, with the most beautiful inglenook you ever saw, and the breakfast room is a thing of joy.

Really and truly, my friend, when you look over this house, and discover the price unfurnished is only $3400, and that you can buy it for about $200 down, balance in small monthly payments, it just makes you stare in perfect wonder as to how I can do it, but this house must be sold. I am not making any more than the law allows, but the materials were all paid for in cash, and the workmanship I guarantee to be the best. Come out and look over this place, and compare the workmanship and materials with any bungalow you ever seen, and I'll guarantee that you will be the most pleased person you ever met. My word is good, and if you want something dainty and up-to-date, take the Moneta-West 54th street car line and get off at 1255 West 54th street; or telephone me on the Sunset phone at VERMONT 50. You will find me there day and night.

FOR SALE—

DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE?

Well, I should say so. I advertised on Sunday, two beautiful 5-room houses, and both of them were sold today, but I have another one, and it's some "pumpkin."

PRICE $2700.

Terms, $150 cash, balance $28.50 per month.

Let me tell you, my friend, read this ad. carefully and think it over; it's the only five-room house that I have left at that price—all others are asking $2900 for the same class of property. This house is going to be sold within the next two or three days. Are you going to be the lucky buyer? It's one of those beautiful Swiss chalets, with a cement porch extending clear across the front of the house. Living room and dining room have oak floors. Big cabinet kitchen in white enamel. Fine bathroom, dandy fireplace and mantel, fence, lawn, shades complete. In fact, it's an ideal little home. If you don't secure this house, it's not my fault. It's such a bargain; it's going to be sold. I have never advertised, yet, anything but the truth, and truth will prevail.

Think it over and call me up on the Sunset phone at VERMONT 50; or better still, take the West 54th street car line on Main street, go out Moneta avenue to 1255 WEST 54TH STREET—that's my place of business.

FOR SALE—

A GREAT BIG SIX-ROOM BUNGALOW.

Guess the price.

Well, I presume you are rather a good-hearted chap, and I'll tell you the secret. It's and when you see it, you will certainly think that I am some real estate woman. No, I am not particularly real estate, but, being a woman, I know how to plan a house, how to finish it up, and that's the idea. This house is in a class by itself. It's the prettiest, daintiest and most complete bungalow for the price you ever saw. In fact, I worked weeks on this plan. It has six great big rooms. Oak floors, beautiful decorations, fine electric light fixtures; and, by the way, I forgot to tell you that it can be purchased on terms of $250 down, balance $30 per month.

$3250.00

Perhaps I overlooked the fact that it's right near the car line, fine street work, gas and electricity, and on a street that's built up solid with pretty homes.

Good friend, don't forget the price. You can sell it inside of six months at an advance of $500 and then the fellow that buys it will set up nights figuring what a bargain he has. Telephone me on the Sunset, at Vermont 50, or come out to 1255 WEST 54TH STREET.

6-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $[illegible].

It's on VAN NESS avenue. I am going to offer it this week on special terms—$[illegible] cash, balance $35 per month, including interest. My regular terms are $500 down and $45 per month, but I have made up my mind that it's got to be sold. If you read this ad. you may be one of those lucky fellows that know when to buy and if you do you are going to get a bargain. You are going to get a house with hardwood floors, beautiful decorating, extra fine workmanship, extra fine materials throughout, and on a 50-foot lot.

Say, it's a beauty. Really and truly, my friend, it's one of the best houses that I ever saw, but I need the money, and if you are looking for a great big bargain in one of the most beautiful 6-room bungalows in Los Angeles, come out in the afternoon to [illegible] ARLINGTON street and I'll show you the goods. These terms are not going to last very long. Telephone me at VERMONT [illegible].
